Architect Notes.

Hewitt Bros. architects, Bullitt Building, have made plans for a residence, to be erected at Edgewater Park, N. J., for Mr. J. C. Gill. It will be of brick and stone, three stories high, electric work, hard wood interior, cement work, and all modern conveniences will be introduced.

A. C. Wagner, architect and engineer, 514 Walnut street, has made plans for a three-story brick boiler house for the American Brewing Company at Thirty-first and Master streets. It will be of brick, stone, iron and cement work, fitted with boilers and general machinery, electric work, etc. Estimates will be made and work proceed at once.

The plans for large factory building at Toronto, Canada, described in a previous issue, from plans by Charles E. Rhan, architect, 410 Walnut street, have been placed on boards of contractors, Wm. Steele & Sons, 506 Walnut street, for general estimate on construction. By reference to our issue of August 24th, a full description of the work may be obtained.

Hales & Ballinger, architects, 1200 Chestnut street, have given the contract for the factory, to be erected at Allegheny avenue and Hancock street, to Wm. Steele & Sons, 506 Walnut street. The owners are J. R. Keim & Co., 515 Market street. The building will be three stories high, of brick and stone. A boiler house will also be erected of the same material. Previously noted in these columns.

James H. Windrim, architect, 1107 Walnut street, has made plans for an alteration and addition to the play-room and a connecting way to St. Joseph's Orphan Asylum, Germantown. These contemplate all kinds of work, to a limited extent, of course; brick, stone and carpenter work, and all general convenience. Plans can be seen at 1604 Sansom street. W. R. Dougherty's office, and other contractors. Previously noted.

Rowland W. Boyle, architect, 1208 Chestnut street, has made preliminary plans for a fine Roman Catholic Church, at Lansdowne, Pa. Also for a parochial school to be erected on same grounds. The structures are to be of brick and stone, with slate roofs and general conveniences on interior, hard wood finish, steam heat, electric work, etc. It is likely the contract will be awarded at an early day. Rev. Father Markee is in charge.

Lawrence Vischer Boyd, architect, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets, has placed for estimate the plans, previously noted in this journal, for a store and office building to be erected at Glenside Farms, Pa. The work included in the specifications is masonry, stone and brick work, cement work, iron work, stairs, carpenter work, single roof, tile work, plastering, painting and glazing, hot-air heating, cast-iron piping, a hot water boiler for range, sinks, drains, etc. Drawings at 1604 Sansom street, office of Wm. R. Dougherty.

Joseph M. Huston, architect, Witherspoon Building, tenth floor, has made plans for remodeling the residence of David Martin, at Holmesburg, near this city. The work will be purely in colonial style and chiefly on the interior. Steam heat, best system of plumbing, hard wood finish, electric work, tiling and wainscoting, plain and fancy glass work, best culinary arrangements, ranges and boilers, in fact, modern in general comforts. Estimates are now in order in the office of the architect, who will also supervise the work in detail.

J. Winfield Swope, architect, 5040 Frankford avenue, Frankford, Phila., has made complete plans for a residence to be erected on Bristol Pike, above Holmesburg, Pa. The building will be three stories high, with pitched red slate roof and ornamental terra cotta peaks, and the walls of Port Deposit stone, iron grille for cellar and porch work, the bay windows to be coppered on roof, also cornices, heat by hot water process, ranges and boiler, tile and mosaic work, electric work, light and bells, gas piping and plumbing of the best system, drains, etc. Heating not included in general contract. Plans can be seen at 1604 Sansom street.

John D. Allen, architect, 1017 Chestnut street, has invited bids upon the plans for the theatre noted in our last issue, and which is to be erected at Haverford and Lancaster avenues, West Philadelphia. The structure will be of Pompeian brick, Indiana limestone and terra cotta work. It will be fireproof throughout and constructed upon the cantilever principle as to galleries: highly decorated on interior. Marble and mosaic work, steam heat; the electric effects will be unexcelled as to beauty and utility. Seating upon the most approved system, and plumbing, as well as ventilation, upon special principles, as indicated by the specifications. Plain and ornamental glass work. Cement and concrete work, together with a steel skeleton will be factors in the strength of the building, which will cost, as before indicated, $150,000. The owners will be the Lyric Theatre Company.

Seymour Davis, architect, 917 Walnut street, has placed for estimate the drawings for the J. Lewis Crozier Home for Incurables, at Upland, Pa. The structure will be three stories and basement, stone and composite stone trimmings. Heavy balusters will be an ornamental feature of the outside work. Plate and plain glass doors and windows, composition and tin roofing, steam heat, electric work, tiling and mosaic work, hard wood finish and best system of ventilation and plumbing, culinary improvements, etc., will be introduced. A free library and lecture hall is also to be erected in the City of Chester, Pa., from the funds provided by the estate of J. Lewis Crozier, and his wife, Mary S. Crozier, will see that all the buildings are erected as provided for. The total amount devised is about $750,000, and Seymour Davis has been selected as the architect to prepare plans for all the above named buildings. The above is the first to be constructed; drawings for the rest being in course of preparation. Estimates are being made in the offices of J. W. Mercer & Co., contractors, 208 South Seventh Street. In our issue of June 22d we noted the preliminary plans for the work by Mr. Davis.

Building Notes.

J. E. & A. L. Peacock, contractors, 305 Walnut street, will be the builders of the three Epiphany structures at Seventeenth and Summer streets, after plans by Isaac Pursell, architect, 119 South Fourth street, and which have been recently described in these columns. This decision was arrived at after consideration of bids under re-estimate and revision of drawings.

Our correspondent at Newark, N. J., informs us that a decision is expected at an early day in regard to the contract for the Newark Public Library, an injunction having been applied for, restraining the award of the contract to any but the lowest bidder. Rankin & Kellogg, architects, of this city, it will be remembered, made the plans, but the contract was awarded by the commissioners in charge at Newark, N. J.

Preliminary sketches are being made for the solution of the question of elevating the Philadelphia & Reading Railway tracks, from Wallace to Huntingdon streets, in this city, and the matter will come up in Councils for action upon the assembling of this body for the fall sessions. An ordinance is also being prepared and will be introduced by C. K. Smith, of the Twentieth Ward, providing the means on the part of the city for the work proposed.

The property at the northwest corner of Seventeenth and Filbert streets has been purchased, as well as the two contiguous ones on the west, and it is understood that a twelve or fourteen-story structure will in the near future be erected upon the site, involving quite a large sum of money. All indications point to a structure previously noted in the columns of this journal, but at present we cannot indicate the purchaser or other details. We have also learned that a large purchase of ground is being made extending east from the southeast corner of Seventeenth and Sansom streets, which is also to be improved by the erection of an extensive building, which we hope to announce in the near future.

JOHN F. BRISBANE, City Editor.

THERE is something sickening, as well as discouraging, in the disclosures being made as to the treatment of our sick soldiers.

Indeed, it is difficult to realize that the responsibility for the terrible mismanagement and cruel indifference rests with those of our own nationality, for the stories of suffering and death are more in keeping with what we know of Spanish character, so unlike are they to the usual American tact and versatility, even when experience is wanting.

Of course mistakes are made at the inception of wars, whether small or great, no matter what peoples are involved, but they are usually associated with the management of troops; but in the present case it would be difficult to furnish a parallel for the gross and uniform mismanagement, which seems to be the withering influence which has dominated the commissary, the medical and transportation departments from the very commencement of the war.

With unlimited resources and what is even better, a nation of people almost a unit in its earnestness and patriotism behind the government, it was reasonable to suppose that the business end would have been placed in the experienced and capable hands, and that political influence and wealth would never have become a factor in commanding the wholesale appointment to business positions, involving the life and safety of the whole army, of those who were seeking the glory of military titles with which to grace the family escheons of their millionaire fathers.

It is only necessary to recall in proof of this the number of such appointments that were made at the commencement of the war, and that over the heads of trained army officers, who had a right, after years of faithful service and experience, to expect promotions to these self same positions.

It was the chief executive who made these appointments, no doubt through the recommendations of those in whom he had the greatest confidence, and for that he was perhaps justified, but that does not change the rich harvest of misery and death which has followed among those who represent the best blood in the whole country.

It was not enough that the young men of the country should cheerfully yield their lives, if need be, in its defence, but they must be baited and trapped to their deaths on rotten transports after lingering in hospitals which seem to have been without anything to commend them except the name.

It will be found, after investigation, that the responsibility for the death of our fever-stricken boys rests with the system through which incapables are forced to positions of authority and trust, that the evil has grown until it has become so arrogant and all powerful that even the generals of the army and the commanders of the navy are not safe as against those with a political pull, and there is evidence enough already that this is so, and the people know it.

A New Paint.

There are paints and paints enough, it would seem, to meet all practical uses, but it is doubtful if there exists a manufacturer who makes so many broad claims and who asks for an opportunity to prove them, as does the Tile's Manufacturing Company, whose office and works are at Third and Cambridge streets, this city, for its Union Indestructible Land and Sea Paint, which is adapted for wood, metal and plaster.

As an economical paint it is claimed that its cost is 50 per cent. less than that of any standard ready-mixed paint in the market, besides which it will cover double the surface of any ready-mixed paint.

It is anti-rust and proof against the oxidation of metals. It resists acids, heat, frost, salt water and all other elements. It will not calk, crack or blister. It can be applied in rain, snow, frost or storm, or under water, and can be put on common work with an ordinary white-wash brush by any inexperienced person. It is an absolute preservative of metal and wood and it is produced in twenty-four colors.

If there is a man alive who could suggest a condition, except it be the inside of a blazing furnace wherein the Union Indestructible Land and Sea Paint would not, according to the claims of its manufacturers, meet all requirements, he would certainly be a curiosity.

The paint is now in the hands of dealers and a test of its many merits is seriously invited, for its inventors and makers seem to know whereof they speak.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Neafie & Levy, ship builders, have a contract to build a $250,000 yacht for Peter A. B. Widener of this city. It will be fitted out in interior in a most palatial style.

Levi Bickling, of Upper Roxboro, lost by fire, on the 20th inst., his house and stable at that place. Loss about $8 00 and may be rebuilt as soon as insurance and other details are settled.

James Moore, builder, 1005 Betz Building, is taking estimates on twelve two story houses he will erect on Sixty-third street, near Woodland avenue. All to be of fancy brick, stone steps and facings, with furnace heat, ranges and boilers and general comforts.

Alexander Cowan, owner and builder, will at once begin excavation for seven three-story houses, on Fifty-fourth street, north of Parrish. All to be of fancy brick fronts, stone finish, interiors fitted with furnace heat, boilers, ranges and all modern comforts.

John W. Fritzinger, contractor, of Roxborough, has a contract to erect an addition to the dye house of Graham J. Littlewood & Sons, on Main street, south of Walnut Lane, Germantown. It will be two stories high, 32 x 90 feet, brick and stone. Cost $2500.

Notice to Contractors.—We want to hear from a wealthy and reliable contractor who will buy lots and build from twenty to one hundred houses. If satisfied, the investment will pay 25 per cent. in six months. For particulars write to Devenny Bros., McKeesport, Pa.

Wendell & Smith, Overbrook, Pa., intend to erect a fine house at their place for T. S. Shoemaker. It will be of brick and stone, three stories high, and the interior in hard woods, electric work, best of plumbing, steam heat, possibly, and all general improvements.

John Kramer & Son, 1314 North Front street, contractors, have the contract for an addition to factory of J. W. Paxson & Co., 1056 to 78 Beach street, also a stable 32 x 90 feet, two stories high, the whole costing about $10,000. Fully noted in a previous issue of this journal.

Thomas M. Seeds, Jr., the contractor for the New Fire Station House at Second and Quarry streets, will begin at once the superstructure. As noted previously it will be 80 x 64 feet, three stories high, brick and cut stone work, and furnished with all the latest improvements in interior.

Estimates are still being made on the stable of Dr. J. M. DaCosta, at Upton, Pa., after plans by Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 Walnut street. Structure of iron, two stories high, and finished on interior with all conveniences for a modern country stable. Plans are in a number of general contractors' offices. William R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street, has been given the contract.

Work is soon to be started upon the temporary chapel of the Gethsemane Lutheran congregation, at Sixtieth and Callowhill streets. The church worship is held in a private property at present, and it is the intention to soon erect a permanent structure and parish house. Mrs. E. T. Lehman has donated all the ground needed.

The drawings for a large warehouse to be erected at League Island, and noted previously in these columns, are now on the boards for estimate at office of Charles McCaul No. 10 N. Eleventh street. The plans indicate a one story structure, of corrugated iron roof and sides, iron truss frame on piles and piers of concrete work, all painted with a special kind of paint. Bids will be scheduled and the contract awarded to the lowest bidder at an early day.

James Moore, builder, will erect six three-story dwellings, 16 x 58 feet, on the east side of Sixty-third street, east of Woodland avenue. Pompeian brick fronts, stone trimmings, best conveniences on interior.

J. E. & A. L. Pennock, 305 Walnut street, are figuring on plans for an addition of a second story to 105 South Fourth street, rear of the Brown Bros. office building. It will be in keeping with the main structure.

Dr. Charles M. Cullen, 762 Brooklyn street, has had plans made for a stable to be erected at the above location and desires bids for the work. It will be 45 x 56 feet, three stories high, and fitted with all late conveniences.

Phillip Haibach, contractor, has a contract for extensive alterations to the bakery of C. & W. Freihofer, Twenty-fourth and Master streets. The work will cost $3000 and be started at once. Chiefly interior fixtures and furnaces, etc.

Post 51, G. A. R., have secured as a future headquarters Nos. 1916 to 20 North Front street, for $3700, and intend to remodel the interior. The building committee to consider plans for the above work are Messrs. Knowles, Stiles, Richers, Haney, Mager, Greening and Burke.

In the Bureau of Surveys for the city plans are being made for a superstructure and pavilion to be erected on the new Chestnut street extended pier, also for the handsome bridge designed to extend across Delaware avenue at that point. The material will be chiefly of iron, stone and frame work covered with corrugated iron and rendered entirely safe for the public by height, width and strength and easy access from grade. The entire widening of the avenue and other work incident is to be completed by March, 1899.

The contract for the large office building, to be erected at Broad and South Penn Square, has been awarded to Charles McCaul, No. 10 North Eleventh street, and work will be started as soon as tenants can remove. As before noted, it will be fourteen stories, red granite, Pompeian brick and terra cotta work, with steel structural frame and fire proof throughout. Elevators, electric work, steam heat, marble, mosaic and tile work. All general comfort and conveniences will be introduced. Plans and supervision by Furness, Evans & Co., architects, Provident Life building, Fourth and Chestnut streets.

During the past week estimates have again been made on the work of erecting the new structure at 81 Chestnut street, to replace the burned building of John & James Dobson. It will be five stories high, brick, iron and terra cotta work. Interior will contain steam heat and power, electric work, elevator and freight lift, best system of plumbing and all general improvements. The entire front will also contain large plate glass, and a slag roof is designed also. Allen B. Rorke, the well-known builder and contractor, Bourse Building, has submitted figures upon the cost. The work has been noticed in these columns previously.

Some time ago we noted great improvements projected at "Ogontz" and to be executed under the management of the well-known builder of fine, suburban homes, Mr. Wm. T. B. Roberts, whose offices are located in the Land Title and Trust Building, southwest corner of Broad and Chestnut streets, in this city. Mr. Roberts is at this time pushing the work of laying out plots, grading and draining, laying of water and light pipes and conduits, paving and curbing, as well as erecting here and there charming homes. This operation will prove to be one of the largest and finest of the many suburban locations around this city of homes.

The large operation at Ogontz Park gives every promise of being a wonderful success. While the property has just been opened up and improvements are as yet hardly completed, one house has already been built and is just finishing. Contracts have been let for four more, which will be started at once. Plans are being prepared for six others, estimates on which will be taken at once. Plans have also been accepted for a fine store and dwelling on the Willow Grove turnpike. These are all under the direct supervision of Mr. Wm. T. B. Roberts, 410 Land Title Building, who is opening up the park and addition to this parties who have purchased ground there have started two more residences, all of the above to be completed before January 1st next.

A movement is on foot to establish a "Home for Journalists" in some locality yet to be fixed upon. A meeting of the Governors of the International League of Press Clubs of the United States was held on the 26th inst., at the Pen and Pencil Club rooms, in this city, and steps were taken looking to erecting a building, and report will be made at the next meeting in October, at Omaha, Neb., during the visit of the President, William McKinley. Among those present were P. C. Boyle, of Oil City, the president of the League; Secretary Frank Rice, of Boston; Treasurer James S. McCartney, of this city; William S. Fredericks, of New York; E. D. Maders, of Baltimore; Mrs. J. Longfellow O'Donohue, of Washington; L. M. Williamson, of this city, and F. D. Weiler, of Reading.

M. J. Smith & Co., contractors and builders, No. 1105 Betz Building, have broken ground for the erection of a house for Mr. Wm. T. B. Roberts, at Ogontz Park, Ogontz, Pa. The plans for this house were prepared by Messrs. Yarnall & Goforth, architects, No. 14 South Broad street, who will superintend its erection. It is intended that this house shall be the specimen house of this new Philadelphia suburb. It will be finished in hard wood throughout and have all modern conveniences. This is one of many well-appointed houses which Mr. Roberts intends erecting at Ogontz Park. The same contractors have also broken ground for a house in Yeadon borough, Delaware county, Pa., for Mr. Frank H. Fleer. This house is of the colonial style of architecture, will be finished in hard wood throughout and have all the modern conveniences, including venetian inside blinds.

The unexpended or allotted money for departments of the city, out of the loan for public work, is as follows: For buildings and grounds of the Bureau of Water, $25,000; for main sewers, $50,000; for repairs to streets, $60,000; for new boilers and boiler house at the Roxborough pumping station, $30,000; for repairs to bridges, $17,500; for 48-inch water mains, connecting the main pumping station with Queen's lake reservoir, $50,000; for grading streets, $50,000; for repairs to intersections of streets, $500; for coal for the Water Bureau, $150,000. Of the remainder of the loan, not allotted to the Department of Public Works, the sum of $14,400 goes to the Board of Education, and $77,500 to the Department of Public Safety. Of the latter sum about $20,000 is to be utilized for the maintenance of police and fire stations and improvements to the public squares. The money will be available as soon as Controller Walton has checked up the various items and transferred the amount from the sinking fund to the general fund.

Through Pennsylvania.

When any of the following are not post office towns they will be so designated.

—At Hazelton, Luzerne county, the vitrified pavement will be extended from 18,000 to 21,000 square yards on Broad street. A. B. Celiach, city engineer.

—At Lansdowne, Delaware county, the Lansdowne Electric Company has been incorporated. The capital is $35,000.

—At Phoenixville, Chester county, Frank Golding has begun work on a dwelling on First avenue. It will cost about $2000.

—At Carlisle, Cumberland county, the street commissioners will have plans prepared for a brick sewer. The estimated cost is $5000.

—At Shamokin, Northumberland county, the question is under consideration of issuing bonds to the amount of $65,000 to be used for street paving.

—At Turtle Creek, Allegheny county, Chas. McKelvey will erect a frame dwelling, from plans prepared by A. K. Miller. The owner will receive estimates.

—At Hoppenville, Montgomery county, Mrs. Jesse Nace will erect a dwelling, to cost about $3000. —J. H. Gerhard is making a number of alterations to his dwelling.

—At Sheridanville, Allegheny county, Mr. John Murphy is having three dwellings erected. The contractor is Thomas Wallace, who has other contracts for work at Sheridanville and Oakdale station.

—At Oakmont, Allegheny county, it has been decided to issue bonds to the amount of $65,000, of which $41,000 will be used for sewerage, $16,000 for street improvements and $8000 for refunding.

—At Phoenixville, Chester county, Frank Golding has broken ground for a dwelling, to be erected on First avenue, between Gay and Main streets. It will be well finished and will cost about $2000.

—At Gettysburg, Adams county, it is probable that considerable repairs will be made to the sewerage system or a new system introduced. I. L. Kendeheart, secretary town council, can give information.

—At Finland, Montgomery county, a handsome stone dwelling will be erected by Mr. Jesse Kenninger. It will be finely finished throughout, with all modern conveniences and will cost about $5000.

—At Green Lane, Montgomery county, it is probable that a power plant will be erected to supply Green Lane, Red Hill, East Greenville and Pennsburg with electricity. The water power of the Perkiomen will be used.

—At Braddock, Allegheny county, Dr. G. E. Bair will erect a three-story store and dwelling, from plans prepared by E. J. Carlisle & Co. It will be of brick, well finished and provided with all modern conveniences and improvements.

—At Sheridan, Lebanon county, it is probable that street improvements will be made, as a proposition has been favorably considered to issue bonds to the amount of $16,000, of which $8000 will be used for sewers, and $8000 for other street improvements.

—At Dunmore, Lackawanna county, a company has been incorporated, to be known as the Dunmore Electric Light Co. The capital is $50,000. The directors are James E. Watkins, of Taylor; Anthony T. Irwin, of Dunmore; James C. Vaughn, of Scranton, and others.

—At Reading, Berks county, A. W. Haag has begun work a three-story brick factory building, 37 x 80 feet, on the south side of Walnut street, between Second and Third streets. The contract for a storm water sewer has been awarded to P. Frank Hayman, of Reading, for $492.63.

—At Lebanon, Lebanon county, it is stated that ordinances have been passed providing for the extension of mains, also for laying eight-inch mains, also for the purchase of 25 hydrants. J. D. Kerr, Secretary of the Water Board, or George B. Hayes, City Engineer, can give additional information.

—At Scranton, Lackawanna county, the committee on fire department has recomit is said that a cigar factory will be erected.—P. J. Guthrie, of Philadelphia, has been awarded the contract for the erection of the new Lutheran church and ground has been broken. It will be of King of Prussia marble, well finished on interior, hand-some fixtures and church furniture and all conveniences. The seating capacity will be about six hundred and the cost $11,000.—At Scranton, Lackawanna county, at a recent meeting of the Pennsylvania Deaf Mutes Association, Treasurer Walker, of the fund for founding a home for aged and blind deaf and dumb persons, reported $40,000 in the treasury, and also that the location of the proposed home would probably be at Scranton, Easton or Williamsport, Pa. Rev. J.

ing to be erected by Mr. Ewing.—John L.
Mather, superintendent of the Wayne estate, has bought a fine lot on Lancaster ave-nue, opposite the Jones property, and will erect a dwelling in the near future.—At Doylestown, Bucks county, work will begin at once on the construction of the new trolley road between Doylestown and Newtown. It is said that the road will be finished by the middle of December. The power house will be situated near Forest Grove and the line will cross the North East Penn Railroad at Wyocomb, by an overhead bridge.—Reuben Keller, of Philadelphia, will erect a dwelling at Court and Church streets.—Edward Worman will erect a dwelling on York street.—At West Chester, Chester county, the congregation of the Westminster Presbyterian Church at a recent meeting decided to erect a new Sabbath school-room, which will later be one a part of the new church, which will be erected at some future time. The proposed building will be erected to the south and rear of the chapel. It will be of Avondale stone, well finished throughout, and will cost about $1000. Plans for it have been prepared by Arthur S. Cochran, W. W. McElwee, Esq., Herman F. Myers, R. M. Keech, and Harry
S. Johnson and Harry T. Ferrell were appointed a committee on subscriptions.—At Chester, Delaware county, work will start shortly on several building operations, including the proposed Crozier Home for Incurables, the new high school and St.
Paul's Church. The Provident Life and Trust Company and the Fidelity Insurance, Trust and Safe Deposit Company, of Philadelphia, have been appointed trustees of the $750,000 left by J. Lewis Crozier for the establishment of a fine library and lecture room for Chester, to cost $250,000, and the Home for Incurables and a Homeopathic hospital, to cost $500,000. Mrs. Mary S. Crozier will carry out the provisions of her husband's will,
and has engaged an architect to draw plans for the buildings. The estimated cost of the hospital building is $50,000; that of the library building about $20,000. The work of erecting the hospital will be begun as soon as possible.—A new social club has been organized and will secure quarters in the new building just finished at Third and Highland streets. The rooms will be completely furnished with everything necessary to the comfort of the members. John A. Hoek is president, J. W. Smith and John Howard, vice presidents; D. S. Stokes, treasurer, and L. C.

Greeley Advised "Go West"

Our advice to the Philadelphia builder is "go Southwest," and take a look at the ground we have secured and placed on the market, between 21st and 23d, running south from Moore, and intersected by Mifflin, McKean, Snyder Avenue, Jackson and Wolf Streets.

The above has been divided into plots, affording an exceptional opportunity for a progressive man.

Every house in this section is occupied and a large market awaits you.

WHAT ROBERTS OFFERS

Real Estate Operations on a Great Scale and by Novel Methods

PERSONS wishing to buy ground for building homes or for other purposes find that the ROBERTS OPERATIONS afford opportunities that can be had in no other way. The large scale on which these operations are conducted works immensely to the advantage of builders and home-seekers in many ways. For example:—

1. We buy and put on the market properties that could never be bought except as a whole; lots would not be sold at any price. We have opened ground that has been kept in truck patches for fifty years, and might have been kept so for fifty years more.
2. We buy large estates for which cash must be paid, but sell in lots to suit purchasers, and on easy terms.
3. We sell ground in small lots at the same prices at which speculators buy to sell again. Home-buyers and builders thus save the speculator's profit.
4. Our operations are so numerous and so large that they enable you to buy ground in almost any part of the city, in lots to suit, on practically your own terms.

SUBURBAN—WILLOW GROVE

Willow Grove, 84 Acres.—The remaining lots of this desirable tract are to be had on terms suited to all needs. They have been selling at from $100 to $500. The situation, directly in front of Willow Grove Park, and the low prices, offer special advantages to home builders of moderate means.

Grove Terrace, 18 Acres.—Adjoining Willow Grove Park, beautifully situated on high ground, with a fine view. Lots, 25 feet frontage, extending 150 feet deep, at prices from $225 to $300 per lot.

Grove Terrace Annex, 10 Acres.—On the Davisville road, near the station, adjoining Grove Terrace. Lots on this pleasant location, 25 feet frontage, 150 feet to 250 feet deep, $100 to $150 each.

We particularly call attention to the low prices of these three tracts, and to the terms of payment, which are on our easy installment plan.

WEST PHILADELPHIA

67th and Woodland Ave., 10 Acres.—Extending to 68th and Elmwood Ave. Lying very high, and surrounded by a good class of improvements, this is one of the best situated properties in West Philadelphia. Streets are being opened through, and it is now ready for sale on easy terms.

Plans of all Tracts, etc., and Prices can be had on application.

GERMANTOWN

Wayne and Berkley Sts.—We have a desirable piece of ground here, the balance of a tract already sold and improved upon. Also a number of new houses, all styles and sizes; some in pairs, with side yards; all with porch fronts. Rents from $20 to $37.50. These are one square from Wayne Junction, the most convenient station near Philadelphia. 271 trains daily.

Walnut Lane and Reading R. R.—One square from Walnut Lane Station, near Chew, 400 feet frontage. Excellent location for suburban dwellings for persons of moderate means or for a manufacturing site, lumber yard, etc.

Manheim and Green Sts., 8 Acres.—This fine old Rosengarten property, containing about two squares, is the only piece of ground in this neighborhood that can be purchased in a large tract. Streets have been graded through, and the improvements will be completed in about a month. It is offered for operations of fine houses, and the situation, old shade trees, and shrubbery, make it a rare location.

Penn and Wakefield.—Two lots, 50 x 100 feet, and one 75 x 100 feet, are for sale; also, 35 new dwellings, on lots 22 x 37 feet, 3-story, 10 and 11 rooms; built in pairs. Porch fronts; front, side and rear yards, etc. Price, $3500. Rent, $28.

PHILADELPHIA—NORTHWEST

28th and Allegheny Ave., 12 Acres.—Including Washington Park, through to Hunting Park Ave. The finest unimproved site now left on this thoroughfare. It extends to within 200 feet of Bellevue Station, Reading R. R., and trolley runs along the front. Will be divided to suit purchasers.

28th and Clearfield Sts., 2 Acres.—We are now opening up this desirable block, suitable for moderate sized houses.

22d and Somerset Sts., 10 Acres.—One of the best opportunities in Philadelphia for building operations. The ground is being improved, and streets are cut through.

22d and Huntingdon Sts., 10 Acres.—A most desirable situation, which we purpose having improved by the erection of fine residences. Terms will be so arranged that the old houses may be torn down.

19th St. and Lehigh Ave., 7 Acres.—Plans are ready for the improvements here, and builders can proceed at once. Houses will sell rapidly here, as there is no ground unimproved south of Lehigh Ave.

20th and Berks Sts., 72 x 215 feet.—Residence on front; stables, etc., in the rear. Suitable for hauling or other business.

PHILADELPHIA—SOUTHWEST

23d St. and Point Breeze Ave., 20 Acres.—Just the spot for small houses. Streets are being cut through, sewers laid and grading done, and all is ready for operations.

24th St. and Point Breeze Ave., 15 Acres.—On this tract streets are being opened up throughout. The expenditure for ground and improvements on this and the neighboring tracts amounts to $75000.

20th and Mifflin Sts., 8 Acres.—This tract is divided, streets opened up, graded and paved, and is for sale. Suited for small houses.

JOHN F. BRISBANE, City Editor.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, SEP. 7, 1898.

There was, perhaps, no single exhibition at the World's Fair, at Chicago, that excited so much interest as the model Philadelphia workman's two-story dwelling, erected on the grounds by Mr. Wm. T. B. Roberts, of this city.

Complete in every detail with its modern improvements, it was an object lesson to the millions of visitors, to the most of whom it partook of the nature of a revelation, embracing in its absolute adherence to plain and useful principles in its plans as well as its auxiliaries, a system which, for years, had become so far-reaching in Philadelphia as to make it possible for every workman to own a home as comfortable, if not as elegant, as his wealthy neighbor.

The interest thus excited was foreign to that which controlled the curio hunters or those in quest of amusement, for it involved the cardinal features of civilized living, which appealed to the serious consideration of every thinking person, who examined the structure, with its plain but comfortable furnishings.

It was indeed a happy thought which prompted Mr. Roberts to make the exhibition of this model Philadelphia dwelling, for it not only typified the progressive character of the man, but it also advertised Philadelphia to an extent never reached before, besides giving him the national reputation his energy and enterprise justly merited.

As step by step the tottering child learns to walk. So, also, the progressive business man evolves with his energy and enterprise, until he becomes a giant among his fellows in making opportunities as well as in reaping success.

Mr. Roberts' successes in land and real estate ventures are well known to the Philadelphia public, and to-day he has more on hand than perhaps any half dozen men in the real estate business, as an evidence of which our readers have but to peruse his advertisement on the first page of this issue, as it embraces Glenside Farm, Ogontz Park, Willow Grove, West Philadelphia, Germantown and Northwest and Southwest Philadelphia, and while there is always expressed on the part of Mr. Roberts, a full appreciation of the value of the refining influence of better homes for working people, his present operations are mostly calculated for beautiful suburban homes, as many of his sites are sufficiently desirable for the most expensive mansions.

Fuel Gas Connections for New Buildings Free of Charge.

The United Gas Improvement Company has broadened its scope of usefulness, until it has now entered the field of the operative builder by making all connections, when requested, to gas ranges and gas instantaneous water heaters in new houses free of charge.

This is not only a great saving of money to builders and owners, but it places such work in the hands of capable and experienced people.

The use of gas as a summer fuel is cutting a wide swath into the resources of the coal companies, and its popularity has extended to such an extent that the manufacturers of coal ranges were compelled to add to their product mechanical devices for the use of gas as a fuel, which practically removed the necessity for separate gas ranges. Prominent among these is the combination gas and coal range now on exhibition at the stores of Matthew Hall, 1327-31 Market street, which is about as complete in its combination as it is possible to make it, as there is absolutely no conflict nor impairment of either system.

There is nothing to be changed or removed. If gas fuel is desired it is there at all times, and a hasty breakfast is not delayed by a slow coal fire, for the gas will do the business while one is waiting.

The operative builders have learned that buyers of dwellings now require provision for gas fuel, and the sensible ones are anticipating their wishes by making it a feature. Among the number is George Cook Messer, 806 Provident Building, for whom the United Gas Improvement Company has arranged to make the connections FREE OF CHARGE for the thirteen houses he will erect on Sixty-third street, Overbrook.

The cost of this kind of work is an important item, and builders and owners should first of all provide for fuel gas and then cultivate an acquaintance with Mr. Page, at the Filbert street office of the company.

ONE of the effects of the war is likely to be the larger use of mahogany in this country. Cuba and Porto Rico are both large producers of these woods, and as these countries come under American control it may be expected that those forests will be more largely worked, while both from its scarcity and difficulty in handling it is never likely to become a cheap wood, yet for years to come its larger use for furniture and as a finishing wood may be expected. The development of the lumber interest of these islands will attract American enterprise and the result cannot fail to be a large use of tropical woods in the place of our northern hard woods. One of our exchanges remarking on this subject says: "Mahogany will never become a cheap wood, though; there isn't enough of it for that; but it will likely be very popular for years to come, in this way relieving to an extent the drain on our oak supply, to be itself superseded by other tropical woods eventually—for to the tropics must future generations of Americans naturally turn for their cabinet and fine finish woods."—Exchange.

Architect Notes.

Charles Balderston, architect, 144 South Fourth street, has on boards plans for a new business building to be erected at 1019 Race street. It will be of brick and stone and fitted on interior for general business purposes.

S. Munsch, a well-known architect of Pittsburgh, Pa., was found dead early September 3d, in a room in the American Hotel. Deceased had been suffering from heart trouble, and this, in connection with the intense heat, is supposed to have caused his death. Mr. Munsch was sixty years of age. He was en route to Mount Clemens, Mich.

General contractors have been asked to estimate on the plans for the power house, to be erected for the new Commercial Museum on the ground in front of Blockley. It will be 60 x 244 feet, one story high, and of granite brick, Indiana limestone and iron, one story high, and a stack 150 feet will rise at one corner. Drawings can be seen at Doyle & Doak's, 133 South Fifteenth street. Wilson Bros., engineers and architects, Drexel Building, made the plans for the work.

Thomas Stephen, architect, 302 Masonic Temple, Camden, N. J., has been selected, after competition to make all plans for the new High School to be erected in that city by the Board of Education. It will be three stories high, of brick, with stone trimmings and contain twenty class rooms, fitted with all the latest and best school furniture, and an audience room, seating about 500 persons. Steam heat, electric work, blackboards, desks and seating for an equal number, as above stated. It is expected work will be started during the fall months. Cost about $60,000.

Edward A. Cameron, the architect in charge of construction of the new Mint for the United States, at Sixteenth and Spring Garden streets, has received full plans for the super-structure, and estimates are to be made and placed in hands of Supervising Architect J. Knox Taylor, at his office in Washington, D. C., by October 3, 1898. The entire structure will be of granite, brick, iron, terra cotta and marble work, fireproof throughout, fitted with steam heat and power, electric work, tie and mosaic work, cement and concrete; also elevators, lifts, and all the most recent and approved machinery, etc. Foundations have been completed by Allen B. Rorke, the well known contractor and builder, of this city.

J. F. Stuckert & Son, architects, 49 North Thirteenth street, have made plans for the alteration of 1419-21 Chestnut street, and are ready for estimate. The work is quite extensive, interior and exterior as well, and embraces all general improvements and business detail. Other drawings are in course of preparation by same architects, which will be noted at an early day.

In a previous issue we noted the sale of property at the northeast corner of Seventeenth and Filbert streets to parties for the construction of a large building. It has developed that the purchaser is the Bell Telephone Company, who contemplate erecting a fine large office building for their own purposes upon the site. Plans are being made for the work, which we shall note later.

A. H. Williams & Sons, contractors, have been given the contract to construct the Cloister addition to the Church of the Messiah, at Broad street and Montgomery avenue, to cost $7500. It will be one story, 12 x 58 feet, Indiana lime-tone, and in general conformity to the church proper. Plans previously noted by Hazelhurst & Huckel, architects, Girard Building, Broad and Chestnut streets.

William F. Ingham, contractor, 846 North Sixteenth street will remodel the residence of David Martin, at Holmesburg, and noted in our last issue. The plans contemplate the extension of the house and introduction of all modern improvements and comforts, making it, to all intents and purposes, a new building. Joseph M. Huston, architect, Witherspoon Building, drew the plans, and will oversee the work.

Thomas J. Lonsdale, architect, Manhattan Life Building, Fourth and Walnut streets, has completed plans for a parish school house, to be built on the west side of Sixty-second and a half street, between Vine and Calowhills. It will be 75 x 115 feet, two stories high, stone and brick, steel girders and all general steam heat, electric work, and all general comforts introduced on interior. Rev. J. F. Lynde is pastor in charge. The contract has been let to James Mullin, 5512 Vine street, who will start work at once.

The plans for the Law School for the University of Pennsylvania, at Thirty-fourth and Chestnut streets, are fast approaching completion by the architects, previously mentioned in these columns, Messrs. Cope & Stewardson and Associate Frank Miles Day & Brother. Estimates are soon to be asked, it is understood. The structure will be 150 x 220 feet.

and faces Chestnut, Thirty-fourth and Sansom streets. It will be two stories high, and a fine basement, brick, stone, iron and terra cotta work, likely slag roof, steam heat, electric work, tile, marble and mosaic work, quite extensive, also some slate in closets and other departments. The best system of plumbing and ventilation, electric work of most approved kind, shelving for library, hard wood furniture and general fixtures; plain and leaded glass, and all modern comforts and conveniences will be introduced.

As noted a few weeks ago in these columns, Mr. William Weightman has concluded to erect at once the large business and office building on Chestnut street, east of Broad, upon the old site of the Presbyterian Publication building and sites adjoining on the east as far as Juniper street. The drawing were prepared under the joint supervision of Mr. Angus S. Wade, architect, and Willis G. Hale, each having made plans for special parts. Mr. Wade supervised those for the interior structural work and Mr. Hale for all the exterior. These joint productions have been placed on boards for estimate, and call for a building ten stories high, with towers which raise it ornamentally several stories higher. At the same time bids are to be offered in the office of Benj. Ketchum & Sons, 1029 Brown street, from sub-contractors for the structural work in three ways, considering a building twelve, fifteen or twenty stories high. The special feature of an arcade for several large stores will be retained in any event, and the material previously noted as well, being granite, brick and terra cotta work, with steel skeleton structure. Quite a number of improved elevators and lifts will be placed, also electric plant, tile, marble and mosaic work, iron grille work, concrete and cement work, and a fireproof interior, slate, copper and lead work of quite extensive, and the plumbing will be upon the improved principles of Steam heat and power and all the improvements introduced. After all bids are in and scheduled they are to receive personal consideration of Mr. Weightman, and his decision as to general details is expected to be announced at an early day.

Building Notes.

Hetts' dye house, at Main street and Walnut lane, Manayunk, was destroyed last week by fire. It is their intention rebuild at once, as the structure is necessary to the mill in its output.

The large barn at the Villa Nova College, just beyond Rosemont, on the main line of the P. R. R., was destroyed entirely by fire on September 3d. It is to be rebuilt as soon as arrangements can be effected.

Wm. F. Albrecht, contractor, will be the builder of the Geiger Memorial (church, at Twenty-sixth street and Lehigh avenue. It is to be one story high, slate peaked roof, range work stone. Also for a brick and blue marble parsonage adjoining, 16 x 50 feet, three stories high, and fitted on interior with all the latest conveniences and comforts. Cost about $10,000.

It has been determined to ornament the walls and spare spots in and around the Subway, now approaching completion, with trees, plants and flowers of various kinds. The entire length will be planted with trees on each side of the top surface, and walls vined with hardy and rare plants. This will be quite pleasing to the eye of not only resident but traveling population.

In our last issue we announced the contractors for the Epiphany buildings at Seventeenth and Summer streets as J. E. & A. L. Pennock, 35 Walnut street, who are to begin work at once upon this site. The same contractors have been given the contract for the alteration to the house at the northeast corner of Broad and Tasker, for the United Gas Improvement Company, as an office structure. All previously and fully noted in these columns as to details.

R. M. Peterson, 5250 Wakefield street, Germantown, has been given the contract for the erection of a $60,000 residence for Henry Schmidt, of the Christian Schmidt's Sons' Brewing Company, at Ridge avenue and Crease's lane, Roxborough, and has begun operations. The building will be of Port Deposit granite, and will be 49 by 60 feet in dimensions. It will contain about twenty rooms, including a bowling alley, etc., in the basement. It will be finished in first-class style, and contain all the modern conveniences and improvements, including a music hall, with an orchestraion, valued at $4000. Porches will extend all around the house. Mr. Peterson will also erect a stable and power house for furnishing light and heat. The former will cost about $10,000, and will be a handsome piece of architecture. The power house will be complete in every detail. The residence is expected to be ready for occupancy by May next. Previously noted.

DESIGNS AND ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY FURNISHED.

Macey, Henderson & Co., contractors, 1215 Filbert street, have a contract to erect the pumping station at Belmont works, Fairmount Park. It will be of brick, stone and iron construction, one story high.

The award for razing the site, 918 Market street, adjoining the Post Office in this city, will be made in a few days, as all the bids for the work have been received in office of the Supervising Architect of the Treasury Department at Washington, D. C.

Chief Webster, of the Bureau of Surveys for the city, has now completed the preliminary plans and estimates for the great work of elevating the Philadelphia and Reading Railway tracks from Wallace to Huntingdon streets, and estimates the cost to be over $2,000,000. An early consideration of the subject is to be brought before Councils, and these drawings and estimates will be utilized for information. Mr. Webster has also finished plans for the great superstructure to be erected at Arch street pier, Delaware river, and the drawings are on boards of Charles McCall, No. 10 North Eleventh street, for estimate. It covers the entire pier and is one story high. Corrugated iron, slag roof. The pier is 500 feet in length.

The alterations and additions to the Rittenhouse apartments, at Twenty-second and Chestnut streets, now started, will be very extensive. The work will include, as before noted, a new front, stone, brick and terra cotta work, and additional stores covered by galvanized iron. The interior will be generally overhauled and finished in hard woods, mahogany, oak and polished marble and mosaic work. A cafe, a buffet and smoking room, and a roof garden on Twenty-second street are leading features in alteration. Handsome decorations throughout will be added, and every comfort and convenience for patrons.
 Willis G. Hale, architect, prepared the plans, and will supervise all the work, the contractors being Benjamin Ketcham & Sons, of 1029 Brown street.

We are now enabled to announce that the purchase of property at the southeast corner of Seventeenth and Sansom streets, noted in our last issue, has been made by the First Baptist Church congregation, who recently sold their site to the United Gas Improvement Company. The size of the location will be 95 feet on Seventeenth street and 150 feet on Moravian and Sansom streets, which cost $175,000. It is the intention of the buyers to erect a handsome church at once, and a building committee has been appointed for the purpose of preparing plans and consideration of details. Neither preliminary nor fixed drawings have been considered nor have any contracts been made. P. F. Kernan, real estate agent, made the purchase on behalf of the joint Beth-Eden and First Battist congregations.

Howland, president of the board of managers, No. 1 Madison avenue, New York City, at which time and place the board will receive and open all proposals. Drawings and specifications may be consulted and blank forms of proposals obtained at the office of the board of managers, No. 1 Madison avenue, New York City, or at the office of I. G. Perry, architect, in the capitol at Albany, N. Y. Each bid must be inclosed in an envelope, sealed and addressed to Hon. Henry E. Howland, president of the board of managers, No. 1 Madison avenue, New York City, and indorsed with the title of the work which bidders propose to do. George E. Dodge, secretary of the board of managers.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the board of public works of the city of Grand Rapids, Michigan, until 2 P. M., Tuesday, September 20, A. D. 1898, for furnishing buildings, engines, boilers, dynamos, pole-line, arc lamps, etc., for a complete electric lighting plant, or any part thereof, as set forth more fully in the specifications. Copies of specifications and map of the city can be obtained of the secretary of the board, and technical information at the office of the consulting engineers. Each bidder will be required to deposit with his bid a certified check to the amount of 5 per cent. of his bids, payable to the order of the president of the board of public works, and the bidder's check shall be forfeited to the city of Grand Rapids in case he shall fail to enter into contract within 10 days from the acceptance of his bid. The successful bidder will be required to file with the board of public works, within 10 days from the time the contract is awarded him, a bond, in the sum to be determined by said board, with sureties approved by the board of public works, for the faithful discharge of all conditions of his contract. All proposals must be made upon blanks attached to the specifications. The board reserves the right to reject any or all bids, or any portion of a bid. Wm. T. Johnston, president; Fred. A. Twamley, secretary.

Sealed proposals will be received by the committee on property, at the office of the board of public education, No. 718 Filbert street, Philadelphia, until 2.30 o'clock P. M., Wednesday, September 14, 1898, for the following work: Alterations to the Haines Street Church Building, in the Twenty-second Section. Also an addition to the Feltoville School Building in the Twenty-second Section. All bids in firms' names must state the names of the partners of the firm. Said work to be done in accordance with the plans and specifications of the architect and supervisor of school buildings, to be seen at the office of the board between the hours of 2 and 4 P. M. No bid of $500 or over will be considered unless accompanied by a certificate from the City Solicitor that the provisions of the ordinance approved May 25, 1880, have been complied with. In addition to the security of 50 per cent. of the amount of the contract required for the faithful execution of the work, the contractors will be required before commencing work to execute a penal bond in accordance with ordinance of councils approved May 30, 1896. All the city ordinances governing the employment of labor and material must be complied with. The committee reserves the right to reject any or all bids, and also to exact security for work where the bid is less than $500; if, in their opinion, it is deemed necessary. No bid will be received from anyone who cannot demonstrate to the satisfaction of the committee his or their ability to fully comply with the provisions of the ordinance of councils in regard to the filing of bonds for the satisfactory completion of the work and the securing of contractors' debts. Such demonstration must be made to the committee prior to the opening of bids. By order of the committee on property. A. F. Hammond, secretary.

At Atlantic City, Messrs. Clark Evans, A. M. Heston and M. V. B. Sall, of the hospital board, and Architect Harold V. Adams, have visited the building on Ohio avenue to consider what alteration would be necessary to make it into a first-class hospital. Considerable changes will be made, including an operation and an elevator or lift for patients.

The annex, which will contain the models of some of the most important modern buildings, will be a feature in the Exposition of 1900 at Paris, that must be of much interest to architects, builders and other visitors. Some of these representations are likely to be very costly. The model of the Hotel de Ville is to cost 53,000 francs. As the model of the great church of the Sacre-Coeur on the top of the hill of Montmartre will not be in plaster but in cut stone, the expense will reach a larger sum. The New Sorbonne is also to appear, but the model will cost the comparatively small amount of 25,000 francs. The two palaces of the exhibition in the Champs-Elysees, and the Pont Alexandre III will be among the structures to be reproduced on a small scale. If this exposition of architectural modeling is as successful as is expected, it cannot fail to attract attention to this method of representing architectural subjects and induce its larger use. From time to time the advantage of modeling in architecture is referred to and occasional examples of its use may be seen at architectural exhibitions, but it never has been used except in the most limited manner. Its advantages in the study of special features indicate the benefits that would accrue from its larger use, and such an exhibition will tend to create greater interest in modeling and show better its practical value.—EXCHANGE

Architect Notes.

Walter Smedley, architect, Stephen Girard Building, Twelfth, above Chestnut street, has made plans for a house and stable to be erected at Upton, Pa., for William H. Morris. Both structures are to be of local stone and brick, and interiors in hard woods, with every convenience and comfort. Estimates are now being invited by the architect.

J. F. Stuckert & Son, architects, 49 North Thirteenth street, have placed the plans for alterations to 1419-21 Chestnut street, noted in last issue of this journal, on boards of general contractors Stacey Reeves & Sons, 1611 Filbert street, for estimate. These are to be three stories high, red and black brick front, sandstone trimmings, steam heat, electric work, and all modern conveniences introduced. Bids are in progress.

George Nattress & Son, architects, 430 Walnut street, have completed plans for alteration and addition to the Good Samaritan P. E. Church, at Paoli, Pa. The work includes a new nave, chancel work, choir loft, tower on one corner of structure of stone, a vestry room and other minor details, all of which was noted some months ago, but the work has been suspended for a time. It is to be resumed and pushed to completion now.

Lathbury, Spackman & Co., engineers, 1619 Filbert street, will, during the current week receive bids on the erection of the cement mills, noted some time since in these columns, for the Lawrence Cement Company, near Easton, Pa. The work will consist of kilns, mills, engine and boiler houses, stock house, and a full plant, all covering a large area of ground. The structures are entirely of stone, brick and iron, and will be fitted with machinery necessary for the purposes named.

All the drawings for the Ayres Laboratory, to be erected on the Pennsylvania Hospital grounds, at Eighth and Spruce streets, have been completed, and estimates are to be asked at once by Addison Hutton, architect, 400 Chestnut street. The structure will be in accord with all others erected, two stories high, of brick and stone, fireproof interior, slate, marble and tile work, steam heat, electric work and best system of plumbing, gas fitting, and general accommodations. When completed it will be a model institution of the kind. Noted previously.

The Blockley Baptist Church plans, by W. C. & T. B. Pritchett, architects, 424 Walnut street, have again been placed upon boards of contractors for re-estimate, under a revision of details in specifications. The structure will be erected at Fifty-third street and Wyalusing avenue, and built of limestone, one story high, slate roof, plate, leaded and stained glass doors and windows, steam heat, electric work, hard wood finish on interior, tilling and general ornamentation, etc. Plans can be seen at office of Wm. R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street, and other contractors.

R. W. Boyle, architect, 1208 Chestnut street, has awarded the contract for the Roman Catholic church at Lansdowne, Delaware county, Pa., to Nicholas Cavanaugh, 321 North Fortieth street. It will be of stone, one story high, with granite columns, slate roof, steam heat and electric work and hard wood seating. The stained glass, the pews and altar work and other detail contracts are all reserved. Mr. Boyle has awarded Ryan & Co., 1509 South Sixteenth street, a contract to build a three-story store and dwelling at 611 South Second street. It will be of brick and stone, with all modern improvements.

The committee on behalf of the American Institute of Architects, F. Miles Day, chairman, has secured the house known as the Octagon House, in Washington, D. C., as a permanent home for the Institute, and will remodel it to suit the purposes of the association. It is known as one of the historic landmarks of Washington, D. C. and had its birth in the days coincident with those of the nation itself, and stands at the corner of New York avenue and Eighteenth street. It is quite imposing and surroundings beautiful, besides being historical. F. Miles Day, Wilson Eyre, Jr., and Robert Stead are the committee in charge.

The purchase of property by the First Baptist congregation and Beth Eden Church, at Seventeenth and Sansom streets, develops the fact that a building committee of the united churches will this week consider inviting a few of the leading architects of this city to make competitive drawings for the proposed new structure to be erected at the above location. The ready fund available for the above work will be over $500,000, realized from the sale of two valuable sites recently occupied by these congregations. The Beth Eden Baptist people will worship at Broad and Spruce streets until about the time of completion of their new temple, which will occupy about one year.

Manlie Fielding, architect, 110 South Fourth street, has made plans for a fine residence to be erected at Lakewood, N. J., for Mrs. Fred W. Downer, and awarded the contract to Howard Applegate, of the latter place. It will be of brick and frame, and furnished with all modern conveniences on interior. Same architect has awarded a contract to W. J. Grubler, contractor, of Germantown, to erect the residence, previously noted, for J. Fred Thomas, on West Walnut lane. Also, to build the club house for the Boys' Paper Association, on West Penn street, to Thomas J. Seefe, Jr., which we have previously noted. We learn that a few of the minor contracts are still open, chiefly the steam heat, plumbing, etc. Mr. Fielding has on boards plans for alterations and additions to two houses at Chestnut Hill, which are extensive in character and will be ready for estimate during the current week, including masonry, brick work, steam heat, plumbing, wrought iron work and tile terrace work, etc.

Richard C. Loos, architect, Fidelity Building, Broad, above Arch street, has on boards plans for a new church, to be erected at Linesville, Crawford county, Pa., for the Baptist congregation at that place. It will be one story high, of stone and brick, slate roof, plate and stained glass, hard wood seating, and general comforts on interior, including electric work; steam or furnace heat, to be fixed upon later by the committee. Also plans for a new M. E. church, to be built at Springboro, Pa., to be one story high, of stone and brick, slate roof, and leaded and plain glass; a tower to be erected at one corner. It will contain steam heat, electric work, upholstery, hard wood seats, chancel fittings, etc. No contracts have been let on either of these buildings. The building committee for the latter is L. C. Greaves, H. C. King and P. E. M. Weller of Springboro, Pa. Mr. Loos has completed plans for alteration and addition to the Wilmington Conference Academy, located at Dover, Del. This work will consist of iron work, cement and stone work as well as all modern conveniences introduced on the interior, including a steam heat plant in the main building, and overhauling of the steam plant in the ladies' department. The general contract has been let to E. L. Jones, of Dover, Del.

Wm. F. Deakney, real estate operator, 800 Pine street, is the purchaser of the Beth Eden Church property, at Broad and Spruce streets, and when the property is vacated will erect thereon a fine large apartment house of twelve or fourteen stories high. The plans are now being made in the office of Dull, Peterson & Crawford Coates, 1110 Walnut street. The structure will be in Italian renaissance style, of Pompeian brick, terra cotta work and steel skeleton, with an absolutely fireproof interior. Marble and granite for the first story and basement. The main entrance will be ornamental in carving of stone and moulding, marble and mosaic work, and the foyer and main hall floored in mosaic work, iron grille work and hard fancy woods; the top of the structure will be utilized as a tea garden and for summer pleasures, floored by a slag or cement roof. The floors above the first will be in suites, with every known comfort, special baths, plumbing, closets and wardrobes, electric work and handsome elevators, and freight lift running from the basement to roof. Steam heat and power introduced, open fireplaces, and wood and stone mantels, as well as minor comforts and conveniences. Drawings are now being pushed forward, and estimates will be asked at an early day. The estimated cost will be $750,000, outside of cost of ground.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, SEPT. 14, 1898.

OLD Faneuil Hall of Boston, which is often called the cradle of American Liberty, is in such a serious state of dilapidation as to call forth the earnest protest of a Mr. J. Payson Bradley.

The old revolutionary landmark is a great card for Boston, just as much so, in fact, as Independence Hall is for our own city, besides which it is full of revolutionary relics, which could not be replaced if lost.

It would seem that the self-same patriotic esteem and regard for the revolutionary antiquities do not prevail with the Bostonites as with Philadelphians, and old Independence Hall would be a valuable object lesson just now for all of them.

THE annual reports of the United States League of Building and Loan Associations showed that while the chartered banks of the country had a capital and surplus of about $900,000,000, these associations had more than $800,000,000 in assets, which include stocks and surplus. Of what is known as local associations there are in the United States 4872, with a membership of 1,642,179, and exact assets of $601,130,087. Pennsylvania, in which this popular form of mutual self-help originated, has always been the banner State, and now counts assets of nearly $112,000,000, with 800,000 members. Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, New York, New Jersey and Missouri follow in their order.—Exchange.

ONE of the interests of the future, calling for talent in design, is ship building. The prospects of growth in the ship building interests in this country are most favorable. These prospects apply not alone to the building of ships for American owners, but there is every reason to expect a large foreign demand for American built ships. England, heretofore, has been the shipbuilder for the world, but our ability to produce cheap steel, and that of the best quality, indicates that American shipyards are soon likely to become builders for the world. Up to now

British shipyards have done this work, but many things point to a strong competition on our part for this trade. The war just closing has been a great advertisement for our war ships, and has already brought orders to our yards. Russia and Japan have both contracted with our builders for ships. The modern ship demands both constructive ability and artistic taste in its design. Our modern passenger boat must be strong, safe, swift and palatial in its appointments and requires, therefore, for the architect as well as the naval engineer in its design. Many of our recent boats are indebted to architects for the design of their cabins and saloons, and should this country in the future become a ship builder for the world the opportunity for the exercise of talent in design of this character is large.—ARCHITECTURE AND BUILDING.

THE designs for the Hearst Competition for the State University at Berkeley, Cal., have by now been received in Antwerp. It will be remembered that Mrs. Phoebe Hearst set aside a large sum for the purpose of securing these plans, with the view to make the buildings and grounds of this university the finest in the world. These plans were to be delivered in August, according to reports. More than 100 plans, at last reports, have been sent in from all parts of the world. According to a printed prospectus sent out by the regents, the plans were to be submitted inclosed in tin cases of uniform size, but when the cases of all shapes and sizes began to pour in on the American Consul at Antwerp, who had agreed to care for the plans, he grew alarmed, and when one came in a piano box he gave up in despair. As no bank in Amsterdam could be found willing to house the plans, the commissioners in charge finally hired a building. The date for the meeting of the artists and architects who are to pass on the plans has been set for September 20. These plans are, as we understand, only for the preliminary competition. This is likely to be the most important world competition in architecture ever offered.—Exchange.

Architect Notes.

All the drawings for the superstructure of the new U. S. Mint are now upon boards for estimates in the offices of Allen B. Rorke, the well-known contractor, Bourse Building; Charles McCaul, 10 North Eleventh street; and others. These have been fully described previously in these columns from the plans by James Knox Taylor, supervising architect of the Treasury Department, Washington, D. C.

Estimates are still in progress on the drawings by Frank R. Watson, architect, 1208 Chestnut street, for the Temple Baptist Church Sabbath school building, at Twenty-second and Toga streets, and which have been fully noted in a previous issue of this journal. The work will consist of stone and brick work, slate roof, iron work, interior in hard wood, best plumbing, steam heat, lockers and all modern conveniences.

Charles A. McCaul, contractor, 10 North

Eleventh street, has plans on boards for estimate on a branch office building for the B-I Telephone Company, to be erected at Hope and Berks streets. It will be 30 x 70 feet, two stories high, stone and brick, with fireproof interior, sub-divided into offices and operating rooms, hard woods, steam heat, electric work, and best of plumbing, with all modern conveniences.

Building Notes.

John R. Wiggins, contractor, 1220 Filbert street, is about to start work on the house for S. S. Pennock, 1618 Ludlow street, and noted previously, as from plans by Bunting & Shrigley, associate architects, 1420 Chestnut street.

John Mitchell, builder, will at once begin the erection of ten dwellings on the south side of Estauagh street, east of Twenty-first. All these are to be two-story houses, brick, stone trimmings, and modern comforts on interior.

Italian Marble Mosaic Company, 431 Spruce street, have the contract for all the mosaic work in bath rooms and vestibules on 150 two and three-story dwellings, to be erected at Twenty-ninth and Oxford streets, for Messrs Bischoff & Campbell.

S. Cassels, builder, will at once begin the erection of 36 two-story dwellings on east side of Wilton, above Race street, costing about $72,000. All to be of fancy brick, stone trimmings, and fitted on interior with every modern comfort, including ranges, furnace heaters, boilers, tiling, etc.

The Pennsylvania Steel and Casting Company, of Chester, intend to extend the bulkhead of their wharf at that place. Also J. R. King, of the same place, has asked permission to build a wharf, 478 feet long, in front of his works. Both of the above have been granted the permission of the Board of Port Wardens to do the work.

Mrs. Catherine L. Haddock bequeaths a large amount to the Presbyterian Church Board of Pennsylvania for charitable purposes, among which is her house, 906 Pine street, in this city, and furniture, etc. Also enough money to make repairs at such times as they may be deemed necessary.

Hiram A. Miller, owner and builder, starts at once an operation of twenty-six houses, to cost $2200 each, on east side of Sydenham street, south of Butler. These are to be of fancy brick, stone steps and facings, and interior to have latest ranges, boilers, furnace heaters, and general conveniences, etc.

Herman Voight, contractor, will at once begin the erection of a four-story brick and iron stock house for the Commonwealth Brewing Company, costing $15,000, at Twenty-eighth and Cambridge streets. It will contain all machinery and recent improvements. Previously noted in these columns.

Buckman & Reiley, at 2411 Ridge avenue, are taking estimates on fifty-eight dwellings to be built at Thirty-second street and Lancaster avenue. These are to be colonial style of architecture, fancy brick fronts and porches, hard woods and all modern comforts on interior, including furnace heaters, ranges, boilers, tiling, etc.

At Webster, Mass., work will soon begin on a proposed new school building. F. A. Brown is chairman of the school committee and can give information.

At Spencer, Mass., a handsome residence, to cost about $40,000, will be erected near Spencer by Rufus A. Sibley, of Rochester, N. Y. No contracts have been let.

At Steubenville, Ohio, it is said that the water works will be improved and a new power house erected. Homer C. Cook, Union Deposit Bank, can give information.

At Jackson, Miss., the Jackson Light, Power and Railroad Company has been incorporated. The capital is $150,000, and the incorporators S. T. Barnes and H. H. Corson.

The Knickerbocker Ice Company, of this city, intends building an ice dam across the Perkiomen creek, below Green lane, the wall being 35½ feet long and 10 to 12 feet high. All the work to be of stone and brick, joined by cement mortar.

James Doyle, contractor, has been given the contract for the one story boiler house, to be erected in rear of the Roman Catholic Cathedral on Eighteenth, above Race street. Cost about $6000, and to be of brick and stone, with cement work.

Bids offered for city work, sewers and other kinds, also for the new superstructure at Arch street, over the pier, and railings for the Subway, etc., have all been scheduled, and will be considered by Director of Public Work—Thompson at once.

Macey, Henderson & Co., contractors, Heed Building, have been given the contract to erect the large warehouse to be built at League Island Navy Yard. It will be, as previously noted, 61 x 34½ feet, iron structure on piles, and concrete work.

George Watson & Son, contractors, will be the builders of the "Ayer Laboratory," to be erected on the Pennsylvania Hospital grounds, and fully noted previously in this journal. The plans are by Addison Hutton, architect, 400 Chestnut street.

Jacob Myers & Sons, Juniper and Sansom streets, are estimating on a fine house to be erected on Powelton avenue, east of Thirty-fifth street, for C. C. Febliger. It is to be three stories high, brick, stone and terra cotta, interior in hard woods, electric work, tiling and nest of plumbing, with all the latest conveniences introduced.

The Park Commission have finally decided upon a definite site for the new reservoir at Georges Hill. It comprises ten acres between Georges Hill and Winfield avenue and adjacent to the present basin in that locality. As plans are almost ready in Chief Trautwine's office, work will not long be delayed under the Water Bureau.

By the explosion of gasoline on last Sunday evening, the properties 1442-4-6 South street were greatly damaged, as well as properties adjacent and upon the opposite sides of the street. Several of these houses will require rebuilding, whilst others have had all the glass work shattered from base to roof, and walls cracked to a great extent.

Burd P. Evans, contractor, will at once begin work upon alterations to interior and exterior of Hotel Scott, 1425-7-9 Filbert street. The work will include an adjoining house on the east, and entirely fitted for hotel purposes. All the most recent appliances and accommodations, steam heat, electric work, tile work, plumbing and gas fitting, etc.

George Rubland, builder, southwest corner Fifty-eighth and Vine streets, intends to begin an operation of 61 dwellings, at an expenditure of $110,000, on ground at Fifty-eighth, Vine and Wanamaker streets, in West Philadelphia. These are to be of pressed fancy brick, with stone facings, hard wood and tile work, plate glass, ranges, boilers, furnace heat and modern comforts.

Charles D. Morley, owner and builder, rooms 612-13 Crozier Building, 1420 Chestnut street, is taking estimates on 324 dwellings to be erected upon a block of ground bounded by Sixty-first to Sixty-third, Vine to Noble streets. This operation will be of brick and stone, two and three stories high, special designs in architecture, and fitted with all the latest comforts, furnace heaters, ranges, boilers, tile work and hard woods, etc.

Charles E. Haines, owner and builder, will at once begin the erection of 131 dwellings on ground bounded by Oxford, Columbia avenue, Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth streets. These are to be two and three stories high, fancy fronts, brick and stone, and furnished with all comforts on interior; furnace heat, ranges and boilers, tile work, etc.

Plans are on boards for estimate in office of Chief Eisenhower, of City Property, Public Buildings, Broad and Market streets, for an addition to the Municipal Hospital. The work contemplates a glass and iron sun parlor, also a lavatory, two stories in height, of brick and stone, with all interior conveniences in plumbing, etc. Plans by Wilson Bros., architects.

Harriett L. Evans, late of this city, has left quite a sum of money to the Presbyterian Board of Extension Fund to build a church or chapel, located between Broad street, Schuylkill river, and South street and Washington avenue, to be known as the James Evans Memorial Presbyterian Church. A lot is also bequeathed for the above purpose, with special provision in case it should not prove available. The intent of the will may be carried into effect at once, if no obstacle presents itself to the board.

The plot of ground on Seventeenth street, extending from Sansom to Moravian streets, was purchased through negotiations made by Mr. Crenshaw, of the Real Estate Department of the Girard Trust Company and Real Estate Broker Peter F. Kernan for a site for the First Baptist Church. The price was about $175,000. The First Baptist Church congregation has ample means for the erection of its new church building, as the sale of its two church properties at Broad and Arch streets and Broad and Spruce streets yielded $270,000 and $280,000 respectively.

The application of the mantel idea to street and house lighting has been very successfully accomplished by the Triumph Light, Heat and Power Company, 802 and 803 Witherspoon Building. The use of gasoline, either from a centre where the gas is generated, or through small separate generators, connected with each light, is the principle under which the gas is made and distributed, the mantel being the essential factor in improving as well as increasing the candle power of each light in use. The system seems eminently qualified to meet the requirements of villages, hotels and villas.

With a view of creating a higher standard of public taste in the decoration of parks, streets, private lawns, and other open spaces, Clinton Rogers Woodruff, the well-known lawyer and Secretary of the Municipal League, is arranging, through the American Park and Outdoor Art Association, to offer prizes for the best front and back yards of residences. The competition is to be open to everyone, and it is the intention to give brief instructions as to the best methods of planning, planting and caring for ground of small areas. It is also intended to encourage in a similar way the improvement of school yards.

Geo. F. Payne & Co., contractors, 401 South Juniper street, have been given the contract to erect the handsome country residence for Mr. Wm. L. Elkins, at Ashbourne, Pa. The plans were made by Horace Trumbauer, architect, Land Title and Trust Company Building, Broad and Chestnut streets, and very fully described in these columns some time ago. The structure will be of Green river stone, three stories high, Spanish tile roof, interior in fancy woods, mahogany, oak and cherry. Marble, mosaic and tile work as well, with considerable ornamentation in Caen stone, iron and brass grille work. Stone columns and terraces will make the exterior quite imposing; steam heat, electric work, and every modern comfort will be introduced.

It will be handsomely finished throughout, considerable tile work, plain and ornamental glass, all modern conveniences and improvements. The estimated cost is $12,000.—A fine dwelling will be erected by Richard Croker, No. 5 East Seventy-fourth street, New York City. It will cost about $23,000. The interior will be finely finished, plate and art glass, hard wood finish, cabinet mantels, tiling, open plumbing, handsome fixtures and all modern conveniences and improvements. The plans have been prepared by Horgan & Slatery, No. 1 Madison avenue, New York City.

At Asbury Park, Monmouth county, it is probable that a trolley line will be established between Asbury Park and Atlantic Highlands. Two routes have been proposed, one of which will necessitate the construction of a draw-bridge from a point near Brown's dock and touching at Fair Haven. By the other route the line will cross the Oceanic bridge to Bridge avenue, thence to Church street, taking in the Hoagland and Bliss lands. The terminus at Atlantic Highlands will be at Bentley's pavilion, near the New Jersey Southern Railroad wharf. The trolley, after leaving Little Silver, will run across Gooseneck bridge, past Elkwood and Kensington Parks to Long Branch, West Long Branch, Parkhurst, Interlaken to West Asbury Park. The company will construct a spur from East Side Park which will connect with Red Bank.

At Atlantic City, before the next summer season it is probable that a new and handsome hotel will be erected near the beach, but its plan and management will be wholly new to anything yet in Atlantic City. It will be erected, furnished, fitted and conducted as an apartment house and so arranged that small and large families may be accommodated. The structure will be erected by a syndicate composed of Philadelphia capitalists and will occupy a site at the foot of Tennessee avenue on property owned by Captain John Young, the owner of the ocean pier. Mr. Young is a member of the syndicate. The proposed building will be seven stories high, and will contain about forty suites of apartments. It will be finely finished throughout, considerable tile work, elevators, plain and ornamental glass, fine plumbing and all modern conveniences and improvements. As many families prefer home life to that of a hotel, it is expected that the new venture will be a great success. The estimated cost is about $500,000. It is said that a bachelors' apartment house may be erected before next season, which will be provided with all the conveniences and comforts of a first-class club house. It is said that Mr. Young contemplates extensive improvements and changes to his pier before next summer.—Work will soon begin on the street improvements previously mentioned.

Through Maryland.

At Denton, Caroline county, the question of the construction of water works is under consideration.

At Elkton, Cecil county, it is said that the question of extending the sewerage system is under consideration.

At Laurel, Prince George county, it is said no definite bid has been received for a water supply, but that a company will be organized to erect works.

At Pikeville, Baltimore county, the West Arlington Improvement Company has sold two lots to Rev. M. Foley, the pastor of St. Charles Borromeo Roman Catholic Church. The lots are situated at West Arlington, and are 100 x 150 feet each and will be improved by the erection of a church and parochial school building for a new parish to be organized at once.

At Baltimore work has begun on a one-story brick addition to St. Martin's Church, at Fayette street and Fulton avenue.—The Carroll Spring Distilling Company will erect of our-story corrugated building, at 817 Frederick avenue, near Mount Olivet lane.—J. D. Taylor will erect a two-story brick stable at the southwest corner of Fort avenue and Covington street; also a one-story brick stable at the southeast corner of Fort avenue and Henry street.—The Trust Deposit Company will erect a one-story brick addition to its building at 307 East Fayette street.

Through Delaware.

At Wilmington, at a recent meeting of the park commissioners, the subject of a new park was discussed. It is probable that the square, bounded by Eighth, Ninth, Pine and Lombard streets, will be bought for the purpose and suitably improved.—United States Engineer W. F. Smith has received word from Washington, D. C., authorizing him to advertise for proposals for improving the Wilmington Harbor for which Congress has made an appropriation of $205,000. The specifications which have been prepared for the work call for a channel 150 feet wide and 18 feet deep from the mouth of Christiana River to the Delaware Pulp Works. It is probable that a channel 10 feet deep will be made from the pulp works to the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad cut-off bridge.

Washington, D. C.

Edward Woltz has prepared plans for a row of six two-story dwellings, to be erected on Twelfth street, Northwest, between B and C streets. They will be of brick, in dimensions 17 x 47 feet, trimmings of Hummelstown brown stone, electric lights, tile work, all modern conveniences and improvements.—B. F. Judson has made plans for a two-story dwelling, 21 x 55 feet, to be erected at 1010 Massachusetts avenue. It will be of pressed brick, mansard roof, all improvements. The owner is W. F. Hummer. The same architect has made plans for a residence for Julius Egloff, to be erected at 17 Eleventh street. It will be two stories of pressed brick, mansard roof, fine interior finish, cabinet mantels, tiled vestibule and bath room, all modern conveniences.—A handsome dwelling will be erected on Kenesaw avenue for Thomas H. Syphard from plans prepared by Nicholas G. Hallett. It will be three stories high, of brick, and will be 20 x 76 feet in dimensions. The trimmings will be of Hummelstown brown stone, and a stone porch will occupy the front of the house, tiled mansard roof, fine interior finish of oak and pine, two bath rooms, tile work, laundry, open plumbing, hot water heating and all conveniences.

Four dwellings will be erected by Dr. Robert N. Harper at 10 E street, Southeast, from plans prepared by B. S. Simmons. They will be two stories high, of brick, trimmings of Indiana limestone, bay windows, fine interior finish, cabinet mantels, tile work, latrobe heat, electric fixtures.—C. L. Harding has prepared plans for a handsome country house to be erected at Chevy Chase for George H. Chandlee. It will be of stone and wood, two stories high, with large porches on sides and front, buffed shingle roof. The interior will be finely finished, considerable tile work in vestibule and bath rooms, fine fixtures, open plumbing, cabinet mantels, electric work and fixtures, furnace heat, all modern conveniences.—John W. Gregg will erect three dwellings at 57, 59 and 61 Quincey street, Northwest. The cost will be about $7500.—Two brick and stone dwellings will be erected at 1408 and 1410 Sheridan street by L. D. Emery, from plans prepared by George S. Cooper. They will be two stories high, of brick, bay windows, well finished throughout and will cost $4500.

The Douglass M. E. congregation will erect a new church at Eleventh and H streets, Northwest. It will be 62 x 66 feet, of brick, slate roof, will be two stories high, with three tower projections, steam heat, fine interior finish, all modern conveniences, and will cost about $15,000.—John Murphy will erect two dwellings at 2320 and 2323 M street, Northwest. They will be two stories high, of brick, well finished throughout, and will cost $1000.—A row of seven dwellings will be erected by B. F. Saul on I street, Southeast. They will be two stories high, of brick, stone trimmings, modern conveniences.—The Octagon house, at the corner of New York avenue and Eighteenth street, has been leased by the American Lighthouse of Architects for a term of five years, and will be remodeled and fitted up to suit the purposes of the organization. Frank Miles Day, of Philadelphia, is chair man of the committee. Wilson Eyre, Jr., of Philadelphia, and Robert Staud, of Washington, D. C., are also on the committee.—The Protestant Episcopal Cathedral Foundation has bought the ground at the southeast corner of Tenleytown and Woodley Lane roads as a site for the proposed cathedral. The purchase was made from A. L. Barber, the sale being made through Colonel Robert I. Fleming to Bishop Satterlee on behalf of the church. The price paid was $245,000. The former site of the proposed cathedral, which was found to be unsuitable, will probably revert to the donor, Mr. F. S. Newlands. It is thought that active work will soon begin on the building, which will cost about $1,000,000, also on the Hearst school for girls, which will be erected from money contributed by Mrs. Hearst.—Mr. A. L. Barber, it is said, will soon have work begun on a fine residence not far from the site of the cathedral, on the Tenleytown road, and on the brow of the hill overlooking Washington and Georgetown. The site contains nearly eight acres and the price paid was $37,500. Colonel Robert I. Fleming has been commissioned by Mr. Barber to prepare plans for the proposed dwelling, which will be one of the finest in the neighborhood of Washington, and will be of stone brought from the quarries on the Upper Potomac, owned by Mr. Barber. The interior will be finely finished, considerable tile work, handsome art and ornamental glass, sanitary plumbing and all modern conveniences.

Sealed proposals for furnishing the materials and performing the labor required and necessary for the erection and finishing, power plant, warming, ventilation and hot-water supply, water supply and distribution, plumbing and drain age, engines and generators and the electric-wiring and fixtures of a new colony of hospital and accessory buildings at Central Islip, N. Y., for Manhattan State Hospital, may be sent by mail, or delivered in person up to 4.30 P. M., on Thursday, the 23d day of September, 1898, to Hon. Henry E. Howland, president of the board of managers, No. 1 Madison avenue, New York City, at which time and place the bids will be received and open all proposals. Drawings and specifications may be consulted and blank forms of proposals obtained at the office of the board of managers, No. 1 Madison avenue, New York City, or at the office of I. G. Perry, architect, in the capitol at Albany, N. Y. Each bid must be inclosed in an envelope, sealed and addressed to Hon. Henry E. Howland, president of the board of managers, No. 1 Madison avenue, New York City, and indorsed with the title of the work which bidders propose to do. George E. Dodge, secretary of the board of managers.

Grand Rapids, Mich.—Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the board of public works of the city of Grand Rapids, Michigan, until 2 P. M., Tuesday, September 20, A. D. 1898, for furnishing buildings, engines, boilers, dynamos, pole-line, arc lamps, etc., for a complete electric lighting plant, or any part thereof, as set forth more fully in the specifications. Copies of specifications and map of the city can be obtained of the secretary of the board, and technical information at the office of the consulting engineers. Each bidder will be required to deposit with his bid a certified check to the amount of 5 per cent. of his bids, payable to the order of the president of the board of public works, and the bidder's check shall be forfeited to the city of Grand Rapids in case he shall fail to enter into contract within 10 days from the acceptance of his bid. The successful bidder will be required to file with the board of public works, within 10 days from the time the contract is awarded him, a bond, in the sum to be determined by said board, with sureties approved by the board of public works, for the faithful discharge of all conditions of his contract. All proposals must be made upon blanks attached to the specifications. The board reserves the right to reject any or all bids, or any portion of a bid. Wm. T. Johnston, president; Fred. A. Twanley, secretary.

Department of Public Works, Chicago.—Sealed proposals, with competitive designs and specifications, will be received by the city of Chicago, until 11 a. m., Tuesday, October 4, 1898, for the construction and erection of the proposed coal and ash conveying machinery, coal storage tanks and hoppers, ash hoppers, down spouts, driving machinery, etc., all complete and ready for use at the pumping stations at Central Park avenue and Fillmore street, and Springfield avenue and Bloomingdale road, in the city of Chicago, Illinois, according to the general plans and general specifications on file in the office of the Department of Public Works of said city. Proposals must be made out upon blanks furnished at said office, and be adressed to said department, indorsed "Proposals for coal conveying machinery, new pumping stations," and be accompanied with 10 per cent. of amounts bid in money or a certified check for the same, in amount on some responsible bank doing business in the city of Chicago and made payable to the order of the Commissioner of Public Works. The Commissioner of Public Works reserves the right to reject any or all bids. No proposal will be considered unless the party offering it shall furnish evidence satisfactory to the Commissioner of Public Works of his ability, and that he has the necessary facilities, together with sufficient pecuniary resources, to fulfil the conditions of the contract and specifications, provided such contract should be awarded to him. Companies or firms bidding will give the individual names as well as the name of the firm, with their address. L. E. McGann, Commissioner of Public Works.

Department of Charities and Correction, Bureau of Correction, Philadelphia, September 8, 1898. Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Bureau of Correction, room 305, City Hall, until Monday, September 19, 1898, at 2 o'clock P. M., for the following articles for the months of October, November and December, 1898, when the bids will be opened and scheduled as follows: Freight to be prepaid. Subject to an appropriation to be made by City Councils. Schedule C—Hardware, tin, gum hose. Schedule D—Pipe and fittings. Schedule F—Corn brooms, mops. Schedule G—Iron, steel, welding press. Schedule H—Lumber. Schedule I—Paints. Schedule K—Leather and findings. Schedule L—Groceries, tobacco, soap, mackerel. Schedule M—Flour and feed. Schedule N—Dry goods, clothing. Schedule O—Harness, etc. Schedule P—Terra cotta pipe, flagging. Schedule S—Bricks, cement, bar sand. Schedule U—Retorts (Cyrus Borgner's) and resetting same; cows. Blank forms of proposals and no bid will be considered unless made on said blanks, neither will said proposals be accepted if altered. Samples of all goods required may be seen at the office, room 395, City Hall. All the foregoing articles shall be subjected to inspection on each delivery by an officer designated for that purpose, and, if found inferior in quality called for by the contract, or not equal to the standard samples, or deficient in weight, measurement, workmanship or otherwise, the Bureau or Superintendent shall have the right to reject the whole or any part of the same, and purchase in open market, at the cost or expense of the contractor, an equivalent in quantity so rejected of each article of the quality called for by said contract. Bidders must remove rejected goods promptly at their own expense. Bids from other than those engaged in actual business in the general branches herein mentioned will not be entertained or considered. No bids will be considered unless accompanied by a certificate from the City Solicitor that the provisions of an ordinance requiring proposal bonds, when the bids exceed in amount $500, approved May 25, 1890, have been complied with. The Board reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids, as it may deem best for the interests of the city. William H. Lambert, president Department Charities and Correction.

VOL. XIII.—No 38.

The Controller's Report.

Controller John H. Walton, in his annual report to City Councils, says that the estimated expenses of the City for the year 1899 amount in the aggregate to $31,410,937.58. Of this sum $4,934,283.71 is to meet the lawful obligations, and which as in former years has been deducted from the total found available for appropriation to the Departments. The balance of the above, $26,476,653.87, represents the amounts asked for by the various Departments in their estimates as collated by this Department and forwarded your Honorable Bodies for consideration.

The balance of the City's account in the Chestnut Street National Bank stands at $143,000, and has been deducted in this report from the balance of cash carried by this Department against the City Treasurer. August 1st, to agree with the Treasurer's balance reported on that date which is less the amount in question.

Inasmuch as this sum is not deemed by the Treasurer a part of the balance for which he is responsible the failure occurring under a former administration and is therefore omitted from his daily reports to this Department, I would respectfully recommend to your Honorable Bodies the framing of an ordinance similar to that of September 1st, 1895, authorizing this Department to withdraw from the bank accounts the balance carried on the books of this office against the Chestnut Street National Bank, that the same may be charged off to "Suspense Account." Credit can then be given this account for the dividends, amounting to 40 per cent., that have been received through the Law Department since the failure of the bank.

In the statement of the Funded Debt submitted on fifth page of this report there is shown an increase on August 1st over that of January 1st last, of $318,000. The items accounting for this increase are the issue of three additional series of Subway Loan, $40,000, Refunding Loan of $220,000, and amount returned by the Farmers' & Mechanics' National Bank of unclaimed matured loans to the Sinking Fund of $90, from the total of which there should be deducted loans redeemed, $801,800.

The net Funded Debt of the City, in accordance with the decision of the Supreme Court, quoted on same page, amounts to $38,248,220.22.

The amount reserved on January 1st, of $1,000,000, to meet the payments of writs by mandamus for 1898 has been exceeded to August 1st by $1,630,91, the extraordinary sum of $191,802.82 having been paid alone for property taken for public park purposes.

In view of the original amount having been more than exhausted, I have deemed it advisable to set aside the sum of $304,000, making in all a trifle over $1,500,000 for the year. This I regard as a sufficient provision, under existing conditions, for the remaining five months.

Those paid since January 1, 1898, are as follows:

Opening and widening streets.....	$294,457 46
Changes of grade.....	162,332 78
Condemnation of property for Fairmount Park.....	126,197 54
Condemnation of property for League Island Park.....	277,035 06
Condemnation of property for other parks.....	88,580 22
Condemnation of property for Queen Lane reservoir.....	7,706 80
Condemnation of property for school purposes.....	20,024 75
Monies deposited as security for street cleaning contracts in Chestnut Street National Bank.....	68,412 72
Stenographers' fees.....	23,678 30
Material and stationery furnished Common Pleas Courts.....	3,542 83
Advertising applicants for liquor license by clerk of Quarter Sessions.....	2,024 55
Personal injuries, overseers' fees, road jurors' fees, abating nuisances, etc., etc.....	51,808 19
	$1,196,369 91

With regard to the amount paid for League Island Park, I desire to state that the jury appointed to view the property awarded less than $400,000, although the claims of the respective owners amounted to $1,500,000.

In this connection I beg to call your attention to the fact that in the ordinance creating the loan of $11,200,000, provision is made to the extent of $10,000 for the enlargement of Fairmount Park. Inasmuch as this sum was manifestly set aside to meet the expenditure for the property now anticipated by Mandamus Execution, I would respectfully advise that this item of the loan bill be stricken out or the amount transferred to the credit of the current fund by the passage of an ordinance similar to that approved on the 24th day of February, 1891.

A summary of the statement for 1899 is herewith submitted:

STATEMENT AUGUST 1, 1898.
Real estate as per tax of $1.85 less average uncollected.....	$14,564,515 87
Estimated receipts from departments of the city.....	5,564,475 00
Estimated receipts from State for school tax on personal property.....	1,075,000 00
Estimated receipts from State for school improvement Co.....	1,035,000 00
Estimated receipts from United Gas Improvement Co.....	850,000 00
	$24,035,201 69

Lawful obligations to be deducted:

Interest due May 1, 1899.....	$40,000 00
" " July 1, 1899.....	89,554 88
" " November 1, 1899.....	69,000 00
" " January 1, 1900.....	895,554 88
State tax on city loans.....	150,000 00
Temporary loan July 12 1898.....	$655,250 00
Interest on same.....	8,736 67
	663,986 67

Twentieth Series "T" of 4 per cent. loan.....	400,000 00
Due from State, Teachers' Institute, etc.....	16,000 00
Sinking Fund, 1899.....	775,192 23
Mandamuses (estimated) for 1899.....	1,000,000 00
	4,934,288 71

This is an increase in the amount available for appropriation over 1898 of $1,826,749.40.

As a matter of information I beg to call your attention to the large increase over former years of the amount now set aside in the fixed charges to the Sinking Fund. This is principally occasioned by the introduction in the recent loan ordinances of the Sinking Fund clause in addition to that of the Serial feature, which necessitates an appropriation to the Sinking Fund during the ten years intervening between the creation of the loan and the maturity of the first series.

By the change noted sums are annually retired at once, to meet maturing series which, in the exclusive serial loans were not required until the date of the first maturing series and annually thereafter as they matured until all were paid.

INTEREST TO PHILADELPHIA & READING R. R. CO.

In accordance with the terms of the ordinance, approved February 4, 1898, giving to the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Co. one half of the interest collected by the City from the banks on the unexpended balances of Subway Loan, this Department has made an analysis of the interest account by deducting the daily expenditures since the first negotiation of said loan in 1894, and have fixed the amount due the said company at $48,951.58.

I would respectfully submit to your Honorable Bodies the appropriation of this amount to the Law Department as the requisite authority to draw a warrant in favor of said company.

TAX RATE FOR 1899.

It affords me great pleasure to observe, as per ordinance of July 6, 1898, the continuance of the tax rate for 1899 at $1.85. This rate has now been continued uninterrupted for seventeen years, and with the increasing amounts reported of the assessed valuation of real estate should yield sufficient to obviate the resort to temporary loans in the future, as evidenced already by the reduction of said loan from $1,075,000 in 1897 to $655,250 in 1898.

COMPARISON OF THE YEARS 1897, 1898 AND 1899

Real estate.....	$316,811,824	$340,496,650	$862,801,670
Personal property.....	1,985,705	1,834,050	1,714,365
	$318,827,529	$342,330,700	$864,516,035

I am also gratified to report that in the compilation of the estimated receipts and expenditures for the current year a surplus is shown of $227,248.55.

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

JNO. H. WALTON,

City Controller.

Tileite Enamel and Paint Mfg. Co.

The Tileite Enamel and Paint Manufacturing Company, whose plant, Third and Cambridge streets, was destroyed by fire, is prepared to fill orders promptly, notwithstanding the business disturbance occasioned by the fire. Yankee grit and energy is equal to the pressure of the emergency in this case as in all others, for while the ruins are not yet cold, the Tileite in full feather rises from the ashes and invites customers and patronage as heretofore.

Arrangements are now being completed for new factory and machinery, and the new location will be announced at an early day. Letters to the old address, Third and Cambridge streets, will reach the Tileite Co.

With the opening of the school year it is found that Philadelphia does not stand alone in a plentiful lack of school accommodations, particularly for pupils of the lower grades.

It is admitted by most unprejudiced persons not suffering from the fad of higher education—an excellent thing in its proper place—that when public schools were established the basic idea was to give every child in the respective commonwealths an equal chance to obtain what is known as a common school education. In spite of this well-known cardinal principle, the course followed by many of our educationists seems to encourage a tendency to economize in the accommodations and facilities for the lower grades—on which the masses of the people must necessarily depend for an education to fit men for bread-winners—and to make more ample provision for the higher grades whose advantages are enjoyed by a relative few.

It is said that nearly ten thousand children in Philadelphia are wholly unprovided for, or pick up such crumbs of learning as fall to the lot of those who are fortunate enough to come under the half day system.

A glance at the papers published in various cities reveals the fact that this need of more

Lack of School Facilities.

"The public schools of 'Greater New York' opened yesterday, and nearly four hundred thousand children were enrolled. This is an admirable showing on the face of it but there is another side to the picture. About twenty thousand children were temporarily refused admission, owing to lack of school facilities, and there will be no accommodations for them until the Copenhagen, or half-day system, is put in operation. The superintendent of public schools had plenty of excuses to offer, but this is a case where the people always are and should be slow to accept excuses. What they want and what they should have is plenty of school rooms. That schools are more economical than reformatories is an old idea, and as true today as ever. In large cities, in New York above all others, the school is no place for children. It is the duty of the State to provide ample school accommodations, and every child is entitled to an equal opportunity of acquiring an education. Two sessions a day for some and one session for others is a case of rank injustice, and the sooner the powers that be, not only in New York, but in every city in the land, can be made to see it so, the better it will be for the whole country."

Architect Notes.

Architect J. F. Elliott, of Homestead, Allegheny county, Pa., has made plans for a new $18,000 school building for Mifflin township.

J. Cather Newsom, architect, 1001 Chestnut street is making plans for a residence to be erected at Long Island. The structure will be two-story, stone and frame, hot air heat, electric work, all modern comforts and conveniences, etc.

A. F. A. Schmitt, architect, 604 Courtlandt avenue, New York City, is engaged on plans for four five-story flats, 25 x 90 feet, to be erected on east side of Prospect avenue, by Jacob Reihl, of Webster avenue and Anna place, at a cost of $60,000.

P. H. Gilbert, architect, 1123 Broadway, New York City, is engaged on plans for a five-story fire-proof limestone and marble front residence, 35 x 80 feet, to be built on Seventy-ninth street, between Fifth and Madison avenues. Cost, $125,000.

Architects Milligan & Webber, 520 Walnut street, have given C. L. Guthrie, contractor, of this city, the contract to erect the German Lutheran church, at Pennsburg, Pa., for which they prepared plans some time ago, and which were fully noted in these columns.

Architects Carrere & Hastings, 28 East Forty-first street, New York, have plans nearly completed for the new church for the First Church of Christ Congregation Scientists, at West Central Park avenue and Sixty-sixth street, New York. No contracts let.

M. B. Bean, architect, of Lansdale, Bucks county, Pa., is engaged on plans for several fine houses to be built near Lansdale for a local owner. These are of stone and frame, and fitted with best comforts on interior, steam and hot air heating, electric work, plumbing, etc.

Brouse & Arend, architects, 931 Chestnut street, are engaged on plans for several fine houses, to be erected at Asbury Park, N. J., and near this city as well. These are to be frame and brick, three stories high, and fitted on interior with best conveniences, costing about $8000 each.

Architects McKim, Mead & White, 160 Fifth avenue, New York, are at work on sketches for the new medical college for Cornell University, to cost $500,000, presented by Col. Oliver H. Payne. It will be 100 x 200 feet and located on First avenue, between Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth streets. Five story and basement, brick and stone.

R. C. Ballinger & Co., contractors, 218 North Thirteenth street, have been given the contract for the new addition to the Woman's Hospital, Twenty-first and Stiles streets, for which plans were made some time ago by Addison Hutton, architect, 400 Chestnut street, and fully noted in these columns. Work to start at once.

Kurtz & Rohl, architects, 9 Seventh street, New York City, have made plans for two apartment houses, to be built for Jno. Schnoering, 693 West End avenue. Specifications indicate Pompeian brick, stone trimmings, fire proof construction, tiled and mosaic floors, steam heat and hot water supply, plate and French glass, wood mantels, best plumbing and electric work, etc.

Geo. F. Pelham, architect, 508 Fifth avenue, New York City, is making plans for two apartment houses in the Richard Axelrod, 212 West Eighty-third street. These are to be of light-colored brick, limestone trimmings, structural iron work, tin roofs, concrete floors, mosaic and tile work, plate glass, wood trimmings and mantels, steam heat, electric work, French plate mirrors, electric elevators and all conveniences. Cost about $110,000. Same architect will also make plans for a five-story flat, 25 x 10 feet, to be erected at 1311 Fifth avenue, by Louis Lase, of 231 East Sixtieth street. Drawings not fully completed.

Jos. D. Anschutz, architect to Board of Education, has in course of preparation drawings for alterations and additions to, as well as drawings for prospective school houses in different sections of the city. Some of these have been estimated upon, and others remain to be considered, whilst a third class of the above will require action by the finance committee of councils before active work may be started. A very careful estimate of the needs of the Board of Education for the immediate future, in new schools to be erected, amounts to over $1,000,000, of which sum it is expected $500,000 will be expended in 1899. The proposed division is as follows: Fourth ward $85,000; Twentieth, $70,000; Twenty-fifth, $70,000; Twenty-seventh, $70,000; Twenty-eighth, $70,000; Thirty-fourth, $70,000, and Thirty-seventh, $70,000. If any balance should remain the committee agreed that it should be expended in the Thirty-sixth ward. Chairman Lamond has been directed to prepare an ordinance embodying the resolution of request, and Councils will be asked to concur.

plans and general specifications on file in the office of the Department of Public Works of said city. Proposals must be made out upon blanks furnished at said office, and be addressed to said department, indorsed 'Proposals for coal conveying machinery, new pumping stations,' and be accompanied with 10 per cent. of amounts bid in money or a certified check for the same amount on some responsible bank doing business in the city of Chicago and made payable to the order of the Commissioner of Public Works. The Commissioner of Public Works reserves the right to reject any or all bids. No proposal will be considered unless the party offering it shall furnish evidence satisfactory to the Commissioner of Public Works of his ability, and that he has the necessary facilities, together with sufficient pecuniary resources, to fulfil the conditions of the contract and specifications, provided such contract should be awarded to him. Companies or firms bidding will give the individual names as well as the name of the firm, with their address. L. E. McGann, Commissioner of Public Works.

Plans have been prepared by the War Department for a cartridge factory building and a boiler and engine house, to be erected at Frankford Arsenal, Philadelphia. These have been sent to the offices of J. E. & A. L. Penock, 305 Walnut street, for estimates as to construction, and figures are being made. These structures are to be one and two stories high, brick, iron, stone and cement work, and entirely fireproof; boilers, engines, electric work, plumbing, plate glass windows, and every interior convenience will be introduced.

Frank S. Riggs, contractor, 338 South Thirteenth street, has been awarded the contract for the Young Friends' Association building, at the northwest corner of Cherry and Fifteenth streets. As before noted in these columns, the structure will be 63 x 51 feet, three stories high, dark brick and red stone trimmings to suit, of English Gothic style architecture. Basement will contain the steam heat, laundry and kitchen, whilst the upper floors will be fitted for library, offices, parlors, auditorium, etc. The construction will be under the supervision of the architect, W. L. Price, 751 Walnut street.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

An effort is being made by the citizens of Lansdowne to induce the United Gas Improvement Company to extend its mains to that borough.

William Hilborn, of Somerton Station, has bought ground at that place, and will improve the site by erecting a number of residences upon the site.

Geo. Kessler, contractor, has the contract to build a series of vat sheds for Robert H. Foerderer, at Frankford avenue and Vici streets, Frankford. Cost $80,400.

W. L. Flisk, Major Engineers, Portland, Oregon, wants, until October 25th, proposals for labor, material and constructing jetties for improving Yaquina Bay, Oregon.

F. L. Hoover & Son, 703 Jayne street, have a contract to erect buildings at Wyuncote, Pa., for the Jenkintown and Cheltenham Gas Co. Work to start at once. Previously noted in full.

An ordinance is to be offered in City Councils, authorizing the direct purchase of a lot at northeast corner of Clearfield and Jasper streets, for erecting a bathhouse in the near future.

The contract for the erection of a Protestant Chapel at Latrobe, Pa., was secured by Geo. C. Anderson & Sons, of that place. Architect, T. E. Billquist, Stevenson Building, Pittsburgh.

A. B. and C. F. Millett, owners and builders, will at once begin eight ten-story dwellings at Nineteenth and Venango streets. All to be of brick, with stone facings, and best conveniences on interior.

Joseph M. Bennett has sold to Fred A. Poth, builder, a lot of ground at Belmont and Parkside avenues, for $30,000, upon which Mr. Poth will erect a number of fine houses in the near future.

George Watchell, contractor, has just broken ground at 2010 North Front street, for a warehouse, 25 x 100 feet, for R. W. Lees, owner. It will be of brick and stone, three stories high, and fitted with all conveniences, etc.

A. Raymond Raff, contractor, will make extensive addition and repairs to the warehouse of S. Bell & Sons, 522 North Second street. The addition will be 20 x 22 feet, three stories high. Work to start at once.

St. Simeon P. E. Church, Ninth street and Lehigh avenue, asks permission to use water power, free, in the manipulation of their pipe organ, and an ordinance will be presented in City Councils for that purpose. It will likely be granted.

There were 572 properties advertised to be sold at auction by Sheriff Crow on Monday last. These were covered by 362 writs. This is said to be the heaviest sale of the kind since the administration of ex-Sheriff Wright.

Armstrong & Printzenhoff, contractors, will at once begin work of erecting sheds of frame and corrugated iron on Pier 9, south wharves, also on Pier 8, south, and Pier 8, north wharves, Delaware river. Previously noted.

Plans for an immense dry dock are about completed at the Navy Yard, League Island, and the bids will soon be advertised for. Also the back channel is to be lengthened some 500 feet, which will also be estimated upon at an early day.

The large four-story storage warehouse of Jno. T. O'Rourke, Nos. 2229-31 American street, below Dauphin, was burned out on the 17th inst. It is the intention of the firm to rebuild as soon as details can be arranged and the insurances adjusted.

Philip Halbach, contractor, Twenty-sixth and Thompson streets, has the contract to erect an addition to G. F. Ott's factory, at Second and Buttonwood streets. It will be of brick, iron, stone and cement work; cost $10,000, and has been noted before.

Doyle & Doak, contractors, 133 South Fifteenth street, are asking for estimates upon the general interior fittings of the Real Estate Trust Company's new building at Broad and Chestnut streets. This will be largely of wood, iron and ornamental work.

The Atlantic Refining Company is about to build immense shipping sheds and wharves, to replace those recently destroyed by fire at Point Breeze, which will cost about $50,000. These are to be upon the old piling, and of corrugated iron, and of frame of iron and wood.

The efficiency of fire escapes was clearly demonstrated at the fire of the Tilette Manufacturing Co., Third and Cambridge streets. Had it not been for the fire escapes it is claimed that not a single girl who was at work in the upper stories could have been saved.

T. P. Smart, owner and builder, Seventy-second street and Elmwood avenue, will at once begin erecting 23 dwellings on east side of Twenty-sixth street, south of Oakford avenue. All to be fancy brick fronts, stone trimmings, and best modern conveniences on interior.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad has filed plans in the office of Survey Bureau of the city for an ornamental iron, stone and cement foot bridge at the depot entrance, and leading from north side of Walnut street bridge and Twenty-fourth street to the waiting rooms of the structure.

The anticipated sale of the Odd Fellows' Temple by Sheriff Crow has, by mutual agreement between the chief creditor, Mr. Wm. Weightman, and the debtors, been postponed indefinitely, and strong hopes are now entertained of bridging over the financial difficulty.

Director Riter has been requested to furnish City Council's Finance Committee with an estimate as to the approximate cost of an electric light plant, to be operated and owned by the city. The above action is to be immediate, in order to estimate cost of lighting the city for 1899.

Geo. F. Payne & Co., 401 South Juniper street, have started work on William L. Elkins' house, at Ashbourne, Pa. The work has been fully described in these columns, from plans by Horace Trumbauer, architect, Broad and Chestnut streets, Land Title and Trust Building.

The contract for the Home for Incurables, to be erected at Upland, Chester County, Pa., by Mrs. Mary S. Crozier, has been let to Contractor Oliver, of Chester, Pa. A full description of the structure appeared some week since in these columns, after plans by Seymour Davis, architect, 917 Walnut street, this city.

Geo. F. Payne & Co., contractors, 401 South Juniper street, have been directed to make additional general repairs and alterations to the interior of 904 Chestnut street, for occupancy by William H. Hoskins, stationer. The improvements will be general in character, including fine wood work, electric work, heating, gas work, plumbing, etc.

William Steele & Sons, contractors, 506 Walnut street, have just started to build the three-story factory for J. R. Keim & Co., which will cost $28,000. The structure will be at Second street and Allegheny avenue. Hales & Ballinger, architects, 1200 Chestnut street, drew the plans, which have been fully noted previously in these columns.

The Committee on City Property of the Board of Education have awarded bids for additions and alterations to the Hales street school house. Also for the same kind of work on the Feltonville School, to E. H. Spurts, for $4951. Same board intend to hold the contractor responsible for change of slate work at the school house, Sixteenth and Cayuga streets.

On the 16th inst. fire destroyed entirely the great Tilette Manufacturing Company's building, at Third and Cambridge streets, below Girard avenue. Also damaged to some extent other contiguous property. The property was owned by A. M. Collins, who estimates the loss at $25,000. It is understood to be the intention of the owner to rebuild as soon as losses are adjusted and details arranged.

Alcott, Ross & Scully Company, 2917 North Broad street, Philadelphia, have been awarded the contract for mantels, tile and slate work, on 17 dwellings now being erected by Messrs. O'Brien Brothers, Germantown. Also the mantels, wardrobes, tile, grates and slate work on two dwellings being erected by A. F. Wadsworth, at Germantown, and the tile and mosaic work for J. J. Habermehl & Sons, florists, Twenty-second and Diamond streets.

The plans previously noted for additions to the Feltonville public school, Twenty-second street, and for alterations to the Hales Street M. E. Church for school purposes, have been approved by the Board of Building Inspectors. These will include introduction of steam heat, electric work, new plumbing, large blackboards and partitions, sliding and permanent plate glass windows and doors, closets, toilets, and all general conveniences, etc. Joseph Anschutz, architect of Board of Education, 713 Filbert street made the drawings.

Three bids were submitted to Director of Public Safety on the 19th inst., for the construction of the addition to the Municipal hospital, but all were in excess of the appropriation of $21,000 made by Councils. The bids were as follows: Wm. A. Hurlock, $32,567; H. B. Nichols Co., $37,321; Macey, Henderson & Co., $28,500. It is singular that in this case, notwithstanding the dearth of business among our contractors and builders at the present time, that such a thing as a municipal contract was allowed to go with so little competition. [It is quite evident that something is wrong.—ED.]

The Philadelphia Record says that the Pacific Borax and Red Woods Chemical Works, Limited, otherwise the English Borax Syndicate, has filed a trust deed of all its properties on the Pacific coast to cover a loan of $1,250,000, which has been made by the Indian and General Investment Trust, Limited, of London, for the purchase or construction of a large borax plant at Constable Hook, N. J., whither is to be removed most of the large

Through Pennsylvania.

When any of the following are not post office towns they will be so designated.

—At West Chester, the congregation of St. Luke's A. M. E. Church has bought a lot and will erect a parsonage at some future time.

—At Muney, Locoming county, the dwelling of Joseph Banghart was destroyed by fire last week at a loss of $3000.

—At Spring City, Chester county, Urner & Co. will erect a dyeing establishment in connection with their hosiery factory.

—At Pittston, Luzerne county, the liquor store of Charles St. John was destroyed by fire last week at a loss of $14,000.

—At Johnsville, Bucks county, the contract for the erection of the new chapel has been awarded to Mr. Raub.

—At Sellersville, Bucks county, a new planing mill will be erected by John Newbold. Engines and boilers already secured.

—At Conneautville, Crawford county, there will probably be new water works, to cost about $10,000.

—At Lancaster, a filtration plant is being considered. Allen Hazen, engineer, can give information.

—At Scranton, Lackawanna county, a new fire house for Eagle Hose Company is being considered. Site and building to cost $6000.

—At Lebanon, Lebanon county, ground has been broken for the Schmank Memorial Chapel on the grounds of the Salem Evangelical Lutheran Church.

—At Doylestown, Bucks county, the contract for the erection of the new A. M. E. church has been awarded to William L. Hager, and work has begun on the building.

—At Pennsburg, Montgomery county, ground has been broken for the proposed new Lutheran church. The estimated cost is about $16,000.

—At Bennett, Allegheny county, on November 8th, the citizens will vote upon the question of securing water from the Millvale Water Company.

—At Somerset, Somerset county, it is reported that town councils, R. E. Myers, secretary, has authorized an issue of $20,000 in bonds, for sewers.

—At Blue Ridge Summit, Franklin county, water works, are to be constructed from plans by G. D. Adelsberg, C. C., 732 Pennsylvania avenue and Baltimore road.

—At Gulf Mills, Montgomery county, the plant of the Conshohocken Brewing Company was entirely destroyed by fire on Thursday and Saturday last, there having been two fires.

—At Bellefonte, Centre county, a new library building will be erected in honor of the memory of Pennsylvania's war Governor, Andrew G. Curdin. It is stated that ex-Governor General J. A. Beaver has the matter in charge.

—At Allegheny, Allegheny county, a new bank building will be erected at the corner of Beason avenue and Juniata street for the Bank of Secured Savings. It will cost about $10,000. R. H. Gilliford is the president and can give information.

—At Quakertown, Bucks county, arrangements have been made between the Quakertown Traction Company and a company now securing the right of way from Allentown to Coopersburg to construct a line from Quakertown to Coopersburg, thus making a direct line from Allentown to Quakertown.

—At Stroudsburg, Monroe county, the plant of the Stroudsburg Carpet Company was destroyed by fire on September 14, at a loss of about $25,000. The plant was operated by George H. Harvey, of Philadelphia.—The Long Pond Hotel was destroyed by fire a few days since at a loss of $10,000. It was conducted by Edward Fetherman.

—At Reading, Berks county, Morris R. Keen will erect four two-story brick dwellings on the south side of Green street, between Schuylkill avenue and Gordon street.—Samuel G. Boone will erect a one-story story building on the west side of North Eleventh street between Oley and Douglass streets.

White & Wagner, builders, have obtained a permit for eight two-story dwellings, 14 x 26 feet, with mansard roofs, on Twelfth street, between Greenwich and Olive streets.—On November 8th next the citizens will vote upon the question of procuring a loan for the purpose of erecting a filtration plant.

—At Pittsburg, Allegheny county, J. F. MoShane, a plumber, will erect a large apartment house near Schenley Park. It will be known as "The Hildaad." It will cost about $100,000, and will be built from plans made by Architects Yopp & Craig, Bissell Building. Work will not be begun until next Spring.—A new school building is being considered by the board of education for the Twenty-ninth ward. It will be located on Carson street.

Architect J. N. Campbell, Penn. Building, will prepare additional plans for a new First Presbyterian church building, to be erected at Ingram, Allegheny county.—The plans now in the hands of Architects E. J. Carlisle & Co., Lewis Building, for a school house in the Twenty-second ward will be ready about October 10th for bids for the construction work. ### Fireproof "Alignum."

For some years past architects and builders have been hoping for a satisfactory substitute for rare woods and marbles, one which would not only have their characteristic features and beauty, especially of the rare stone, but which would also be unaffected by water and fire alike. Alignum, a patented article, fulfills all these requirements.

The stern laws coupled with the rigid rules observed by the insurance companies, have made this a very difficult result to obtain.

Many trials have been made, but now it seems accomplished on a commercial basis.

At present alignum is produced chiefly in the form of flat surfaces for wainscoting, representing any and all of the expensive woods and marbles.

Its refractory and waterproof qualities, together with its beauty and high polish, which is not affected by water, makes it a much desired article in finishing halls and vestibules in fireproof buildings.

Most faithfully have the most minute details been reproduced of marbles and woods. The characteristic striations, delicate and richly tinted veins of rare marbles and other ornamental stones, are perfect.

In the reproduction of costly woods, the manufacturers have exercised the same care and exhibited the same skill.

Alignum, now formed in the flat surfaces for wainscoting and ornamental work, can be moulded under pressure into hollow ware, its waterproof qualities render it particularly valuable for sanitary articles.

Tests made by prominent New York architects have shown that, so far as strength and imperviousness to fire and water are concerned, alignum is superior to materials commonly ranked as fireproof, with the exception of terra cotta, over which it has an advantage in that it can be made in large slabs.

The readiness with which alignum can be sawn or nailed will commend itself to many an architect and builder, and its gr at strength, coupled with its durability and beauty, will enable it to be used in many instances where other substances would not answer the purposes in hand.

This new product is considered of great value for the purposes to which it is applied.—Scientific American.

The Durability of Building Stone.

In the minds of most men durability is the leading advantage which stone offers as a material for building. This quality has caused its adoption in important structures in all ages, and men have considered that such buildings have had this important feature above all others, yet experience shows that this rule, like many others, has its exceptions. All stones are not durable and even within the time covered by the lives of single generations, buildings of this material have been found to suffer decay and disintegrate to a dangerous extent. In a recent lecture by Professor Julien, of Columbia College, delivered before the Franklin Institute of Philadelphia, this question was discussed at considerable length. In presenting this subject the professor exhibited this transparent layers of stone, showing their structure, throwing them up on a screen so that the minutest detail could be seen. In this manner the mechanical structure, porosity, density, etc., was clearly revealed, showing the way in which aggregations of such particles are sometimes held loosely together without orderly arrangement and with spaces between, sometimes dovetailed into each other, and sometimes cemented together in a homogeneous mass.

In some of the sections, which were much thinner than a sheet of tissue paper, bubbles of liquefied carbonic acid gas were observed, imprisoned within the cavities of the small grains or crystals. This liquid is held in the stone under enormous pressure, and not infrequently the heat of the electric light, or even of the hand, is sufficiently to explode it, shattering the specimens. This revelation of the construction and composition of stones explains why stones that have great compressive strength may yet be unsuitable for building purposes in this climate, while others inherently weaker are nevertheless possessed of greater weathering qualities.

In the course of his remarks the professor stated that no "weathering tests" worthy of the name had ever been made of stone. He cited instances of the disintegration of stones in costly buildings recently erected in New York, Albany, Philadelphia and other cities—disintegration which commenced even before the structures in question were completed. The magnificent Lenox Library Building, in New York, was mentioned as one illustration, and it was said that a number of warning examples might be seen in Philadelphia to-day. Several years ago the fluted marble columns of the Mint became unsafe, owing to large masses of stone having flanked off from time to time, and it became necessary to remove them and to substitute granite columns made to imitate the original columns in design.

During the course of his address Professor Julien presented some interesting facts relating to the beautiful white limestone obtained from the famous quarry at Hamilton, Bermuda. It is so soft when first exposed to the weather that it is easily cut into building blocks with a common wood saw; but it soon hardens on exposure to the atmosphere. There are houses built of it in Bermuda which are two hundred years old and still in good condition. A Philadelphia merchant, born in Bermuda, once imported a quantity of this stone for interior decoration in a country house which he was building. The ship arrived at the foot of Spruce Street on a certain Saturday in March, and the stone was unloaded and piled on the wharf. A drizzling rain, lasting twelve hours, completely saturated the porous stone; then a severe cold snap froze the water, and later when the merchant sent his trucks to the wharf for the stone they found only a pile of coral sand.

These examples show the necessity not only of a careful study of the character of the stone itself, but also the necessity of regard for the conditions in which it is to be used. The exposure to wet, cold and frost may be very destructive. An example of this he mentions in case of a very hard rock found in a cutting of the railroad from Philadelphia to West Chester many years ago. The piercing of a hill composed of an exceeding hard rock, a short distance from the city, necessitated much laborious blasting. Students of geology and mineralogy were in the habit of visiting this cutting in order to study the exposed strata. A visit was paid to the place about ten years ago, and the rock cutting could not be found. The bold cliffs had completely crumbled away; nothing remained of these apparently imperishable walls but a hill of sand.

The facts brought out by this lecture and the discussion of experts following it show how imperfect is the actual knowledge of the lasting qualities of stone under exposed conditions. These conditions in our cities are more varied and injurious at the present day than were those of an earlier time. Now we have not only to contend with rain and frost but the corroding influence of sulphurous gases arising from the combustion of coal in large quantities in these communities. In view of the increased use of stone in our more costly buildings this subject is especially worthy of attention and should not continue to be neglected. Thorough scientific and exhaustive investigation of the subject implies too large an outlay to be met from private resources, and should be made the work of the Government.

The need of authoritative test of building materials by the Government has long been urged and this special subject is one of so great importance that early attention should be given it. As a large builder of monumental structures the Government is on its definite knowledge of the character of building stones, and its investigations would furnish data for all architects and engineers.—ARCHITECTURE AND BUILDING.

Architect Notes.

Architect M. Bernstein, 145 Centre street, New York, is working on plans for two brick and stone flat buildings to be erected for Rosenberg & Golden, 11 Dover street, New York, to cost $36,000.

Alex. Headman, architect, Arbuckle Building, Brooklyn, has made plans for two flat buildings, to be erected at 1237 Fulton street, for E. J. Maguire. These are to be of brick and stone, iron beams and composition roof, patent plaster, mantels of wood, all modern conveniences.

Yarnall & Goforth, architects, 14 South Broad street, are engaged on plans for a pair of fine residences, to be erected at Glenside, for V. T. B. Roberts, the well-known builder of suburban homes. These are to be of brick and frame, hard wood interior, steam heat, electric work, tile work, best ranges and boilers, with all the latest improvements.

F. S. Lowe, architect, 158 Remsen street, Brooklyn, N. Y., has plans for six dwellings for Joseph Burns, to be erected at 364 First street. Brick and stone, tin roofs, stained glass, concrete work, tiling and plumbing, electric bells and all conveniences. Mr. Lowe has also plans for three frame dwellings for E. Iverson, 24 Third street. These are to have tin roofs, wood mantels, stone tubs and general conveniences, etc.

About the beginning of the year 1899 Lit Brothers will have the stock and store building of Joel J. Bailey, Market street, below Eighth, transferred to them and besides a lease of twenty years upon the structure. It is their intention to remodel to some extent the building and fit it with modern store accommodations, including elevators, electric work, steam heating and other general fixtures. The plans will be prepared by their architects Messrs. Collins & Autenreith, 410 Walnut street. When drawings are completed we shall note more fully.

W. T. B. Roberts, the well known builder and real estate operator, Land Title Building, Broad and Chestnut streets, has awarded a contract to erect two fine country residences at Ogontz Park to Benton S. Russell, of Ambler, Pa. The plans are by Kean & Mead, architects. Also a contract to F. L. Hoover & Son, contractors, 703 Jayne street, to build two more of the same kind, after drawings by Horace Trumbaur, architect, to cost about $800 each. The above are to be chiefly of stone and brick, three stories high, and interiors to be in hard woods, furnaces and steam heat, electric work, finest of sanitary plumbing, ranges and boilers, as well as all modern comforts in detail. All of the above have been previously noted in full in these columns.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, SEPT. 28, 1898.

ISN'T it about time that toll gates were abolished in the County of Philadelphia? As a relic of antiquity they merit and justly receive about as much good, square honest cursing as any of the few remaining nuisances under the sun. Isn't it a little singular that the York Road Turnpike Company has so many champions in city councils? Why can't these gentlemen recognize the fact that the business maxim which, when written or printed, reads "to stand still is to go backward," applies itself to large cities with the same force as it does to individuals? American civilization and progress in the hands of such people as some of our councilmen represent would be a sickening example of our national characteristics. We want room for this old town to grow in every direction. The trolley has made available hundreds of acres which yield beautiful building sites for suburban homes, and among our builders who realize the availability of these inviting acres is Wm. T. B. Roberts, who keeps the daily papers hot with his ringing advertisements, setting forth the beauty of Ogontz and Glenside. Why should this man's efforts be handicapped by councilmanic stupidity?

THE DOYLESTOWN "INTELLIGENCER" has favored us with a copy of its special industrial edition, which, if taken as an evidence of the industrial energy and thrift of that section, places the old town in the front rank of progress and prosperity.

The proprietors of the "Intelligencer" have the proper idea of the usefulness of a newspaper, and even better, the business men of the section in which it is published show their appreciation of journalistic energy by giving the support which was needed to make the industrial edition a success.

Thousands of outsiders, through the "Intelligencer," will for the first time be able to recognize the fact that Doylestown is not a dried up, side-tracked village with a population made up of back numbers or antiquated fossils.

UNTIL Philadelphia shall find room in her schoolhouses for her 8000 unplaced children all the show and circumstance and red tapery bestowed upon the high schools will have underneath it an element of neglect and unfairness. We are drifting away from the right original object of our common school system into a system of favoritism and pyrotechnics.—PHILA. RECORD, SEPT. 17, 1898.

THE Commission appointed to investigate the imbecility of army officials in the mismanagement of the commissary, quartermasters, medical and transportation departments of the army seems to be hedging at the very commencement of its investigations, for it starts in with an investigation of the ordnance department. What smokeless powder and the big guns have to do with disease-infected camps, poisonous water, neglect and inefficiency among the army doctors, rotten transports and our soldier boys dying from typhoid fever, and the general starvation of the troops, would be hard to find out.

What the Shakers Have Done.

It was with surprise that I learned what the Shakers had done in individual thought for the benefit of the outer world, in spite of their so called hampered situation. They were the first to dry sweet corn for food, and to prepare garden seeds, medicinal herbs, and vegetable extracts for market. They were also the first to raise broom brush and make it into brooms, and they produced those far-reaching inventions, the machine for planing matched boards, the buzz saw, and the hydraulic press. And finally it was they who did away with wrought nails and quill pens—two stumbling-blocks to our ancestors—being the first to manufacture cut nails and to use metal for pens, brass and silver being used for the purpose. I began to wonder where I had been all of these years that had never heard of any of these things before. Surely the Shakers are not so far removed from the world as the world is from the Shakers.—GODEY'S.

Architect Notes.

Architects Baldwin & Pennington, of Baltimore, have plans for a three-story dwelling, to be erected on Lafayette avenue, near Fremont avenue, for Jas. J. Ryan, 20 x 65 feet, brick, with marble trimmings; cost $10,000.

Jno. C. Lewis city forester, has made plans for a new square to be located at Allegheny avenue, Elmwood, Wellington and Belgrade streets. These include a fountain, walks, trees and flower plants, curbing, etc. Estimates being made in the office of Chief Eisenhower, Public Buildings.

With pleasure we announce that as we go to press we are favored with the list of the building committee of the First Baptist Church who have recently purchased a site for a new edifice at the southeast corner of Seventeenth and Sansom streets. It is understood that competitive plans, from a limited number of leading architects, are to be asked under rules made by the committee, the members of which are as follows: William A. Levering, Matthew Semple, William W. Keen, M. D., Benjamin Githens, Augustus Thomas, B. Ogden Loxley, James F. Hagen, John H. McQuillen, Albert Hill, Mrs. William M. Wilson, Mrs. T. S. Scott, with the pastor and honorary pastor as ex-officio members. Communications will only be considered when addressed to the secretary of the committee, Mr. Albert Hill, at the church.

William B. Page, architect, of Boston, Mass., has made plans for a market house and cold storage plant to be built at Delaware avenue and Callowhill street, for Swift Brothers & Co. and placed in office of Charles McCaul, contractor, 10 North Eleventh street, for estimates. It will be of stone, brick and iron construction, furnished on interior with steam power, electric work, lifts for freight, iron overhead trackage, water supply, drainage upon a large scale, concrete and cement work, etc. On boards of same contractor, who also prepared the plans, will be placed at once plans for a five-story factory for Thomas Potter Sons, to be erected at Second street and Erie avenue. It will be of brick, stone and iron construction and supplied with power and heat from the main plant already in course of construction.

Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, Twelfth street, above Chestnut, are engaged on drawings for work as follows: A stone and brick residence for Dr. M. A. Davis, at Frankford, upon the Northwood Land Company's tract. Interior will be in hard wood finish, hot water heating, electric work, ranges and boilers, and general conveniences. Also for a two-and-a-half story residence for Albert Halstead, Jr., upon the same tract, of brick and shingle work and general comforts and conveniences. Also for a three-story colonial house, frame and shingle work, on Wyoming avenue, near Asylum pike, for E. F. Duval. Same architects have finished the plans for a series of drying sheds for the Wolf Process Leather Company, to be erected in Bridesburg, by Geo. C. Deltrich, contractor, 339 North Seventh street.

Rankin & Kellogg, architects, 1024 Walnut street, have completed plans for a large factory building for Farr & Bailey, of Camden, N. J., and transferred the drawings to the owners for construction. Messrs. Farr & Bailey will make all contracts. It will be five stories high, of brick and stone, with considerable iron work, steam power and heat, electric work, plumbing and gas fitting, freight lifts, and all the most recent improvements. The Newark, New Jersey, Free Library building, for which the above architects made plans, will be erected by Henry Dixon and V. J. Hedden. The first will do all the masonry and brick work, and the latter the carpenter and general detail for the interior. All of this work has been noted in full in previous issues of this journal, from drawings by Messrs. Rankin & Kellogg, who will supervise construction.

Wants.

N. K. Thompson, street commissioner, Elizabeth, N. J., wants bids, until October 1st, for pipe sewers.

At York, Pa., the new loan bill to be voted on provides for the purchase of a new fire engine and fire plugs.

Until October 10th, U. S. Agent, Wilmington, Del., wants bids for dredging and removal of rocks in Christina river.

On November 8th, Reading, Pa., will vote on the question of a municipal loan of $225,000 for the proposed filtration plant.

At Knoxville, Tioga county, Pa., Howard Murphy, engineer, can give information as to proposed water works, to cost about $12,000.

Bids will soon be wanted at Bradford, Pa., for the construction of a storage reservoir to contain 90,000,000 gallons of water above the present Marilla reservoir. An ordinance authorizing it has been ordered printed.

The Following Table shows the building operations in the respective Wards for the weeks in September for which permits were issued

[illegible]

Architect Geo. C. Haskill, Baltimore, Md., has made plans for a new stone church building for the Hampden M. E. Church.

E. F. Durang, architect, 1200 Chestnut street, is engaged on plans for alteration to a large cottage at Pacific and Illinois avenues, Atlantic City, N. J., for the owner, Charles O'Neill. All comforts and conveniences will be introduced.

Architects Flemer & Koehler, 1 Broadway, N. Y., are working on plans for five apartment houses on 116th street, near Eighth avenue, to cost $130,000, for Mr. Edw. W. Wagner, of Wagner & Long, 1123 Broadway; will be six-stories, 40 x 87 feet; will have passenger elevators and modern improvements.

Hazelhurst & Huckel, architects, Girard Building, Broad and Chestnut streets, have made plans for an alteration and addition to the house of H. B. Curran, at Wayne street and Walnut lane, Germantown. These include a large conservatory of glass, iron, frame and brick work. All modern conveniences will be introduced in the alterations to residence.

David Knickerbacker Boyd, architect, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets, has furnished plans for a conservatory and minor work to the residence of Thomas Wolstenholme, at the corner of Green and Upsal streets, Germantown. It will be of glass, wood and stone, and furnished with indirect heat, etc. Estimates being made in office of William Steele & Sons, 506 Walnut street, and other contractors.

Lawrence Yischer Boyd and David Knickerbocker Boyd, architects, Harrison Building, have made plans for improvements to a series of buildings on South Thirty-sixth, Pine, Warnock and Winter streets. The work consists of excavation, plumbing, drainage, brick and stone work, iron and galvanized iron work, carpenter, plastering, painting and cement work, etc. Estimates being made in office of Wm. R. Dougherty, general contractor, 1604 Sansom street. In same office are plans for estimate upon a metal and glass cupola, which will be made and shipped in sections to a point in South America.

Schermerhorn & Reinhold, architects, 430 Walnut street, are engaged on plans for another fine house to be erected at Bryn Mawr, Pa. The structure will be of local stone and brick, pebble dash work on the latter. Hard wood finish, hot air heat, electric work, best plumbing and all general conveniences will be introduced. Same architects are engaged on plans for a Baptist church, to be erected in this city, furnished with all the latest and best interior work and accommodations. Location and general details withheld for the present. Also preliminary sketches are being prepared for quite an operation of dwellings and stores at Narberth, Pa., of which we shall be enabled to give the details later.

Dull & Peterson and Crawford Coates, architects, 1110 Walnut street, report their contracts laid for three double houses at Wycombe, Pa., to Edward Hancock and F. T. Dolhanty, of the latter place, and work has started. A full description has been given of the above in previous issues of this journal. Same architects have on board plans for a large colonial house to be erected at Devon, Pa., which will be fitted with all the latest conveniences and comforts, details of which will appear hereafter. Also drawings for an alteration to the residence of William E. Cardile, at Merion, Pa. Other work in course of preparation by the above named architects, descriptions of which will be given as they develop.

The purchase of the full site for the contemplated Bell Telephone office building, at the northwest corner of 17th and Filbert, and two lots contiguous on the west, has been consummated by Mr. James A. Tisdale, real estate officer of the Land Title & Trust Company, Broad and Chestnut streets, and the purchasing company will at once begin the erection of the structure after plans prepared by their general constructor of buildings, Charles McCaull, No. 10 North Eleventh street. The structure will be in keeping in design and material with others already built, and be four stories high, mottled or light brick, red stone trimmings, flat roof of slag; interior contain steam, water, electric work, cement and iron work, fireproof throughout, tile, slate and marble work, concrete, etc.

Wilson Bros. architects and engineers, Drexel Building, tenth floor, have made plans for alteration and addition to the exhaust room at the Twenty-fifth Ward Gas Works, for the U. G. I. Co. The work will consist of the use of brick and well as cement, iron and steel structures, iron, lumber and carpenter work, roofing, plastering and painting; also plans for an immense coal shed, to be erected at Point Breeze Gas Works, which will be one story high, of brick, stone and iron work entirely; cement, mortar and concrete will be used extensively. The above work can be seen and bid upon at the offices of J. A. Strickland & Co., contractors, 805 Walnut street, and who have just been awarded the contract for a large stable for the above company at Ninth and Diamond streets. The structure will be three stories high, of brick and stone, with a flat roof. The second floor will be fitted and especially adapted for the stock, 75 to 100 head; concrete floors laid upon iron structural work, above which will be laid vitrified bricks in the aisles, also improved racks for feeding purposes; plank stall floors and hard wood sides, iron bound. The interior sides will be in glazed brick work, electric work, lifts for freight, outside manure pits; best of plumbing and general accommodations will be introduced. Work to start at once. Plans by same architects as above noted.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

At Ocean Grove, N. J., considerable money is to be expended for new water mains. E. K. Conover is making plans.

William L. Hager, of Doylestown, Pa., has the contract to build the new African M. E. church, at that place, and will at once begin work. Fully noted previously.

Thos. H. Connell has received the contract for the construction work of the Newtown and Doylestown branch of the Newtown Electric Railway Company.

At Newtown, Bucks county, it is reported that a Philadelphia syndicate is negotiating for the 150 acre farm of Amos Pyott, that place, for a grand lot sale when plotted.

Land on North Capitol and G streets, Washington, D. C., is to be condemned for a site for an addition to the Government printing office. The site embraces twenty-five full lots.

William Miller, of Adamsford, Delaware county, has the contract for a stone and frame dwelling, to be erected at Morris avenue and Clifton street, for Joseph Marker, Philadelphia.

Peter Hoffman, contractor, 1908 Ontario street, has the contract for a three-story addition, 44 x 100 feet, to mill at Lawrence and Luzerne streets, owned by R. Meyer. Cost, $10,000.

If the financial committee recommends an appropriation of $500,000 for new school buildings, the amount, in addition to the sum provided by the loan bill, will make $1,000,000 available next year for this purpose.

The Lukens Iron and Steel Company, of Coatesville, Pa., has refused to make more plates for gun carriages for the Government.

DESIGNS AND ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY FURNISHED.

Their concern is controlled by Quakers, who will not make work for fighting purposes.W. H. Margarum, owner, will at once begin erection of twenty two-story dwellings, from 3100 to 3188 North Eighth street, north of Clearfield. These are to be of Pompeian brick, with stone trimmings, furnace heat, tile work, plumbing, etc.At Lansdowne, Pa., the citizens have voted to borrow $15,000 for street improvements.
William McCormack, that place, has the contract for a handsome three story stone residence on Marshall avenue, for D. & T. J.
Lake, of Philadelphia.The Edgemoor Bridge Company have the contract given them for three frame wharf sheds, at 10-11 14 South wharves, Delaware river, by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and will at once begin operations.
Covered with corrugated iron.If Councilman Wilson H. Brown succeeds in his efforts to have the city's electric light ing done by its own plant, what will become of the company whose stock cuts such an important figure in the daily doings of the brokers of the Stock Exchange?An effort is being made by the citizens of Mt. Airy, through City Councilman Meehan, to have the Wingoooking sewer extended to that place; the cost is put at $30,000. An effort is to be made to have such an appropriation included in the schedule for 1899.John H. Smith, contractor, will at once begin the erection of a two-story mill for the Pennsylvania Trust Company, 80 x 123 feet, and stable, 15 x 60 feet, at 949 to 961 Beach street. All to be of brick and stone, and the former will contain factory fittings of steam, electric work, etc.E. H. Sturt secured the contract for the addition to the Feltonville school house, Twenty-second ward, for $6541. In the case of the Haines street school alterations, same ward J. Gomley, Jr.'s, bid of $11,659 was the lowest bid in excess of the appropriation, which was $10,000. Gomley will probably get the contract.The board of directors of about forty school districts have organized to secure the erection of a number of new school buildings for different parts of the city. The work contemplated is absolutely necessary, owing to the crowded condition of the present structures, and will be asked for under the new appropriation.The Pancoast Ventilator Company, of this city, has received, through N. G. Taylor & Co., an order of one 60-inch, one 40-inch, and three 30-inch Pancoast ventilators, for the Baker Opera House, Rochester, N. Y. This contract, it is stated, was given solely upon the merits of the Pancoast, as the competition was particularly warm.Harry T. Saunders, owner and builder, 230 North Twenty-second street, intends to at once begin the erection of 24 two-story houses at Sixty-fourth street and Haverford avenue. All to be of fancy brick and stone trimmings, furnace heat, boilers and ranges,tile work, hard wood mantels and best plumbing. All comforts introduced.Charles McCaul, contractor, 10 North Eleventh street, will at once begin the erection of the lock tender's house, at Fairmont dam, and which has been fully noted in previous issues of this journal. Also a cold storage house at Callowhill street and Delaware avenue, each to be of brick and stone work.
All modern conveniences.As soon as specifications are prepared, the Wilmington, Delaware, board of education will advertise for bids for the erection of the new High School building. An effort will be made to confine the work to Wilmington builders, but Philadelphia builders should insist upon a chance to compete, as it is thought that the structure can be built for much less than Architect George Henry Pierce's estimate of $112,000.The Morning News of Wilmington, Del., says: "Fewer rent bills are now displayed on small houses than for some years. This is directly due to better times. The small houses are usually located in manufacturing districts, and when they are running small forces of men, the former employees move somewhere else in search of work and the small houses become vacant. When work is offered they take it and move back. Within the last two years over a dozen of such bills have been seen in one row of houses. This cannot be found now."Important improvements are contemplated being made at once at the Continental Hotel, Chestnut and Ninth streets. These are chiefly new entrances, graced by columns in decorative art, also a protected entrance of glass, iron and copper work, extending from curb to the doorways of the main entrances. At the top of these are to be placed the name of the house in electric work. It is expected work will be started during the current week, and is only in addition to that going on and previously noted in this journal.The Reading Railway has awarded contracts for overhead bridges to replace the temporary trestle structures over the tracks of the West Jersey & Seashore Railroad on the South Jersey branch at Woodbine and Cape May Court House. The masonry work has been awarded to Charles Nolan, and the iron work to the Keystone Structural Works, of Royersford. In connection with the new bridges, the steep approaches to the present structures will be greatly reduced, the entire work to be completed in time for the opening of summer travel next season.The commissioner of Internal Revenue has held that a policy of insurance, when assigned or transferred to a new holder or owner of the property insured, is subject to taxation in proportion to the unearned premium of the policy. The commissioner has also held that when a lease of property is transferred to a new lessee, it is subject to taxation for the unexpired end of the lease, and should be stamped accordingly. In the matter of the transfer of stock, the commissioner has held that the transfer of stock from guardian to ward is subject to taxation, on the theory that such transfer involves an actual change of ownership.

Director Ritter received and opened proposals on the 26th inst. for the improvement of Allegheny square, which is bounded by Allegheny avenue, Wellington, Belgrade, and Almond streets, Twenty-fifth ward, and awarded the contract to the J. L. Clymer Company for $6769. The ground comprising the new breathing spot has been graded, and the work to be performed under the contract includes the laying of cement walks, constructing a cement basin with fountains, and provide water supply and drainage, erect gas lamps, and provide for lighting, furnish and erect flagpole, see the plots, and finish the square for public use.

Through Pennsylvania.

When any of the following are not post office towns they will be so designated.

—At Kennett Square, Chester county, Mr. John Babb will erect a residence on South Minor street.

—At Fernwood, Montgomery county, Contractor Raub has received the contract for a new chapel to be built at Johnsview, Pa.

—At Rankin Station, Allegheny county, a new school building will be erected on Fourth street. The site has been purchased and the contract will soon be let.

—At Highland Lake, Lycoming county, the Grand View Hotel has been destroyed by fire; furniture and contents burned. The house was closed for the season. Loss $40,000.

—At Port Perry, Allegheny county, St. John's Lodge, 457, I. O. O. F., of that place, will erect a business and lodge room building, to cost $10,000. It will be of brick and three stories.

—At Ardmore, Montgomery county, a new brick fire engine house, 40 x 24 feet, two stories high, with steel tower, 50 feet high, is to be erected for the fire company. It will be modern, with cement floor.

—At Mount Olive, Allegheny county, a public school building, to cost $9000, will be erected as soon as funds are raised by an issue of bonds. Mr. Paul Fallert, 1307 Carson street, Pittsburg, can give information.

—At West Chester, Chester county, councils have concluded to postpone the construction of the big Washington street sewer until next spring. Almost $6000 will be expended upon street improvements this fall.

—At Media, Delaware county, the old water works building is to be improved. Bids are wanted before October 5th next for the work by the water committee of the borough councils. Plans have been prepared.

—At Darby, Delaware county, Pauline Daiber, of Norwood, has bought a lot, 50 x 193 feet, for $9000.—At Swarthmore, E. Irvin Scott has sold a lot, 100 x 183 feet, to Mathias B. Passavant for $2500 at same place.

—At Oxford, Chester county, the Oxford National Bank will make extensive improvements to its bank building.—The Hon. Plummer E. Jeffries has commenced the erection of four dwellings on West Fayette street.

—At Canonsburg, Washington county, the Central Hotel property has been bought by Ulrich Beck, of McKees Rocks, Pa., so it is said. It is the intention of the new owner to erect a new building for hotel purposes, to cost about $25,000.

—At Easton, Northampton county, Jacob Raub, of Easton, has received the contract for the erection of the new silk mill at that place.—Granolithic walks are to be constructed through the Park in accordance with ordinance just passed councils.

—At Monessen, Westmoreland county, it is stated that the Monessen Steel Company will erect the largest steel mill in the country for the manufacture of cotton ties, bands and hoops. About $400,000 will be invested; employment will be given to over 300 hands.

—At Coatesville, Chester county, great complaint is being made over the great dearth of dwelling houses. Every house in that town is said to be either let or engaged, and considerable trouble is anticipated in finding dwellings for the silk mill operators when that institution is in operation.

—At New Castle, Lawrence county, bids are wanted until October 1st by J. H. C. Wallace, trustee, for a three-story business building from plans by Architect Herman F. Kling, Youngstown, O. Red pressed brick and stone, asphalt roof, skylights, iron beams and columns, plate glass, gas and electric light fixtures.

—At Sharon, Mercer county, Pa., it is reported that the Bessemer Furnace Company will erect a steel mill large enough to utilize the product of all its furnaces in both the Mahoning and Shenango Valleys. The cost will be about $2,000,000. This is stated to be the result of a limited market for its pig iron product.

—At Lansdale, Montgomery county, the Lansdale Building and Loan Association has commenced the erection of nine brick dwellings on Sixth street.—Plans are being prepared by Architect Bean, of this place, for a Pompeian brick business and dwelling building to be erected at Doylestown, Pa., by John Goodfleck.

—At Allegheny, Allegheny county, $50,000 is to be the cost of a new mining and engineering school building to be erected on Observatory Hill as a department of the Western University. The State has given the money, which is in the hands of Chancellor W. J. Holland. Sketches have been made and an architect will be engaged to draw the plans. Brick will be used.—L. Eichenlaub has bought a lot on West Ohio avenue, 51 x 91 feet, for $6500.—Joseph Wallace has bought through J. H. Jahn & Co., real estate brokers, fifteen building lots on Fifth avenue, McKeesport.

—At McKeesport, Allegheny county, after considerable delay, it has been decided by the McKeesport board of school controllers to erect the new high school building on the O'Neill site. This decision was made on the 207th ballot, the eleven affirmative votes necessary for a choice being cast. The site selected is in the central part of the town, being within two blocks of all the street car lines and the station of the B. & O. Railroad. The property fronts 134 feet on Shaw avenue and has a depth of 126 feet and is open on three sides. The price paid was $23,400. Plans for building will be considered at once and the work of construction will be pushed as rapidly as possible. W. G. Gleason is a member of the board.—J. E. Evans has bought a lot on Packer street. The price paid was $1162. A. S. Morgan lot on Oak street. Price paid $1000.

—At Doylestown, Bucks county, ground has been broken by Frank L. Worthington for a small dwelling on Green street.—The contract for the construction of the Newtown and Doylestown branch of the Newtown Electric Railway Company has been awarded Thomas H. Connell. The road will enter Doylestown via Green street. Two auxiliary power houses will be erected; one will be near Rushington and the other will probably be located at Hulmeville. The branch will be twenty-eight miles long. Another branch from Doylestown to Reigelsville is also proposed.—Mr. Reuben Keller has commenced the foundation for a dwelling on Church street.—Mr. John Goodfleck, of this place, will erect a Pompeian brick business building on Main street. It will contain restaurant, hall, lodge room and residence. Plans for the same are being made by Architect Bean, of Lansdale, Pa.—William L. Hagen, has obtained the contract for the erection of the new African M. E. Church at that place.

Wants.

At Stockton, Luzerne county, Pa., it is stated that council is considering an ordinance providing for the expenditure of $50,000 for sewers.

It is stated that the Honeybrook, Chester county, Pa., Methodist Church congregation wants bids for a steam heating plant for its church building.

Bids are wanted, until October 12th, for improvements to the Miami University Building, at Oxford, Ohio. W. D. Thompson is chairman building commissioners.

Phillipsburg, N. J., will sell $50,000 worth of paving bonds and $9000 worth of sewer bonds for improvements. G. G. Styker, chairman finance committee, can give information.

At Marietta, Georgia, bids will be received until September 29 for the new court house. Address Golucke & Stewart, Twenty-four and a-half Whitehall street, Atlanta, Georgia.

It is reported that a company has been formed at Pittsburg, Pa., with a capital of $1,000,000, to construct a reservoir and lay pipes for a new water system for Greensburg, Pa.

Jacob Mack, chairman building committee, board of education, wants bids, until October 3d, for ventilating and electric lighting plant for schools No. 40 and 166, Borough of Manhattan, New York.

Lewis D. Byron, Williamsport, Md., can give information as to water works, to cost $12,000, and electric light plant, to cost $8000, as the question of these improvements is again under consideration.

Judgments.

PHILADELPHIA.

ABBREVIATIONS.

Where there are no figures to indicate the amount of the judgment, the damages have not been assessed.

The figures 1, 2, 3 and 4 immediately after the name of the plaintiff indicate the number of the Court. The term of the Court is indicated as follows: D, for December Term; M, for March Term; J, for June Term, and S, for September Term.

S. F.—Seire Facias, to revive judgment.

Greeley Advised "Go West"

Our advice to the Philadelphia builder is "go Southwest," and take a look at the ground we have secured and placed on the market, between 21st and 23d, running south from Moore, and intersected by Mifflin, McKean, Snyder Avenue, Jackson and Wolf Streets.

The above has been divided into plots, affording an exceptional opportunity for a progressive man.

Every house in this section is occupied and a large market awaits you.

Architect Notes.

A number of plans are in the hands of the building committee for the proposed new St. Paul's Episcopal Church, at Overbrook, Pa., for consideration.

Architect J. L. Beattie, Jackson Building, Pittsburgh, Pa., wants bids this week for a four story brick and stone hospital building for the U. P. Hospital at Allegheny.

Architects Schickel & Dittman, 111 Fifth avenue, New York, have prepared plans for two brick and stone wings to the convent at Convent Station, Morris County, New Jersey.

Architect E. L. Rice, Jr., Wilmington, Del., is making plans for sixty-four dwellings, to be erected by the Home Improvement Co., of that place. They will be modern.

Bids will be wanted next week by Architect J. N. Campbell, Penn Building, Pittsburgh, Pa., on the revised plans for construction of the First Presbyterian Church building, at Ingram, Allegheny county, Pa.

Henry Vollweiler, architect, 488 Hart street, Brooklyn, has made plans for five three-story flats, to be erected on north side of Gates avenue, east of Hamburg, and be of frame, with all conveniences. Cost $50,000.

Architect T. B. Cornelius, Schmidt Building, Pittsburgh, Pa., is at work on plans for a three-story brick veneered hotel, for L. Gordon, of Stoops Ferry, Allegheny county, Pa., to be built at Coraopolis. It will be heated by steam.

Lindley Johnson, architect, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets, has finished drawings for alteration and addition to the residence of Mr. Lisle, at Paoli, Pa. These call for brick and stone work, and all minor conveniences.

Louis Korn, architect, 87 Maiden lane, New York City, is engaged on drawings for a four-story brick and stone flat, to be erected at 116 Clinton street, for Mrs. Rosie Russ. It will have steam heat, electric work and all the best conveniences, etc.

Architect Wm. A. Fink, 426 Franklin street, Reading, Pa., has plans for four residences for Lutz & Hintz, Penn, near Eighth street. Brick, $16,000. Also plans for a residence for Geo. Leimbach, Walnut, near Sixth street. Brick and stone.

F. Miles Day & Bro., architects, 925 Chestnut street, are engaged on plans for an alteration to the front of the Academy of Fine Arts, Broad and Cherry streets. The work will consist of an elegant new front in granite and other stone work, and some minor interior work to front.

J. William Shaw, architect, 16 South Broad street, is engaged on drawings for a fine residence, to be built for Hon. J. McIlvaine, at Washington, Pa. It will be of stone and frame work, three stories high, slate roof, range and boiler, electric work and all general conveniences. Cost about $7000.

Roydhouse, Arey & Co., Builders' Exchange, have the contract to erect a building for Hance Bros. & White, at Sixth and Willow streets, from plans by F. Miles, Day & Bro., architects. It will be 50 x 80 feet, two stories high, brick, stone and iron, cement work, hard wood interior, and all conveniences.

Collins & Autenreith, architects, 410 Walnut street, have completed plans for a four-story addition to the east end of Oxford Market, at Twentieth and Oxford streets. Alice Van Lea is the owner. Also alterations and additions to the old building, and estimates are now in order in office of architects and general contractors as well.

Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 Walnut street, are engaged on plans for a passenger station, to be erected at Ogontz Park, for the Philadelphia and Reading Railway. It will be of brick and stone, one story high, slate roof, steam heat, electric work, plumbing, wire screening, iron grille work, and all conveniences. Cost about $10,000.

William J. Macauley, architect, 730 Chestnut street, has made plans for twenty dwellings, to be erected in Germantown during the coming fall, and will soon invite estimates on work and material. These are to be of Pompeian brick, stone trimmings, tile work; ranges, boilers, furnace heat and all modern comforts will be introduced.

Charles Peddle, architect, of Woodbury, N. J., is at work on plans for a pair of suburban homes, to be erected near the above place, for a local owner. The structures will be of brick, stone and frame work, hard wood, hot air heat, electric work, leaded and plain glass, papering, painting, and all minor comforts and conveniences placed.

Architect F. A. Barrows, No. 40 North Sixth street, Reading, Pa., has plans for a residence for R. Snyder, care D. P. & S. dry goods store. Brick and frame, $4000.—Architect Alexander Smith, 27 North Sixth street, has plans for a residence for Jas R. Mercer, 931 Penn street. Brick and stone, slate roof, tiling and steam or hot water heat. Address owner.

J. Elvin Jackson, architect, 804 Walnut street, is engaged on plans for a fine operation of dwellings, ten in number, to be erected in West Philadelphia, for a local owner. These are to be three stories high, of fancy brick, stone trimmings, hot air heat, electric work, plate glass, slate and tin roof, ranges, boilers, cement work, decorations, etc., on interior.

Addison Hutton, architect, 400 Chestnut street, has furnished plans for a four-story office and business building, to be erected at 1533 Chestnut street, for Herman E. Bouscher. The front will be of Fox Island granite and large plate glass; interior contains all modern conveniences, etc. Estimates are now being made in office of Stacey, Reeves & Son, 1611 Filbert street.

Architect Holm, of Bryn Mawr, Pa., has made plans for a large four-story apartment house, to be erected in that place, for J. W. White, local owner. It is to be of brick, stone and iron construction, fire-proof material on interior, steam heat, electric work, elevator, and all general conveniences. Jacob Myers & Son, Sansom and Juniper streets, are taking sub-bids on the work and materials.

Wilson Bros., architects, Drexel Building, Fifth and Chestnut streets, have completed plans for twin cottages at Point Breeze Gas Works, for the U. G. I. Co., and placed them on boards of contractors for estimate. The specifications call for three-story structures of brick and stone, slate roof, interior in hard wood, tile work, furnace heat, hard ware and smith work, plumbing and gas fitting, electric bells, etc.

Some time ago we noted plans by Charles W. Bolton, architect, Witherspoon Building, for a new tower of stone, to be erected by the West Park Presbyterian congregation, at one corner of the structure. These drawings have been completed, and orders issued to proceed with the work. It will be 37 feet high, roofed with slate, and is quite ornamental in design. Lewis Park has just been awarded the contract.

The architects to be selected by the building committee of the First Baptist Church congregation are now under consideration, and will likely be five in number, who will receive compensation for their labor, whether their plans be adopted as those for the construction or not. Certain fixed rules are to be laid down for their guidance in the matter of competition, from which there is to be no deviation. No communication will be considered other than those addressed to the secretary of the committee, at the church. In our last issue we announced the names of the committee in full.

T. Frank Miller, architect, Lippincott Building, Twelfth and Filbert streets, is engaged on detail plans for a house for E. A. Middleton, of Frankford. It will be of stone and brick, three stories high, slate roof, steam heat, electric work, range, boiler, and all general accommodations and comforts. Same architect has finished plans for a fine house for Christopher Uber, to be erected at Oak Lane. It will be of stone, slate roof, plate glass, hot air heater, ranges, boiler, plumbing, and best comforts. Estimates are now being taken by the owner. Mr Uber's address is Lamont, Montgomery county, Pa.

An Old Relic.

The following is a curiosity, not only from the fact that the note was given before the Revolutionary War, but also from its peculiar wording, which was evidently in use at that time, as the form is a printed one:

I Bateman Lloyd of Pilesgrove presinct in the County of Salem & province of west New Jersey yeoman do promise to pay to Richard Wistar, of the City of Philadelphia, in the Province of Pennsylvania, or to his Heirs, Executors, Administrators or Assigns, the Sum of Five Pounds Four Shillings & Ten pence lawful Money of New Jersey, with lawful Interest, on or before the first Day of December next ensuing, for Value received of him. To the which Payment well and truly to be made, I do bind myself my Heirs, Executors and Administrators, in the penal Sum of Ten Pounds Nine Shillings and Eight pence hereunto set my Hand and Seal this Fifteenth Day of August One Thousand Seven Hundred and Sixty five 1765

Sealed and Delivered in the Presence of
Nicholas Olbers Bateman Lloyd [SEAL]
Benj. Thompson

From the receipt upon the back of the note which reads as follows, it would seem that the importance of the above very verbose promise to pay was not increased in the least, or no more binding than the form of note now in general use, for it was not paid until April 1787.

Reced April fifteenth 1783 of Bateman Lloyd ten pounds Nine shillings & Eight pence in full part the Interest of the within Note unto August the fifteenth 1782 four pounds four shillings & Eleven pence toward the principle

To, s. Richard Wistar

THE MASTER BUILDERS' EXCHANGE of this city, is one of the most progressive organizations in this country, and recently have inaugurated a feature of instruction, combined with genuine benefit, at their quarterly meetings. This consists of a series of lectures or half hour talks from prominent men and leading architects after their noon-day luncheon. These in themselves have thus far been of a most instructive and beneficial character. On September 27th Mr. Joseph M. Huston, the well-known architect, spoke before that body upon the relations which should exist between the architect and the contractor and builder, and brought out some very pertinent and well chosen ideas, which if followed would solve many of the difficult problems that arise between these two professions. Mr. Huston is an able talker and elucidates the practical sides of business life in a way that is most entertaining and instructive. This is a step in the right direction.

Funds Needed.

The Associate Society of the Red Cross of Philadelphia is maintaining its hospital at Camp Mc-de. Patients too ill to be moved to city hospitals are taken there. Its capacity to receive all the cases is inadequate because of the Society's inability to secure experienced women nurses for the nominal sum of sixteen dollars per month. Nurses willing to make the sacrifice and to engage in this laudable work will kindly apply by letter or report to "The Committee on Nurses," 1501 Chestnut street, Philadelphia. Funds are needed to meet the increasing demands made upon the Society.

Staining Bricks.

It frequently happens that a builder has to build an addition to some brick building already up; and it also happens that he cannot procure bricks to match the old bricks in color. To get over this difficulty he is compelled to use bricks available and render them the color of the old bricks by staining, or staining the old bricks to correspond with the new. There are several methods - all good - of staining bricks, and for the benefit of those builders who may require to employ one or the other of the methods, we submit the following: To make a good, durable red stain, mix Indian red, or Venetian red, with a solution of good Portland cement, regulating the color by adding a little Spanish brown if necessary. Mix with this fine sand, washed clean and dried before being added to the solution. Cement and sand may be used in equal proportions. The mixture is to be a little thinner than ordinary paint. It must be stirred while being used and applied with a brush. Another red stain, which is easily applied, looks better than the first, but lacks durability. Take as follows, and in proportion to amount required: One ounce of glue melted in one gallon water, add a piece of alum the size of an egg, then a half pound of Venetian red and one pound of Spanish brown. Try the color and mix more light or dark to suit. For a buff or cream color, use any yellow mineral paint, such as yellow ochre, adding a mineral white to make it light, if necessary. For black, use asphaltum heated to a fluid state before applying. Bricks should be stained black before being laid, and the best way is to make the brick moderately hot, then dip them about one inch in the melted asphaltum, and leave them dry before being used. This makes a good, durable job, if they are held in the mixture for a moment or two in order that the color may have an opportunity of being absorbed to the depth of a sixteenth of an inch. Another method of staining bricks black is to mix together asphaltum and linsed oil, and heat the mixture until it will mix together well. Heat the bricks and dip them in the mixture, where they should remain for a short time. The best way to stain black is to have a flat pan over a fire; fill the pan until it has about an inch in depth of the mixture. Place in the pan as many bricks as it will hold, then take out the first brick and replace it with another. Put the stained brick on a board or a clean spot to dry; then take out the second brick and put another in its place; and continue this operation until bricks enough are stained, minding to keep up the supply of asphalt and oil. - The Canadian Architect.

Architect Notes.

Architects Geo. Orth & Bro., Stevenson Building, Pittsburg, Pa., are making plans for a handsome brick residence at Fifth and Aiken avenue, that place, for Dr. Wm. H. Hallock.

At McKeesport, Pa., the site for the proposed new high school cost $30,000. The building is expected to cost from $75,000 to $100,00. Architects are to be invited to make plans.

Architects E. J. Carlisle & Co., Lewis Building, Pittsburg, Pa., will want bids this week for the new school house at Braddock, Pa. Also for the Twenty-second ward school, Pittsburg, Pa.

Thomas Bennett, architect, 198 Fifty-third street, Brooklyn, N. Y., has made plans for eighteen four-story tenements, to be at Fifty-first street and Third avenue. General improvements etc.

Architect R. M. Trimble, Times Building, Pittsburg, Pa., is making plans for the new bank building at Beaver avenue and Juniata streets, Allegheny, Pa. It will be for the Bank of Secured Savings. Cost $6000.

Dull & Peterson and Crawford Coates, architects, 1110 Walnut street, have placed on boards for estimate plans for the house for Miss Mary Simmons, at Devon, Pa. It will be three stories high, shingle roof, colonial style, with large porch supported by immense columns. The interior will be in hard wood, furnace heat, electric work, best of plumbing, range and boiler, etc. Drawings can be seen in office of Wm. R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street.

General contractors are busy estimating on the new U. S. Public Building, to be located at Third and Arch streets, Camden, N. J., and for which Rankin & Kellogg, architects, 1024 Walnut street, prepared the accepted plans. The structure will be of marble, with a granite base, balustrade on top, copper roof, and two stories high. Bids must be in by Oct. 27th, and will be for the entire contract, except the heat and electric work. Previously noted in full in this journal.

Robeson Lea Perot, architect, 619 Bourse Building, has made plans for a parish house, to be erected by Christ P. E. Church, at Christiana Hundred, Del. It will be of stone, one story high, cut and rubble work, timber truss roof, slate work, interior fitted for school and general parochial work, furnace heat, electric work, plumbing, masonry, drainage, etc. Estimates now being made in office of Wm. R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street, and other contractors.

The drawings for the house of C. C. Febiger, previously noted in this journal, have now been completed by Chester Kirk, Bourse Building, and H. V. Seeler, Brown Bros. Building, associate architects. The structure will be erected on Powelton avenue, the exact location not stated. It will be of stone and fine faced brick, slate roof, and contain every known comfort. It will also contain about twenty-five rooms, tile and mosaic work, hard wood interior, cement floor in basement and pavement, and walks, steam heat, etc. Cost about $80,000. Work is likely to start at once.

Architect Truman P. Reitmeyer, Masonic Temple, Williamsport, Pa., has prepared plans for a magnificent residence, to be located at Bellefonte, Pa., for the Hon. Daniel H. Hastings, Governor of Pennsylvania. The exterior will be colonial, carried out in the severest type as to detail. It will be of red pressed brick, with marble trimmings, roof of green slate, plate and leaded glass, hard wood interior, mantels, tiles and grates, parquet floors, best plumbing, and, in fact, everything to make it a modern and elegant home. The work will be done by days' work, under the direct supervision of Architect R. A. Meyer. The perspective presents a most magnificent building, situated on an elevation surrounded by terraces. The building will have an extensive portico, the roof of which will be supported by immense pillars, giving the main entrance an attractive and imposing appearance. Cost not given. Construction contracts will not be let. Same architect has plans for a handsome residence at Grampian Boulevard, for Mr. Harrison T. Crawford. Cost about $8000. Architect Reitmeyer is also making extensive alterations to the residence of Mrs. Dr. Harrison, at Lewisburg, Pa. Bay windows, tower, etc.

Some time ago John D. Allen, the well known architect, 1017 Chestnut street, prepared a full set of working plans for the erection of what was to be known as the Lyric Theatre, to be erected at Fortieth street, Haverford and Lancaster avenues, by Charles Arthur, manager. These were thought to be final in the matter of construction, and upon which full estimates were made by contractors. Now a new set of drawings have been made by P. P. Elkinton, architect, 211 South Sixth street, for the self same project, for new owners and managers, Messrs. Browne & Bower, and the drawings presented to the board of building inspectors for approval. These are now under consideration, and call for a three-story structure, of brick, stone and iron, with considerable ornamental work of galvanized iron and terra cotta. It will be 80 x 165 feet, 60 feet high, and a large "L" shaped basement. The stage will be 36 feet wide and 30 feet high. Pompeian brick are to be the material for the front. Steam heat, electric work and all general improvements are included. The fact exists at present, that neither plans have been definitely fixed upon, as the latter ones have yet to pass the scrutiny of Engineer Barnes, of the board of building inspectors, and Chief Haddock.

Thomas Stephens, architect, Masonic Temple, Camden, N. J., is busily engaged on the details for the new high school building to be erected in that city at Haddon and Newton avenues, and the contract has been given to William H. Day, of Camden. As before noted the structure will be three stories high, of red brick, marble trimmings, and colonial in style of architecture; slate roof. The interior will have steam heat, electric work and a special system of plumbing; closets, lavatories, etc. Mr. Stephens is also engaged on plans for a large steel pen factory for the C. Howard Hunt Pen Manufacturing Company, and all communications must be addressed to the architect, as above noted. The structure will be three stories high, covering an area of 135 x 131 feet, and of hard, red brick, and the interior of slow burning construction; slag roof, ornamental front, with blue stone trimmings; steam power and heat with electric work and best plumbing, etc. Estimates are to be asked at the office of the architect about the 10th inst. current month. Same architect is taking sub bids for a manufacturing building for W. S. Seull, to be erected in the same city. Drawings can be seen in architect's office, and to whom all communications must be addressed in regard to the building, etc. The structure will be 40.4 x 117 feet wide, four stories high. The motive power of this building will be generated by the independent electric plant to be placed. Steam heat, etc. Also plans, being made by the same architect for a stable for Isaac Ferris, Jr., to be erected in Merchantville, N. J., to be of frame and stone work. All conveniences, etc. Other plans by Mr. Stephen will be noted at an early date in these columns.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Harry T. Saunders will erect a number of modern medium sized dwellings on Sixty-fourth street, Haverford avenue and Hicks street, Overbrook, Pa.

Fifty-five acres at Newtown Square, Delaware county, have been purchased by John Clements, West Phila., to be laid out in town lots. The town will be called Rugby.

The commissioners of Fairmount Park ask for the maintenance of the entire grounds and improvements, etc., $595,403.75, an increase of $35,808.21 over last year's appropriation.

Joshua Holmes, 1233 Girard avenue, is about to erect an operation of sixteen houses at Corliss and Huntingdon streets. These are to be of brick, stone trimmings, and contain all modern comforts, etc.

A. M. Greene will at once start building four dwellings, three-stories high, 13 x 45 feet, on Morris street, west of the Oxford pike. All to be stone and brick, with best conveniences on the interior.

P. Loughrey, contractor, will at once begin a two-story addition to the House of the Good Shepherd, Thirty-fifth and Fairmount avenue. It will be of brick, stone and cement work. All conveniences introduced.

Harvey R. Warren, contractor, North Carlisle street, is taking bids on several buildings to be erected at Fort Mifflin, Delaware river. These are to be of brick, stone and iron, and for storage purposes of ammunition, etc.

The corner stone of the new Trinity Episcopal Church, at Ambler, Pa., was laid on Wednesday last, by Bishop Whittaker. The church will cost $50,000. It was the gift of Dr. Mattison and wife. Rev. Langman Powell is the pastor.

The University of Pennsylvania, at Thirty-fourth and Woodland avenue, intends to erect in the near future a house for the cultivation of bugs, marine animals and small vertebrates, etc., and will be added to the Biological department. The details are being considered and plans arranged.

Charles Auchter has commenced work on the three story stone and brick office building, 33x99.11 feet, for Ida Silberman, at 1419-1421 Chestnut street, previously reported, from plans by the Architect J. F. Stuckert & Son, 49 North Thirteenth street.

Bids are again being asked on the store building of John and James Dobson to be erected at 809-811 Chestnut street. The specifications indicate a seven-story structure of brick, terra cotta and Indiana limestone, interior fitted with elevators, lifts for freight, steam heat. All modern conveniences will be introduced.

C. R. Kohl & Bros., contractors, Odd Fellows' Temple, will at once begin the erection of a very fine residence for Wm. C. Peters, on Carpenter street, above Quincy, Germantown. It will be of local stone, three stories high, and fitted on interior with every known comfort and convenience. Previously noted in these columns.

Councils' Committee on Highways agreed to recommend these appropriations for next year: Intersections, $175,000; repairs to paved streets, $250,000; repairs to unpaved streets and roads, $150,000; repairs to sewers, $30,000; general repairs to bridges, $100,000; grading, $300,000. A new item of $50,000 for repaving streets also was agreed upon.

John R. Wiggins, contractor, 1220 Filbert street, has been awarded the contract for the Blockley Baptist Church, to be erected after plans by W. C. Jr., and T. B. Pritchett, 424 Walnut street. This fine work has been fully noted in these columns previously. This is the second church building awarded Mr. Wiggins during the current year.

James Florey, builder, 14 South Broad street, has bought of R. A. Penrose a block of ground at Sixty-first and Market streets, for $95,000. It is 350 x 500 feet, and he will, it is understood, improve the site by erecting quite an operation of fine houses. Same purchaser has bought of A. M. Taylor additional ground at Sixty third and Lansdowne avenue, for the same purpose as above noted.

The first plans for a grand stand for the big peace jubilee have been prepared by Benjamin Ketcham, Jr. The stand is to be erected on the pavement of the property from 229 to 243 North Broad street, and will be 122 1/2 feet in length, reaching from the house to the curb line. It will be covered, have arm seat chairs, be handsomely decorated with bunting, and illuminated with electric lamps, and will be constructed in strict accordance with the plans formulated by the Bureau of Building Inspection.

Bischoff & Campbell, the well-known builders, will during the present season begin a large operation of dwellings upon a site recently purchased, bounded by Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, Oxford and Columbia avenues. These are to be of fancy colored brick, stone trimmings and steps, furnace heat, ranges, boilers, electric work, tile work, cement and artificial stone pavement, with all modern comforts and conveniences. Charles C. Haines, carpenter, 1802 Filbert street, will have the general contract.

Messrs. Keen and Mead have just finished plans for the erection of two handsome houses at Glenside Farms. These are the first plans that have been adopted for this new enterprise. Contracts have been awarded by W. T. B. Roberts to Messrs. F. L. Hoover & Son, 708 Jayne St., Phila. These houses will be very ornamental in design and will be some thing new in this section of the country. Mr. Lawrence Vischer Boyd has also prepared plans for a handsome new office of English design, to be erected for the benefit of Glenside Farms, and contracts for this have also been awarded to Messrs. F. L. Hoover & Son. Mr. Horace Trumbauer is preparing plans for the new Glenside M. E. Church, which will be very artistic in design.

Paper floors are enjoying a steadily increasing popularity in Germany, which is readily explained by the many advantages they possess over wooden flooring. An important advantage consists in the absence of joints, whereby accumulations of dust, vermin and fungi dangerous to health, are done away with. The new paper floors are bad conductors of heat and sound, and in spite of their hardness have a linoleum-like, soft feel to the foot. The costs are considerably lower than those of floors made of hard wood. The paper mass receives a small addition of cement as binder, and is shipped in bags, in powder form. The mass is stirred into a stiff paste, spread out on the floor, pressed down by means of rollers, and painted with oak-wood, nutwood, or mahogany colors, after drying.

The Committee on Improvement of the Delaware River wharves of the Board of Port Wardens met on the 28th inst., and granted the following applications: Pennsylvania Railroad, to sink piles at the foot of Dock street; Cramps, to fill up a dock at their shipbuilding yard; Philadelphia Belt Line Company, a renewal of their license to build a trestle along the Delaware River front in the Twenty-third and Twenty-fifth wards; Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, renewal of licenses for the construction of two piers in front of their property north of Arch street; the estate of Thomas Clyde, for a renewal of license to extend pier 1, south, to new Port Warden's line. The Philadelphia and Reading Railway Company applied for permission to construct a platform on piles in the dock on the south side of Pier No. 8, south, but counsel for the adjoining property, Pier No. 9, put in an objection, and the matter was postponed.

Bids were opened at the Treasury Department for the construction of the Philadelphia Mint. There were fifteen bidders altogether from different sections of the country. There were a number of bidders from Philadelphia, the leading ones being Allen B. Rorke, Charles McCaul, and the Girard Construction Company. Mr. Rorke submitted several bids, which included various kinds of marble and granite, the latter ranging from $470,000 and upwards. The marble ranging from $500,000 to $580,000. The bids were so varied and complicated that it will take the Treasury officials several days to analyze and arrange them. It is thought by those present that one of the bids submitted by Mr. Rorke is likely to be accepted by the Treasury officials, as he is regarded as one of the most responsible and competent builders in the country. He has had charge thus far of the work since the commencement of the Mint building, and his work has given entire satisfaction to the government.

Through Pennsylvania.

When any of the following are not post office towns they will be so designated.

—At Duncannon, Perry Co., a large hosiery plant, to accommodate 200 hands, will be erected this fall.

HOWARD L. DAVIS.

—At Towerville, near Ercildoun, Chester Co., Mr. Harry De Haven will erect a new barn, 60 x 70 feet.

—At Ringtown, Schuylkill Co., a report has it that a new theatre building will be erected by a syndicate.

—At Quakertown, Bucks Co., the foundation has been laid on West Broad street for Mr. Krause's new modern press brick dwelling, before reported.

—At Wilkesbarre, it is reported that a court house, to cost about a half a million of dollars, will be erected, the county commissioners having so decided.

—At Lansdale, Montgomery Co., the $6300 borough and the $7000 school bonds have been sold. The money to be used for school and borough improvements.

—At Millvale, not a post office town, near Bennett, Pa., in November the citizens will vote upon question of a pumping station, to cost $10,000, and $5000 for a pump.

—At Newtown, Bucks Co., Gamed B. Girton has received the contract for a new house to be erected for Mrs. Josephine Raymond on North Chancellor street, that place.

—At Doylestown, Bucks Co., Oliver Gilbert will erect a dwelling house.—Henry G. Freeman, Jr., of this place will erect four dwellings on Court street; Lewis Treffinger has the contract.

—It is stated that the Prospect Park Electric Company is having surveys made with the view of extending its line from Moores Station, Del. Co., Pa., through Folsom, Rutledge and Morton, to connect with the Phila. & Del. Co. Electric Railway.

—At Wilkesburg, Allegheny Co., Mrs. Sarah Miller will erect a two-story and attic brick dwelling, to cost $3000; architect, E. B. Milligan, that place.—Same architect will erect for himself at Biddle and Trenton avenues, same place, two two-story and attic brick dwellings, to cost $9500.

—At Reading, Berks Co., Messrs. Dives, Pomeroy & Stewart, merchants, have purchased the property 21 S. Sixth street for $9500, adjoining the firms property, bought several months ago. Plans will be made for the construction of a six-story structure as an annex to the firm's present store building.—Permits have been taken out by Geo. W. Beard for two three-story dwellings on Centre avenue, between Green and Greenwich streets.—Francis Scheit for a two-story brick stable, 14 x 32 feet on Olney street.

—At Southampton, Bucks Co., a communication, signed by a subscriber, announces that the village is a thrifty growing place on the Newtown Branch of the Philadelphia and Reading R. R., about 45 minutes from the Terminal.—Also that Geo. C. Shelmire will erect a residence, to cost $4000, for which Jas. T. Hazzard has the contract.—Also W. E. Rightly, a stone dwelling to cost about $4000.

—Also that Miss S. L. Tomlinson has under way a frame dwelling on Knowles avenue, to cost about $2500; Sam'l P. Leech, contractor.—Mr. Casewell Reeves will erect a frame dwelling on Main street.—Our correspondent also adds that the country is high and the water good, and that the place offers every inducement as a quiet, healthful place for residences, as well as for suburban homes.

—At West Chester, Chester Co., William R. Sharpless will erect two handsome dwellings, corner of Washington and Franklin streets.—The Westminster Presbyterian Church congregation has held a meeting to discuss the question of raising money for a new church building; Architect Arthur S. Cochran of Westtown, Chester Co., being present. The first proposition was the erection of an annex to the present chapel building, but the committee, of which W. W. Mac Elsee, Esq., is chairman, reported that it was the opinion of the committee that an effort to raise funds for an annex would conflict with subsequent efforts to raise about $12,000 for a new church building, as proposed, this sum being the amount Architect Cochran said the new building would cost, without a tower or furnishings; the tower he estimated would cost about $8000 extra. The committee on finances is to be increased. It is probable that sufficient means will be raised this winter to justify the commencement of the church building and Sabbath school annex next spring. Rev. Alexander Esler is the pastor, and can give information.

Through New Jersey.

Through Pennsylvania.

(Too Late for Classification.)

—At Pittsburgh, it is probable that steps will be taken in a short time toward supplying the city with pure water; not only Pittsburgh, but a number of other cities and towns will be supplied from the same source. These towns include Allegheny, Homestead, Braddock, McKeesport and a score of other municipalities between Pittsburgh and Greensburg. The proposition is the gathering of the flow of Indian Creek watershed and its transmission to the various places just mentioned. This will necessitate the construction of one or more immense dams, a large reservoir or lake near the mouth of Indian Creek, a seven foot tunnel twelve miles long through Chestnut Ridge, and the laying of a sixty-nine inch steel conduit a distance of thirty-five miles to Pittsburgh. The estimated cost of the undertaking is from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000, and it will take about five years to complete the work. The watershed is in Fayette county, and contains one hundred and twenty square miles, and nearly one thousand acres of this territory has already been purchased by the Water Company, to be used for reservoir purposes. The company will be known as the Western Water Company. It is probable that at least three dams will be constructed, one on Indian Creek, immediately below Buck's Run; another two and a half miles below, at Wildcat Point; and the third below Rube Morrison's; the lower dam will be 180 feet high, and will be about three miles from Youghiogheny. Samuel Eccles, of Greensburg, Pa., is in charge of the surveying corps, which is in the employ of Jamison & Fogg, also of Greensburg. The Pittsburgh Filtration Company is said to be interested in the project. Morris K. Knowles, of Pittsburgh, is one of the Filtration Company. John C. Sims, of Philadelphia, and Daniel S. Newhall, of Stafford, Pa., are also interested. Mr. Sims is Secretary of the Pennsylvania Water Company.—The great steel and ship-building plant at Ensley, a suburb of Birmingham, Alabama, in the construction of which $5,000,000 will be expended, will be built largely by Pittsburgh firms, the latest contract having been awarded to the Ritter-Couley Manufacturing Company for the construction of ten Wellman open hearth rolling steel furnaces, at a cost of about $200,000. The same company will also construct a steel-producer house and storage bin, 15 feet wide, 343 feet long and 30 feet high. It is said that as soon as the plant is in operation, which will be in about eight months, work will be started on the plate mill and rail mill.—Through the efforts of Black & Gloninger, the Pittsburgh district has secured a new industry in the Pittsburgh Sheet Manufacturing Company. This company has just bought ten acres of ground, situated at Shousestown, between the Pittsburgh and Erie Railroad and the Ohio River, and will use it as a site for a large mill for the manufacture of galvanized sheet iron. The main building will be 100 x 250 feet, and the entire plant will be thoroughly equipped with every modern convenience. Work will begin as soon as possible, in order to be in operation by the first of January, 1899. Mr. R. A. Wilson, of Canton, Ohio, is president of the company.—The Society of Deaconesses of the Protestant church will erect a large addition to their present building at Reed and Miller streets. It will be finely finished and provided with all modern improvements and appliances for hospital purposes. The cost will be about $35,000.—George Hubbard will erect five attractive brick dwellings on Farragut street, in the Nineteenth ward. They will be well finished throughout, provided with all modern conveniences, and will cost $5000 each.—A handsome dwelling of stone and frame will be erected by William Robinson, at Murray avenue and Bryson street, at a cost of $6600.—George H. Strickler has arranged for the erection of a brick and stone apartment house on Mathilda street, in the Twentieth ward. It will be finely finished throughout, sanitary plumbing, considerable tile work, all modern conveniences, and the estimated cost is $18,000.—Ground has been broken on Penn avenue, opposite Peebles street, for two brick dwellings, to cost about $10,000.—George Schmidt & Son have sold for R. A. Neyman, eight lots, each 20 x 100 feet, on Pueli and Alliquippa streets, Eureka Place, for $4500.—John A. Bell has sold to J. S. Harring a lot, 127 x 125 feet, on Bradford avenue, Crafton, for $6000.—John K. Ewing & Co. have sold for Isabella E. Hewitt, to the Eleventh United Presbyterian Church, of Allegheny, a lot 80 x 100 feet, on the east side of California avenue near Davis avenue, for $1,500. This is the second lot bought by this congregation, and will give it a frontage of 90 feet. The lot will be improved by the erection of a handsome church building of stone in the near future.—It is said that a five-story mercantile building will be erected on Frankstown avenue near Station street. The work of tearing down the building on the lot will begin at once.—It is said that Andrew Carnegie is interested in a large ship-building plant to be constructed in New York.—S. H. Gould will erect a frame dwelling on Industry street, to cost about $3000. It will be well finished and provided with modern conveniences.—Jacob Kline will erect two brick dwellings at 1340 Penn avenue, to cost about $3000 each.

Wants.

Treasury Department Office, supervising architect, Washington, D. C., September 29, 1898.—Sealed proposals will be received at this office until 2 o'clock P. M. on the 27th day of October, 1898, and then opened for the construction (except heating apparatus and electric wire conduits) of the U. S. Post Office, Custom House, etc., building at Camden, New Jersey, in accordance with the drawings and specification, copies of which may be had on application at this office or the office of Rankin & Kellogg, No. 1024 Walnut street, Philadelphia, Pa. James Knox Taylor, supervising architect.

Councils of York, Pa., will probably appropriate $4500 for improvements to fire department. At Swedesboro, N. J., the Woolwich Fire Company will purchase a fire bell for signal station.

At York, Pa., bids until October 20th for a steam heating and ventilating plant for the county court house.

At Oakland, Garrett county, Md., bonds will be issued to purchase electric light plant and to improve the streets.

At Williamsport, Pa., highway committee of councils will urge the appropriation of $20,000 for a five-foot brick main sewer.

At Baltimore, Md., the citizens will in November vote upon the question of raising $1,500,000 in bonds for the inception of a general sewage system.

At Akron, O., a franchise has been given to the East Ohio Gas Co. to furnish the city with natural gas. One hundred and fifteen miles of piping will be needed.

Francis J. Lantry, commissioner of the department of correction, New York city, wants bids until October 10th for installing three elevators on Blackwell's Island.

Charles O'Neill, chief of bureau of ordnance navy department, Washington, D. C., wants until October 8th, bids for the erection of steel stand pipe at Indian Head, Md.

Bids are wanted for the erection of the proposed garbage crematory plant at Atlantic City, N. J., as the Thos. K. Dalzell contract for $29,900 made by councils to which Mayor Thompson refused to place his signature is considered too high.

Judgments PHILADELPHIA.

ABBREVIATIONS.

Where there are no figures to indicate the amount of the judgment, the damages have not been assessed.

Greeley Advised "Go West"

Our advice to the Philadelphia builder is "go Southwest," and take a look at the ground we have secured and placed on the market, between 21st and 23d, running south from Moore, and intersected by Mifflin, McKean, Snyder Avenue, Jackson and Wolf Streets.

The above has been divided into plots, affording an exceptional opportunity for a progressive man.

Architect Notes.

Architect John Rand, of Boston, Mass., has made sketches for the new Brubank Hospital, to be erected at Fitchburg, Mass.

Architects Brown & Von Beren, New Haven, Conn., are at work on plans for the remodeling of the First Baptist Church, that place, to cost about $5,500.

Architects Perkins & Belton, 13 School street, Boston, Mass., have let the contract for new brick school house at Jamaica Plains, Mass., to G. J. Cahill, of Jamaica Plains, for $28,000.

A BOY

Once started to overtake a star, whose merry twinkling fairly enchanted
him. He climbed the long, steep hill, until, with weary footsteps he

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, OCT. 12, 1898.

It is self evident that the native population of this country is growing at a rapid pace. In every section the cry is for more schools, and much indignation is expressed that school facilities are not made to expand with the necessity.

The criticism is largely against the ultra educational idea, and it must eventually have a wholesome effect in curtailing extravagances in that direction.

It is time for legisla'tion against the diversion of school funds for high school purposes, while the deficiency of low grade schools remains a crying evil.

This is a crime against both child and state, for, on the one hand, the child is deprived of its constitutional rights, and the state is made to suffer, through the ignorance and want of education of this self same child after it has reached its majority, and this holds good regardless of its sex.

The poor man's child is perforce compelled to accept its limited advantages through the poverty of its parents, while the children of his wealthy neighbor are highly favored, even through these self-same high school abuses of our public school system.

Every dollar diverted from the primary and grade schools, to the advantage of the high schools, is practical and theoretical robbery of the children, the parents and the state of their constitutional rights, and it's time it was stopped.

$50,000 for a Jubilee over a peace which is not certain, and 5000 children without school accommodations.

The school board at Winton, Lackawanna, county, Pa., advertised for bids for the erection of a school house, and awarded the contract to a party whose bid was $2000 in excess of the next lowest responsible bidder. The citizens of Winton brought, suit to restrain the school board from carrying out this contract. The decision rendered by Judge Edwards is as follows—the board to pay the costs:

The law gives to the school boards the power to determine when and where school houses shall be erected and who shall erect them. The courts have no right to act as school directors, and thus interfere with the responsibility which the law has imposed upon the school boards of our State; but we do say that the school board of the Winton school district have acted unwisely, and have, by their unwise action, practically taken $2000 out of the treasury of their district. They are not answerable to us for their action, and must square their conscience the best way they can with their constituents.

Architect Notes.

D. Judge Denau, architect, of Ardmore, Pa., has finished plans for a house to be erected at Merion, Pa., for Mr. S. Twitchell, and placed the drawings for estimate in office of C. R. Kohl & Bro., Odd Fellows' Temple, Broad and Cherry streets. It will be of stone and pebble dash work, three-story, with steam heat, electric work, best plumbing, and all modern comforts. Cost, about $12,000, when completed.

Bunting & Shrigley, architects, 1420 Chestnut street, have finished plans for two fine dwellings to be erected in Yeadon, Delaware county, Pa., for James S. Austin. These are to be of frame work; shingle roof; interior in hard woods, furnace heat, range, boiler, and general comforts, etc., including cement floors in cellar and electric lighting and bells. Estimates are in order in office of John R. Wiggins, 1220 Filbert street.

Architect J. P. Brenot, of Oil City, has completed plans for a thirteen-room summer colonial residence for B. F. Gault, Oil City; fitted throughout with modern plumbing, mantels, electric work and slate roof. Contract let to H. C. Mundt. Same architect has completed plans for a sixteen-room brick colonial residence for D. O. Moran, Oil City; fitted throughout with modern plumbing, hot water heater, polished floors and hard wood finish, plate glass and all modern conveniences. Mr. Brenot will also have plans ready in a few days for a residence for A. D. Griffith, Oil City, size, 22 x 42 feet. To have all modern improvements.

The plans by Kennedy, Hayes & Kelsey, architects, 981 Chestnut street, for alterations and additions to residence of W. H. Wilbur, near Devon, Pa., and erecting a stable upon the same grounds, are now open for estimates on the boards of general contractors. The specifications call for cut stone, brick and iron work, shingle roofing, laundry, store room, stair work, plate glass windows, tin and galvanized work, hot air heat, mosaic and electric work, etc. Stable to be of frame and stone work, with a portion furnished for the coachman's house. All modern accommodations will be introduced.

Horace W. Sellers and Chester H. Kirk, architects, 533-37 Phila. Bourse Building, have completed plans for a fine house, to be erected at St. David's Pa., for Mr. Hawley McLanahan, Esq. The structure will be three stories and basement, of stone, cut and rough, shingle roof, plate and leaded glass windows and doors, interior in hard wood, electric work, tiling, plumbing, steam heat, and all modern comforts. Estimates being made in office of J. E. & A. L. Lenock, 305 Walnut street; also in the same office are plans for a fine structure, after plans by W. E. Bloodgood, architect, 64 Cedar street, New York City, for estimates and to be erected in Somerville, N. J., to be known as the 'Hiram Deats Home for Children.' It will be two stories high, of stone, brick and iron work stories high, of stone, brick and iron work and terra cotta, mosaic, and tile work, hard wood on interior, furnace heat, electric work, lavatories and all modern conveniences and comforts. It will also be absolutely fire-proof throughout. The roof will be entirely of Spanish tile work.

The Fairmount Park Art Association presented in May to the trustee under the will of Richard Smith its report and recommendations as to the sculptors for the monument and gateway to be erected in Fairmount Park. This report has now been accepted and confirmed by the trustee, John G. Gest, Esq., and the architect, James H. Windrim, and awards will be made as follows: Equestrian statue, Major-General Hancock, J. Q. A. Ward; equestrian statue, Major-General McClellan, Paul W. Bartlett; colossal figure, Major-General Meade, Daniel Chester French; colossal figure, Richard Smith, Herbert Adams; eight colossal busts as follows: Admiral Porter, Charles Grady; Major-General Hartranft, A. Sterling Calder; Admiral Dahlgren, George E. Bissell; James H. H. Windrim, Esq.; Samuel Murray; Major-General S. W. Crawford, Bessie O. Potter; Governor Curtin, M. Ezekiel; General James A. Beaver, Katherine M. Cohen; John B. Gest, Esq., John J. Boyle. Of the thirteen commissions five are awarded to Philadelphia, one to Chicago, one to Baltimore, one to Boston and five to sculptors whose studios are in New York. Previously noted.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

F. A. Upham, of Webster, Mass., got the contract for the new school house at East Village, that place, for $14,422.

At North Adams, Mass., a new school house is proposed for the Third ward. James D. Hunter is president of the school board.

At Elizabeth, N. J., the Board of Trade has requested the city to take steps to provide $250,000, to be expended for sewers and paving.

At Easton, Pa., an electric light plant, to cost $150,000 is to be constructed. Alfred Clarke, 23 Central street, Boston, Mass., is the engineer.

It is stated that the contract for the Drew Theological college, to be erected at Madison, Morris county, N. J., was awarded to D. C. Weeks & Son, Charity Building, New York. It will cost $100,000.

H. P. Schneider, contractor, is to start at once eight dwellings, three stories high, 16 x 68 feet, at Frankford avenue and Hart lane, for David McKibben, owner. All to be of brick, stone trimmings and best general comforts on the interior.

It will be of stone and brick, hard wood interior and furnished with every known comfort. Cost, about $30,000. Noted in full in these columns previously.

The Water Bureau, of this city, asks for $1,375,000 for extensions in 1899, under the new loan bill. Survey committee of councils asks for appropriations for the same year; Sewers and inlets, $250,000; bridges $810,000; Manayunk main sewer, $50,000; dredging Schuylkill river, $50,000, and main sewer, $750,000.

The Manufacturers' Club, on Walnut street, west of Broad street, have authorized the Board of Directors to sell, if advantageous, their present club house. It is quietly admitted that Mr. George C. Boldt has made overtures to secure the above building to enlarge his hotel facilities by erecting a large hotel in the near future. The club ground would add 30 x 90 feet on the west. No definite action has been thus far taken either way.

Some time ago we noted plans for a new station house for the city at the northwest corner of 7th and Carpenter streets, but the matter was dropped on account of lack of sufficient money at that time. Now a new move will be made, asking for a sufficient appropriation, when Chief of City Property Eisenhower will push the matter to completion.

William H. Yelland and James Howard, 4242 Franklin street, Frankford, are about to begin quite an extensive operation of dwellings, two and three stories, at Yelland and Ruffner streets and Hunting Park avenue, to be about 150 in number. The cost will be about $259,000, and all are to be of fancy colored brick, with stone facings and steps; ranges and heaters, boilers and best interior comforts. This is to be a leader in this section of the city.

Bids are still being made on the drawings for a station for the Philadelphia & Reading Railway, at Elkins Station. The plans are by Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 Walnut street, and call for a brick stone and iron structure, two stories high in centre, with sheds, walks and ornamental grass plots in front and rear. All modern conveniences plumbing, heat, etc. Drawings are on boards of Charles McCaul, 10 North Eleventh street, and other contractors.

It is stated that 35 acres of ground have been purchased at Homestead, Pa., by the Carnegie Steel Company for a gun foundry of immense proportions. Four large buildings are to be erected, and over 2000 men will be employed. I. McClurg Hayes, of Homestead, Pa., is said to have negotiated for the land. There is also another story to the effect that gunnery ship yards will be constructed on this site for the construction of both large and small vessels, but there seems to be no provision for a sufficient depth of water to float them out.

This office has been interrogated as to what uses the old material is put to, taken from alterations and general repairs to our city schools, meaning, of course, the doors, windows, blackboards, etc. We are informed that the old material, so far as it relates to second-hand doors, windows, flooring, etc., is part of the compensation of the contractor, and is awarded to him as such. The desks, blackboards, slate and wooden ones, and furniture in general is reserved by the Board of Education for uses in renovating and making alterations and additions to school houses as required, and are stored in their general warehouse for that purpose.

Hundreds of contracts are to be let for stands and grand stands for the Peace Jubilee; indeed, more construction of this kind than we anticipated, as noted in a former issue. Many of these are under the various committees of the City Council, ex-Governor Bunn's special decoration committee for arches, etc., and private parties who are asking permission of the board of Building Inspectors. If the route of parade be made to include Chestnut street, to Fifth street, to Market street to Broad street, it will increase the facilities needed to accommodate the people to a great extent, as well as contracts for labor and the material needed. Contractors, carpenters, and decorators will have all the field to themselves. So be on the alert during the next three weeks.

Councils Committee on Schools have considered the estimate of the Board of Education of the money required to maintain the schools of the city during 1899. The sum submitted by the Board is $6,871,639.35. Of this amount the Board proposes to use as general running expenses $3,730,739.35, and will expend, if the amounts asked for are granted, the sum of $3,141,500 for permanent improvements. The Board's appropriation for the present year was $3,686,931. The amount for maintenance includes $2,485,325 for salaries of teachers, $227,165 for cleaning school houses, $329,175 for alterations and improvements, $70,000 for books and stationery and $66,500 for night schools. The schedule for permanent improvements includes the purchase of ground and the building of school houses in nearly all parts of the city, and particularly in the sections where the demand is the greatest.

Preliminary estimates and sketches have been prepared for a large amount of bridge work in the office of Chief Webster, of the Bureau of Surveys, for the year 1899, and figures as follows have been submitted to Councils: Retaining walls, abutments and superstructure for Thirty-third street, over the Philadelphia and Reading Railway and over the connecting railway, complete, $180,000; Lehigh avenue, under connecting railway, $65,000; Wyoming avenue, over Frankford Creek, $100,000; Seventeenth street, over P. G. and N. Railroad, $80,000; Seventy-first street, over P. W. & B Railroad, $25,000; Sedgley avenue, over Richmond branch P. & R. Railway, $40,000; Allegheny avenue, under North Penn Railroad, $20,000; Fifty-seventh street, over W. C. and Philadelphia Railroad, $20,000; to commence drawbridge across Schuylkill river, at or near the line of Passayunk avenue, $40,000; Fifty-second street, under Pennsylvania Railroad, $45,000; Sixty-sixth avenue, north over North Penn Railroad, $4000; Gray's Ferry Bridge, over Schuylkill river (to complete), $10,000; Thirty-third street bridges over Philadelphia and Reading Railway and connecting railway, to complete, $40,000; Gibson avenue, under Baltimore and Philadelphia Railroad (city's share), $20,000; Graver's Lane, over Chestnut Hill Branch P. and R. Railroad, $10,000; Erie avenue, over Richmond Branch P. and R. Railroad, $75,000; Montgomery avenue, over connecting railway, $45,000; Glenwood avenue, over Richmond Branch P. and R. Railroad, $45,000; Allegheny avenue, under connecting railway, $50,000; Armat street, under Germantown and Chestnut Hill Branch P. and R. Railroad (two bridges), $40,000; Dauphin street, under connecting railway, $40,000; Frankford avenue, over Frankford Creek (two bridges), $80,000; Large street, under Frankford Branch P. and R. Railroad (one-half cost), $9000; Sixth street over P. W. and B. Railroad, $28,000; Byberry Road, over creek, in Thirty-fifth ward, $3000; Passayunk avenue over Schuylkill River (continued), $114,000; Hunting Park avenue, over Richmond Branch P. and R. Railroad (one-half cost), $31,000. Totals, $1,850,000.

a new music hall to be built on Second street, of which he is said to be a director.

—At Canonsburg, Washington Co., the residence of John G. Johnson will be extensively remodeled, from plans prepared by John W. Vester, of Washington, Pa.

—At Penbrook, Dauphin Co., Messrs. Koons & Moyer have taken contract for a large cottage dwelling, to be located at Coxestown, Pa.; William Hains, owner. It will be modern.

—At Lansdale, Montgomery Co., A. C.
Van Fossen, owner, is making excavations for a handsome residence, corner Ridge avenue and Third street. William Conner has the contract.

—At Lansdowne, Del. Co., Pa., excavations have been started for the new Catholic church, corner Baltimore avenue and Kenney's lane, for which Frank S. Briggs has the contract.

—At Charleroi, Washington, Co., it is stated that John McIner will erect a small hotel building, to cost about $15,000. Tin roof, steam heat, wood mantels, electric lights and modern plumbing will be needed.

—At Bennett, Allegheny Co., on Novem-

DESIGNS AND ESTIMATES CHEERFULLY FURNISHED.

—At Carnegie, Allegheny Co., John D. Glover has obtained the option on a number of sites, suitable for the proposed new public library building, for which money has been given by Andrew Carnegie. The cost of the building will be $100,000, and the endowment will be $10,000. William Hill is chairman of the committee.

—At Washington, Washington Co., John W. Vester has prepared plans for a three-story stone and apartment house, to be erected for John Lennox. It will be well finished, and will contain two store-rooms. Its exterior will be of Roman brick, stone trimmings, modern conveniences. Bids will be received until November 15th.

—At West Chester, Chester Co., considerable interest is expressed in the proposed extension of the Castle Rock & West Chester trolley to Downingtown. The citizens desire the extension, but the company, it is stated, will refuse unless the Borough Council is willing to waive the street paving curb to curb exaction. Sentiment seems divided, but it is hardly probable that the line will do more than reach West Chester.

—At Waynesborough, Franklin Co., a new Methodist church, to cost $15,000, will be erected, from plans by Architects W. O.
Weaver & Son, Harrisburg, Pa. Stained glass, electric lights and steam heat will be wanted.—Same architects, it is stated, have also made plans for a $25,000 church, at Lewistown, Mifflin Co., Pa. To be built by the Methodists. It will have electric lights, steam heat, stained glass and slate roof.

—At Reading, Berks Co., A. L. Frame, has secured a building permit for a stone building, 22x38 feet; brick, three story; corner Fifth and Bingham streets.—The Mayor has signed city ordinance for paving Fifth street below Laurel with asphalt.—The Board of Education contemplate the erection of several new school houses. Several sites are under consideration.—Thos. D. Alters will erect three two-story brick dwellings on Greenwich street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets. Ubil & Ehman have the contract.

—At California, Washington Co., the California Stove Company will erect a business block, from plans prepared by R. L. Barnhart, of Charleroi, Pa. It will be three stories high, of press brick, trimmings of stone and terra cotta, all modern conveniences. The cost will be about $15,000. The same architect has prepared plans for a building, to be erected at Charleroi, Pa., and which will be fitted up for hotel purposes, for John Momer.
It will be of brick, stone and terra cotta trimmings, well finished, and will cost about $15,000.

—At Scranton, Lackawanna Co., J. S.
Miller, beef merchant, has let the contract to
S. Sykes & Sons for the erection of a livery and boarding stable on Spruce street, between Washington and Wyoming avenues. The plans have been prepared by H. C. Rutherford, and call for a three-story brick building, with a finished basement for stalls. The first floor will contain a ladies' waiting room, toilet and bath rooms, harness room, and general office; the second floor will contain stalls, reached by runways; and the third floor will be utilized for feed storage, etc. The building will be fitted up throughout with all modern appliances and improvements and will be occupied and conducted by H. S. Gorman & Co. The school board has had to rent rooms in the Tenth and Seventeenth wards, to accommodate the increase in pupils, and it will be necessary to erect new buildings in those rapidly growing sections. The following work is under way: Dwelling for W. J. Rand, at Webster avenue and Gibson street, from plans by Architect Holden; Conrad Schroder, contractor. Double dwelling for John Scraggs, on Madison avenue, Nayaug Lumber Co., contractors; E. G. Worden, architect. Apartment house at Mulberry street and Monroe avenue; W. T. Hackett is interested, and can give information. Residence for E. J. Lynett, Clay avenue and Myrtle street; Architect Harvey J. Blackwood. Dwelling for Colonel Ripple, Vine street and Webster avenue; Mr. Blackwood, architect. St. Luke's Parish Home; C. Schroder, contractor.

At Pittsburg, Charles R. Muller has broken ground on Graham street for an attractive buff brick colonial dwelling. It will be finely finished, and provided with all modern conveniences and improvements. Nineteen buildings lots were sold in East End last week, all of which will be improved by dwellings. H. S. A. Stewart has sold a lot, 6 x 150, at the corner of Negley avenue and Black street. The price paid was $7500. It is said the new owner will erect a handsome dwelling on the site, to cost $20,000. B. B. Mellon has bought a lot, 120 x 14 feet, on Graham near Harriet street, for $10,800. Black & Gloninger have sold to George Houston lot No. 277, in the Shaler Place plan, Duquesne, fronting 20 feet on Edith street and 100 feet deep. John K. Ewing & Co. have lot No. 20, in the Kingston plan, on Pennsylvania avenue. It is said that the plans have been prepared for a magnificent Union Station, to take the place of the present inadequate structure. These plans provide for a structure to cost, with improvements, about $2,000,000. The ground floor of the proposed structure will stand where the second floor of the present station now stands. This will necessitate the elevation of the Fort Wayne Railroad tracks over Liberty and Penn avenue, which will probably be the entering wedge for a general system of elevated tracks. The produce warehouse and freight sheds on Grant street will be removed to property belonging to the company between Sixteenth and Twentieth streets. The new structure, with surroundings, will occupy about 6½ acres. In connection with the new station, it is proposed to lay out a fine boulevard as an approach, and to park a considerable part of the hillside, and to have fine drives, etc. The Depot Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, the Councilmanic Committee, the Mayor of the city and Superintendent P. N. Cavin, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, have the matter in charge. The plans have been drawn by Burnham & Co. of Chicago. In addition to the main station, there will be an immense train shed of steel and glass, and a cab stand 200 x 125 feet. The station itself will be five stories high, probably of Pompeian brick, with terra cotta trimmings. Some stone will also be used. Nearly $200,000 has been raised for the erection of the proposed armory which will be included in the improvements to be carried out in connection with the new station. The armory will occupy a commanding site on the hill overlooking the station, where the Bedford avenue reservoir once stood. Captain W. P. Herbert is interested in the armory. The Howard Baird property, near Sewickley, has been sold for $21,000, and it is said that the new owner will erect a fine country home. Reed B. Coyle & Co. have sold for John Eckert, to Jessie M. Walker, a lot in the Sunnyside plan, Bellevue, 50 x 150, which will be improved by the erection of an attractive dwelling. It is said that Mellon Brothers, real estate agents, are considering the question of donating the block of ground bounded by Baum and St. Clair streets and Friendship avenue, for park purposes. Mr. R. L. Adams, of the East End, has bought a farm situated a few miles from Ligonier, Pa., and will improve the property by the erection of a lodge and otherwise fitting it up for hunting purposes. J. T. Steen, Jackson Building, has made plans for a two-story brick dwelling, to be erected on Alder street, near College avenue, for Mrs. Scott. It will be well finished; all modern conveniences. W. H. Sims, Monongahela Bank Building has prepared plans for a two-story buff brick dwelling, to be erected on Oakland avenue, for David Challenger. Plans have been prepared by E. J. Carlisle Co., Lewis Building for the new school building to be erected in the Twenty-second ward; also, plans for the public school to be erected at Braddock, Pa. The bids for these operations will close on October 17th. George Orth & Brothers, Stevenson Building, have made plans for a two-story brick and stone dwelling, to be erected at Sewickley, Pa., for George H. Anderson. The same architect has prepared plans for a residence for Dr. Hollock. S. F. Heckert, Stevenson building, has made plans for a women and aged people's home to be erected at Emsburg, Pa., for the Sisters of the Holy Name. The plans have been sent to Rome for approval, and work on the proposed structure will begin some time next spring. T. E. Cornelius, Schmit Building, has prepared plans for a two-story brick dwelling, to be erected for Dr. William F. derick, in Elliott borough. The owner will select bidders. D. N. Greves, 349 Pacific avenue, has the contract for the erection of two attractive brick dwellings, to be erected on Graham street, for Grant McCargo and C. R. Miller, at a cost of about $18,000. They will be finely finished and provided with all modern conveniences and improvements.

At Bridgeport, Gloucester county, the congregation of M. E. Church has subscribed $4000 toward the erection of a new church building. The following is the building committee: Rev. Chatin, pastor, chairman; V. G. Holdcraft, secretary; Peter Tobert, treasurer; Henry Dunk, George H. Platt, W. H. Helms. Hot air will be used. The frame of both heaters and carpets will be paid by the ladies of the congregation.

At Princeton, the Grover Cleveland country club scheme is crystallizing into enormous proportions, as now it is stated 550 acres have been secured. Mr. Cleveland's yachting chum, Mr. E. C. Benedict, and Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan are in it as well as others representing enormous capital. A superb club house of magnificent proportions will be erected on the Johnson farm as well as other buildings. The section will doubtless become the rendezvous of fashionable and wealthy New Yorkers, after which the syndicate will have land to sell at enormous prices.

At West Hoboken, Carl Wollnisch will erect a three-story building to be fitted up as stores and flats and which will cost about $6000. The plans have been prepared by George W. V. Von Arx, 341 Palisade avenue, Jersey City. The same architect has made plans for a three story frame flat, 25 x 53 feet, to cost $65.0. Frank Pily will erect a three-story building to be fitted up as a bakery from plans prepared by William H. Louche, Jane and Palisade avenues, Weehawken. The same architect has prepared plans for a two-and-a-half-story frame dwelling, 22 x 25 feet, to cost about $50.00. It will be well finished throughout and provided with all modern conveniences and improvements.

At Bayonne, Hudson county, Collin & Mandelorf will erect seven two-story frame cottages, to cost $7000 each.—Mrs. Augusta Goodman will erect a large four-story and brick and stone building, which will be fitted up as stores and apartments. It will be 75 x 83 feet in dimensions, finely finished, and provided with all modern conveniences and improvements. The estimated cost is $34,000.—Eugene Reilly has prepared plans for a two-and-a-half-story frame dwelling, to cost about $1000, to be erected for Morris Howicz. Mr. Reilly is also the architect for the cottages to be erected for Collin & Mandelorf and for the operation for Mrs. Augusta Goodman, above noted; also for a three-story frame store and flat, to cost about $7000. It will be well finished and provided with all modern conveniences.

Washington, D. C.

Nicholas G. Haller has prepared plans for a building similar in design to the Wyatt Building at Fourteenth and F streets, and to be erected for Colonel Henry Strong. It will be five stories high and well finished throughout. — It is said that Albert Cary has under consideration the erection of a large building, to be fitted up as an apartment house, and which will be six stories high, of brick, with stone and terra cotta trimmings, well finished throughout, considerable tile work, sanitary plumbing and all modern conveniences and improvements. The estimated cost is $75,000, and the plans have been prepared by C. A. Didden, of Washington. — Architect E. Frank Meyers has prepared plans for a two-story brick and stone dwelling. It will be well finished throughout and provided with all modern comforts and conveniences.—A citizens' committee, composed of the citizens of Columbia Heights, a suburb, have asked the district commissioners for more school facilities. A high school building as well as a lower grade school building is being urged. The site at 18th and Columbia avenue is suggested for the high school.—The district commissioners have granted permission to the Capital Street Railway Company to extend its road through Penicote woods from Nichols avenue to the Alexandria branch of the B. & O. Railroad. Mr. A. E. Randle is president of the company and can give information.—Plans are being made for a filtering plant, of 25,000 gallons daily capacity, to be erected at the Vermillion Lake Indian School, Minnesota.—The Treasury Department of the U. S. will erect eight new life saving stations on the New Jersey coast. W. S. Bolton, of Long Branch, N. J., with O. M. Maxim, have been appointed to locate them.—An effort is being made to induce the district commissioners to widen and extend Sixteenth street from Morris street, to the Columbia road.—Sewers are to be built on Baltimore street from 20th street westward 660 feet 21 inches; 85 feet, 15 inches, and three manholes. Estimated cost $1940.—The District Industrial Home School, which has remained unfinished since last March because the appropriation was exhausted, is now to be completed by order of the district commissioners.—The Metropolitan Railway Company has been granted a permit to erect a passenger station on Brightwood avenue, near Florida avenue.—A three-story house is to be erected at 2216 Massachusetts avenue by M. H. Meline. The front will be built of press brick and light colored stone. The house will be 25 x 46 feet.—Mr. Meline will also erect a house at 2217 I street, Northwest, which will be four stories high, 25 x 40 feet, and with press brick front.—Three houses are to be built by R. E. Middaugh, at 13-17 S street, which will be two stories in height, 16 x 32 feet, with bay fronts and press brick.—E. P. Shuman will build a house on Emporia street in Langdon Park. The material used will be brick, stone and wood. The house will be two stories high, 36 x 38 feet.—Two houses are to be erected on the south side of C street, near 3d street, Northwest, by D. A. Sanford, from plans prepared by Edward Woltz, architect. The total frontage will be fifty-six feet, with a depth of eighty-eight feet, and the interior arrangement will be such that they can be readily adapted for use as apartment houses.—A five-story warehouse is to be built by D. A. Sanford on the south side of D street, near 12th, Northwest. The plans have been prepared by E. Woltz, architect.—Plans for a residence to be erected by T. V. Powderly in the Petworth subdivision have been made by Henry Simpson, architect. It is to be built of frame. Three stories high, 36 x 50 feet.

Greeley Advised "Go West"

Our advice to the Philadelphia builder is "go Southwest," and take a look at the ground we have secured and placed on the market, between 21st and 23d, running south from Moore, and intersected by Mifflin, McKean, Snyder Avenue, Jackson and Wolf Streets.

The above has been divided into plots, affording an exceptional opportunity for a progressive man.

Architect Notes.

A. White Peirce, architect, 1127 Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn, has plans on boards for five frame dwellings, to cost about $2000 to $3000 each, in various localities in that city.

Chas. McCaul, contractor, 10 North Eleventh street, has plans on boards for estimate on a small stable to be erected at Wissahickon Heights. It will be two stories high, of frame and shingle work. All conveniences will be introduced.

Chas. W. Bolton & Co., architects, Witherspoon Building, have on boards plans for a fine Lutheran church, at Shamokin, Pa. The work consists chiefly of interior alterations, including decorations, chancel work, upholstery, etc. Also plans for a spring house, fish pond and grounds. Location and details later on.

Richard C. Loos, architect, Fidelity Building, Broad, above Arch street, has furnished all plans for an M. E. church at Bridgeport, N. J. It will be of frame work, one story high, shingle roof. Seat about 500 persons. Contract given to a local party. At work on the foundations. Minor contract for the interior work not filled.

James H. Windrim, architect, 1107 Walnut street, has made drawings for alterations to rooms 611 14, inclusive, in the Stephen Girard Building, Twelfth street, above Chestnut, and estimates are being made on the prints in office of Doyle & Doak, 133 South Fifteenth street. The above work consists chiefly of new doors and partitions, etc.

A. White, architect, 100 Kingston avenue, Brooklyn, has on boards drawings for several three story houses, 20 x 48 feet, to be erected on south side of Rutland road, east of Flatbush avenue, by William Seals, 1433 Bedford avenue. Hot air heat, electric work, best system of plumbing and modern comforts are included in the specifications.

Angus S. Wade, architect, 1326 Chestnut street, has made plans for alterations and additions to the residence, 3608 Chestnut street. The specifications call for masonry and brick work, some iron work and general alterations, with modern comforts introduced. Estimates are being made on the work in office of Wm. R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street.

Horace Trumbauer, architect, Land Title and Trust Company Building, Broad and Chestnut streets, is making plans for a fine colonial house, to be erected at Melrose, Pa. It will be 40 x 50 feet, three stories high, Conshohocken stone, slate roof, steam heat, electric work, hard wood interior, range, boiler, cement work and all general comforts and conveniences, etc.

Mrs. C. A. Esrey, of Bryn Mawr, intends to improve her holdings at that place by erecting an operation of dwellings, from plans by Schermerhorn & Reinhold, architects, 430 Walnut street, who will also supervise the work of construction. Four of these houses are to be started at once, and, as noted before in these columns, are to be of stone and brick, slate roofs, steam heat, electric work, and general modern conveniences, etc. Cost about $45,000 each.

Some three weeks ago we noted approaching completion of plans for a large factory building in Camden, N. J., for the C. Howard Hunt Pen Manufacturing Company, by Thomas Stephen, architect, Masonic Temple, in that city. These are now placed on boards of general contractors for estimate, and call for a large three story structure, brick and stone, slag roof, interior of slow-burning construction, fitted with steam power and heat, electric work and general conveniences. A set of plans are in the offices of W. R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street.

Westray Ladd, architect, Franklin Building, Twelfth and Walnut streets, has on hand plans for a house to be erected at Malvern, Pa. It will be of brick, stone trimmings, three stories high, slate roof, interior in hard wood, electric light and bells, best plumbing and modern comforts. No contracts let. Mr. Ladd has also completed plans for a Protestant Episcopal rectory, to be erected for the Episcopal church, at Bar Harbor. It will be of stone, three stories high, with shingle work, and interior fitted with best conveniences, etc. Contract let to local parties at that place.

Harry Peale, Jr., architect, 1203-1207 Harrison Building, has completed plans for an apartment house, to be erected in West Philadelphia; precise locality not given, nor owner's name. The structure will be seven stories high, of faced brick, with stone trimmings, cement and concrete work, iron beams and girders, as well as grille work, tin roof, hard wood finish on interior, elevators and electric work, gas grates, mantels, steam heat, wardrobes, papering and other decorations, kitchen and laundry fixtures, window and fly-screens. Some of the latter work is not included in the general contract. Estimates are now being made on the drawings in the office of Doyle & Doak, contractors, 133 South Fifteenth street.

Contractors are now estimating on house at Devon, Pa., for Samuel Eckert, Esq. To be of stone, rough cast, with face stone base, large porches, shingle roof, hot air heating, electric light, etc. Contract for alterations and additions to residence to Dr. Charles D. Smedley, at Wayne, just let to J. D. Lengie, of Wayne, and work commenced. Work is about to be commenced on a stone colonial residence at Overbrook, for W. W. Lindsay, Esq., to have hard wood finish, conservatory, hot water heating, etc. The Philadelphia Loan and Realty Corporation have placed drawings and specifications on the boards of contractors for two houses of their development at Edgewood Lake, St. Davids. One is to be stone and frame, the other in gray brick, with stained shingle roof. David Knickerbacker Boyd, architect, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets, Philadelphia, designed all these houses and prepared the specifications. Work is now proceeding with their office building, at the same place, designed by the same architect.

T. R. Comstock, architect, 98 Fifth avenue, N. Y. City, is taking bids on a church building, to be erected at corner of Central Park, West and West Sixty eighth street for the Second Church of Christian Scientists. It will be 90 x 96, and seating for 1000 persons; finished basement, exterior walls of marble, roofing of Blackslay and copper, steel beams and columns, floors laid of wire and concrete construction; tile work, artificial marble work, bronze iron work, and mahogany trimmings, etc. Same architect is making plans for a fine residence, to be erected at Scranton, Pa., for L. A. Watres. Interior will have much stone work and hard wood, electric work, steam heat, ranges, boilers, etc. Also for a steam heat plant, a stable and electric plant, to be joined to the above. Also plans on boards for a high school building to be erected at Ballston Spa, N. J. It will be of cut stone and red face brick, slate roof, copper trimmings, interior of hard woods. The structure will be absolutely in charge of the architect for construction and completion.

Stearns & Castor, architects Stephen Girard Building, Twelfth, above Chestnut street, have on board drawings for a fine building for A. W. Bergman, of Torresdale. It will be used for club purposes and a road inn, built of stone, three stories high, slate roof, steam heat, electric work, hard wood interior and all general conveniences, etc. Also plans for a factory to be erected at Spring City, Pa., for W. C. Wener & Co., hosiery manufacturers. It will be two stories high, of brick and stone, steam heat and power, electric wiring and conveniences, also for a dye house, oxidizing rooms, press and finishing rooms. No contracts let on the above. Same architects are making plans for a house for J. P. Duval, to be erected on "Smedley Grounds," Wyomington avenue, near Frankford. To be of stone and shingle work, three stories high, porches around three sides, and interior of hard wood finish, with hot air heat, electric work, best plumbing, ranges, boiler, etc. Also plans started for the new church of the Second Baptist Church, to be erected at Bakers lane and McFerran street, in this city. It will be of stone and brick, slate roof, steam heat, electric work and all late church improvements. Messrs. Stearns & Castor have also been engaged to prepare plans for quite a large operation of dwellings for a syndicate outside of the city, and which will be noted later. The houses will range in value from $7000 to $15,000.

A BOY

Once started to overtake a star, whose
merry twinkling fairly enchanted
him. He climbed the long, steep hill, until, with weary footsteps he

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, OCT. 19, 1898.

MR. EDGAR S. FISCHER, the son of Mr. Wm. G. Fischer, who, for years, was prominent in the musical affairs of this city, has returned from Berlin. While there Mr. Fischer pursued his musical studies at the Royal Hochschule, under the most celebrated instructors on the violin to be found in Europe. Young Mr. Fischer has made his entry into American musical circles as a teacher of the violin at the Temple College. He is said to be a very fine musician.

Architect Notes.

Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 24 Walnut street, have on boards for estimate plans for a house to be erected at Princeton, N. J., for A. L. Frothingham. Some time ago we noted this work in full.

J. L. Young, architect, 1221 Fulton street, is making plans for two fine four-story apartment houses of brick and stone, to be erected at Bedford avenue and Butler street, by James Burke, builder, of 389 Gates avenue. Work will include steam heat, electric work, plumbing, etc.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

We call especial attention to our column of stand permits along route of parade, as it involves sales for lumber, decorations, electric work, chairs and other seatings, labor, etc.

Chas. McCaul will erect a large stand in front of the Mercantile Club house, Broad and Master streets.

Schermerhorn & Reinhold, architects, 430 Walnut street, are engaged on plans for a stand to be erected on the west side of the Arena, at Broad and Cherry streets.

Fire destroyed Dorrer & Zeiser's factory, at Haddon and Kaighns avenues, Camden, N. J., on the 12th inst. The buildings are to be rebuilt as soon as insurance is adjusted and details arranged.

Patrick O'Keefe, contractor, has just started work excavating for a three story addition to the residence of Rev. J. A. Brehong, at 146 Rector street. It will be stone and brick, and furnished on interior with all modern conveniences.

W. A. Horlock & Son, contractors, are about to start work on an addition to the Presbyterian Hospital, Powlton avenue, West Philadelphia. It is to be two stories, 2x44 feet, and cost about $16,000. Previously noted in these columns.

Philadelphia capitalists are reported to be negotiating for the purchase of an electric plant near Reeves' mill, Gloucester county, N. J., with the idea of extending the wire system to Clayton, Glassboro and other nearby towns in this vicinity.

Doyle & Doak, contractors, 133 South Fifth street, have the contract to make alterations and additions to the house of Mr. Spaechman, at 1311 South Broad street. Many modern conveniences will be introduced. Mentioned previously.

Estimates are being made in the office of John R. Wiegins, contractor, 1220 Filbert street, for alteration to the first story of the factory building, 348 350 Swanston street, near Christian. These call for carpenter work, masonry, plumbing, etc.

William G. Price, Jr., will erect fifty dwellings at an early day, adjoining his present operation, at Fifty-third street and Parkside avenue, and use same materials in their construction, brick, stone facings and best interior work and comforts.

O'Brien Bros. will at once begin erecting nine three-story dwellings at the northeast corner of Locust avenue and Boyer street, Germantown. All are to be of face brick, stone trimmings and best comforts on interior; ranges, boilers, furnace heat, etc.

St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, at Norristown, Pa., was almost wholly destroyed by fire on the 15th inst. It will cost about $15,000 to replace the damage done, and means to do the work is to be undertaken at once by the Rev. T. F. Shannon, pastor in charge.

Material in lumber and the labor market will find ready demand for the coming week in the erection of miles of private and public stands along the route of parade for the two Jubilee days celebration. Many are now in active operation and hundreds of others to follow.

Solomon Greenberg, builder, will at once begin the erection of twenty-five three-story houses on the west side of Myrtle, between Huntingdon and Oakdale streets. All to be of faced brick, stone trimmings and steps, furnace heat, ranges, boilers and all modern conveniences.

The Franklinville Dye Works, at Second and Luzerne streets, owned by R. M. Myers, was badly damaged by a fire on the thirteenth inst. The flames had gained considerable headway when discovered, and are supposed to have originated from electric light wires. The loss is $10,000. It will be rebuilt by the owner.

Col. Jos. M. Bennett, in his will, has left provision for a Memorial Hall, to be erected for the higher education of women at the University of Pennsylvania, and makes it incumbent on the executors to put the clause into effect as early as possible. It will be known as "Benjamin Hall." No action has as yet been taken in the matter.

Macey, Hendenon & Co., contractors, Heed Building, have started work on the new boiler house at Belmont pumping station, for the city. It is to be brick and stone, iron and cement work. Noted before in these columns. Same firm has also started work on a three-story addition to 335 South Twelfth street, for Gustave Knoblauch, owner.

George A. Bilyeu, contractor, Sixteenth and Indiana avenue, will at once begin the erection of a fine stone house and stable at Oak Lane. The structure will be three stories high 39 x 52 feet, and the stable 32 x 36 feet, two stories high. The interior of both will contain all the latest and best conveniences. Cost of construction will be about $11,500 for both.

William Steele & Sons, contractors, 506 Walnut street, will erect the new store building for Jno. & James Dobson, on the north side of Chestnut street, above Eighth. It will be seven stories high, of light colored brick, stone trimmings and furnished on interior with elevators, electric work, steam heat, plate glass windows and all general conveniences, etc. Previously noted in full.

Chas. McCaul, contractor, 10 North Eleventh street, has the contract for the large factory building of Thos. Potters' Sons & Co., at Second street and Erie avenue, which had been estimated for some two weeks ago, and fully noted. Bids are being asked in offices of general contractors upon a one-story power house for the State Normal School, at Shippensburg, Pa.

It is altogether likely that a very comprehensive system of paving our streets will be inaugurated under the new loan providing $2,000,000 for that purpose—one that will give very general satisfaction. The entire matter will be considered at the meeting of the subcommittee of Councils during the current week, Mr. Patton, chairman, and Messrs. McCoach, Buckley, Upperman, Costello, Martin, Buckholz, Knight and Lamond.

The Tennis Construction Company, 924 Stephen Girard Building, have the contract to erect a large car barn, power house and office, on Penrose Ferry road, west side of Schuylkill river, for the Southwestern Railroad Company. W. Caldwell, their own architect and engineer, drew the plans, and these call for a brick, stone and iron structure, cement flooring, railways and all general conveniences; electric work, steam heat, etc.

J. L. Clymer Company, 2136-38 Germantown avenue, have been awarded the contract for the entire improvement of Allegheny square, at Allegheny avenue, Belgrade, Wilmington and Almond streets. This includes all cement work, grading, sodding, drainage, etc.; also contract for cement work at Episcopal Hospital, Front street and Lehigh ave-

Deacon, at Germantown; and residences of Conrad Bock, Frankford, and Joseph Wharton, Old York road and Cheltenham avenue.

At the last session of city council action was taken as follows upon items of interest: Select council adopted a resolution requesting the Department of Public Works to report at the earliest possible date whether or not there is within a radius of 100 miles of Philadelphia a supply of water sufficient for the city's needs, with information as to the cost of bringing it here, etc. An ordinance was passed, appropriating $525,000 for new school houses. Common council defeated the select council bill to appropriate $25,000 for the purchase of a school site at Thirty-first street and Lehigh avenue. The Twenty-eighth sectional school board and the Board of Education favor a lot at Thirty-first and Huntingdon streets. Plans for its proposed system were filed by the Drawbaugh Telephone and Telegraph Company with the Board of Highway Supervisors.

Through Pennsylvania.

When any of the following are not post office towns they will be so designated.

—At Nescopee, Luzerne county, it is said that the construction of water works is under consideration.

—At Fort Washington, Montgomery county, the large barn belonging to John M. Kennedy was destroyed by fire last week.

—At Lancaster, Lancaster county, the Frey Building was damaged by fire a few days since to the extent of $6000. Charles H. Frey, owner.

—At Homestead, Allegheny county, the school board has under consideration the erection of a new school building, to cost about $50,000.

—At Marcus Hook, Delaware county, it is probable that Walter G. Rust will erect an electric light plant for the town. The matter is under consideration.

—At Roscoe, Washington county, a franchise for an electric railway has been obtained by the Charleroi, Belle Vernon & Fayette City Railway Company.

—At Carlisle, Cumberland county, it is said that plans prepared by D. R. Miller & Co., of Harrisburg, Pa., have been selected for the proposed new high school building.

—At Reading, Berks county, a tract of ground at the northeast corner of Greenwich and Birch streets, estate of David De Hart, was sold by the sheriff last week to G. B. Stevens for $1100.

—At Ephrata, Lancaster county, it is probable that the Ephrata Water Company will be granted a franchise, as the matter is now under consideration. Mr. Mentzer, burgess, can give information.

—At York, York county, it is said that a vote will be taken in a short time on the question of issuing bonds to the amount of $50,000. The proceeds to be used for paving and other street improvements.

—At Turtle Creek, Allegheny county, it is probable that an electric railway will be constructed to run between Turtle Creek and Wilkinsburg. L. G. Wood, of Pittsburg, is said to have applied for the franchise for such a road.

—At McKeesport, Allegheny county, the erection of a new city hall, to cost about $60,000, is under consideration. It is said that architects will be invited in a short time to submit plans for a central high school, to cost about $100,000.

—At West Newton, Westmoreland county, the congregation of the Lutheran Society has under consideration the erection of a new church building. The congregation numbers about three hundred members and the pastor is Rev. E. L. Reed.

—At West Chester, Chester county, it is said that council has passed an ordinance, authorizing the Philadelphia, Castle Rock & West Chester Railway Company, and the Philadelphia & West Chester Traction Company to lay tracks and operate an electric railway in that borough.

—At Merion, Montgomery county, work will soon begin on an important operation of attractive suburban dwellings to be erected by James Maguire, at the northeast corner of Wynnewood and Hazlehurst avenues. There will be twenty-three dwellings in this operation, all finely finished and fully provided with all modern conveniences and improvements.

—At Wayne, Delaware county, improvements are progressing on what is known as the Eaglewood Lake tract, formerly known as the Fenimore property. The tract is in charge of the Philadelphia Loan and Realty Corporation. Lots 83 and 89, section F, containing about two acres, have been sold to Estelle L. Small. The price paid was $5700. The new owner is having plans prepared for an attractive dwelling to cost about $12,000.

A. P. Williams has bought lot 40, same section, containing one acre, and will improve it by the erection of a handsome dwelling, to cost about $8000.

—At Reading, Berks county, the members of the Reading Golf Club have leased thirty acres of ground from the Reading Suburban Company, the projectors of Wyomissing, and will lay out golf links. It is also the intention of the golf club to buy a property near Shellington, and convert it into a handsome club house. John M. Archer, Wilson Ferguson and Howard Bright are members of the club. It is said that an election will be held on November 8th, to vote on the question of issuing bonds to the amount of $250,000 for a filtering plant. The contract for reconstructing the garbage crematory has been awarded to the General American Reduction Company, of New York City.

—At Pittsburg, it is said that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will construct a double deck steel bridge over the Allegheny river, in connection with the erection of the proposed fine Union Station, previously reported. The estimated cost of the bridge is $1,600,000. Chief Engineer W. H. Brown can give information. Thos. H. Scott has made plans for the ten-story brick and stone structure for the Diamond National Bank. The cost will be about $125,000. The first floor will be handsomely fitted up in marble and mahogany for banking purposes. Thomas Boyd, Westinghouse Building, has prepared the plans for a handsome dwelling, which he will erect for himself in the Eleventh ward, Allegheny. W. A. Thomas, Carnegie Building, has prepared plans for a three-story brown stone and Pompeian brick apartment house which will be erected on Millbiddle avenue, for O. E. Kruger. Each flat will contain six well finished rooms and bath. The interior finish will be of hard wood, sanitary plumbing, tile work, dumb waiters, steam heat and all modern conveniences and improvements. Architects E. M. Butz & Co., Park Building, are at work on plans for an extensive building operation at Charleroi, Pa., consisting of the erection of about one hundred dwellings. All will be well finished, modern conveniences. A. K. Miller, Penn. Building, has prepared plans for two brick dwellings, to be erected at Turtle Creek, Pa., for Mrs. W. S. Smith. E. T. Cornelius, Schmidt Building, has prepared plans for a dwelling for Dr. William Frederick. It will be well finished and provided with all modern conveniences and improvements. E. J. Carlisle & Co. have finished the plans for the Twenty-second ward public school, and will receive bids for its erection on October 20th. The same architects will receive bids, on October 24th, for the new school at Braddock, for which they have prepared plans. Alden & Harlow, Vandegrift Building, have made plans for a rock faced stone country residence, for Ames F. Pontefract, of J. S. Finch & Co., and which will be erected in the Sewickley valley. It will be finely finished, hard wood, stained and ornamental glass, tile work and all modern conveniences and improvements.

The same architects have made plans for extensive additions to Park Place Hotel, at Sewickley. Capt. W. H. Brown will erect a two-story stone stable on Murray Hill avenue, from plans prepared by George Orth & Bros., Stevenson Building. William E. Snaman, Horne Office Building, has prepared plans for a frame cottage for Frank Buchanan, to be erected on Rodger's avenue, Bellevue. Architect Trimble has let the contract for the erection of the Bank of Secured Savings, on Beaver avenue, Allegheny, to George Cochran, not including plumbing, vault and bank fixtures. Struthers & Hannah have let the contract for the Gelb apartment house, at Charleroi, to J. L. Pyle, of that place. Architect F. B. Sauer, Hamilton Building, has let the contract for the Bessemer public school house to F. E. McGillicik.

Through New Jersey.

At Greenwich, Cumberland county, the residence of Isaac Swing was destroyed by fire last week. The loss is estimated at $3000.

At Pennington, Mercer county, plans and specifications have been made and approved for macadamizing the road from Trenton to Pennington, a distance of seven miles.

At Point Pleasant, Ocean county, the roundhouse and water works belonging to the New York & Long Branch Railroad, were destroyed by fire a few days since. The estimated loss is about $20,000.

At Trenton, the contract for the Hoboken extension of the proposed boulevard, without viaduct, has been awarded to McGuire & Hall for $49,755. A resolution has been passed providing for a bond issue of $50,000 to pay for the work.

At Somerville, Somerset county, a company has been incorporated, to be known as the Somerset Gaslight Company, with a capital of $25,000. The incorporators are Lewis A. Thompson and James I. Bergen, of Somerville; A. M. Young, of New York, and others.

At Newark, I. B. Warden, 700 Fourth street, Harrison, N. J., has made plans for additions to the town hall of the borough of East Newark. The structure will be two stories high, to be of brick, stone and iron, and will contain police court, jail, engine house and hose tower. The estimated cost is $5000. Edward Kennedy is chairman of the committee.

At Bayonne, Hudson county, it is said that council has granted a petition for the construction of a sewer over the Kill von Kull. August Schmidt, 330 avenue D, has made plans for a pastor's residence and church for the Greek Catholic Church Society, East Twenty-second street. The proposed structures will be of brick, stone and frame, with roof of metal shingles, hard wood interior finish, plain and stained glass, toilet rooms; bed, furniture, etc. The cost will be about $5000.

At Atlantic City, since the fire of last week, steps have been taken towards secur-large building operation has been begun by William M. Horgan, consisting of the erection of sixteen two-story dwellings at Patterson Park avenue and Preston street. — John Slack will erect two two-story brick dwellings on the east side of Mason street, between Preston street and Camel alley. — J. E. Lafferty has prepared plans for twenty four attractive three-story brick dwellings, to be erected by Mr. Francis E. Jewell on St. Paul street, near Twenty-ninth street, and known as Peabody Heights. They will be of Baltimore county marble, with trimmings of Seneca stone and buff Pompeian brick. The interior will be finely finished in hard wood and white pine, plate and ornamental glass, considerable tile work, sanitary plumbing, and all modern conveniences and improvements. The cost of the operation will be about $60,000. — The Roland Park Company has sold lot No. 1 and part of lot No. 2 in block 4, Roland Park, to Laura D. Hoover for $4900. — Mr. F. G. Turner, real estate dealer, has sold thirty-eight lots at Druid Glen, on Park Heights, for $11,000. — George Archer has finished plans for a four-story brick addition to the Johns Hopkins Nurses' Club Building, on North avenue. The building will be 20 x 60, and provided with all modern conveniences and improvements for the intended purpose. — Jackson C. Go't has made plans for a large building, 60 x 20 feet, to be erected at the Maryland Penitentiary, in the Forrest street wing. The new part will be of brick and stone, with a well-finished basement containing kitchens. The main story will be fitted up as a large dining room. — The Bethel Mission, at McDermid street and Montford avenue, has bought a building lot at Milton avenue and Jefferson street, and will erect a large church in the near future. — Edgar Allen Poe and others, trustees, have sold the large lot at the northeast corner of Baltimore avenue and Grove street. It is 175 x 65 feet and is unimproved. The purchaser was Edward J. Gallagher. — Baldwin & Pennington have prepared plans for a meat storage vault, to be located at Pratt and Eutaw streets for the Armour Packing Company. — John M. Diehl has bought sixty-five acres of ground in the Twelfth district of Baltimore, and situated on the Monumental road. The price paid was $8500. — Mr. Robert Magruder has sold to A. B. Whitelock about eleven acres of ground on Park Heights avenue, and fronting on Park Heights avenue about 840 and with a depth of 60 feet on McGrath avenue. It is said that the new owner will lay out the ground in fine building sites for immediate improvement. The price paid for the ground was $8250. — The receivers of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company have adopted plans for an inbound freight station, to cost about $100,000. Contract will be let at once. — Bids will be received, until October 19th, for a police station and stables. D. C. Hedding is president of the board of police commissioners.

Army building, Whitehall street, New York City, October 4, 1898. — Sealed proposals will be received here until 12 o'clock m., November 3, 1898, and then opened, for grading and top-soiling and construction of roads, walks, etc., at Fort Hancock, N. J., according to plans and specifications to be seen here. Proposal blanks and instructions to bidders furnished on application. U. S. reserves right to reject any or all proposals. G. G. Bailey, captain, A. Q. M., U. S. V.

At Bradford, Pa., proposals will be received by the board of water commissioners, at their office in the city hall, no later than October 24th, 1898, for the construction of a ninety-two-million gallon storage reservoir. Specifications will be sent on application. Plans may be seen at the office. An approximate estimate of quantities is as follows: Main dam core wall masonry earth work, 60,000 cubic yards; main dam core wall masonry, 2432 cubic yards; other masonry required, 820 cubic yards; cement concrete, 650 cubic yards; excavation, not embankment (capacity), 40,000 cubic yards; puddle, 3420 cubic yards; paving on inner slope, 4000 square yards; outlet pipes, two 18-inch cast iron, 40 tons; crushed stone for facing dam, 1250 tons; clearing land, 33 acres. The board of water commissioners, Bradford, Pa. E. N. Hallock, secretary.

Sealed proposals will be received at the city clerk's office, city hall, Camden, New Jersey, on Wednesday evening, November 16, 1898, at 8 o'clock, and then publicly opened, for lighting the streets of the city of Camden with incandescent and arc electric lights for the terms of one, three and five years, beginning July 1, 1899. Specifications can be seen on file at the city hall in the city clerk's office. Each proposal must be accompanied by a cash deposit or certified check to the amount of $1000 on the bid for the one-year estimate, cash or check for $1500 on the bid for the three-year estimate, and cash or a check for $2500 on the bid for the five-year estimate, conditioned that the party making the bid will execute the contract. The committee reserves the right to reject any or all bids, and to waive any defect or informality in any bid should it be deemed to be the best interest of the city so to do. Address proposals, marked electric lighting, to Charles C. Southard, chairman.

Miscellaneous.

At Cleveland, Ohio, the Electric Terminal Company, it is said, will erect a station on Prospect street, to cost about $140,000.

At Matton, Ill., it is stated that the Big Four and Illinois Central Railroad companies will erect a new union depot, to cost about $50,000.

At Danville, Ill., it is reported that council has decided to employ an electrical engineer to estimate the cost of installing and operating an electric plant of 200 arc lights.

At Orangeburg, South Carolina, the citizens are considering the question of issuing bonds to the amount of $40,000, for water works and an electric light system.

At Portland, Maine, a new school building will probably be erected on Park street, plans for such a structure being under consideration. The estimated cost is $50,000.

At St. Louis, Mo., the St. Louis Realty and Amusement Company will erect a theatre, to cost about $150,000. Bids for its construction will be received until October 24th.

At Atlanta, Georgia, improvements will be made to the Union Depot, to cost about $18,000. The plans for the work have been prepared by Grant Wilkins.

At Eaton Rapids, Mich., a new boiler house and stand pipe will be erected. New pumps and boilers will be needed. James H. Gallery, secretary, board of water works and electric light will receive bids for the work until October 18th.

At St. Louis, Mo., ordinances have been introduced in the board of public works to appropriate $30,000 for the extension of the water works; $105,000 for the purchase of plugs, pipes and castings; $40,000 for distribution pipes, and $5500 for additional pipes.

At Raleigh, N. C., it is said that the directors of the blind asylum, have decided to put in an electric light plant, also a heating apparatus. The superintendent is John E. Ray, who can give additional information. The penitentiary board is considering the question of an electric plant for the prison.

At Cleveland, Ohio, the plans of Figman & Uhlreth, Nottingham Building, have been accepted for a new church for the Catholic Society, of which Rev Francis Wetternich, 2136 Superior street, is the pastor. The estimated cost of the proposed structure is about $60,000.

At Columbia, S. C., it is said that the cost of the new water supply will be from $145,000 to $317,000, according to the source from which it is drawn. The city engineer, Chas. C. Wilson, has made a recommendation to organize a local company to construct the works, as they are beyond the city's resources if constructed in connection with a sewer system, to cost from $100,000 to $150,000.

Judgments.

Greeley Advised "Go West"

Our advice to the Philadelphia builder is "go Southwest," and take a look at the ground we have secured and placed on the market, between 21st and 23d, running south from Moore, and intersected by Mifflin, McKean, Snyder Avenue, Jackson and Wolf Streets.

The above has been divided into plots, affording an exceptional opportunity for a progressive man.

VOL. XIII.—No. 43.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1898.

$5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

Architect Y. E. Billquest, Stevenson Building, Pittsburg, Pa., is at work on plans for a handsome residence for Rev. R. J. Coster, to be erected on Shady avenue, that place.

Architects Shaw & Bailey, 25 Sixth avenue, Pittsburg, Pa., have made plans for a three-story brick store and flat, to be erected on California avenue, Allegheny, Pa., by a Mr. Struthers.

Architect A. K. Miller, Penn Building, Pittsburg, Pa., is making plans for a frame church, to be built at Wilmerding, Allegheny Co., Pa., by the First Presbyterian congregation; pastor Rev. Stewart.

William M. Slack, a well-known architect, of Trenton, N. J., was drowned by the capsizing of his boat on the Delaware river, on the 16th inst. Mr. Slack's body was found near the scene of the accident.

William Macauley, architect, 730 Chestnut street, is taking estimates on the operation to be erected by him in Germantown, and which we noted in these columns October 5th. These houses are to be of Pompeian brick, stone trimmings, furnace heat and all modern comforts on interior.

Architect Fritz Foltz, 58 Wabash avenue, Chicago, Ill., has made plans for a brick school building, to be erected by the Italian R. C. Church of the Assumption, on Erie street, near Franklin street; Rev. Thos. Morechini, pastor, 64 Illinois street. It will be three stories and basement, and will cost $35,000.

Mr. Frank B. Watson, architect, 208 Chestnut street, has opened a large branch office at 1332 Atlantic avenue, Atlantic City, N. J., for the execution of work in that place and surrounding vicinity. Mr. Watson's growing business has rendered this move necessary in that direction. A competent architect and engineer will be in charge of the new office.

Schermerhorn & Rheinhold, architects, 43½ Walnut street, are engaged on drawings for a residence, to be erected at Cynwyd, Montgomery county, Pa., for Mr. Isaac W. Heston. It will be of frame, three stories high, contain sixteen rooms, baths, electric work, hot air heat, plumbing of the best, range, boiler and all general comforts. Other plans, by the same architects, will be announced at an early day in these columns.

Hales & Ballinger, architects, have made plans for an additional story to be put upon the Forrest Laundry, 1223-25 Columbia avenue, and are considering estimates on the work. This consists of brick and terra cotta work, iron and cut stone work, steel and sheet metal work, slating and roofing, extension of lifts, steam heat and power work, etc. Same architects are engaged on other plans, which will be noted soon.

Addison Hutton, architect, 40½ Chestnut street, has put on boards of contractors the second time the drawings for the office building, to be erected at 1533 Chestnut street, for Mr. Herman Bonschur. Plans are somewhat modified and call for a four-story structure of brick, stone and terra cotta work, with large plate glass windows, interior fitted in hard wood, steam heat, electric work, elevator, iron and brass grille work, steel construction and fireproof material, considerable plaster art work. All modern conveniences, etc. Prints are in office of Wm. R. Dougherty, 1694 Samson street, and others.

Truman P. Reitmeyer, architect, Masonic Temple, Williamsport, Pa., has completed plans for a handsome brick residence for Mr. Frank L. Dershow, Lewisburg, Pa.; brick and stone, slate roof, plate glass, hard wood interior, best plumbing, electric work, etc., steam heat. Also a fine colonial house for Mr. Wm. M. Hepburn, Jersey Shore, Pa.; hard wood interior, all modern improvements. Also extensive alterations to house of Col. Fred. W. Reynolds, Bellefonte, Pa.; stone, porch work, etc. Same architect will superintend all details of construction for the residence of the Hon. Daniel H. Hastings, at Bellefonte, Pa., and which was fully noted in our issue of October 6, 1898.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Bernard Quinto is building two three-story brick dwellings, each 16x16 feet, at 93 and 932 South Ninth street.

Thomas Mole will make interior alterations, including a quartered oak dining room, to the residence of E. O. Michener, on Apsley street.

Frederick May, of Germantown, will begin shortly the erection of a dwelling for himself on Magnolia avenue, near Walnut lane, to cost about $2500.

Geo. F. Payne & Co., 401 South Juniper street, have on boards plans for a residence for Mrs. G. P. Hennis. This work has been noted previously in these columns.

A. A. Harmer will erect at once three dwellings, three stories high, on south side of Lyceum avenue, near Mitchell street. These are to be of faced brick, stone steps and facing, and best comforts on interior.

L. A. Larsen, secretary of the Builders' Exchange, of San Francisco, visited the Masters Builders' Exchange last week. Mr. Larsen is a member of the California Commandery, K. T., and he attended the big conclave at Pittsburg. On his way home he stopped off in this city, and he is well pleased. He was of the opinion that the introduction of some of the methods in vogue at the Exchange in this city would be beneficial to the Exchange in his native city.

Harry P. Schneider is about to build eight two story brick dwellings, 14.4 and 14.8 feet by 42 feet, on Hart lane, west of Emerald street; one three-story store, 16x60 feet, on Frankford avenue, below Hart lane, for David McKibbin, owner.

Stacey Reeves & Sons, contractors, 1611 Filbert street, are to make alterations and additions to the Philadelphia Bank, 415 Chestnut street. The work includes a new wall and a one-story addition to vaults, and other minor work.

Macey, Henderson & Co., contractors, 1215 Filbert street, have a contract to build a coal conveyer and pocket, 9x126 feet, on the south side of Callowhill street, below Twenty-sixth street, for the Pennsylvania Heat, Light and Power Co., to cost about $16 10.

H. M. Irvin is making extensive alterations to the house of Mrs. Ludwig, at No. 2 47 Spruce street. The work includes the extension of the second and third floors over the yard on iron beams, the construction of a bay window and other alterations.

Doyle & Doak, contractors, 133 South Fifteenth street, are taking minor bids on some of the work included in the new Jefferson Hospital, at Tenth and Walnut streets. The plans and specifications are on boards in their private office, as above noted.

Charles McCaul, contractor, 10 North Eleventh street, will at once begin the erection of a Bell Telephone station and office, 31x70 feet, at Berks and Hope streets. It will be of light colored brick, two-stories high, and cost about $20,000, being fitted with all modern conveniences.

Fire destroyed entirely the building known as "The Restaurant" in the Zoological Garden, on the morning of the 20th inst. It has not yet been determined just what sort of a structure will take its place, but a new building will be erected as soon as funds are forthcoming and in the hands of the directors.

Action by the committee on city property, last week, postpones an ordinance for the purchase of lot 2206 Columbia avenue, for erecting an addition to the fire station adjoining. $11,300 was considered too high a figure. Similar action was taken with regard to 22 3 North Second street, $21,500 being asked for same purpose.

Owner Levi Vandegriff will put up dwellings and a store in the Twenty-eighth ward, as follows: Three two-story brick dwellings, each 15x42 feet, on the south side of Sedgley avenue, east of Twenty-fourth street; one two-story brick dwelling, 15x34 feet, on the north side of York street, east of Twenty-fourth; one two-story brick dwelling 20x28 feet, on the south side of Sedgley avenue, east of Twenty-fourth, and a two-story brick store, 20x34 feet, on the south side of Sedgley avenue, east of Twenty-fourth street. The work will cost $12,800.

A BOY

Once started to overtake a star, whose

His goal was far away indeed, but he had accomplished what no other

IT MUST be harrowing to the feelings of the members of the Board of Education to be waited upon by such inconsiderate parents as those composing the delegation of citizens from the Thirty-third ward, who seem to labor under the delusion that there should be enough school houses in that part of the city to accommodate all the children of school age. One man was so insistent in his demands for better facilities for the primary grade that two members of the Board undertook to convince him of the error of his ways. His only reply was, "You would be persistent, too, if you had six small children unable to get an education, and compelled to run the streets." One of the morning dailies says: "The prettiest sight in the city these bright October days is the children trudging to school with their shining morning faces. The saddest thought is that there is no school room for eight thousand children who would go to school if places could be found for them in the primaries."

THE opening of N. Snellenburg & Company's new store, at Twelfth and Market streets, on Thursday last, attested the high appreciation in which this enterprising firm is held by the buying public, for the establishment, with its many floors, was well crowded with visitors, many of whom expressed surprise at the magnitude and beauty of the store with its endless variety of merchandise intended for personal and home comforts.

Architect James Wintrim's work of transformation was well done. Solid brick partitions, extending from roof to cellar, had to be removed, and the support they furnished was substituted by pillars of the smallest possible number in keeping with safety, of course, in order that each of the floors should, as far as possible, possess an unbroken view.

The elevator facilities are first-class, the elevators being in two separate sections and placed prominently near the main central stairway, which, in itself, is a beautiful and impressive entrance to the second story.

The establishment is to be conducted as a first-class department store, and it will indeed be difficult to suggest hereafter anything in the way of outfitting for both sexes that cannot be purchased at Snellenburg's, Twelfth and Market streets.

Miscellaneous.

At Omaha, Neb., the contract for the erection of a new station for the Union Pacific Railroad has been let to Contractor Grace, of Chicago. The estimated cost is about $300,000. Frost & Granger, of Chicago, Ill., prepared the plans. Horace G. Burk is president of the company.

At Atlanta, Georgia, it is stated that bids will be received, within sixty days, for the construction of six miles of belt railway, by the Atlanta & West Point Railroad, of which George C. Smith is the president. S. F. Huggans is resident engineer, his address is Montgomery, Alabama.

At New York, J. B. McIlfabriek & Co., 402 Broadway, have finished the plans for the structure to be erected by the Hammerstein Music Company, of which Oscar Hammerstein is the manager. These plans provide for a building four stories high, of the colonial style of architecture, of brick, and with a frontage of 100 feet on Seventh avenue and 131 feet on Forty-second street. The Music Hall will contain two balconies, one of which will be devoted exclusively to boxes, and in the concert hall there will be two promenades extending the entire length of each side of the parquet and opening upon the lobbies at each entrance. The hall will have a seating capacity of over one thousand persons. It will be called the Victoria Music Hall.—George F. Pelham, 503 Fifth avenue, has made plans for a six-story apartment house, to be erected on the north side of 117th street, near Manhattan avenue. It will be finely finished and provided with all modern conveniences and improvement. Judson Lawson, 898 West End avenue, is the builder. The same architect has prepared plans for an apartment house to be erected for Potter & Teichman, 51 Broadway. It will be of light brick, with trimmings of limestone, concrete floors, mosaic tiles, ornamental iron work, cabinet mantels, French mirrors, plate and ornamental glass, enameled bath tubs, steam heat, interior marble work, elevator, electric, lights, etc.—Terence Farley's Sons, 253 Columbus avenue, will erect seven six-story brick and stone dwellings at the northwest corner of Ninetieth street and West End avenue from plans prepared by Clarence True, 459 Boulevard. These dwellings will be finely finished and provided with all modern comforts. The estimated cost is about $119,000.—John DeHart, 1637 Fox street, has prepared plans for an office building, to be erected at 28 S Third avenue, for W. F. and C. H. Smith, of 149th street and Third avenue. It will be well finished and provided with all modern conveniences. The estimated cost is $35,000.—J. E. Ware and S. S. Harde, 3 West Twenty-ninth street, have prepared plans for a six-story brick flat, to be erected at Central Park, West, north of Ninety-fourth street. The owner is William Call, 1133 Broadway. The structure will be well finished throughout, and will cost about $100,000.

Henry Anderson, 1180 Broadway, has prepared plans for two six-story apartment houses, to be erected on the south side of 124th street, for P. J. Quirp, 200 Seventh avenue. The cost will be $115,000.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

A committee has been appointed by the Houston Club, of the University of Pa., to consider means to erect a memorial gate, commemorative of the students who enlisted for the war against Spain. The work will cost about $5000. As yet no plans have been drawn, or contracts made, the first consideration with the committee being the funds.

The matter of continuing paving with asphalt streets in Camden, N. J., is somewhat impeded by the slow action of the courts. $240,000 is the amount of the contract for paving six principal streets. The Vulcanite Company, of this city, is laying a small portion of Cooper street at present. Certiorari proceedings have been taken in the larger contract.

William Steele's Sons, contractors, 506 Walnut street, are taking sub-estimates for a new front to 5-4 South Water street; also for material and labor on the store building, 809-811 Chestnut street, for Jno. & James Dobson, as they have general contract for the construction. Same firm will make alterations to a large warehouse on Swanson street, below Christian street. Previously noted.

Thomas Wright & Sons are making alterations to the residence of Dr. Thomas Potter, at Lafayette and Greene streets, Germantown, consisting of a bay window and bathroom addition; also alterations to the residence on Greene street, below Ritzenhouse, formerly owned by the Rhoades estate, which was recently purchased by the Society of Friends for a Home for the Aged.

The Neale & Levy Ship and Engine Building Company have awarded a contract to John Dorlan for the erection of a boiler and engine room on Beach street, below Palmer, in addition to the present plant. A two-story office building, 10x33½ feet, will also be erected by the same contractor. All arrangements have been completed, and work will be started at once.

The superstructure of the West End Trust Company office building, at the southwest corner of Broad street and South Penn square, will at once be started by the contractor, Charles McCall, as permission to do so has been granted by the building inspectors. As previously noted, it will be 40x89 feet, and have fourteen stories and a basement. Material of granite and ornamental red brick, terra cotta and bronze ornamentation; elevators, electric work, and all general office conveniences will be introduced. May, 1899, is the time fixed for completion. Furness Evans & Company, architects, drew all plans.

Globe Artificial Stone Paving Co., Jno. F. Galbraith, proprietor, 1125 Betz Building, has been awarded the contract for all the cement work on forty two and three-story dwellings, for Hiram A. Miller & Son, Sixteenth and Erie avenues; and cement work for Mr. Bauer, at Seventeenth and Allegheny avenue; and dwelling of Mr. S. Morris Wain, on Sixteenth street, below Diamond street.

The contract for the erection of the one story frame chapel, for the congregation of the Fern Rock M. E. Church, has been given to Contractor Joseph F. Myers, 516 Willow street. The structure will measure 30x56 feet, and it will be built at the northeast corner of Park and Nedro avenues, in the Twenty-second ward. A permit for the work was granted, and the work was started last week.

An earnest endeavor will at once be made to elevate the Philadelphia & Reading rail road tracks on Ninth street, north from Wallace to Huntingdon streets. All plans are completed by Chief Webster, in the Bureau of Surveys, as previously noted in the e-column. An ordinance is to be offered, embracing conjunctive action of the city and rail road authorities. Dr. Herz's death, last week, at Ninth and Oxford streets, has doubtless proved an incentive to action in this matter. Between $2,000 and $3,000,000 is the estimated cost.

The committees appointed by the Epiphany Baptist Church and the Chester Avenue Baptist Church, to effect a union of the two, arranged to meet for a final settlement on November 7th. It has already been decided that Rev. Dr. Wayland Hoyt, the pastor of the Epiphany Church, shall be pastor of the united churches, and Rev. W. H. Corlies, the pastor of Chester Avenue Church, is to be assistant pastor. The questions to be decided are the location, and whether the present site of the Chester Avenue Church, at Forty-sixth street and Chester avenue, is large enough and sufficiently central for the united congregations. A name will also be decided upon. The property at Thirty-sixth and Chestnut streets, belonging to the Epiphany Church, will be sold, and the money to go to build the new church.

Washington, D. C.

The Episcopal delegates have visited the proposed Cathedral site at the junction of Massachusetts avenue, extended, and Georgetown avenue, and it contains about thirty and a half acres and is about four hundred feet above the level of Pennsylvania avenue. The ground is nearly level and covered with a growth of forest trees. It slopes on its eastward front towards the city and a number of fine terraces will be constructed, upon which will be erected the future residences of the clergy and professors attached to the Cathedral. In 1895 Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst gave $200,000 for the erection of a building on the Cathedral foundation, to be used as a school for girls. Gen. Hno. M. Wilson, U. S. A., and Mr. A. T. Brinton constitute the building committee for this structure, for which plans have been prepared. —Congress at its last session having appropriated a sum of money for the erection of a government factory for the manufacture of smokeless powder, a parcel of land on the Indian Head reservation has been cleared for the purpose. An electric railroad is being built to connect the site with the proving ground, and plans have been prepared and building operations are now in progress. The establishment will consist of a laboratory and office building, buildings for the storage of cotton, picking and drying of cotton, nitrating house, pulping and poaching house, alcohol dehydrating and rectifying, mixing, pressing and cutting powder, manufacture of ether, drying houses for powder and packing house, powder magazines, acid mixing and storehouse, nitric-acid factory and dwellings for principal employees. The works will be operated by electric power and will embrace the most approved types of powder making machinery. A standpipe of 300,000 gallons capacity, supplied with artesian wells, will furnish the water supply. The land is well situated on Mattawoman creek, an estuary of the Potomac, being quite remote from any populous districts and can be approached by land or by water. —Important improvements at the naval gun factory will be made under the charge of Commander E. S. Pendleton, U. S. N. Among the projected improvements will be a new packing and shipping house. The bureau also favors the construction of a plant for making small steel castings, and in many places the steam power will be superseded by electric power. —Messrs. F. H. Carson, John I. Thomas, John P. Holmes and others have been appointed a committee of the residents of Ivy City, a suburb of Washington, to call on the district commissioners to ask that steps be taken to make a number of street improvements and to abate the stream that runs through the place. —It is probable that steps will be taken in a short time by which a valuable tract of property will be put on the market. The tract consists of several properties owned by Mr. James Elverson, ex-Governor Shepherd, Mr. Henry A. Willard and ex-Senator Don Cameron. The entire tract contains about two hundred and thirty-four acres, lying on the west side of the road north of Brightwood. It is proposed that the owners of the properties unite in making a subdivision into attractive building lots to be put on the market and sold for improvement. —The district commissioners have approved the application of the Columbia Railway Co. for authority to issue bonds to the amount of $500,000 for the improvement and the extension of its line. The underground system will be used.

Architect Notes.

Hales & Ballinger, architects, 1200 Chestnut street, are still taking plans on the additional story to the Forrest Laundry, 1233-25 Columbia avenue. This work has been fully noted previously in these columns.

J. Bennett Colesberry, architect, Oak Lane, is making plans for an addition and alteration to the residence of Mr. Owen Osborne, of the above place. The work will include exterior and interior, and all modern conveniences.

McCullin & Fast, architects, 1001 Chestnut street, are making plans for a country club house, to be erected in New Jersey, precise location not given at present. It will be of frame and brick, two stories high, and fitted with modern conveniences on interior.

Collins & Autenreith, architects, 410 Walnut street, have made plans for improvement of 606 Market street, which will include exterior and interior work of all kinds. The drawings have been placed on boards of Contractor Geo. L. Sippis, 212 South Seventh street, for estimate.

No official announcement of the five competing architects for the First Baptist Church building has as yet been made. It is, however, certain that the committee have agreed upon a majority of the above number but they are proceeding slowly, and desire to make no errors in the selection.

The Trustees of Wilson College are stated to have decided to erect a $75,000 building for dormitory, dining and class purposes. S. A. Martin, Pres.; Rev. Tunis Hamlin, Church of Covenant, Washington, D. C.; Rev. Geo. B. Stewart, Harrisburg, and Geo. H. Stewart, Shippensburg, were appointed to aid in the work.

Isaac Pursell, contractor, 119 South Fourth street, has finished plans for a chapel building for the Fairmount Memorial M. E. congregation. The drawings have been placed on boards of John R. Wiggins, contractors, 1220 Filbert street, for estimate. These call for a two-story structure of brick and stone, tin roof, galvanized iron cornice, and interior fitted with all modern comforts and conveniences, etc.

Louis Korn, architect, 37 Maiden lane, New York City, is making plans for four flats, which will be 25x98 feet, five-stories high, at 436 to 44 West Twenty-ninth street, owned by John D. Karst, of 2051 Eighth avenue, New York City. The work will include iron beams and columns, terra cotta work, brick and stone, as well as concrete work, electric work, tiling, plumbing and all modern comforts.

E. A. Wilson, architect, Land Title Building, Broad and Chestnut streets, has on boards plans for a fine house, to be erected for Mr. Geo. Wood, at Ogontz, Pa. It will be of stone, frame and brick, slate roof, interior finish of marble and tile work, electric work, hard woods, ranges, boiler and all modern comforts, etc. Mr. Wilson will prepare plans for other work at the same place. These we shall note in the near future.

Hornburger & Straub, architects, 122 Bowery, N. Y., are the architects for a six-story store building to be erected at southwest corner of Orchard and De Lancey streets. It will be of light brick and stone front, iron interior, electric work, plumbing, speaking tubes, tiling, plate glass and gas fixtures, etc. Same architects are making plans for three five-story flats, to be erected at 272 to 278 Seventh street, by Michael Hanlon, of 2100 Lexington avenue.

D. Judge Denean, architect, Ardmore, Pa., has awarded the contract to erect the Selden Twitchell Mansion, at Bryn Mawr, to Henry Wolf, of that place. Mr. Denean has been retained to prepare plans for the rebuilding of the properties of the late C. S. Dunks estate, near Haverford Station, on the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Same architect is engaged on drawings for a residence for himself. It will be of Dutch colonial style, and contain every modern comfort and convenience.

Mr. Frank B. Watson architect, 1208 Chestnut street, has opened a large branch office at 1832 Atlantic avenue, Atlantic City, N. J., for the execution of work in that place and surrounding vicinity. Mr. Watson's growing business has rendered this move necessary in that direction. A competent architect and engineer will be in charge of the new office. Mr. Watson is engaged on plans for considerable local work, which will be noted when drawings are more fully developed.

Dull & Peterson and Crawford Coates, 1110 Walnut street, report the following work: Addition to residence of Robert Steel, southeast corner Forty-fifth and Pine streets, which will be fitted up as a library, with cases, paneled ceiling, fireplace, etc. John A. Palmer is the contractor for this work. A building for laundry and servants' quarters for the Isiesworth Land and Improvement Company of Maine, 24 x 80 feet, two stories, colonial in style; frame. Alterations and additions for G. Knoblach, 335 South Twelfth street; Macey, Henderson & Company, contractors. Also they report that the contracts have been signed and work is under way on the cottages for Mr. William Weber, at Wyncote, Pa.; J. C. Dolhenty and Edward Heacock, contractors.

Schermerhorn & Rheinhold, architects, have completed plans for an office and store building to be erected on ground adjoining the Bryn Mawr Bank, at Bryn Mawr, Pa., for John S. Garrigues. There will be four stores, each 25 feet by 50 feet, on the first floor, and sixteen office rooms on the second floor, with janitor's apartments. The style will be unique and original. The building will contain all the modern improvements and conveniences, and be heated with steam. The owner has awarded the contract to Samuel R. Haws, contractor and builder, of Ardmore. Ground has been broken. The same architects have prepared plans for a large colonial house to be erected at Bryn Mawr for James Florey, who has awarded the contract to Samuel R. Haws. The house will measure 25 feet by 48 feet, and will be built of brick, after the John Hancock style, and will contain all modern improvements. The same architects have prepared plans for house No. 8 for Mr. C. A. Esrey at Bryn Mawr, to be built of brick and pebble dash. The owner has awarded the contract for house No. 2 to Contractor and Builder Harry C. Wolfe, of Bryn Mawr, who has broken ground.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Herman L. Gercke, contractor, will build two two-story brick dwellings, each 14x80 feet, for C. Gercke, owner, at 7134 and 7136 Tulip street.

Macey, Henderson & Co., contractors, 1215 Filbert street, have for estimate plans for alteration and addition to 335 South Twelfth street. The work is exterior and interior as well.

On the east side of Third street, above Tabor road, Olney, Contractor Frank J. Schlett will build a two-story brick dwelling, 16x33 feet, for Edward C. Hartman, owner.

Contractor Thomas J. Harbach will build a storage shed, 96x32 feet, for the Link Belt Engineering Company, at Hunting Park avenue and the Philadelphia and Reading Railway.

It is currently reported that the new U. S. Mint will be constructed of granite instead of marble and that the general contract for the superstructure will be announced at an early day.

The contract for the erection of the new conservatory at the residence of Thomas Allen, at 1147 South Broad street, has been awarded to Contractors Porter Thompson & Sons. The conservatory will measure 12x12 feet, and it will be built over the one story brick kitchen in the rear of the house.

Charles Yundt will make extensive alterations, to cost $4000, at 2308 and 2310 Germantown avenue. The work includes the construction of a two and three-story addition, a new brick front, with a two-story metal bay window at 2308, and a new front at 2310, the first story with a glass and iron store front, and a three-story and basement addition of brick and iron, 17x20 feet.

JOHN N. GALLAGHER, Publisher.
JOHN F. BRISBANE, City Editor.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, NOV. 2, 1898.

THE BOARD OF BUILDING INSPECTORS of this city justly merits the highest praise for its rigid supervision of the large number of stands that were erected in this city for the Peace Jubilee.

Under the direction of Chief Inspector William C. Haddock the inspection was not only thoroughly effective, but expressed a high order of intelligence and care throughout.

It is certainly a pleasing episode in the history of our old city that, notwithstanding the hundreds of thousands of people who viewed the parades from the stands during the two days, not a single accident occurred through faulty construction.

Indeed, it is doubtful if any other city ever made such a display of reviewing stands, and it is particularly gratifying that, however great the labor imposed upon our building inspectors, they were equal to it, and, without fear or favor did their work in such a conscientious manner that harm came to no one.

THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS commenced its thirty-second annual convention at Washington, D. C., on the first instant. The session will be continued for three days, and will be held at the Arlington Hotel. Mr. John B. Wight, president of the board of district commissioners, made the address of welcome, and Mr. George B. Post, president of the Institute, delivered an address.

The delegates made a call at the White House on President McKinley, after which they visited their new headquarters in the Otisagon House and were welcomed by architect Frank Miles Day, of this city.

Tuesday's proceedings culminated in a visit to the Congressional Library, on an invitation by its superintendent, Mr. Bernard R. Green.

Thursday will be devoted to the election of officers and the selection of a place for the next annual convention. In the afternoon the delegates will enjoy the hospitality of the Cosmos Club, and those who remain during

Friday and Saturday will visit the Government buildings and other attractions, under the guidance of the Washington Chapter.

THE WASHINGTON STAR, which has always shown much interest in architectural matters, refers to the work of last year in the trial of the so-called Turney law. As will be remembered under this law three competitions were given out—Secretary Gage and Mr. James Knox Taylor, Supervising Architect, were sufficiently interested to make trial of it. These were the Immigration Building on Ellis Island and a post office building in Norfolk, Va., and another at Plainfield, N. J. These trials are likely to afford suggestions as to changes, and will, if deficiencies are such as to make it necessary, be called to the attention of Congress for its action. One difficulty in carrying out the law is that no provision is made for paying unsuccessful contestants in the proposed competition for time and labor spent in the preparation of the plans. Such, however, was the interest taken by the leading architects throughout the country that they decided to take part in the competition without compensation, in order that the law might be given a trial. The old system had the effect of producing a monotony of style in Government architecture, to say nothing of mediocrity, not in keeping with the progressive spirit of our people. Now that the war is over and time is again given for consideration of internal improvements, it is to be hoped that this law may receive such attention and revision as will bring Government architecture up to a standard in keeping with progressive American ideals.

Forty-eight scrap books are furnished annually to the state librarian. What a job of pasting of old newspaper articles on the original settlers of Paxton hollow there is on the part of assistant librarians. Does any one ever see the contents of these scrap books or want to see them? What does it cost to fill these books? Only $30.00 a year. Could not these scrap book funds be better engaged in making a good library catalogue? Yes. But then, you know, that would look too practical.—Exch.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

James Foster, contractor, will at once begin the erection of a grand stand on Franklin Field, at the University of Penna., Thirty-third and South streets. It will be 50x230 feet, and entirely frame work.

Contractor B. Frank Livezey will build the one-story brick office building, 12x20 feet, and the two-story brick stable, 27.2x30.2 feet, at Fourth and Allegheny avenue, to cost $2000. This work was noted in this column some time ago.

The Capitol Building at Harrisburg, Pa., is fast approaching completion, under the supervision of Allen B. Burke, the contractor. Plastering will be started in a few days, also much of the general detail finish will be started. The structure will be ready for occupancy by the time the legislature assembles.

Charles J. Heckler, contractor, is about to start sixty-eight dwellings for Louis Klebe, owner, at Twenty-first and Indiana avenue, where plans and specifications may be seen. This will complete an operation already begun, and the material and work will be the same.

Contractor and Builder A. Raymond Raff has signed the contract to build the two-story brick and iron boiler house, 40x40 feet, at Thirty-second and Master streets, for the American Brewing Company. The plans for the boiler house were drawn by Architect A. C. Wagner. Mr. Raff will begin work shortly.

J. E. & A. L. Pennock, contractors 305 Walnut street, have been given the contract to erect the power house for the Commercial Museum, in West Philadelphia, after plans by Wilson Bros., architects, Drexel Building. It will be 60x224 feet, one story high, rock faced, stone, brick, iron and cement work principally used in construction. Previously noted in full.

William G. Price, Jr., will at once begin erecting sixty dwellings, two stories high, with porches in front, on the south side of Parkside avenue, east of Fifty-third street, and eighteen on east side of the same street, below Parkside avenue. All to be of light colored brick, furnace heat, tile work, ranges, boilers, and all the general comforts and conveniences.

Councils highway committee is to act at once upon the ordinance to pave 250 streets and repair quite an additional number. This work will embody an expenditure of $2,000,000 which will come from the loan now available. Action is expected, also, on the new reservoir or receiving basin to be placed on Georges Hill, Fairmount Park. The plans are about ready for estimate, and it is expected in a few days Chief John C. Trautwine will ask for estimates upon the work. Previously noted in these columns.

The limited number of permits for new buildings and other work must be accounted for by the fact that general business in the building line has been almost suspended, and that branch of industry engrossed in the erection of temporary stands for Jubilee week. Also the dearth of other news in the construction of buildings of all kinds is much felt, not only in the city, but throughout the state as well. Now that the celebration is over, the regular thread of building notes and prospective work of all kinds will become more prolific.

Whelan Bros., owners intend to build seventeen two-story brick dwellings, each 16x51 feet, and two two-story brick stores and dwellings, in the Twenty-sixth ward. The houses will be located as follows: Nine at 24 9, 2411, 2413, 2415, 2417, 2419, 2 21, 2423 and 2425 South Seventeenth street; eight on the south side of Jackson street, east of Chadwick street, and the stores and dwellings will be built at the southeast corner of Seventeenth and Jackson and the southwest corner of Chadwick street. All the structures will have fronts of brick and brown stone.

N. H. Rand, contractor, will erect a very fine $12,000 residence at the northeast corner of Chew and Price streets, Germantown. It will be of stone and brick, slate roof, hard wood interior, and all the latest comforts.

President Huey, of the board of education, asks Mayor Warwick to veto the ordinance authorizing the purchase of the school house site at Thirty-first and Lehigh avenue. The board desires the site at Thirty-first and Huntington streets bought, for several good and sufficient reasons; hence the request.

Mowbray Bros., contractors, are making repairs at McHatten & Wright's brass foundry at 1500 Washington avenue, which was damaged by fire a short time ago. The roof, floors, windows and stairways are included in the work to be repaired.

Through Pennsylvania.

When any of the following are not post office towns they will be so designated.

—At Kingston, Luzerne county, the borough engineer has been authorized to prepare plans and specifications for a sewer system.

—At Mount Union, Huntingdon county, it is probable that a system of water works will be established.

—At Muncy, Lycoming county, an attractive dwelling will be erected by W. F. Brittan, from plans prepared by M. B. Ritter.

—At Lock Haven, Clinton county, the Lock Haven Silk Company will erect an office building, lavatories and vault. Plans for the work have been prepared by M. B. Ritter, of Williamsport, Pa.

—At Sutersville, Westmoreland county, the Westmoreland Brewing Company will erect an office building and brew-master's dwelling. The plans have been prepared by Gustav A. Muller, of Detroit, Michigan.

—At Fayette City, Fayette county, the Johnson Coal Mining Company has under consideration the erection of about twenty-five dwellings and a store building. Wallis & Carbey, of Sharon, Pa., will probably do the work.

—At Bloomsburg, Columbia county, the Citizen's Land Company will erect fifteen attractive dwellings from plans prepared by M. B. Ritter, of Williamsport. All will be well finished and provided with all modern conveniences.

—At West Chester, Chester county, a jury, consisting of Francis H. Gheen, David J. Scott and Henry C. Baldwin, all of West Chester, has recommended that the county erect a fifty feet span bridge, four feet higher than the present structure.

—At Devon, Chester county, the large stone dwelling on the Lancaster pike, near Devon, was destroyed by fire last week. The property belongs to the estate of Eben Beaumont, and was occupied at the time of the fire by Mrs. Theodore Beaumont.

—At Bellefonte, Centre county, Joseph Pladers will erect a frame and brick dwelling from plans prepared by Architect Robert Cole. It will be finely finished, tile work, sanitary plumbing, modern conveniences. The estimated cost is $4000, and bids will be received until November 15th.

—At Rankin, Allegheny county, it is said that an ordinance has been passed, granting the West Braddock Bridge Company the right to construct a steel approach, fifty feet high, at the north end of the bridge, to cross Braddock avenue, the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and Kenmawr avenue.

—At Washington, Washington county, John Lennox will erect a three-story building, to be fitted up as a store and flats, from plans prepared by John W. Vester. It will be of Roman brick, with stone trimmings, well finished, modern conveniences. Bids for the construction will be received until November 15th.

—At Harrisburg, D. R. Miller & Co. have made plans for a three-story brick and stone office and exchange building, to be erected on the northwest corner of Walnut street and Court alley, for the Pennsylvania Telephone Company. It will be handsomely finished and thoroughly supplied with all modern conveniences and improvements.

—At Reading, Berks county, Frederick A. Barrows has prepared plans for a dwelling for Mr. Sloner. It will be of brick and frame, well finished throughout, and will cost about $3000.—Goodrich & Keefe will erect a building, to be three stories high, well finished, and to cost $4500. The plans have been prepared by William A. Flak. The same architect has prepared plans for a building for Hoff Brothers. It will be three stories high, of brick, and will cost $3000.

—At Doylestown, Bucks county, at a recent meeting of the borough council, a communication was read from Messrs. Houtp & Franklin, of Philadelphia, civil engineers, in regard to charts, analyses of water and plans for increasing the water supply. No steps were taken as to the charts, but on motion it was decided to instruct the water committee, of which Mr. Wilson is the chairman, to ascertain the borough property to such a depth as to secure a sufficient supply of water for the town. The water committee was also instructed to advertise for plans, specifications and bids for covering the reservoir at the cemetery, and to report at a meeting to be held November 7th.

—At Allegheny, Sadler & Evans will erect six handsome dwellings on Marshall avenue. They will be finely finished throughout, tile work, sanitary plumbing, plain and ornamental glass, all modern conveniences. The estimated cost is about $30,000.—A two-story brick stable and warehouse will be erected on South avenue by the Danacus Bros. Co. The contractors are B. A. Grosh & Co. Walsh will erect a dwelling, to cost about $3000. S. R. Cook is the contractor.—Joseph Roos will erect a two-story and mansard dwelling at 57 Herman street, to cost $2500. The contractor is J. S. Reith.

—At Pittsburg, E. N. Seibert will erect a two-story and attic brick dwelling on Fairmount avenue. It will be well finished throughout and provided with all modern conveniences. The cost will be about $6000. The contract has been let to Elchenbaub & Madden, 105 Shady avenue.—S. A. Dickie, 184 S. Hiland avenue, will erect three handsome dwellings on Alder street. They will cost $10,000. The contractors are L. H. Felton & A. E. Gregg.—McBride & Cole, 405 Fourth avenue, have made plans for two frame dwellings to be erected at Crafton, Pa., one for Mr. McKenna and one for Mr. Sangwith. Both will be well finished and supplied with modern conveniences.—Rutan & Russell, Tradesmen's Building, are preparing plans for a brick and stone observatory, with tile roof, to be erected in Hiland Park. The same architects are making plans for an attractive frame dwelling to be erected at Sewickley, Pa., for J. H. MacFarland.—E. M. Butz & Co., Park Building, have made plans for the Lafayette Club House to be erected at Jeannette, Pa. It will be two stories, 40 x 85 feet, to be of brick and fine interior finish; all modern conveniences. The

Through Delaware.

At Wilmington, work will soon be begun by the contractors in the dredging out of the Christiana river. The Board of Trade has been able to assure the definite depth of water, and a number of inquiries have been received for information as to factory sites along the river. The secretary of the board is Daniel W. Taylor.—Mr. Peter J. Ford has arranged for the erection of a fine new building at the southwest corner of Tenth and Market streets, on the site of the Gilpin Building, which was bought by Mr. Ford some time since. The new structure will be six stories high and will be handsomely fitted up for office purposes. It will cover an entire block. The interior will be finely finished and provided with all modern conveniences and improvements. As soon as the plans and specifications are ready estimates will be received for the erection of the structure.—At a recent meeting of the Board of Education, Mr. Turner, of the committee on new buildings, stated that he and Supervisor Talley had made a trip to New York, to consult Architect Pierce about the plans for the new high school, to be erected on Delaware avenue. Work is progressing upon the plans.

Through Maryland.

At Baltimore, a large building operation has been begun by M. J. Delcher, consisting of the erection of thirty four two-story dwellings on Lafayette avenue, Florence and Prospect streets. All to be well finished and provided with all modern conveniences and improvements.—A three-story brick warehouse will be erected at 306 North Gay street by E. Scott Payne.—The German Orphan Asylum has begun work on a one story brick building at the southwest corner of Asquith street, near Orleans street.—Edward K. Bryan will erect eighteen two-story brick dwellings on the westside of Montford street, between Lanvale and Federal streets.—The Johns Hopkins Alumni Association will erect a four story brick addition on North avenue.

Five two-story brick dwellings will be erected by Elizabeth Fear on Ridgewood avenue, between Monroe and Payson streets. All these will be well finished and provided with modern conveniences and improvements.—A building operation of fourteen two-story houses will be erected on the west side of Oak Hill avenue, between Twentieth street and North avenue, by J. A. Powers.—Peter Grogan has begun work on the erection of ten two-story dwellings on the west side of Luzerne street, between Hoffman and Preston streets.—Plans have been prepared by I. Evans Sperry for a hand-one club house, to be erected by the Maryland Bicycle Club, on Park Heights avenue near Clark's lane. The structure will be finely finished throughout and provided with all modern conveniences and improvements. The cost will be $20,000.—A tract of land containing fourteen acres has been bought by Mr. August Hanemann from the Oglet estate. The price paid was $75,000, and it is said that the new owner will improve the tract by the erection of a number of attractive dwellings.—Richard Cromwell and Michael Jenkins have sold to Charles Hammond Cromwell three lots of ground, one at the northeast corner of North avenue and Oak Hill street, and two lots on Oak Hill street near North avenue.—The Council Committee on Highways has decided to report favorably on an ordinance providing for the appropriation of $24,000 for the Harris Creek sewer and $20,000 for paving Bush street.

The contract for the new police station and stables has been let to George Mann, of Baltimore, for $55,023. Henry Brauns, 20 Builders' Exchange Building, is the architect.

Washington, D. C.

Commissioner Wright has made a tour of inspection of the various police stations, with a view of making a number of improvements in the buildings and also in the equipment; also in the security of the cells. It is probable that a number of new steel cells will be constructed and many changes made in the plumbing, to improve the sanitary condition.

Architect Frederick B. Pyle has prepared plans for a central police station, which will be located in a central part of the city, north of Pennsylvania avenue. The proposed building will be four stories high and 50x150 feet, with well finished cellar, which will contain the heating plant, coal rooms, shop, closet, etc. On the first floor will be the lieutenant's room, office, inspectors room, sergeants room, waiting room, library and smoking room, with bed room, etc. There will be iron and padded cells. The second floor will be set aside for female prisoners and will also contain linen room, drying room, toilet rooms and a large dormitory. The third floor will be occupied by a large gymnasium and drill room, with bath and toilet rooms. The appropriation for the building has not yet been made.—At a recent meeting of the German Orphan Asylum Association the matter of the erection of a hospital was left to the board of managers. Edward Koch is the secretary.—Metcalf & Lewis will erect a row of six dwellings on Quincy street. They will be two stories high, of brick, and finished throughout.—John M. Henderson will erect two dwellings on the same street, at Nos. 42 and 44.—D. B. Groff will erect two two-story dwellings on Illinois avenue.—Mr. J. D. Crossan has raised $10,000 to be expended in grading and beautifying the campus of the proposed American University, and work will begin as soon as the contracts are let. The matter is in charge of Matthew G. Emery and John E. Herrell. It is the intention to open up Massachusetts avenue through the campus to Wesley Circle on University avenue, and to prepare the ground for the erection of the Hall of Government, the next building to be erected. The five quadrangles extending from Massachusetts avenue to the College of Art will be clearly defined, graded and seeded, the walks and winding avenues laid out and trees and shrubbery planted, to be followed later with fountains and statues of men who have achieved fame in educational work. An artificial lake, fed by a spring on the grounds, will be a feature of the decoration. Bishop Hurst states that this College of Government will be begun this winter or the early spring, and will be known as the Ohio Building. All the marble has been contributed and the money necessary to do the work is in sight. Eighteen thousand dollars have been donated by a gentleman in Pennsylvania toward erecting a Pennsylvania building, and more than enough to cover the original cost of Asbury Hall has been subscribed; but the plans have been greatly extended beyond the original design, and this hall, instead of costing $100,000, will require more than twice that amount to complete the building contemplated.—The chairman of the committee, Matthew Trimble, has advertised for a suitable site for the proposed new Masonic Temple. The lot must be at least one hundred feet front and contain about 15,000 feet of ground.

Homes for Workmen

German Movement to Give Them Better Tenements. Consul Monaghan at Chemnitz reports to the State Department that a movement is on foot in Germany to furnish workmen with better tenements. "Now," he says, "they are crowded into buildings which often look like barracks. The proposed houses will be built upon lots about 164 feet wide by 103 feet deep, thereby allowing for a front yard for flowers and a back yard for a vegetable garden and shed, the latter for the keeping of poultry or some domestic animal. The houses will contain five rooms. A parlor and kitchen will be on the first floor, the parlor containing a porcelain stove and heating pipes, and the kitchen a wash boiler and stove. Three bed rooms on the second floor will easily hold five or six persons, and can be made to accommodate ten. In the largest an iron stove will be placed. A pump will provide water where the city water works do not extend to the house. In connection with the shed is the water closet. The cost of such a house and lot, when a number are built at a time, will be between $350 and $950. It will rent for about $53 a year—that is, for the same price the workman has to pay for two rooms in the barracks-like tenements of the large cities."

Petroleum Exports.

The United States illuminates the world more effectively and completely each year. Despite the fear so frequently expressed of late that the large production of petroleum in Russia and Dutch East Indies and the increased use of electricity for lighting purposes would reduce our valuable exports of illuminating oils, the year just ended has shown the greatest exportations of that article in the history of that important branch of our foreign commerce, and the figures for August show the largest exportations of oil for any single month on record. The reports of the Treasury Bureau of Statistics show that the exports of mineral oils in the fiscal year 1898 passed the billion gallon line, the total, including all classes, being 1,034,269,676 gallons, against 973,514,846 gallons in 1897 and 890,458,994 gallons in 1896.

The large production of mineral oils in other parts of the world, while it has not reduced our exportation, has probably reduced the prices which our producers and exporters have been able to realize. The exports of oil in the year 1898 were practically double those of 1888 and three times those of 1878, but the money received for them was only about 25 per cent. greater than that received either in 1878 or 1888. The total receipts for the 1,034,269,676 gallons of oil exported in 1898 were $56,126,578, while for the 873,551,633 gallons exported in 1888 the receipts were $47,042,409 and for the 838,841,303 gallons exported in 1878 the receipts were $46,574,974. The average export value of refined illuminating oil was in 1872, 24.00 cents per gallon; in 1878, 14.4 cents per gallon; in 1888, 7.9 cents per gallon and in 1898, 5.3 cents per gallon, having thus fallen from 24.9 cents to 5.3 cents from 1878 to 1898. Notwithstanding this steady fall the production and exportation continues to increase, the exports having increased over 80 million gallons in the past year over that of the preceding year and over 100 million gallons over that of any earlier year, while the production for 1897 was 2,528,067,984 gallons against 2,033,331,972 in 1894; 1,476,897,546 in 1890; 1,017,174,396 in 1886; 896,394,132 in 1880, and 510,835,538 in 1876. Thus while the price has been steadily and rapidly falling, the quantity produced and the quantity exported have as steadily and rapidly increased. The production in 1897 was five times that of 1876 and the exportation of last year nearly five times that of 1876. Great as the fall in price has been, the exports of illuminating oil bring over a million dollars a week into the country and have in the past twenty years added a round billion of dollars to our foreign sales.

The following table shows the quantity and value of our exports of mineral oils of all grades since 1875:

Gold and Silver Production.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 23.—The director of the Mint reports that the value of the gold produced in the United States during the calendar year 1897 was $37,363,000. The South African Republic holds first place, producing gold to the value of $57,033,861; Australasia, $55,684,183, and Russia, $33,245,763.

There was a notable increase in the production of gold in the world during 1897 over 1896. The United States increased $4,275,000; the South African Republic made the remarkable gain of $13,854,193. Australasia increased $10,502,249, and Russia, $1,709,970.

The United States produced during the year 53,830,000 fine ounces of silver, and Mexico 53,963,180 fine ounces, a decrease for the United States of 4,974,800 fine ounces, and an increase for Mexico of 8,256,756 fine ounces.

Why Drinkers See Snakes.

When a man who has been imbibing continuously and too freely of alcoholic liquor, it is often the case that he sees or thinks he sees serpents, or turkeys, or gila monsters, or other birds, reptiles and animals that have no business in his vicinity. These familiar symptoms of delirium tremens known as "snakes" have been made the subject of study, with some interesting results. It appears that what have been supposed to be hallucinations have a certain sort of evidence in fact. Certain blood vessels in the eyes become congested and assume a dark color. These, when they appear on the retina, which is ordinarily transparent, suggest to the nervous and overwrought patient the presence of some moving, living creature. Imagination, of course, increases the nervousness, and finally the mind becomes so disordered that the form of an offensive creature is suggested. As these fancies grow by what they feed on, it is easy to see how creeping, crawling things may fill the soul of the victim with the most horrible sensations.—Chicago Chronicle.

Moulding Solid Marble.

Experiments conducted by Adams and Nicholson at McGill University, Montreal, says the New York Sun, have resulted in the discovery that, by pressure, marble is capable of being moulded into any desirable form, while still retaining its strength, columns of marble two centimetres, two and one half in diameter, and four centimetres in length being thus accurately turned and polished. Heavy wrought iron tubes are employed, made as in the construction of ordnance, and the marble is firmly placed in position in said tube, an accurately fitting sliding steel plug being then inserted in either end, by which means the marble is submitted to a pressure far above that which would be sufficient to crush it if not so enclosed. The machine employed in obtaining the pressure is so arranged that the latter might be maintained for weeks or months. But under pressure applied gradually, and in some cases continued for weeks, the tube is found to slowly bulge until a very marked enlargement of the portion surrounding the marble takes place; the tube is then cut longitudinally along two lines opposite to one another, the marble within being found to be firm, holding the respective sides of the tube so tightly that it is impossible without mechanical aids to tear them apart. Although not so hard as the original rock, it is still firm and compact, especially so when the process of deformation has been carried out slowly.

Miscellaneous.

At Waverly, Ia., the board of supervisors will receive bids until November 14th for a bridge over Cedar River.

At Woonsocket, R. I., a proposition is under consideration to rebuild the Globe bridge.

At Harvey, Ill., a new school building will be erected from plans prepared by Oscar L. Murray, of Chicago.

Specifications can be seen on file at the city hall in the city clerk's office. Each proposal must be accompanied by a cash deposit or certified check to the amount of $1000 on the bid for the one-year estimate, cash or a check for $1500 on the bid for the three-year estimate, and cash or a check for $2500 on the bid for the five-year estimate, conditioned that the party making the bid will execute the contract. The committee reserves the right to reject any or all bids, and to waive any defect or informality in any bid should it be deemed to be in the interest of the city so to do. Address proposals, marked electric lighting, to Charles C. Southard, chairman.

The World of Savings.

The latest monthly summary of the Treasury Bureau of Statistics contains some interesting data concerning the deposits in savings banks throughout the civilized world. Reliable returns in regard to the savings banks and their condition in the United States do not go back further than the year 1829. A table is given showing the rapid growth of deposits in these institutions from that year to 1897. Want of space forbids us from presenting here anything further than a brief summary of the results.

In 1820 the number of savings bank depositors in the United States was $385, and the savings amounted to $1,133,576. From this time forward the system developed by leaps and bounds until in 1897 the depositors numbered 5,211,132, with deposits amounting to $1,939,376,035. For every depositor in 1820 there were 604 in 1897; the amount of deposits were 1700 times greater in the former than in the latter year, and the average deposit, which was $181.80 in 1820, was $372.88 in 1897. The fact that the average deposit has not rapidly increased in amount in the past twenty-five years has been due to the gigantic growth of building and loan associations, which have also absorbed a vast amount of the savings of industry and thrift.

It is seen from these tables that the number of savings bank depositors in the world is 45,796,767, with deposits amounting to the colossal sum of $5,604,546,473—an average of $144.21. While the amount of deposits in the United States much exceeds that in any other country, the number of depositors in some countries is far greater than in this. In the number of depositors of small savings economical France stands at the head of the list with 8,986,681, having deposits amounting to $829,783,755. The United Kingdom comes next, with 7,969,826 depositors, having savings of $815,686,750; and Prussia follows closely, with 6,255,507 depositors, having $699,757,555 in the savings banks. Though Prussia has fewer depositors than France and Great Britain, the amount of their savings is greater and the average deposit much larger.

The poorest depositor is the Hindu, with an average amount of $43.60 in the savings banks, while the richest is the Newfoundland fisherman, with an average deposit of $40.71. In Holland the rate of interest on money is so low as to tend to the discouragement of saving, and the average deposit of the Dutchman is $58.20. On the other hand, the frugal Dane has an average deposit of $166 in the savings bank. In Russia the development of this system of saving earnings is so slow that no data are given; but in Hungary the deposits average $227.19. Our neighbor of Canada has 175,560 depositors, with $7,578,975—an average of $328 in the banks; not much below the average in the United States, and very much above the average in France.

A very large portion of these enormous savings of earnings is in gold, and nearly the entire amount is on the solid gold basis. This money, too, constitutes a large part of the capital of the "gold bugs," which excites so much animosity in the champions of cheap currency. It is a power, but a power created by foresight and thrift to protect millions of workmen from penury, and to increase the comforts of themselves and their families. Accumulated in savings banks throughout the world, ready for constant use, it is a mighty motor of progress and civilization. To undermine and destroy this financial fabric, in which industry and toil have safeguarded their earnings, by debasing the standard of currency would inflict a calamity from which this generation could not recover. Happily, the five millions of depositors in the savings banks of the United States constitute a conservative political power which cannot be easily shaken by the fallacies and humbugs of monetary depreciation. They are the "gold bugs" with whom the advocates of cheap money have to reckon every time at the ballot-box.—Phila. Record.

London Wood Pavements.

Chamber's Chronicle says: Various kinds of woods from all parts of the world have been tried in London, and of late years the Tasmanian "stringy bark," a species of the Eucalypti, has proved to be the most enduring, and without the glass like surface of some other hard woods. The stringy bark, which grows all over Tasmania, has a rougher surface than the blue gum, thereby giving in greasy weather a better foothold for man and beast. It is in the south of the island of Tasmania that the chief supply of timber is obtained, the forests coming down almost to the water's edge, thus making the cost and difficulty of transport very small; in fact, at some of the mills, vessels of 300 tons could partly load alongside the pier, and complete their loading by barges while lying in a perfectly secure anchorage.

Shipping Molten Iron.

A mechanical and an economical triumph reported from Pennsylvania is the daily shipment of tons of molten iron by railway from the blast furnaces at Duquesne to the Homestead Steel Works. This remarkable service was instituted on the 1st of June, and is now an ordinary daily routine. The molten iron as it is tapped from the furnaces runs into an immense mixing ladle having a capacity of 250 tons, and from this it is poured into the 20-ton ladle cars, the ladles being made of sheet-steel or iron, with a lining of refractory material. The cars are then hauled by a locomotive to the steel works, where the direct conversion of the molten iron into open-hearth steel is made, avoiding all the expense of casting the metal into pigs, and cooling, handling, reloading, reheating and remelting the pig metal. It is stated that between 700 and 800 tons of iron are transported daily from the Duquesne furnaces in this manner.—Exch.

Old Roman Roads.

An authority on road construction says that the Romans made their main roads to last forever. They were composed of silicious and calcareous materials, and were far superior to the highest type of modern work. The large roads averaged four to four and three-quarters metres, the smaller ones three to three and one-half metres. In mountain regions the road was narrowed down to a single carriageway, one and three-quarters metres. The sidewalks were large near the cities, but reduced to six tenths of a metre in the outer districts. They were built of cut stone, at least on the border. At every twelve paces mounting stones were placed, and at every one thousand paces milestones. Some of the best roads were paved with marble. The minor or secondary roads were not so carefully made, though of a solidity with which few modern roads can compare. A ditch was dug to the solid earth, which was stamped, rolled, or staked; then on a floor of sand ten or fifteen centimetres thick a layer of mortar was spread. This formed the basis of the four courses which constituted the road. The first was a course of several layers of flat stones, bound by hard cement or clay. This layer was usually thirty centimetres thick, and twice that in bad lands. On this came a concrete of pebbles, stones and broken bricks, strongly rammed with iron-sheathed rammers. The ordinary thickness of this layer was twenty-five centimetres. In the absence of mortar, loam was used. Superimposed on this was a layer of thirty to fifty centimetres of gravel or coarse sand carefully rolled. The top layer, or crust, was convex, and ran to a thickness of twenty to thirty centimetres or more. It was made differently, according to the materials at hand. It was either paved with cut stone or laid with pebble and granite or metalled.

A Pulpit Criticism.

Chaplain Brady Tells of the Horrors of Chickamauga.

Philadelphia, Sept. 26.—Rev. Cyrus T. Brady, archdeacon of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of eastern Pennsylvania and chaplain of the First Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, in a sermon last night severely criticised the management of the volunteer camps which came under his supervision at Chickamauga, where his regiment was stationed for a long time. He said the medical, commissary, quartermaster and ordnance departments were all to blame, and continued thus:

"I personally saw men left in the hospitals in camps for 36 hours without any medical attendance whatever. I saw men in these hospitals suffering from fever with the rain beating down upon them. I saw men committed to the care of unskilled attendants when it was absolutely impossible for them to receive anything like the attention they desired. I saw men, suffering from fever, lying with their mouths open and their mouths filled with flies."

In conclusion the archdeacon said:

"I wonder if I dare, being still in the government service, say more? There is much more that might be told if it were proper for me to tell it, but perhaps this will suffice. I had not intended to touch upon this phase of our experiences at all, but when I think that these things have taken place in this, the richest, greatest and presumably the most advanced nation on the face of the earth, I cannot hold my peace."

The reverend speaker also said that the officers of the First Regiment had done everything possible to alleviate the condition of the men.

Cardinal Wolsey's Water Works.

Sir Douglas Fox, M. Inst. C. E., has on his estate in Surrey a conduit house, forming part of a system of old English water works, described in an interesting article, which he states is quite correct, in a recent issue of the "Surrey Comet." As long ago as the sixteenth century, according to this paper, Coombe was noted for its fresh water springs, and when Cardinal Wolsey built Hampton Court Palace he determined to bring his supply of drinking water from Coombe. An elaborate and very successful method was employed for collecting the water from the various springs on the hill. There were three principal conduit houses, which still exist—one on the estate of Sir Douglas Fox, which is called from this circumstance "Coombe Springs." By means of a number of underground carriers, or feeders, the water was conveyed from the springs to these conduit houses, whence it flowed in separate pipes to a point not far from Norbiton Station, where a junction was effected. From this point the water was taken direct to the palace through a lead pipe 2½ inches in diameter which ran, at a depth varying from 3 to 6 feet, to the river. Here a considerable dip was necessary to take the pipe under the Thames, after which it was an easy matter to lay it to the palace. The water from Coombe formed the sole domestic supply for Hampton Court Palace for nearly 350 years, and was only discarded about 30 years ago.

There were two circumstances which chiefly influenced the authorities in abandoning the Coombe supply. The increase of building had the effect of polluting some of the sources of the supply, and it was anticipated that, with a considerable addition to the number of houses in the future, there would be further pollution. Another difficulty was that the barges which came up to Kingston, when they dropped anchor in the Thames, used frequently to grapple and damage the lead pipe, which led to the occasional failure of the supply. Consequently a new supply of drinking water for the palace was obtained from a branch of the River Colne, formerly known as the Cardinal's River, but now as the Queen's River. The intake is at Hampton, where the water undergoes filtration, and is thence pumped to the palace.

By order of the Commissioners of Works the old lead pipes between Coombe and Hampton Court Palace, which have recently been buried ever since the year 1830, have recently been taken up. It says much for the honest workmanship of the time that these pipes were found to be in perfect condition, and very few of them had any trace of wear and tear. They included some of great length, as much as 200 feet being found without a joint. These old pipes are of value, because they were made at a time when the method of extracting silver from lead had not been discovered, and the substantial nature of the pipes may be gauged from the fact that they average about 11 pounds to the lineal foot. Owing to the great development of building on the route of the pipes, it has been, of course, impossible to recover the whole length which passes through Kingston, as a good deal of it is covered with bricks and mortar; but the undertaking has proved a decidedly profitable one for the Commissioners of Works, who will be some hundred pounds in pocket by it.—Engineering Record.

Greeley Advised "Go West"

Our advice to the Philadelphia builder is "go Southwest," and take a look at the ground we have secured and placed on the market, between 21st and 23d, running south from Moore, and intersected by Mifflin, McKean, Snyder Avenue, Jackson and Wolf Streets.

The above has been divided into plots, affording an exceptional opportunity for a progressive man.

A Triumph of Perfection

Nothing but intrinsic merit could have forced it to so high a place in the world's esteem.

We Guarantee

That they will exhaust more cubic feet of air per minute than any other VENTILATOR now being offered to the public.

The superiority of our goods over those of our competitors can best be judged by their having been selected for the following high-class buildings: Woodland Beach Theatre, Staten Island, 10 foot (largest Ventilator ever made); Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, Fifth Avenue, New York, several 60, 48 and 42 inch copper. The handsome Empire Office Building, Broadway, New York, two 60 inch copper. Baker Opera House, Rochester, New York, 60, 40 and 30 inch. Horticultural Hall, Broad Street, Philadelphia, 60 inch. Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., 66 inch. Public Schools, Minneapolis, 84 and 66 inch. Uncas Paper Mill, Norwich, Conn. (finest in New England), two 54 inch.

Public School Buildings, Phila., U. S. Government Buildings, West Point and Fort Monroe. Phila. Country Club, Bala, Pennsylvania Railroad Buildings and thousands of Schools, Churches and Buildings from Maine to California. No Ventilator in so short a time has obtained such grand endorsements as the above, having been selected in preference to all others, for the finest buildings in the country.

HOTEL FURNISHINGS.

As we are Importers, Manufacturers, and large Wholesalers, we are enabled to offer advantages in the purchase of Furnishings for Hotels, which should be known to every buyer in America.

Linens

Made especially to our order in the best mills of Scotland and Ireland—Table Cloths, Napkins, Sheets and Pillow Cases and Towels, Crashes, etc., here in immense quantity and greatest variety, or will be made to order in special design.

Carpets

The best looms of the world are represented in our great Carpet rooms, while our relations with the manufacturers are such as to give us unusual selling advantages.

Bedding

A good Hotel is known by its bedding. Good Springs, Mattresses, attractive and comfortable Coverings are remembered longer by the traveler than the viands which are placed before him.

Furniture

Upholsteries, Lace Curtains and Draperies, from the simple to the most sumptuous kinds, in stock and prepared to order, along any desired lines. The same may be said of

China, Silver, Glass, Cutlery and House
Furnishings

We are in position to supply them advantageously and of the desirable character which Hotels especially should insist upon.

Send applications or list for estimates to "Department of Hotel Supplies."

After the Chicago Fire

WHICH occurred in October, 1871, the business men and real estate owners, whose properties were destroyed, were made to face contingencies of which they had never dreamt. The custom of relegating the placing of fire insurance risks on both real and personal property to those who were controlled solely by a selfish estimate of profit in the way of commissions, had become such an evil in fostering and perpetuating irresponsible fire insurance companies, that the insured, in thousands of instances, realized after the fire that THEIR INSURANCE WAS NOT WORTH THE PAPER ON WHICH THEIR POLICIES HAD BEEN WRITTEN.

The drastic influences, thus precipitated, upon an army of innocent sufferers, need not be described, for they are too patent to require it; to point out the moral even seems superfluous.

There are, however, many financially strong and prosperous fire insurance companies, as well as honorable and conscientious brokers, whose fidelity to their clients justifies your confidence as well as your patronage, and these justly merit and receive the earnest commendation of every responsible insurance company in the country. The advent of the

Delaware Insurance Company of Philadelphia

Was something more than an episode in the great evolution of the business interests of the country. Founded in 1835, during the second administration of President Andrew Jackson, whose patriotic anathemas against the iniquities of State Rights and Secession had electrified the world in 1832; his refusal to recharter the United States Bank in 1834 and the subsequent financial and commercial disturbance, notwithstanding the fact that in 1835 the United States Government paid off every dollar of the national debt; the recall of the French minister in this year, as a result of Jackson's warlike pronouncement to Congress in 1834, suggesting retaliatory measures against France; an excess of over $22,000,000 of specie having been imported into this country from January, 1833, to May, 1834, it can be readily seen that the doors of the Delaware were thrown open during troublesome times.

To have predicted at that moment the glory and substantial commercial success that awaited the nation would have been regarded as utopian, to have prophesied the wonderful prosperity that was to be the reward for the nerve and courage displayed by the officers and stockholders of the Delaware would have seemed an idle dream. As westward the march of Empire wended its way, so, also, the business of the Delaware developed until it permeated almost every business interest in every section of the country.

Its honest, conscientious regard for the interests of its customers, established for the company at home and abroad the highest credit possible. Risks were promptly paid on a basis of one hundred cents to the dollar, and its records show that to date it has paid in cash to the insured

EIGHTEEN MILLION DOLLARS.

No home, however humble, no business, whether in store or factory, however small, is denied the self-same consideration and respect that is bestowed upon the larger and more important risks.

The industrious wage earner finds the safety and security for his little home he most desires; in fact, the Delaware's great specialty is its perpetual insurance of these self-same modest dwellings.

Real estate agents, architects, owners and investors, find in easy reach through the Delaware Insurance Company, the greatest possible safety and security in its Perpetual insurance, Tornado insurance and Rent insurance. It embraces all of the prominent features of insurance that are good; none that are bad.

JOHN F. BRISBANE, City Editor.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, NOV. 9, 1898.

ONE DAY in the summer of 1897, on the porch of a popular hotel at Atlantic City, a number of well known gentlemen discussed the question of empty houses in Philadelphia, and wisely (?) concluded that there were sixty thousand vacant dwellings in this city. This statement has been repeated so often by unthinking people that it is now accepted as a fact by those who should know better, as a moment's consideration of the subject would have made its absurdity apparent.

The influence of this and similar statements has been extremely harmful, having to a considerable extent impaired the confidence of investors and disturbed the equanimity of owners. It has also acted as a check upon building operations, and impaired the credit of our builders. It has had a pernicious influence upon the prosperity of the city, and caused considerable alarm in business circles.

We do not know how many unoccupied houses there are in the city, nor do we believe anyone knows. The question could easily be settled by the mayor by a canvass of each precinct by the police. He has been requested to have such a canvass made, but had not replied to the communication when this was written.

Sixty thousand dwellings would comfortably house the people of a city with more than 300,000 population.

Sixty thousand houses, with a frontage of sixteen feet each, would represent 960,000 feet, or over 181 miles; with ten blocks to the mile, it would equal 1810 blocks.

According to the statistics of the department of highways, there are 250,000 buildings of all kinds in Philadelphia. It would be a sad condition of affairs, indeed, if there were twenty-five per cent. of the buildings unoccupied in this city or any other city.

There are 1350 miles of opened streets, and 60,000 vacant houses would occupy at least one eighth of the streets of Philadelphia.

Notwithstanding these facts and all efforts to correct the statement, it will be repeated by those who believe it until our municipal authorities officially settle the question for good.

9865 transfers of real estate, representing $56,597,977.22 in value.

The operative builders, as a rule, as well as those identified with their successes in former years, have no reason to be joyful over results thus far during 1898. Hard conditions have prevailed among the operators, which, of course, were seriously compounded among the material men until they lost faith in almost everybody and everything, and in many instances refused to sell for operation work altogether.

Investors have been scared off through greatly exaggerated and often foolish statements as to the number of empty houses and the reduction of rentals, but while there has been plenty of room for differences of opinion as to the former, there has really been no just cause for alarm over the latter, although such reductions have ranged from ten to fifteen per cent., the average investment, while considerably impaired, has not been ruined by any means.

The desire among landlords has been to retain responsible tenants, and sacrifices have been cheerfully made in order that properties might not become vacant. Tenants were aware of this, and became exacting, forcing expenditures for repairs even in the face of previous reductions in rent, and the landlord or agent yielded with grace and good nature because he had to do so.

The value of our tables, showing operation work since 1888, is increased more than ever, as they show at a glance the yearly fluctuations in two and three-story dwelling construction, besides affording the close observer all the data that is needed to follow the growth of the city by wards.

There is really nothing to regret on the part of those who have faith in the city in which their interests rest, or who have justifiable ambition for its future greatness. The houses are here, and will be needed just as soon as our manufacturing and other business interests resume their natural prosperous conditions, and while house building as a business venture may have proven disastrous to many, yet these cases have had a beneficial influence in finding use for idle capital, which could not have been enticed from its seclusion in any other way.

If any better evidence is needed than this self same yearly investment in real estate, and that, too, during the bitter years of financial disturbance and commercial stagnation, as to the honest convictions of those who had the money, as to the stability of real property, our readers must look elsewhere, for we cannot furnish it.

How singular it is that those who justify an investment of millions in the stock of city railway companies, because of the natural growth and increase of population, (wisely?) deprecate a liberal provision for housing, the very influence on which they depend for the success of these railway investments. It is these inconsistencies which are centered about our real estate interests which are even more harmful than overbuilding, for while the last can be easily corrected, it is more difficult to engender faith among those who have the money, as well as the disposition, to buy houses, either for homes or investment, or for both, when confidence is destroyed.

As the cycles of business prosperity are followed by those of depression, so also must real estate values yield through direct and collateral influences; hence it is absurd to assert that overbuilding alone is responsible for present conditions.

The individual who cannot recognize better business conditions since the beginning of the year should learn to extend his range of vision. He has either become morbid through his personal troubles or is in the habit of judging from his own environment.

The country has been growing rich rapidly, and its ability to absorb the billions of dollars worth of its own stocks and bonds which have been dumped by foreign holders until foreign liquidation has now ceased to be a factor in the stock market, is all the evidencethat is needed to prove it.

There is not a savings fund institution in this city that does not show a steady monthly increase in its deposits and new accounts, and it is seldom now that the wage earner offers "want of work" as a reason why he must draw upon his reserve.

The farmers never owned so much money as now. The net earnings of the prosperous railroads were never greater, and the accumulation of money from other countries was never as great. It is these irresistible influences that have started the present cycle of prosperity for the whole country, and it will come our way sooner than we expect it.

There is noticeable improvement in the demand for dwelling properties ranging in price from twenty-five to thirty-five hundred dollars, while stores, outside of the main business centre, as well as floors for small manufacturing purposes, find little inquiry.

Some inquiry for factory sites is quoted, but apathy in this respect is likely to continue for another year at least.

A change of sentiment seems to prevail towards central dwelling properties on the part of those who have experimented with the suburban idea; the loss of time, even with improved trolley transportation, is said to be responsible for this, while on the other hand there is considerable inquiry for expensive suburban properties by those who want to rent.

There is no improvement in rentals except a greater demand for dwellings of the better class.

Operators are having a hard time in making sales, and concession continue to be the rule and not the exception. The increased demand for the renting of two-story dwellings in certain locations, which was noticeable during the spring and summer months, seems to have been satisfied.

Trust companies have closed their ears against the siren-voiced importunities of those who see wealth in operation work, and yet the man with money of his own to invest has no difficulty in dealing with these institutions if he, as well as his location, are all right.

The demand for mortgages has not abated in the least. Money is so plentiful and easy that even loans on farms having good buildings are offered at five per cent. flat. This is a radical change of sentiment as to farm lands for security.

Considerable money has been loaned upon western city property, even as low as four and a half and five per cent. flat for large amounts.

Trust companies are taking assignments of mortgages from estates. This was not their custom during past years.

It is said that $250,000 was recently loaned upon the Gladstone Apartment House, in this city, at four per cent.

Call loans are quoted in New York at one and a half and two per cent., while such money brings three and a half to four per cent. in this city.

Architects and builders are full of hope as to the future. While there is a dearth of work among the former at present, considerable is being done on preliminary sketches for proposed buildings.

Of course there is quite an amount of work held in abeyance, which may or may not go on, the owners being in no hurry, while war clouds are flying thick and fast. Builders are busy on contracts made during the summer and early fall.

The consensus of opinion points to a good deal of work during 1899. In fact, it is anticipated that business conditions will have improved by the first of the coming year to an extent that will produce a decided effect upon real estate values as well as the estimate in which it is at present held as an investment.

The manufacturing interests will greatly improve, and there is at present no evidence that our export trade will diminish.

In two-story dwelling construction work this year the Thirty-fourth ward, of West Philadelphia, leads the procession with its record of 758, but its glory is greatly impaired by the serious falling off of 367 from its record for these buildings of last year.

The gains worth mentioning in the respective wards are as follows: Fifteenth, 37; Seventeenth, 5; Twentieth, 6; Twenty-first, 2; Twenty-third, 14; Twenty-second, 50; Thirty-fifth, 56; Thirty-eighth, 42.

The Thirty-ninth and Fortieth wards, which were taken from the First and Twenty-seventh, were given an individuality in our July report, consequently they must in both instances be accredited with gains—the former with 37 and the latter with 289 two-story dwellings.

The losses are much more pronounced than the gains, and they are distributed as follows: First ward lost 558, and if we include the results in the Thirty-ninth ward, 87, it will show that only 142 new two-story dwellings were built in that area against 613 last year. The Eighteenth ward lost 9; Twenty-second, 155; Twenty-fourth, 56; Twenty-fifth, 113; Twenty-sixth, 12; Twenty-seventh, 208, and if we add to the Twenty-seventh those that were built in the Fortieth, which was last year a part of its area, we find that the total is 81 more than were built in that area last year. Thirty-third, 53; Thirty-fourth, 367; Thirty-sixth, 81; Thirty-seventh, 51.

Three-story dwellings are 116 short of the same months last year, and while the Twenty-seventh takes the lead with 267, the area formerly known as the Twenty-seventh, which includes the new Fortieth ward, shows a total of 305, or 32 more than last year.

The gains in three-story dwellings are as follows: Fifteenth ward, 3; Eighteenth, 5; Nineteenth, 13; Twenty-fifth, 10; Thirty-first, 1; Thirty-second, 61; Thirty-third, 48; Thirty-fourth, 135; Fortieth, 38.

The following wards are responsible for the losses: First, 20; Second, 21; Third, 21; Fifth, 3; Sixth, 1; Seventh, 1; Eighth, 8; Tenth, 1; Twelfth, 3; Thirteenth, 3; Fourteenth, 2; Seventeenth, 4; Twentieth, 16; Twenty-first, 3; Twenty-second, 7; Twenty-fourth, 69; Twenty-sixth, 64; Twenty-seventh, 6; Twenty-eighth, 46; Twenty-ninth, 14; Thirtieth, 3; Thirty-fifth, 10; Thirty-sixth, 1; Thirty-seventh, 98; Thirty-eighth, 4.

West Philadelphia now comprises the Twenty-fourth, Twenty-seventh, Thirty-fourth and Fortieth wards. Its record this year for two-story dwellings is 1186, against 1238 for the same months of last year, a falling off of 52. In three-story dwellings this locality is 98 of these ahead of last year, 651 having been erected in 1898 against 553 for 1897.

There are 16 four-story dwellings, costing $160,000, this year, while the records show 23 of these last year, costing $307,000.

Office buildings over two stories are 7 in number, costing $1,354,100, two less than last year, while this class of buildings is responsible for $904,700 of the shortage in the investment in building improvements this year.

The following table showing the industrial buildings erected in this city since 1890, will enable the reader to trace their fluctuations without reference to our analysis.

They record a disheartening condition of our manufacturing interests when the results of the present year are compared with the early years of the decade. The table represents:

	1890	1891	1892	1893	1894	1895	1896	1897	1898
Warehouses.....	29	23	34	32	20	35	13	8	12
Dye & Dry house	10	9	13	7	5	2	13	2	1
Factor's & Mills	73	57	81	55	46	52	39	35	38
Engine & Boiler	57	24	36	24	23	5	15	6	7
Br'w'ries & B'g's	7	7	3	4	4	2	2	2	2
Pum's & Shops	39	60	52	44	36	26	18	9	6
Stores (not dgs)	53	40	31	36	11	17	8	22	10

The investments in the 76 industrial buildings erected this year amount to $860,500. It is to be regretted that the showing is even poorer than for the same months of last year, when we recorded 84 of these, representing an investment of $1,779,300. During the season of 1890 there were erected 238 buildings of this character. In 1891, 220; 1892, 200; 1893, 200; 1894, 142; 1895, 139; 1896, 100; 1897, 84.

In following the changes from last year we find that there are 4 more warehouses this year and a loss in the investment in buildings of this character of $99,500. One more in dye and dry houses and an investment of $200 more. Three more factories and the investment $72,000 more than that of '97. One more engine and boiler house, but those erected last year cost $75,200 more. There are no new breweries or bottling houses this year. Last year there were but 2, and their cost was $11,000. There are 6 foundries and shops this year, costing $33,300, against 9 last year, costing $48,900. Stores (not stores and dwellings) are 12 short of last year, with a deficit in the investment of $191,800.

Two public school houses have been erected this year, costing $140,535. Last year there were 6, and their cost was $345,743.

Seventy-five stables, costing $112,500, this year, and 85 in 1897, costing $127,500.

Churches are 9, costing $262,300. Last year there were 6, costing $178,000. This year's investment in these is $84,300 greater than in those of last year.

Miscellaneous buildings are 55 in number, and their cost is $1,650,025. Last year there were 44 only, but their cost was $2,012,300.

The fifty-five miscellaneous buildings include: Club houses, $25,000, $34,000, $27,000 and $92,000; veterinary hospital, $3000; private school, $100,000; purifying houses, U. G. I. Co., $46,000; gas works, $93,000; retort house, $75,000; metre house, $10,000; Methodist Episcopal Home, $135,000; apartment houses, $200,000 and $125,000; addition to Spring Garden Institute, $41,000; addition to Penn Charter School, $30,000; parish schools, $26,000, $20,000, $45,000, $7000 and $20,000; public bath house, $8500; lodge house, $14,000; chapels, $4000, $4000, $3000, $3875, $2200, $5000, $5900, $5600, $7500 and $4000; addition to St. Joseph College, $125,000; freight sheds, $98,250; orphans' asylum, $50,000; fire house, $14,000; laboratories, $25,000 and $30,000; Homeopathic Hospital for Children, $48,000; home for nurses, $21,000, and a few other buildings of minor importance.

It is to be regretted that alterations and additions do not compare with those of last year, either as to numbers or the amount invested in these improvements.

There are only 316 of these, costing $4,745,000, while last year there were 459, which represented an expenditure of $7,045,500. A difference of $2,296,500 in favor of last year's improvements of this nature.

There were 9865 transfers of real estate recorded from January 1st to October 31st. Last year for the same period there were 10,564. A difference of 699. The value of the transfers this year is $56,597,977.22. In 1897 the value of the property transferred was $63,826,163.16. The average value of the transfers this year is $5,737.25. Last year it was $6,041.83. In 1896, $5,472.79; in 1895, $6,352.65; in 1894, $4,965.88; and in 1893, $5,718.78.

The mortgage incumbrance on the transfers this year amount to $20,621,732.36, or 36.4 per cent. In 1897 they were 39.2 per cent.; in 1896, 34.3 per cent.; in 1895, 29.8 per cent.; in 1894, 28.6 per cent.

The ground rents this year amount to $573,601.72, which on a six per cent. basis represent a further incumbrance upon the property transferred of $9,350,028.66, or 17 per cent., consequently the full incumbrance upon the property transferred is 53.4 per cent. In 1897 it was 65.3 per cent., and in 1896, 52.3 per cent.

Auction sales this year included property which sold for $2,637,926.32. This is $1,059,717.33 more than such sales amounted to during the same months of 1897.

These results, compared with those of last year, can justly be regarded as encouraging, for while business distresses have been considerable, it establishes the fact that such sales have attractions for others than bargain hunters, and that the opinions of sellers and buyers are in greater accord than last year.

The business outlook is good, and outside of the material men who are dependent upon our operative builders for sales, who in their turn also must sell their houses in order that they may meet their obligations, scarcity is apparent everywhere. We can give the names of concerns in the mercantile line that are crowded with orders, and while there is general complaint as to the small margin of profit, as well as the scarcity of money and poor collections, there is such a decided improvement in all business except real estate that business men are exceptionally hopeful.

The following table shows the number of new buildings erected during each month of the building seasons of 1897, 1898, 1899, 1900, 1901, 1902, 1903, 1904, 1905, 1906, 1907, 1908, 1909, 1910, 1911, 1912, 1913, 1914, 1915, 1916, 1917, 1918, 1919, 1920, 1921, 1922, 1923, 1924, 1925, 1926, 1927, 1928, 1929, 1930, 1931, 1932, 1933, 1934, 1935, 1936, 1937, 1938, 1939, 1940, 1941, 1942, 1943, 1944, 1945, 1946, 1947, 1948, 1949, 1950, 1951, 1952, 1953, 1954, 1955, 1956, 1957, 1958, 1959, 1960, 1961, 1962, 1963, 1964, 1965, 1966, 1967, 1968, 1969, 1970, 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974, 1975, 1976, 1977, 1978, 1979, 1980, 1981, 1982, 1983, 1984, 1985, 1986, 1987, 1988, 1989, 1990, 1991, 1992, 1993, 1994, 1995, 1996, 1997, 1998, 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2003, 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014, 2015, 2016, 2017, 2018, 2019, 2020, 2021, 2022, 2023, 2024, 2025, 2026, 2027, 2028, 2029, 2030, 2031, 2032, 2033, 2034, 2035, 2036, 2037, 2038, 2039, 2040, 2041, 2042, 2043, 2044, 2045, 2046, 2047, 2048, 2049, 2050, 2051, 2052, 2053, 2054, 2055, 2056, 2057, 2058, 2059, 2060, 2061, 2062, 2063, 2064, 2065, 2066, 2067, 2068, 2069, 2070, 2071, 2072, 2073, 2074, 2075, 2076, 2077, 2078, 2079, 2080, 2081, 2082, 2083, 2084, 2085, 2086, 2087, 2088, 2089, 2090, 2091, 2092, 2093, 2094, 2095, 2096, 2097, 2098, 2099, 2100, 2101, 2102, 2103, 2104, 2105, 2106, 2107, 2108, 2109, 2110, 2111, 2112, 2113, 2114, 2115, 2116, 2117, 2118, 2119, 2120, 2121, 2122, 2123, 2124, 2125, 2126, 2127, 2128, 2129, 2130, 2131, 2132, 2133, 2134, 2135, 2136, 2137, 2138, 2139, 2140, 2141, 2142, 2143, 2144, 2145, 2146, 2147, 2148, 2149, 2150, 2151, 2152, 2153, 2154, 2155, 2156, 2157, 2158, 2159, 2160, 2161, 2162, 2163, 2164, 2165, 2166, 2167, 2168, 2169, 2170, 2171, 2172, 2173, 2174, 2175, 2176, 2177, 2178, 2179, 2180, 2181, 2182, 2183, 2184, 2185, 2186, 2187, 2188, 2189, 2190, 2191, 2192, 2193, 2194, 2195, 2196, 2197, 2198, 2199, 2200, 2201, 2202, 2203, 2204, 2205, 2206, 2207, 2208, 2209, 2210, 2211, 2212, 2213, 2214, 2215, 2216, 2217, 2218, 2219, 2220, 2221, 2222, 2223, 2224, 2225, 2226, 2227, 2228, 2229, 2230, 2231, 2232, 2233, 2234, 2235, 2236, 2237, 2238, 2239, 2240, 2241, 2242, 2243, 2244, 2245, 2246, 2247, 2248, 2249, 2250, 2251, 2252, 2253, 2254, 2255, 2256, 2257, 2258, 2259, 2260, 2261, 2262, 2263, 2264, 2265, 2266, 2267, 2268, 2269, 2270, 2271, 2272, 2273, 2274, 2275, 2276, 2277, 2278, 2279, 2280, 2281, 2282, 2283, 2284, 2285, 2286, 2287, 2288, 2289, 2290, 2291, 2292, 2293, 2294, 2295, 2296, 2297, 2298, 2299, 2300, 2301, 2302, 2303, 2304, 2305, 2306, 2307, 2308, 2309, 2310, 2311, 2312, 2313, 2314, 2315, 2316, 2317, 2318, 2319, 2320, 2321, 2322, 2323, 2324, 2325, 2326, 2327, 2328, 2329, 2330, 2331, 2332, 2333, 2334, 2335, 2336, 2337, 2338, 2339, 2340, 2341, 2342, 2343, 2344, 2345, 2346, 2347, 2348, 2349, 2350, 2351, 2352, 2353, 2354, 2355, 2356, 2357, 2358, 2359, 2360, 2361, 2362, 2363, 2364, 2365, 2366, 2367, 2368, 2369, 2370, 2371, 2372, 2373, 2374, 2375, 2376, 2377, 2378, 2379, 2380, 2381, 2382, 2383, 2384, 2385, 2386, 2387, 2388, 2389, 2390, 2391, 2392, 2393, 2394, 2395, 2396, 2397, 2398, 2399, 2400, 2401, 2402, 2403, 2404, 2405, 2406, Architect Notes.

R. C. Ballinger & Co., contractors, 218 North Thirteenth street, are making estimates on an asylum, to be erected at Bridgeton, N. J. It will be of brick and stone, three stories high, hard wood and iron for interior fittings, as well as all general conveniences for care of insane persons.

Competitive drawings are to be asked through the bureau of city property, Chief Eisenhower, for improvement of League Island Park, and specifications will be made for that purpose in the office of Chief Webster, of survey office. It is understood, a prize will be offered for the best set of plans for the work.

Keane & Mead, architects, 1420 Chestnut street, have made plans for a new house, to be erected at Bryn Mawr, Pa., for Samuel J. McGargee. It will be of stone and brick, hard wood interior. Steam heat, electric work, range and boiler, plumbing of the best system and all general conveniences, etc. Estimates are now in office of Appleton & Burrell, 1204 Chancellor street.

E. F. Durang, architect, 1200 Chestnut street, has on boards plans for a Roman Catholic church, to be erected at Audenreid, Pa., Rev. P. Malloy in charge. It will be 60 x 100 feet, one-story high, stone basement, brick above, and fitted with all late conveniences and furniture for church purposes. Also for another, to be erected at Beach Haven, N. J. Same description.

Adin Benedict Lacey, architect, 1020 Chestnut street, has made plans for a fine house for Judge James D. Campbell, to be erected at Wyncote, Pa. The structure will be of frame and shingle work, shingle roof, hard wood finish on interior, electric work and all the latest improvements included. Estimates being made on work in office of Wm. R. Dougherty, 1604 Sanson street.

Isaac Pursell, architect, 119 South Fourth street, has finished plans for a chapel building to be erected by the Fairmount M. E. congregation. It will be two stories high, brick and stone, and contain all the best comforts and conveniences on interior, upholstery, plain and leaded glass, hard wood seating and chancel, etc. Estimates are now being made on the work by general contractors.

Collins & Autenreith, architects, 410 Walnut street, as previously indicated in these columns, have completed drawings for the market house on Oxford street, east of Twentieth, for Mrs. Alice Van A. Lea, as owner, and the contract has been given to Geo. J. Sips, 212 South Seventh street, at about $15,000. It will be four stories high and fitted up for public society and entertainment purposes. It is 20 x 15 feet in area.

Westray Ladd, architect, Franklin Building, Twelfth and Walnut streets, has completed plans, previously noted, for a residence for W. K. Sinclair, Esq., to be erected at Malvern, Pa. It will be colonial in style brick and shingle work, hard wood interior, electric work, range and boiler in kitchen, cellar cement floored. All modern comforts will be introduced. Estimates are now in order in W. R. Dougherty's office, 1604 Sanson street, and other contractors.

T. Frank Miller, architect, Lippincott Building, Twelfth and Filbert streets, has finished plans for a fine colonial residence, to be erected at the northwest corner of Camac street and Fisher's lane, for John McCormick. It will be 24 x 48 feet, three stories, and contain ten rooms, besides the bath and store-rooms; hard wood, tile work, electric work, and all best comforts and conveniences, etc. Mr. Miller will supervise the construction entirely. Other plans in course of preparation by Mr. Miller will be announced shortly.

The Real Estate Trust Company is preparing to continue work on the remaining section of their new building east of the Freeman estate, on which one section is now nearing completion. Frank C. Roberts and Edgar V. Seeler, the architects representing the company, have filed plans for this eastern section with the bureau of building inspection for approval. It has not as yet developed when contractors will be asked to furnish estimates, but it is not thought this step will be taken for some time to come. The business of the company is now being transacted in the old building, which will be included in the new completed structure. The offices will finally be located in the Broad and Chestnut streets corner of the building, and no steps to vacate the present quarters will be taken until the new offices are ready for occupancy. The plans filed show the front elevation of the section yet to be built, and the general arrangement of the floor plan for the upper stories.

Horace W. Sellers and Chester H. Kirk, architects, Bourse Building, Philadelphia, have completed drawings for a fine residence for James H. Mack, to be erected at Monument and Ford roads, in this city. It will be three stories high, with face brick chimneys and finished on interior with hard wood, electric work, range and boiler, concrete and cemented cellar floor, plate glass windows and doors; all minor modern comforts and conveniences introduced. Drawings are for estimate in the office of Doyle & Doak, contractors, 133 South Fifteenth street. Also in same office are new drawings by James H. Windrim, architect, for certain modifications to the new Jefferson Hospital at Tenth and Walnut streets. These can only be estimated upon by examination of the plans and specifications, as the changes are indicated therein. A full set are on exhibition in the above named contractor's office.

Considerable addition will be made to the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company's Building, 925 Chestnut street, after plans made by their regular consulting architect, Louis C. Hickman, 928 Chestnut street. The improvements will be a new building three or four stories high on the north side of Chart street, which runs east and west in rear, connected by a large tunnel underground. The entire power and light plant will be transferred from the main structure and arranged in the new one. It is also intended to so adapt the new building as to increase the stories as demands may present themselves. Other minor work will be done to utilize the space vacated. Masonry, carpenter work, cement work, iron and brass work in grille, steel structural and plain iron work, marble, mosaic and other decorative art work will be introduced, electric work, plumbing, painting, etc. Mr. Hickman will supervise the entire work, which is to be started as soon as the details can be arranged. The entire building will be absolutely a fire-proof one.

J. F. Stuckert & Son, architects, 49 North Thirteenth street, have completed plans for an office building to be erected at 1802 Filbert street, and are now taking bids upon the drawings and specifications. The structure will be seven stories high, quite ornamental in design, with large coppered bays extending from second story upwards. The walls in front will be of colored brick, Indiana limestone trimmings and plate glass windows, slag roofing. Interior will contain steam heat, elevators, electric work, finest system of plumbing and ventilation, hard woods, grille iron and brass work, tile work and all the latest conveniences for such structures. Same architects are busily engaged on designs for a new store front for 1613 Chestnut street. It will be chiefly of stone and light colored brick, with large coppered bays extending from second to third floors, the fourth having a single window, ornamented with an iron railing in front; steam heat, electric work, radiators, cement paving and other minor improvements are among the specifications noted. Estimates are also in order on this work in office of the architects.

Plans have been prepared in the office of Charles McCaul, contractor, No. 10 North Eleventh street, for a very large four-story manufactory, to be erected at the southeast corner of Tenth and Spring streets, for Geo. B. Evans, owner. The structure will be of brick, stone and steel construction, fitted on the interior with steam power and heat, electric elevator and lift, plate glass windows upon all sides grille work of iron and brass, plumbing and gas fitting, as well as all modern conveniences. Estimates are now in order in the above office. Also in same office plans have been made for alteration of a store building at the southeast corner of Wharton and Juniper streets, for the Union Traction Company, as owners. This work will consist of masonry, carpenter work and general store fittings. In the same office may be seen plans by Wyatt & Nolting, architects, Baltimore, Md., for a United States post office, to be erected at Norfolk, Va., under the supervision of Supervising Architect Taylor, Treasury Department. The building will be of marble or granite, three stories and basement, and contain steam heat, electric plant, elevators and lifts, mosaic, marble and tile work, quite extensive in character; ward-ropes, closets, lavatories, etc. Estimates are being made in the above named contractor's office.

The American Institute of Architects closed the annual session at Washington, D. C., on the 3d inst. During the meeting much business was transacted beneficial to the general profession. A new set of by-laws were adopted, which go into effect January 1st, 1899. Resolutions were adopted, complimenting Secretary Gage for action relative to asking competitive plans from architects for public buildings and his encouragement as well as protection of the profession. Supervising Architect Taylor, of the Treasury Department, was present, and made valuable suggestions in regard to compensating the unsuccessful in competition for their labor, as these gentlemen were always put to much expense and labor when asked to compete for public work. A new set of officers were chosen as follows: President, Henry Van Brunt; first vice-president, W. L. B. Jenney; second vice-president, J. W. McLaughlin; secretary and treasurer, Glenn Brown; auditors, S. A. Treat (for two years), E. H. Kendall (for one year); directors, for one year, Frank Miles Day, Joseph C. Hornblower, T. D. Evans; for two years, Robert W. Gibson, Levi T. Scofield, W. M. Poindexter; for three years, Arthur G. Everett, of Boston; W. C. Smith, of Nashville; George B. Post, Pittsburg was chosen as the place of meeting in 1899, and then the convention came to an end.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Daniel Neveling will build a two-story brick dwelling, 16 x 44 feet, for Mary E. Basler, on the east side of H street, below Leavick.

Thomas S. McVaugh, owner, is putting up two two-story brick dwellings, each 16.4 x 45 feet, on the east side of Second street, south of township line.

Eldridge E. Dock, owner, will build five three-story brick dwellings, each 16 x 59 feet, on the west side of Forty-fifth street, south of Springfield avenue.

William J. Grubler intends to begin work at once on an addition to the residence of T. B. Phillips, West Walnut lane, west of Green street, Germantown. This includes a two-story structure, bay windows, a new dining-room, and hot air heat plant, with minor improvements.

RANDOLPH & CLOWES
Box 46, WATERBURY, CONN.

Charles M. Swain has awarded a contract to John A. Palmer for a library at No. 4433 Pine street. This library will be 20 x 25½ feet in dimensions and will cost $2000 to erect.

The Suburban Electric Company will erect a $3000 smokestack and boiler flue at its plant at Delaware avenue and Robbins street, Tacony. A permit for this work has been granted.

Macey, Henderson, & Co., 1215 Filbert street, are estimating for work on an addition to 335 South Twelfth street. All modern conveniences will be introduced on interior.

Ashton S. Tourison is about to build a one-story stone stable, 18 x 4 feet, for E. W. Clark, Jr., on the north side of West Mermaid avenue, near Thirty-fifth street, Chestnut Hill.

David Martin will build a $500 chicken house, 16 x 90 feet in dimensions, at his suburban home on the Welsh road above Holmesburg. Harry H. Travis has the contract for the work, and will start at once.

It is reported that George W. Ruch & Company, 2924 North Seventh street, have been granted the franchise for a sewerage system, to cost $200,000 for Sherman, Texas. E. M. Kearney is city secretary of Sherman.

A. Raymond Raff, contractor, will at once begin erecting a two-story boiler house for the American Brewing Co., at Thirty-first and Master streets. It will be 40 x 41 feet. Brick, stone and iron the materials used.

Milton W. Young, Overbrook, Pa., is about to build for Wendell & Smith a three-story stone dwelling 46.4 x 41.4 feet, with peaked roof and dormer windows, on the south side of Drexel road, east of Sixtieth street. Its estimated cost is $8000.

Killough Bros., owners and builders, will erect at once five dwellings, 23 x 41 feet, on Green street, below Duval, Germantown. All to be of local stone, and furnished with all conveniences, ranges, boilers, furnace heat and best plumbing, etc.

A. N. Ralph, contractor, 1634 Nectarine street, has the contract to erect the addition to the Forrest Laundry 1223-25 Columbia avenue, and fully noticed previously. The work will cost about $5000, and will be pushed rapidly to completion.

Frederick Walker is to make extensive alterations and additions to the house of E. L. Sheppard, at St. Martin's lane and Willow Grove avenue, Wissahickon Heights. These include a pantry, kitchen, porch and interior work, to cost $10,000.

M. P. Wills & Co., corner of Thirteenth and Walnut streets, have on boards for estimate, work on two structures in Norfolk, Va. These include interior and exterior work, and cover all modern conveniences. These bids must be in by November 15th.

Council's committee on F. Mount Park have agreed to recommend the passage of a bill appropriating $25,000 to grade and macadamize Lincoln drive from the Wissahickon drive to Johnson street, where it will connect with that part of the avenue already constructed through Pelham.

Marshall Brothers, whose property on Marlborough street wharf was recently damaged by fire, have awarded a contract to Armstrong & Pritzenhoff to rebuild the sheds. These will be covered with corrugated iron and will cost about $30,000. One will be 40 x 62 feet in dimensions and the other 15 x 43 feet.

Wm. G. Price, Jr., owner, will at once start work on eleven dwellings, two stories each, at the southwest corner of Fifty-third street and Parkside avenue. These are to be colonial in style, light colored brick, porches, and tile work, hot air heat, ranges, boilers, and all the best comforts on interior.

The committee on property, board of education, now favor strongly the purchase of a lot at the northeast corner of Thirty-third and Huntingdon streets for school purposes. The matter will come up in councils as soon as the ordinance can be framed for that body. $25,000 is the price asked for the ground.

Burd P. Evans, contractor, will build the new Sunday school structure in rear of Temple Baptist Church, Twenty-second and Tioga streets. It will be of stone and brick, two stories high, and cost about $15,000. The structure will cover 60 x 66 feet; fitted with all the latest furniture and conveniences for teaching the young.

J. W. Hoffman & Co., contractors, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets, have been awarded the contract by the Navy Department to construct coal storage sheds, wharves and conveyors at the New London, Conn., Navy Yard, their bidding being $187,000, which, however, was not the lowest one offered.

Estimates are being asked for erection of stone walls, steps, posts and iron fences, etc., around the Pennsylvania Institution for the Instruction of the Blind, at Sixty-fourth street and Malvern avenue. The general contractors for the new buildings are J. W. Mercer & Co., 208 South Seventh street. Cope & Stewardson the architects.

John Fitzgerald, contractor, will at once make extensive alterations to 1703 S. Rittenhouse street for the owner, J. B. Addicks. The work will include masonry, carpenter work, two rear additions raised to four stories, and copper cornice, bay windows of considerable beauty, beside this, all modern conveniences will be introduced on the interior.

The drawings for the reservoir to be erected at Georges Hill have now been fully completed in the office of Chief Trautwine, of the water bureau. It is altogether likely that orders will be issued at once for placing the plans on boards of the general contractors for estimate at once, as the people of West Philadelphia want a speedy termination of the work.

Thomas Reilly, contractor, 1616 Thompson street, will at once begin finishing up the interior of the Roman Catholic Church of Our Lady of Lourdes, at Sixty-third and Lancaster avenue. The work will consist of strengthening the tower for a bell, the marble altars, carpenter, paint and plaster work all being interior. The church building was partly erected some time ago.

The Foulke-Long Institute, at Thirty-third and Locust streets, are now contemplating the erection of an additional building, for a dormitory, to accommodate their large and growing school. No definite plans have as yet been announced, but the work will likely be started at an early day, as most of the obstacles in the way have been removed by action of council in vacating street in the way.

J. E. & A. L. Pennock, contractors, 305 Walnut street, have started the work of constructing the large power house for the Commercial Museum, as noted in a previous issue of this journal. The contract will be about $51,000. Same firm will also build, for the United Gas Improvement Company, a pair of twin dwellings at the Point Breeze Gas Works, approximating about $8000 in cost; and these have been fully noted. Wilson Bros., architects and engineers, Drexel Building, made the drawings in both cases.

Charles McCaul, contractor, 10 North Eleventh street, has been given the contract to erect the new United States Mint, at Sixteenth and Spring Garden streets, in this city. The structure will be of Mount Desert granite, instead of marble, as originally intended. The foundations are complete, and include the entire basement story. The superstructure and general finish is the part awarded to Mr. McCaul for $441,743, and must be completed within eighteen months from date of contract. The work in general detail was fully noted in these columns after the drawings were completed under supervision of J. Knox Taylor, the supervising architect of the Treasury Department.

The attention of our readers is called to the advertisement of N. & G. Taylor Company, Philadelphia, manufacturers of the "Taylor Old Style" brand of roofing tin. Their trademark of the target and arrow is quite familiar to our readers; each sheet is stamped or embossed with this trademark, the thickness 10 or 1x, the brand, "Old Style," and the name of the manufacturers, N. & G. Taylor Company, Philadelphia. This is done for the protection of architects, roofers, property owners, etc. Messrs. N. & G. Taylor Company were the originators of the idea, and were the first to put into practice the stamping of sheets of roofing tin with the name of the brand and the thickness. They have handled this kind of tin for the past sixty-eight years. It is the heaviest coated plate made, and manufactured entirely by the palm oil process. No rolls or machinery are used, each sheet being dipped and re-dipped by hand labor in open pots of metal of different degrees of temperature. It has other merits which our limited space will not allow us to describe, but which entitle the brand to the confidence of the trade. This firm can point to roofs in the old parts of Philadelphia, covered with the same kind of tin, that are just as good to day as when first put on, nearly seventy years ago. They have samples in their office testifying to this fact. They have agencies in every large city, from Boston to San Francisco. To those wanting a tin roof that will last a life time, we advise their using this brand.

—At Collingdale, Delaware county, the Baptist church was destroyed by fire last week. It will probably be rebuilt.

—At Allegheny, Allegheny county, a special committee has been appointed to report on a plan for improving the water system.

—At Lancaster, Lancaster county, the Lancaster Heat, Light and Power Company has under consideration improvements, to cost about $100,000.

—At Easton, Northampton county, it is probable that the borough of West Easton will put in a twenty-four inch sewer, 1000 feet long.

—At McKeesport, Allegheny county, at an election to be held in February, the question will be submitted of issuing bonds to the extent of $7500 for a bridge at Versailles avenue.

—At Bryn Mawr, Montgomery county, improvements will be made to the Rowan Catholic parochial school, of which Father Riordan has charge. The estimated cost is about $3000.

—At Mauch Chunk, Carbon county, at the election to be held in February, 1899, a vote will be taken on the question of issuing bonds to the amount of $40,000 for street improvements.

—At Sharon Hill, Delaware county, the Quinn tract of ground has been bought by William Johnson, of Philadelphia. It contains about seventeen acres, and will be improved by the erection of a number of dwellings in the spring.

It's the home of the reckless Idontcare,
Where the giveitups abide.

It stands at the bottom of Lazy Hill,
And is easy to reach, I declare,
You've only to fold up your hands and glide
Down the slope of Weakwill's slippery slide
To be landed quickly there.

The town is as old as the human race,
And it grows with the flight of years.
It is wrapped in the fog of idlers' dreams;
Its streets are paved with discarded schemes
And sprinkled with useless tears.

Wholesome Examples of American Nerve and Courage

were in line during the great Military parade, on Thursday, October 27th, last, and the wild and prolonged huzzas that greeted the boys in blue, who typified the quiet and unostentatious characteristics of our Army and Navy, had been justly earned and were well merited.

NERVE AND COURAGE

permeates every phase of American life, whether in the hot race of business competition or upon the battle field, and the history of American industrial progress is full of episodes exemplifying this.

It was the nerve and courage of the American manufacturers that founded the great American Hardware house, known the wide world over as the Russell & Erwin Mfg. Co., and it was this self same nerve and courage that established a standard of excellence for its product, and maintained it until it became recognized throughout the trade as the Hardware par excellence of the world.

This is the reason the dealers like it. The Architects specify it and the Builders buy it.

A Dead Man Can't But a Live Man May

Buy Clothes, Shoes, Food for his children, give them an education, nor provide necessities or comforts for his widow.

It's absurd to make such a statement, isn't it? Yet a great many people live as if a dead man could do these things.

* * * * *

They spin the web of their lives as if the thread were never to be broken. They live as if they were never to die.

Practically the only use for a dead man is as a memory, an example, or perhaps a warning.

The widow may turn to the washtub or counter, the girls to the factory, the boys to the street—the dead man can't prevent it.

He need not be rich in money to do so, nor have wealth in lands or goods.

A small sum set aside from his salary each year would keep his family from want many years after his death.

* * * * *

He may even provide an income for his wife as long as she outlives him until her death.

* * * * * HOW?

WATSON'S Annals of Philadelphia in the Olden Time

THREE LARGE VOLUMES FOR $5.00

Sons of the Revolution, Daughters of the Revolution, Colonial Dames and every person who is interested in the Colonial history of Philadelphia should have a copy of Watson's Annals. It is a collection of memoirs, anecdotes, and incidents of the city and its inhabitants, and of the earliest settlements of the inland parts of Pennsylvania, intended to preserve the recollections of olden time, and to exhibit society in its changes of manner and customs, and the city and country in their local changes and improvements. By John F. Watson, member of the Historical Societies of Pennsylvania, New York and Massachusetts. Enlarged, with many revisions and additions, by Willis P. Hazard. Profusely illustrated.

It is the only book that is an authority on the early history of this great city. We have made a new edition—three octavo volumes, handsomely bound in cloth, containing over 1700 pages and upward of seventy illustrations of old Philadelphia landmarks, which we sell at Five Dollars for the entire set of three volumes.

Greeley Advised "Go West"

Our advice to the Philadelphia builder is "go Southwest," and take a look at the ground we have secured and placed on the market, between 21st and 23d, running south from Moore, and intersected by Mifflin, McKean, Snyder Avenue, Jackson and Wolf Streets.

The above has been divided into plots, affording an exceptional opportunity for a progressive man.

THE PHILADELPHIA Real Estate Record AND BUILDERS' GUIDE.

VOL. XIII.—No. 46. PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1898. $5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

Baker & Dallett, architects, 1604 Chestnut street, have made plans for a very fine stable to be erected at Haverford, Pa., for Mr. George Philler, of that place. It will be two stories high, stone, brick and frame work, with all the latest conveniences on interior. Estimates being made at Mitchell Brothers', contractors, 2125 Race street.

Collins & Autenreith, architects, 410 Walnut street have finished plans for alteration of stores, 719-721 Market street, for Lit Bros. These stores are to be annexed to the present plant, and the work is principally interior improvements, including heat, electric work, fittings, shelvings, lavatories, closets, plumbing, etc. Estimates are being made.

Wm. H. Dougherty, contractor, 1604 Sansom street, has been given the contract to erect the office building, at 1533 Chestnut street, for Herman E. Benschur, for $25,000. As previously noted, the front will be ornamental, in granite, with large bays, first floor for store purposes, 18x102 feet in area. All modern conveniences. Addison Hutton is the architect.

The plans for an apartment house to be erected at Haverford, Pa., by J. H. White, are now on boards of contractors for estimates. It will be of brick, stone and iron construction and absolutely fireproof. Steam heat, electric work, elevator and lift, as well as all general conveniences, to be introduced. The plans were by Architect Holm, of Bryn Mawr, Pa., and previously noted at time of former estimate.

Kean & Mead, architects, Crozier Building, 1420 Chestnut street, have given Milton Young, of Overbrook, the contract to erect the house for S. J. McGargee, at Bryn Mawr, and previously noted in these columns. It will be an up-to-date structure in all its appointments and finish. Steam heat, electric work, hard wood finish, tiling and other decorations, plumbing etc.

Thomas Stephen, architect, Masonic Temple, Camden, N. J., has just made plans for a residence for A. A. Howell, Esq., to be erected at West Haddonfield, N. J. It will be of frame and stone, three stories high, slate roof, interior in hard woods, with all modern comforts. All bids to be in on the work by the 21st inst. Also plans for a stable and an addition to bakery for Harry W. Campbell, Camden, N. J.

Field & Medary, architects, 1414 South Penn Square, have completed plans for the St. Marks M. E. Church, to be erected at the northeast corner of Sixtieth and Lombard streets. Structure will be of brick, trimmed with stone, 72x100 feet in area, and interior fitted with general church furnishings, etc.

The trustees are in general charge of the work. Previously noted.

J. E. & A. L. Pennock, contractors, 305 Walnut street, are estimating on drawings by Wilson Bros., architects, for a valve house, 65x48 feet, for the United Gas Improvement Company, which will be erected at Twenty-second and Market streets gas works. It will be of granite, brick, iron and concrete work. Also, for a one story office building, to be erected at Bayonne, N. J.

Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, Manhattan Life Building, Fourth and Walnut streets, will at once prepare plans for an ice plant and stable for the Consumers Ice Company, at Norristown, Pa. It will be a two-story structure, and fitted on interior with all the machinery for the purpose. Brick, stone and cement work principal materials used in construction. No contracts let for the work.

Guy King, architect, 431 Walnut street, has made plans for a dwelling for Mr. H. L. Verner, at Bryn Mawr, Pa. It will be of stone and shingle, shingle roof, three stories high, interior to be in hard woods; steam heat, electric work and all general comforts. Also alterations for Mr. E. W. Mulligan at Glen Summit, Pa. The work will include all general comforts and conveniences to residence of the owner.

Lawrence Vischer Boyd, architect, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets, has completed plans for a house at Glenside Farms. This work has been previously noted. The work will be of stone, brick and frame, hard wood interior, electric work, heating, plumbing, range and boiler and all the latest conveniences. Estimates to be made in office of Appleton & Burrell, 1204 Chancellor street, and other contractors.

J. F. Richa, architect, 115 Chestnut street, for the Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Company, has made plans for a very large factory building, to be erected at their works on the Delaware river. It will be of brick, stone and iron, 90x300 feet, L shaped wing, 70x102 feet, and cost about $36,000, completed. Other improvements are being made, from time to time, by the same company, as needs occur.

Bailey & Truscott, architects, 421 Chestnut street, have completed plans for a fine stable, to be erected at Wynooce, Pa., for C. H. K. Curtis. It will be stone and plaster work, three stories high, interior in hard pine, cement work; very modern convenience for the care of horses. Also quarters for coachman will be provided, with home comforts. Estimates are being made on the work in the office of Jacob Myers & Sons, contractors, Juniper and Sansom streets.

As indicated previously in these columns, Chief Eisenhower, of the bureau of city property, has concluded to offer two prizes for plans, to be prepared by competition among architects or engineers of this city, for the improvement of League Island Park. Specifications have been prepared, under which drawings can be made and submitted. The first prize will be $750 for best set of plans; and $250 will be offered for the next best; so considered by five disinterested judges, who shall constitute the committee on award. All drawings must be submitted by January 14th, 1899, to the commissioners of city property, Public Buildings, Broad and Market streets.

Theophilus P. Chandler, architect, 328 Chestnut street, has completed drawings and specifications for alterations and additions to the Brown Brothers' building, Fourth and Chestnut streets. The work included is cut stone, brick, concrete, iron work, carpenter work, roofing, ventilators of the Pancoast system, skylights, painting, electric work, etc. Estimates now being made in the offices of J. E. & A. L. Pennock, contractors, 305 Walnut street. Also in the same office are the plans for parts of the work on the new Epiphany Church structures, now in course of construction at Seventeenth and Summer streets. See drawings for explanation of all the work involved in the present estimate. Isaac Pursell, 119 South Fourth street, is the architect for the latter job of work.

Horace Trumbaur, architect, Land Title Building, Broad and Chestnut streets, has completed plans for a very handsome residence, for Martin Maloney, Esq., to be erected at Spring Lake, N. J. The structure will be two stories high, but massive in construction, with columns and balustrades around the top and base; also an ornamental stairway leading to the main entrance in centre of building. The interior will be in various hard woods, tile and mosaic work, grille work, and other kinds of ornamentation. The first floor will contain parlors, reception rooms, library, etc; whilst the second will be divided into chambers, retiring rooms, baths and closets, special rooms for amusement, etc. The basement will be fitted with all conveniences, electric plant, furnace heat, special laundry and culinary department, cement floors, and special divisions for all needs, wine room, etc. By the same architect, plans for a large and handsome Casino, to be erected at the same place, have also been completed, and both are now on boards of Contractors Stacey Reeves & Sons, 1611 Filbert street, for estimate. This building will be two stories high, with a basement, and fitted throughout for a leading place of amusement; it also has a series of columns around the exterior. It will be of frame and brick, with considerable cement work. Interior will be in hard wood, electric work, hot air, best system of special plumbing, all modern conveniences.

A BOY

Once started to overtake a star, whose merry twinkling fairly enchanted
him. He climbed the long, steep hill, until, with weary footsteps he reached the top, when to his amazement he recognized that this bright and scintillating charm was just as far away as when he stood upon the green sward of the distant valley.

His goal was far away indeed, but
he had accomplished what no other boy had ever attempted.

HE HAD REACHED THE TOP

Obituary.

Mr. Jos. J. Snellenburg, on the 13th instant, at his Broad street residence; aged 49 years.

The death of Mr. Snellenburg marked the first break in a quartette which composed the firm of N. Snellenburg & Co., which, over a quarter of a century ago, started the clothing business in this city, and, through enterprise and hard work, carried it forward to its present magnificent proportions at Twelfth and Market streets and Passunk avenue and South street.

Mr. Snellenburg typified, in the highest sense, the broad generous nature, quiet and unostentatious manners, gained for him the esteem and love of all those who knew him. Considerate at all times of the welfare and feelings of others, the employees of the concern regarded him always as their friend as well as their employer.

He was deeply interested in charitable work to relieve distresses of the poor, and exercised an important influence in guiding and directing some of the many charitable organizations in this city. The interment took place on Tuesday morning, the remains having been deposited at Mt. Sinai Cemetery.

WE are indebted to Mr. Robt. W. Lesley, of the firm of Lesley & Trinkle, cements, 22 S. Fifteenth street, and 700 N. Delaware avenue, this city, for a copy of the Journal of the Franklin Institute, containing a history of the Portland Cement industry of the United States of which Mr. Lesley, who is also Vice-President of the American Cement Company, is the author.

Mr. Lesley's paper covers twenty-five pages of the Journal, and embraces about all that can be said upon Portland Cement from a scientific, as well as a practical, standpoint. Commencing with the efforts of Joseph Parker in 1790, who discovered what he called Roman Cement, which can be truthfully styled the first cement of commerce, the author takes the reader along to the efforts of one Joseph Aspdin, a bricklayer or plasterer, who in 1824 patented a high grade artificial cement in England, made of English chalk and clay from the beds of the rivers. This was the first Portland Cement in the market, it having taken its name from its strong similarity, when set and dried, to the celebrated building stone of that name so popular with English builders.

Mr. Lesley, after following the growth of the cement industry in Europe, enters into an elaborate description of the process of manufacture of American cements, and informs us that the first American cement plant was that of the Coplay Cement Company, which was established in 1855. From this beginning, for which the country is indebted to the personal efforts of Mr. David O. Saylor, President of the Coplay Cement Company, who afterwards became one of the founders of the American Cement Company, we are told that similar efforts were made subsequently, with various degrees of success and failure, in Michigan, Indiana, New York, Maine, Pennsylvania, California, New Jersey, Ohio, Texas, South Dakota, Arkansas, Illinois and Utah.

From a table embracing the output of Portland Cement in the United States we learn that in 1897 it consisted of 2,272,971 barrels, which had a value at the works of $8,521,489.

In 1893 the American product amounted to 85,000 barrels, hence the growth, as well as the use of American cement in fifteen years, has been something wonderful.

Of course the article would have been incomplete without a full record of scientific data and mechanical tests, which are given with a careful regard to the various uses to which, however, is to buy the November number of the Franklin Institute Journal, in which Mr. Lesley's history is published.

Architect Notes.

Isaac Pursell, architect, 119 South Fourth street, will soon announce the successful bidder on the erection of the insane asylum, at Bridgeton, N. J., for which he prepared the plans, and for which recent estimates were made by contractors in this city.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Fels & Company will at once repair the damage done by fire to their factory at Seventy-third street and Saybrook avenue.

Geo. L. Sipps, contractor, 212 South Seventh street, has been given the contract to make extensive alterations, interior and exterior, to Nos. 606-608 Market street, for C. H. Gorden & Company, owners. The work will include almost an entire new front to the building.

Macey, Henderson & Company, Head Building, 1215 Filbert street, are about to start work on the stack for the Shawmont pumping station, in Fairmount Park, for which they some-time ago were given a contract. It will be of brick, stone and iron work. It will be 173 feet high.

An ordinance has been prepared and offered in councils by Mr. Bringham, for the construction of a plant to purify the water supply of this city, and for which the general loan bill provides $2,700,000. Provision is made in the ordinance to cover two kinds of filtration through the medium of sand. It is expected some action will be taken at an early day.

The Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Company will at once begin erecting three separate buildings at their works at Greenwich Point, Delaware river, below the city. These are a main building, a power house and kiln house respectively, measuring 92x246 92x54 and 61x202 feet, each one story high. Brick, stone, iron and cement work will be the chief material used.

The plans for the Bell Telephone branch office building, at Seventeenth and Filbert streets, are now complete, and will be placed for estimate in the office of Chas. McCaul, contractor, No. 10 North Eleventh street, in a few days at most. The drawings were prepared in the above office and call for a colored brick, terra cotta and stone building, steel and iron work on interior, and contain all late improvements embodied in that company's other buildings throughout the city.

Messrs. Lathbury & Spackman, engineers, 1619 Filbert street, this city, have been engaged to remodel the Old London Portland Cement Co.'s plant, at Mailbank, Ontario, Canada. The work consists in practically rebuilding the plant and substituting rotary kilns for the kilns formerly in use. The same engineers are superintending the erection of the new cement plant for the Michigan Alkali Co., at Wyandotte, Mich.

Contractor Chas. McCaul will at once begin the erection of the $20,000 factory building for Thomas Potter Sons & Co., which was noted in this column some time ago. The proposed structure will be four stories high, and measure 48x190.2 feet. It will be built at the northeast corner of Second street and Erie avenue. Mr. McCaul has submitted plans to the bureau for the one story brick oil-cooking house to be built for the same firm. This structure will measure 36x107 feet, and the work will cost $7.00.

The Tileite Manufacturing Company, whose plant at Cambridge and North Third streets, was recently destroyed by fire, have removed to Nos. 56 and 58 North Second street, below Arch street. The building secured is five stories high, with basement attached, and is being fitted up with the most improved machinery. They will have at least four times as much room as the old quarters and greatly increased facilities. A large and well-stocked retail department will be a feature in the new establishment.

Some time ago we noted in these columns the fact that Trinity Baptist congregation, on Poplar street, west of Twenty-seventh street, intended to build a new church, but the matter was subsequently laid over for financial or other reasons. The matter has received new impetus and the work is to be again taken up by the building committee. It is designed by the church to have a white stone building, two stories high, and it will contain lecture room, Sabbath school, study, etc. Rev. H. R. Myers is the pastor in charge, who reports the congregation as in a prosperous condition.

Rittenhouse Quarry, Germantown, Wm. M. Watson, agent, furnished the stone for basement in the alteration and addition to the Laboratory Building, Women's Medical College, Twenty-second and Seybert streets.

Bernard L. Newman, owner, is about to erect six two-story dwellings, 15x50 feet each, at the southeast corner Fifty-first and Stiles streets. All to be of light-colored brick, stone facings and best comforts on interior.

Geo. C. Deltrich, contractor, is about to start the new factory for Alfred L. Butz, at 833-835 North Third street. It is to be 40x114 feet, four stories high, and of brick, stone and slow burning construction, with elevator lift and steam heat and power, etc.

The Atlantic Refining Company intends to erect a large stable and wagon shed, 32x103 feet, at Thirtieth and Powelton avenue. It is to be entirely of brick and shed of corrugated iron. All conveniences will be introduced in the stable.

Harry Brockelhurst, contractor, has been awarded contract to build a power house, 30x112 feet; also boiler house, 30x48 feet, at the Midvale Steel Works. The cost will reach $7000. All brick, stone and cement work; entirely fireproof.

Work is to be started upon the new Vivarium, at the University of Pennsylvania, under the repair and building department of the institution. It will cost about $7000, and be in keeping with the material used in the Biological House, now being finished.

As previously noted in these columns, the Continental Hotel Company will remodel entirely their entrances on Ninth and Chestnut streets, and construct covered copper and glass protection over the pavement to the building. Charles McCaul, contractor, 10 North Eleventh street, has the contract.

We learn that J. W. Proctor, the theatrical manager, contemplates erecting a new palace of amusement on the site now occupied by Marshall Smith & Co., on Eighth, above Chestnut street. The lease of the present tenant has not yet expired fully, nor have plans been made for the structure.

Mr. William T. B. Roberts, 410 Land Title Building, reports that he has recently sold one lot on the turnpike to A. Boyd, for $2575; one on Roberts avenue, east of Fairview avenue, to Frank Seeburger, for $2200; one on the corner of Fairview avenue and Roberts avenue, to C. E. Albright, for $2520; one to George H. Carey, for $2500; and another to Harry B. Harmer, for $2500, all of which will immediately erect handsome dwellings on the lots purchased. Mr. Lawrence Visher Boyd is preparing plans for a handsome colonial house for one of these lots, which will cost about $7500 to build. Mr. Seeburger, being an architect, will prepare plans for a handsome building for himself. The balance of the purchasers are arranging for their own architects to draw plans. Contracts have also been awarded to W. T. B. Roberts for two very artistic cottages from plans prepared by Yarnall & Goforth to Daniel Sperry, builder, of Fort Washington, to cost about $4000 each; one of them to be erected on Menlo avenue, north of Woodlyn avenue, and the other on the corner of Lynwood and Woodlyn avenues. Plans for another pair of houses have also been prepared by Messrs. Keen & Mead, to cost about $8000 for the pair, contracts for which have been awarded to Edmund Darton, of Ivyland, at the corner of Menlo and Keswick avenues. At Ogontz Park, plans for the new station have been approved, and contracts are expected to be awarded within the next few days. The contract for the new bridge adjoining the station has been awarded, and contractors are now at work on the same. Plans are now prepared for a store and dwelling on the turnpike, corner of Ogontz avenue, for Mr. George B. Wood, the harness manufacturer of Ogontz; plans by E. Allen Wilson, architect, 410 Land Title Building; same to cost when finished about $7000; contract awarded to Daniel Sperry, of Fort Washington. Also a pair of very artistic dwellings, one of them for Mr. James J. Lyons, of Ogontz, and also in the rear will be erected a one story blacksmith shop, for the use of Mr. Lyons, for his business; plans by Keen & Mead; contracts to be awarded in a few days. A lot at the corner of the turnpike and Spring avenue has also been sold, and a new house is expected to be erected on the same at an early date. 400 feet of front has also been sold on the south side of the turnpike, extending from Elkins avenue westward. On this will be erected a large Spanish dwelling, with stable in rear, which will cost, when completed, including ground, about $60,000; plans by Keen & Mead, 1420 Chestnut street; contract has been awarded to Benton S. Russell, of Ambler, for the erection of the same. Mr. Horace Trumbauer has just prepared plans for two dwellings for Ogontz Park; one English dwelling, to be erected on Spring avenue, south of the turnpike, and the other on Elkins avenue, south of the turnpike, which will cost, when completed, about $7500 each; contract for the erection of the same has been awarded to F. L. Hoover & Son, 703 Jayne street, Philadelphia. Mr. Trumbauer has also prepared plans for a dwelling on Spring avenue, Ogontz Park, for Mr. George W. Elkins; contract also awarded to Messrs. F. L. Hoover & Son. An artistic office will be ready in a few days for visitors at Ogontz Park.

On the Banks of the River Slow.

W. E. Curtis in Chicago Record.

My friend, have you heard of the town of
Foo-Chow
On the banks of the River Slow,
Where blooms the waitwhile flower fair,
Where the sometimeother scents the air,
And the soft goeasys grow?

It lies in the valley of Whatstheuse,
In the province of Letterslide,
And that tired feeling is native there—
It's the home of the reckless Idontcare,
Where the giveitups abide.

It stands at the bottom of Lazy Hill,
And is easy to reach, I declare,
You've only to fold up your hands and glide
Down the slope of Weakwill's slippery slide
To be landed quickly there.

The town is as old as the human race,
And it grows with the flight of years.
It is wrapped in the fog of idlers' dreams;
Its streets are paved with discarded schemes
And sprinkled with useless tears.

Greeley Advised "Go West"

Our advice to the Philadelphia builder is "go Southwest," and take a look at the ground we have secured and placed on the market, between 21st and 23d, running south from Moore, and intersected by Mifflin, McKean, Snyder Avenue, Jackson and Wolf Streets.

The above has been divided into plots, affording an exceptional opportunity for a progressive man.

Architect Notes.

Brouse & Arend, architects, 931 Chestnut street, have made plans for a house to be erected at Avalon, N. J. It is to be brick and stone, three stories high, hard wood interior, hot air heat, electric work, plumbing, range and boiler, papering and other decorations, etc. Estimates have been requested.

Plans have been designed by Architect Ed. Wenz, 1491 Third avenue, N. Y., for a flat building for Emil Green, 165 East Seventy-second street. The plans call for exterior of light brick and limestone trimmings, also iron beams, tin roof, skylight, wood mantels, mirrors, blinds, grille work, bathroom outfit, marble washstands, dumb waiter, concrete cellar floor, tiling, gas fixtures and steam heat. Cost, $24,000.

Joseph Anshutz, architect for Board of Education, 713 Filbert street, has on boards plans for a school house, to be erected at Eighth and Fitzwater streets. It will be four stories high, of stone, brick and iron construction. It is being arranged so that a play yard may be placed on the roof, because of lack of ground for recreation. The structure will be 90x100 feet, and contains all the latest comforts and conveniences for school purposes.

Harvey J. Shumway, architect, Atlantic City, N. J., has made plans for alteration and addition to the Hotel Rudolph, at that place, for Charles R. Myers, owner, and bids are being taken upon two sets of drawings, one indicating a six-story structure, 183x355 feet, and the other one a five-story high building, 32x135 feet, into which it is proposed to alter the present plant. Interior to have all the latest comforts and conveniences introduced.

Fields & Medary, architects, 1414 South Penn Square, have placed for estimate the plans for a fine dwelling for Geo. Brinton Roberts, to be erected at Bala. The drawings are in the office of Stacey Reeves & Sons, 1611 Filbert street, and call for a two-story structure of Chestnut Hill stone, Ohio stone trimmings; also a large back building.

The interior will be in hard wood, electric work, steam heat and ranges, boiler and all late improvements, etc.

W. C. Dickerson, architect, 534 Willis avenue, N. Y., has plans on boards for ten four-family brick and stone front flat buildings, to be erected for P. C. Smith, 555 Orange street. The work includes iron beams, tin roofs, skylights, concrete cellars, tiled halls, mosaic vestibules, cabinet mantels, mirrors, blinds, grille work, complete sets of plumbing, bathroom outfits and marble washstands; also combination ranges, dumb waiters, gas fixtures and steam or hot water heat. Cost, $150,000.

G. A. Schellenger, architect, 128 Broadway, N. Y., has plans for a six story brick and stone apartment building, 84x100 feet, to be erected for Paul B. Pugh, 674 Columbus avenue. The work will call for iron columns and beams, terra cotta, tin roof, concrete and mosaic tiled floors, ornamental iron and brass work, plate glass, nickel-plated plumbing, interior marble work, mantels, blinds, mirrors, grille work, steam heat, hot water supply system, electric wiring and elevator.

The drawings for the new high school to be erected at Chester, Pa., are nearing completion under supervision of Seymour Davis, architect, 917 Walnut street. It will be a four-story structure, of granite, brick and steel construction; the interior will contain steam heat, electrical work, ventilation of an approved system, blackboards, desks, closets, lavatories and all general school furnishings. The cost will approximate $125,000, and must be completed in one year from the start of building.

The plans for the large stable to be erected for Finley Acker, at Sixth and Willow streets, are now being modified in the office of the architect, John D. Allen, 1017 Chestnut street. As previously noted, the work will consist of light brick and stone or terra cotta trimmings, ornate in design, and interior fitted with a special system of stalls. Cement flooring and paving, plumbing and lighting upon an improved principle. All modern conveniences will be introduced. Estimates will be in at an early day.

The New York Yacht Club, Lewis Ledyard, vice commodore; John V. S. Oddie, secretary, and Frank J. Hurst, treasurer, will erect a club house at Nos. 37 to 41 West Forty-fourth street, on plot, 75x100.5 feet, which was doing architects have been invited to prepare plans in competition: McKim, Mead & White, 160 Fifth avenue; George A. Freeman, 27 East Twentieth street; H. Edwards Ficken, 10 West Twenty-second street; Carrere & Hastings, 28 East Forty-first street, and C. C. Haight, 111 Broadway.

Charles P. H. Gilbert, architect, Townsend Building, corner Twenty-fifth street and Broadway, New York, has completed plans for a large six-story store and office building, to be erected at 564, 566 and 568 Broadway, in the above city. The structure will be of stone and brick, iron skeleton, interior to have steam heat, electric elevators, two lifts, plate glass windows, electric lights throughout, plumbing and gas fitting. All modern conveniences introduced. A full set of specifications and drawings are in the office of Doyle & Doak, 133 South Fifteenth street, for estimates.

Messrs. Collins & Autenreith, architects, 410 Walnut street, are about to start the preparation of plans for adding the large Lippincott stores, 715-717 Market street, to the Lit Bros. As noted previously, estimates are being made on the structures 719-721 Market street. We can say the work of a t'eration to all, as above noted, will be continuous during the fall and winter months until completed. It will embrace elevators, electric work, an extensive system of plumbing and ventilation; also store fixtures and general conveniences included in store buildings of that class.

Robeson Lea Perot, architect, has awarded contract for new Sunday-school for Christ Protestant Episcopal Church, Christiana Hundred, Delaware, to Mr. James M. Smyth, Highlands, Wilmington, Del. Includes plate and leaded glass, cut stone trimmings, granite face stone work, steam and hot air heating, hard wood finish, maple flooring, iron grille work, Wilson's rolling partitions, finest hardware, wrought iron work, Peach bottom slate roof, etc.; all latest improvements. Has other work on boards, including some residences in Philadelphia and suburbs, and large gate lodge, etc., which will be noted later as work progresses.

Kennedy, Hayes & Kelsey, architects, 931 Chestnut street, have let the contract for the fine country house of W. N. Wilbur, at Devon, Pa., to Morris J. Smith & Co., contractors, Betz Building. A very full description has been given in a previous issue of this journal, of the constructive work. The same firm are preparing plans for a very extensive addition to the Home of Our Merciful Saviour for Crippled Children, at Forty-sixth and Baltimore avenue. It will be a stone and brick building, three stories high, and contain every modern comfort and convenience on the interior for care and well being of the inmates, including steam heat, electric work, lavatories, closets and toilet rooms, etc., dormitories, reception rooms and officers' quarters, etc. Contract not yet awarded.

We previously noted the fact that Harry Peale, Jr., architect, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets, was engaged on plans for an apartment house for Dr. C. H. S. Littleton. These are now completed, and the work will proceed at once, under Frank S. Edggs, contractor, 338 South Thirteenth street. The structure will be erected on Thirty-seventh street, north of Market street and be 38x94 feet, seven stories high; the exterior is quite ornamental in design, and of stone the first two stories, whilst the rest will be of brick and terra cotta work. The first will be fitted with parlors, reception and smoking rooms, kitchen and dining rooms, etc. All the remainder will be in apartments, en suite, with baths and every modern convenience, elevators, electric work, cement work, brass and iron grille work, mosaic and tile work.

Market and Twelfth Sts.
5th, South and Passyunk Ave.

The South St. Store Open Evenings till 9 o'clock

Harry Peale, Jr., architect, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets, is making plans for an eight-story building, to be erected at 112-114 North Twelfth street, for Walter E. Herring. It will be 40x18 feet, stone and steel construction, steam furnace and heat, electric work, elevator and lift, with all modern conveniences on interior.

Thomas Little & Sons, 217 Pear street, have awarded the contract to build the house previously noted, for Dr. Jayne, after plans by Furness, Evans & Co., architects, Provident Life Building, Fourth and Chestnut streets. It will be stone and brick, handsome in design, interior in hard wood, slate roof, plate glass, and leaded as well, electric work, cement work, tile and marble work, and every device for general comfort.

O. W. Shelly, architect, with offices in the Franklin Building, Twelfth and Walnut streets, and at South Bethlehem, Pa., has completed plans for the First Mennonite Church, to be erected at the southwest corner of Franklin street and Indiana avenue. The structure will be one story and basement, 38x66 feet, and cost about $3500 when completed. Mr. Shelly has taken out a permit for the work. Previously noted.

Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, Twelfth, above Chestnut street, have awarded Thomas Rush, contractor, the building of the fine dwelling for Edward Duval, on Wyoming avenue, near Adams street, Frankford. It is to be a three-story frame and brick building, hard wood interior, and as previously described, contains all the latest improvements. The same architects inform us that they are busy upon preliminary drawings for quite an amount of work for the approaching building season, and some of which will be pushed forward during the winter months, weather permitting. Details will be noted as the drawings advance.

E. F. Durang, architect, 1200 Chestnut street, is engaged on plans for the remodeling of St. Paul's R. C. school house, which will now be attached to the new Italian parish, just formed. It will be refitted throughout with modern conveniences. In the same architect's office plans are being pushed to completion for the new college building, to be erected by the Augustinian Brothers, at Villa Nova, Pa. This will be one of the largest and most complete institutions of learning in this country. It will be of stone and brick, steel interior, and fire proof throughout, heated by steam, and a special electrical plant, a very complete system of dormitories and official rooms arranged for, closets, lavatories, wash and toilet rooms; considerable ornamentation will be introduced. It is expected to make the start upon the structure at an early day.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

George W. Fredericks, contractor, will at once begin the erection of a two-story tannery, 40x105 feet, on the east side of Third street north of Poplar, for Burke Brothers. It will cost about $15,000.

The Philip Ann Co. are taking estimates on alterations to the Astoria Hotel at Atlantic City, N. J. These contemplate not only exterior but largely interior, with all late improvements and general comforts.

Two large stables were destroyed by fire at Gloucester N. J., on the morning of the 21st inst., belonging to William J. Thompson, also the Pine Grove brewery building, adjoining the stables, the loss being about $20,000.

Bernard L. Neiman will build seven two-story houses on Stiles street, west of Fifth. All to be of press brick, stone facings and best comforts on interior, heaters, ranges, boilers, tile work and other modern improvements.

The First Baptist Church has just added to its recent purchases at Seventeenth and Sansom streets, No. 1627 Moravian street for the purpose of enlarging their building site, for which competitive plans are now in progress.

Stacey Reeves & Sons, contractors, 1611 Filbert street, have on boards for estimate drawings for a two-story brick, stone and iron blacksmith shop, to be erected at Baldwin's Works, Fifteenth and Hamilton streets. It will 102x162 feet in area.

Mr. John T. Fynes, manager for Mr. J. W. Proctor's Theatre in New York, says the latter is determined to secure a theatre in Philadelphia, and if he can't lease one to suit him he will be compelled to build. Neither site, plans or ground has thus far been secured.

J. E. & A. L. Pennock, contractors, are making estimates on plans by the Wilson Bros., architects, for a two-story stone and brick office, 60x77 feet, and a stable and wagon shed, all for the United Gas Improvement Company, at Buckius lane and Frankford avenue.

Whelan Brothers, 240 Glenwood avenue, will at once start building nine dwellings on west side of Chadwick, south of Jackson street. These are to be of faced brick, with brown stone trimmings, furnace heaters, ranges and boilers in kitchen, as well as all modern conveniences.

M. J. Smith & Co., contractors and builders, 1108 Betz Building, have broken ground for the extensive alterations and additions to the country residence of Mr. W. N. Wilbur, near Devon. Messrs. Kennedy, Hayes & Kelsery are the architects for this work, of which previous mention has been made.

Walter E. Steelman, builder, 18 South Fortieth street, will at once begin the erection of sixty-four dwellings on the site of the brick yard, northwest corner of Thirty-first and Huntingdon streets. These are to be of press brick, stone facing, and furnished on the interior with all the latest comforts, furnaces, ranges, boilers, etc.

The bids for alterations and additions to Truck H's house, Main and Seymour streets, were opened on the 18th inst., and all being in excess of the appropriation, it is likely that no award will be made at present for the work. Council only gave $5000 for the job. Joseph M. Huston, architect, made the plans which were noted some time ago in this journal.

Charles McCaul, contractor, No. 10 North Eleventh street, has been awarded the contract to build the U. S. Mint in Philadelphia, as well as the U. S. Custom House and Post Office in Camden, N. J. The latter building will be of marble, two stories high, and the former of granite and three stories above basement. A very full description of both has already been given in these columns.

In the office of Charles McCaul, No. 10 N. Eleventh street, estimates are still being offered on the Geo. B. Evans Building, to be erected at Tenth and Spring streets, and for which Mr. McCaul made the plans. These plans have been fully noted in a previous issue of this journal. Also on same boards are the drawings for the Norfolk, Va., post office and court house, which we noted in these columns a few weeks since.

The contract to build the Tennant Memorial Presbyterian Church, at Fifty-second and Arch streets, has been awarded to J. L. Given by Isaac Pursell, architect, 119 South Fourth street, who made the plans. As noted previously in these columns, it will be 38x86 feet, stone and brick, with peaked roof, covered with slate, metal cornice, interior heated by furnace, and all conveniences and church furnishings introduced. Work to start at once.

The Master Builders' Exchange held its quarterly meeting on the 22d inst., and were to be addressed on the occasion by Mr. Frank Furness, the well-known architect. Mr. Furness was compelled to decline on account of illness, and Mr. Evans, of the same firm, took Mr. Furness' place. As usual, a handsome luncheon preceded the business meeting, at which delegates and alternates were selected to represent the association at the next national meeting in Milwaukee, Mich., February 14-15-16, 1899.

Charles J. Heckler will at once begin the erection of 118 dwellings, at Twenty-first street and Indiana avenue, the operation costing about $180,000. These are to be two stories high, porch fronts. On the Banks of the River Slow.

W. E. Curtis in Chicago Record.

My friend, have you heard of the town of
Foo-Chow

On the banks of the River Slow,
Where blooms the waitwhile flower fair,
Where the sometimeorother scents the air,
And the soft goeasys grow?

It lies in the valley of Whatstheuse,
In the province of Letterslide,
And thattiredfeeling is native there—
It's the home of the reckless Idontcare,
Where the giveitups abide.

It stands at the bottom of Lazy Hill,
And is easy to reach, I declare,
You've only to fold up your hands and glide
Down the slope of Weakwill's slippery slide
To be landed quickly there.

The town is as old as the human race,
And it grows with the flight of years.
It is wrapped in the fog of idlers' dreams;
Its streets are paved with discarded schemes
And sprinkled with useless tears.

Why Not Do It Now?

You will find that 1899 will prove to be a revelation in a business sense, compared with the drastic conditions from which the whole country is now escaping.

The volume of business will keep on increasing, and financial conditions must adjust themselves to business necessities, or the business men of the country will demand some other financial system.

Business integrity justly merits recognition as a factor in bank accommodations, and it must get it.

The man with a pull is the one who keeps posted. The readers of this journal are always posted in advance.

The cost of a year's subscription is little enough; $5.00 per year is less than ten cents per week.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, NOV. 30, 1898.

THE architects whose plans have been admitted for final competition for the Phebe Hearst University of California are as follows: Messrs. Barbaud & E. Bauhaim, Paris; E. Bernard, Paris; Prof. F. Blutschli Zurich, D. Despradelles and Stephen Codman, Boston; R. Dick, Vienna; J. H. Freedlander, New York; G. Heraud and W. C. Eichmuller, Paris; Howard & Cauldwell, New York; Howells, Stokes & Hornbostel, New York; Lord, Hewlett & Hull, New York; Whitney Warren, New York. These were selected by the jury, consisting of J. L. Pascal, representing France, who is also the presiding officer; Paul Wallot, vice president, representing Germany; R. Norman Shaw, representing England; Walter Cook, representing the United States, and J. B. Reinstein, representing the University of California. The jury closed its sessions at Antwerp on October 4th, and the vote was unanimous as to the plans which have been selected for the final competition, but four other plans have been recommended for purchase by the University.

On June 19, 1899, the jury, together with the invited architects, will meet at San Francisco, when the plans, which must be approved by regents of the university, will be determined upon, after which contracts will be made.

It is stated that the construction work for the various buildings will take twenty-five years to complete.

Architect Notes.

Wilson Eyre Jr., architect, 927 Chestnut street, has completed plans for a large dwelling for Frank Squire, and to be erected on Greenwich street, New York, also a stable for same owner at same place. It will be 70x30 feet and frame construction.

W. G. Price, Jr., builder, is about to start eighteen two-story dwellings, with stone fronts, on east side of Fifty-third street, south of Parkside avenue. These houses are to have bay windows, galvanized cornices, furnace heat, boilers and ranges, and all modern comforts.

Otto C. Wolf, architect, 1345 Arch street, has completed all the plans in detail for a Roman Catholic academy and chapel building for Sisters of St. Joseph, at Sea Isle, N. J. It is likely to cost about $20,000, and the contract will be awarded at an early day. Previously noted in the columns of this journal.

Totten & Rogers, architects, 931 Chestnut street, have on boards plans for alteration and addition to "Boothhurst," New Castle, Del. These will be quite extensive in character and include half timber work, exterior extensive metal work, interior in hard wood, hot air heating, plumbing, and all modern conveniences.

Joseph Bird, contractor, will be given the contract to remodel the new stores on the east of Lit Bros. for that firm. The plans, by Messrs. Anterleith & Collins, architects, are still in course of preparation for the above work, as noted some time ago in this journal. This work will include the Lippincott Building, 715 7 1/2 Market street.

Bailey & Truscott, architects, 421 Chestnut street, have finished plans for a residence at Ardmore, Pa., for J. L. Bailey, and placed them on boards for estimate in the office of Jacob Myers & Sons, contractors, Sansom and Juniper streets. It will be of frame and stone work and contain hard wood interior, electric work, plate glass and modern conveniences. Previously noted in this journal.

T. Frank Miller, architect, Lippincott Building, Twelfth and Filbert streets, is engaged to prepare plans for a fine house for Dr. N. S. Nowells, at Logan Station. It will be of local stone, slate roof, three stories high, and porches around exterior. The interior will contain hot air, electric work, range and boiler, tiling, painting and papering and other decorations. All general comforts will be introduced. Mr. Miller is at present building a house at same place for W. H. McCormick and same character in material and design as the above.

J. D. Caldwell, contractor, 5622 Germantown avenue, will at once begin work on the very fine residence for James Mack, previously noted in these columns at Monument and Ford roads, in the Thirty-fourth ward. The plans were prepared by Chester Kirk and Horace W. Sellers, architects, Bourse Building. The drawings call for a two and a half-story L-shaped structure, to have a front of local stone and brick. It will measure 62x60 feet, and will have numerous bay windows and be elegantly fitted up in the interior with hard woods. The house will be built in the colonial style of architecture.

In a public competition for the new St. Paul's P. E. Church, Chester, Pa., the designs submitted by G. Nattress & Son, of 430 Walnut street, Philadelphia, were unanimously selected by the building committee. The plan comprises a nave, 55x90; chancel, 30x22, square tower, transepts, aisle, baptistery and large choir vestry, and the parish building, which adjoins, has large entrance hall; infants' and other classrooms on first floor; second floor, large assembly room, and in the basement is a gymnasium, guild room, kitchen, heating chamber and store room. The style will be English Thirteenth century Gothic; walls of stone or granite, slate roofs, cut stone trimmings; supports of the roof of church will be open timber with oak finish; leaded glass in all windows, tile and mosaic floor to chancel, upholstery and hard wood pews, etc.

Lawrence Vischer Boyd, architect, Harrison Building Fifteenth and Market streets, has completed plans for a very fine house, to be erected at "Glenside Farms," Pa., for Mrs. Catherine E. Boyd. It will be colonial in design and three stories high, of dark red brick, shingle roof, interior to be in hard woods, electric work, furnace heat, boiler and range; cement floor in cellar and paving. All modern conveniences will be introduced. Estimates being made on the drawings at 16 1/2 Sansom street. Mr. Boyd is congratulated on all sides upon the completion of a Moorish Cafe "for gentlemen, in the third floor of Partridge & Richardson's store, Eighth street, above Market street. The design is entirely the result of observation of Mr. Boyd upon a recent tour in Moorish and Turkish lands. Other plans are now in course of preparation in Mr. Boyd's office, which will be noted later in these columns.

Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320-324 Walnut street, have now completed all the details in drawings for the Law School to be erected at the University of Pennsylvania, and placed the specifications and plans for estimate on boards in offices of J. E. & A. L. Pennock, 305 Walnut street and other contractors. The structure will be a colonial two-story one, brick, stone and terra cotta work; the roof in centre between chimneys will be of heavy glass in iron truss construction, interior absolutely fireproof, being steel, cement and hollow material; windows of glass, small size panes. The first floor will contain five lecture rooms and one debating room, also a main hall and offices for dean and other officials, all fitted in hard woods, whilst the second floor will contain three immense reading rooms and other official quarters fitted in various hard woods, closets, lavatories, electric work and all conveniences. The sub-basement is to receive the electric plant, the fan room and dynamo, engine and boiler, the whole based upon concrete work. The basement will be fitted with quiz rooms, club room and bicycle storage, etc. The entire building will be heated by steam and ventilators. A vast amount of labor will be involved, as well as covering all kinds of building material in the construction of this—one of the greatest institutions of learning in this country. In addition to the above are plans for a handsome fence of iron and gateway of same material, and stone work surrounding the above-named structure, which is open for estimate. Estimates are also still being made upon the addition to the Brown Building, at Fourth and Chestnut streets, after plans by Theophilus P. Chandler, architect, and which have been previously noted in these columns.

This Journal is mailed Weekly and Continuously to Every Architect in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Washington, D. C.; also to every builder and owner obtaining a building permit in Philadelphia and Camden; also to every person reported in its columns as building or going to build anywhere and everywhere.

This is our Contract with advertisers, and is independent of our subscription list; it means more buyers of construction material than is reached in the above territory by any Journal in America.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Nesbitt & Co., plumbing, gas and steam fitting, have removed from 805 Master street to 3346 Germantown avenue.

William T. B. Roberts, the well-known builder, has purchased from Charles T. Cronin twenty-four lots of ground in the neighborhood of Wakefield and Coulter streets, for $11,701.

Charles McCaul, contractor, 10 North Eleventh street, is about to add a new draughting room, 20x24 feet, to his offices. This has been rendered necessary on account of increase in volume of business.

Contractors Jno. M. Hughes & Sons will raise and repair five dwellings, 2665 to 2673 Belgrade street. Underpinning will be done in all. Stone and brick will be the material principally used. Carpenter work as well.

W. J. Gruhier, contractor, is about to begin extensive alterations and additions to residence of Thomas W. King, at Coulter and Greene streets, Germantown. These include interior and exterior work, all modern conveniences, etc.

The Pettit Ornamental Iron and Fence Company are building at Ambler a shop at present, and next year intend erecting a very large main building at the same place. The present one in course of construction is 13 x 150 feet in area.

Einwechter & Sons, contractors, are asking estimates for 25,000 white enameled bricks, to be used in the construction of light wells in the new U. S. Mint, at Sixteenth and Spring Garden streets. Messrs. Einwechter & Sons' offices are 122 1/2 Filbert street.

John Rolliston, contractor, will at once begin the erection of brick and stone chapel for the Gethsemane English Lutheran Church, at southwest corner of Sixtieth and Callowhill streets. Cost, about $2500. It is proposed to eventually erect a large church on the same lot, it being 106x124 1/2 feet.

Rev. R. C. Turner will, during the current week, start the endeavor to raise $10,000 as a building fund for the erection of a church and a Sabbath school at Tulip and Cornhill streets. The Summerfield M. E. Church has worshipped in the present chapel until Mr. Turner thinks it too small for the increase of congregation, hence the move to build. No plans or details have been perfected for the work.

A fair is to be given in the Third Regiment Armory, in this city, during early December, for the purpose of raising an armory fund for the new Twentieth Regiment, Col. George F. Leland, commanding. An option has been secured on a site, and as soon as $5000 is secured as a nucleus, it is proposed to begin the work of erecting a building suitable for at least their temporary needs.—A new floor and other work is to be started at once in the old car barn, at Twentieth street and Montgomery avenue, for Col. Bostyshell's regiment, the Nineteenth. Of course, much will depend upon the coming action of the new Legislature, about to assemble in January next, for financial aid in this work.

Councils' Committee on Police and Prisons have formulated and approved the ordinance creating the Division of Elevator Inspectors of the Bureau of Building Inspection. The ordinance is highly technical and provides for the examination of all passenger elevators once each month, and of freight elevators once in each three months. Passenger elevators are defined to be any lifts that carry more than the person employed to operate them. A fee of $1.25 is to be collected for each inspection, but certificates of insurance companies will be accepted. The staff of the division will consist of a chief, at $2000 per annum; an assistant, at $1500, and four for the maintenance of a horse and carriage, and ten inspectors at $1000. From all indications the above will become a law.

The officials at League Island are devoting their attention to the consideration of plans for improving the yard. The work of boring, preliminary to the construction of the new dry dock, has been started. The borings, showed that the site selected is an admirable one. At a depth of about thirty feet a gravel bed was struck. This is exactly what is desired for the construction of a concrete dock. The act authorizing the construction of the new dry dock specifies that it shall be of timber. It is thought that an effort will be made to change the act so as to permit the use of concrete. It is believed that, with the material at hand at League Island, a concrete dock will cost no more than would one constructed of timber. Unless further scaling down of the estimates for general yard improvements is made, the officials will be content. The first estimates were, in the aggregate, $1,503,000. These were scaled down by Chief Endicott, of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, Washington, to $775,000. Several of the items were left as they were originally, and the scaling was done judiciously. If the Secretary does not cut down the recommendations as they now stand, the yard will fare well.

At the quarterly meeting of the Master Builders' Exchange, held on the 21st inst. the following nominations were made of delegates and alternates to attend the Twelfth Annual Convention of the National Association of Builders, at Milwaukee, on February 14 to 16. Charles H. Reeves, William Conway, David H. Watts, A. J. Slack, Thomas Armstrong, R. C. Ballinger, William McCouch, Cyrus Borgner and Michael Melody. The executive officers were authorized to add any names they thought proper. Architect Frank Furness, of the firm of Furness, Evans & Co., was scheduled to make an address, but was prevented by sickness. Allen Evans, of the same firm, was present in his place, and made some impromptu remarks upon "The Relations Between the Architect and Builder." A discussion bearing upon his remarks followed, and was taken part in by John S. Stevens, Franklin M. Harris, Stacey Reeves, George Watson and General Louis Wagner, who was a guest. Mr. Evans was given a vote of thanks. George Watson, who is chairman of the Trades School attached to the Exchange, said that unless funds were obtained the school would be closed at the end of the year. He blamed the members for not taking more interest in the project, which has lately been deprived of legislative appropriations. He asked the support of the Exchange in an effort to secure the whole or part of the yearly interest of the Franklin Fund, which is in the keeping of the Board of City Trusts, and amounts to $120,000. The fund was founded by Benjamin Franklin, and was intended to aid young mechanics to success. A committee of five, of which Mr. Watson is chairman, will confer with Joseph L. Caven, of the Board of City Trusts. R. C. Ballinger announced that he would be one of fifty members to subscribe $20, and by that means raise $1000 for the school. W. S. P. Shields made a motion, which was carried, that a committee of five be appointed to arrange for a subscription banquet to be held in December, and A. J. Slack's motion, that the entertainment committee be authorized to arrange for an old-time jollification on the last day of the year, was also adopted. There was a large attendance of members, all of whom took part in the luncheon, which was served in the cafe previous to the meeting.

W. E. Curtis in Chicago Record.

My friend, have you heard of the town of
 Foo-Chow

On the banks of the River Slow,
 Where blooms the waitawhile flower fair,
 Where the sometimeorother scents the air,
 And the soft goeasys grow?

It lies in the valley of Whatstheuse,
 In the province of Letterslide,
 And thattiredfeeling is native there—
 It's the home of the reckless I-ontcare,
 Where the giveitups abide.

It stands at the bottom of Lazy Hill,
 And is easy to reach, I declare,
 You've only to fold up your hands and glide
 Down the slope of Weakwill's slippery slide
 To be landed quickly there.

The town is as old as the human race,
 And it grows with the flight of years.
 It is wrapped in the fog of idlers' dreams;
 Its streets are paved with discarded schemes
 And sprinkled with useless tears.

Effervescence

in commercial circles is known as wind, Wind, as a word in commercial circles, is usually used in the way of derision

They who have lost, or are rapidly losing trade or business prestige, through obsolete methods find much comfort in criticizing the other fellows' up-to-date ways and means.

Wind in commercial circles is said to have no value. Let us see!

The fast sailing ship upon the sea, lying listless for the want of wind, represents daily commercial loss which will soon run into thousands. Hence, some commercial owner is the sufferer.

Pointed, terse and telling advertising is sometimes called wind by competitors, who cannot or will not advertise their wares.

Such wind is commercially profitable,
because it guides and directs the buying public in a short way to what it wants.

Now right here the Russell & Erwin Manufacturing Company's Super-Extra Hardware comes in. The buying public is most notably large. That part of it, who are acquainted with the true goodness of the Russell & Erwin's Hardware, are steadfast and loyal,
but we want everybody to know it. Hence,
this advertisement.

Buy it. Try it and you will use no other

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, DEC. 7, 1898.

WE are indebted to the Hon. Stephen N. Winslow, editor and proprietor of the "Commercial List and Price Current" of this city, for copy of his pamphlet, giving the official statement of the state commissioner of banking, of the condition of the Philadelphia trust and savings fund companies, up to the close of business on November 3d, last. This little work is particularly valuable to the stockholders and depositors in these institutions.

Office and Works of
RANDOLPH & CLOWES.

Waterbury, Conn., Dec. 3, 1898.
The Editor Phila. Real Estate Record, Philadelphia, Pa.

Gentlemen:—Because of the excessive storm in this locality, the roof of our brass and copper rolling mill caved in on Sunday morning, November 27th, on account of which we have been somewhat delayed in filling orders for this class of material during the past week.

We have finished removing the debris of the wreck, and have erected temporary constructions over the machinery, and the brass mill will be in full running order Monday next December 5th, when we will have all the rolls running in this department, and will be able to finish sheet brass to all of our customers promptly.

The entire brass and copper mill will be in full operation December 12th. No damage or interruption occurred in any other department of the works, and the seamless tube, brazed tube, kettle and boiler plants were in full operation Monday morning, November 28th, as usual. The damage to the machinery was very small, less than $1000, and the cost of replacing the roof with a permanent and substantial wooden roof will not exceed $6000, or if an iron roof is used will not exceed $12,000, which expenditure will put the mill in better condition than before the accident.

Very respectfully,
RANDOLPH & CLOWES.

Architect Notes.

Lindley Johnson, architect, Harrison Building, has completed his drawings for the alterations to the fronts of 512-514 Walnut street. The work will consist of new entrance and structural work, and will likely be started at an early day.

James H. Windrim, 1107 Walnut street, has completed plans for some additions to the new steel pier, at Atlantic City, N. J., which consist of new parts to the Casino building and other minor details. Doyle & Doak, 133 South Fifteenth street, are figuring on the drawings.

Geo. F. Pelham, architect, 503 Fifth avenue, N. Y., will at once prepare plans for four stores and tenements, to be erected at 163-172 West Huston street and 26 to 36 Hancock street, for Lanowitz & Fine, 895 Broome street. All to be of brick, with stone trimmings and modern improvements.

Baker & Dallett, architects, 16 1/4 Chestnut street, have been taking revised bids on a residence, to be erected at Bar Harbor, Me. These include heat, lighting, plumbing, roofing and interior wood work, decorations, etc. Same architects have on boards plans for work which will be noted very fully when details are completed.

D. H. Burnham & Co., architects, Rookery, Chicago, Ill., are making plans for a seven story steel skeleton warehouse, to be erected at Polk and Edgworth streets, for Marshall Field & Co. Pile foundation, brick and stone walls, composition r. of, electric work, steam heat, elevators and all general conveniences. Cost about $1,000,000.

Schneider & Herter, architects, Bible House, N. Y., have made plans for four brick and stone flat buildings for L. Kauffman, 35 Nassau street. These will have iron columns and beams, tin roofs, concrete cellars, tiled work, iron stairs, plate glass and all modern comforts. The same architects have plans, also, for a flat building, at 235 East Eighty-first street, for Bernhard Meyer, 35 Nassau street. It will be of brick and stone, with iron columns and beams, tin roof, skylight, concrete cellar floor, tiling, plate glass, wood mantels, grille work, bathroom outfits, ranges and boilers, dumb waiters and gas fixtures. To cost about $25,000.

Frederick M. Mann, architect, 323 Chestnut street, Brown Bros. Building, has been retained, after a successful competition, to prepare plans in detail for the P. E. Church of St. Paul to be erected at Overbrook, near this city. The structure will be cruciform in shape, with a tower over the crossing and made without aisles and strictly of the perpendicular Gothic. The mullions will be of stone and the windows memorial in character, with fancy glass, the entire sides on interior beginning at vestibule, will be in oak, wainscot and floors of aisles in tile work, walls in plaster finish, with dressed stone trimmings, heating will be by steam from fan system, electric lights throughout; a fine organ loft and choir circle will be arranged opposite to the pulpit. Upon the first floor a clergy room will be fitted and in the basement a room set aside for choir. On the exterior will be erected a fine large portico and a shed to accommodate teams of the congregation. The walls will likely be of local stone and possibly ornamented at points by other material. The entire design is unique and decidedly handsome.

Yarnall & Goforth, architects, 14 South Broad street, have completed plans for a building operation of five fine dwellings, to be erected on south side of Spruce street, west of Thirty-ninth street, for Mr. Knowles Creskey. These are to be of fancy colored brick fronts, with terra cotta and stone trimmings, Spanish tile roof, with terra cotta coping. The interior to have tile work, cabinet work, furnace heat, ranges, boilers, and all the latest comforts. Drawings are now on boards of Contractor W. R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street, for estimate.

Hales, Ballinger & Co., architects, 1200 Chestnut street, have completed plans for rebuilding the Fels Naptha Company structure, lately destroyed by fire and it will be five stories high and 46x106 feet in area. It is located at Seventy-third and Woodland avenue. Slow burning construction, brick walls, steam power and heat, electric work, freight lifts and modern conveniences—John M. Anderson, 1321 South Eighteenth street, has the contract for a temporary structure, but the bids for the permanent superstructure for factory above noted are being taken, for which foundations have been laid by S. E. Moore, under the supervision of the architects.

Chief of City Property Eisenhower is pushing forward his plans for competitive drawings by architects and engineers for the improvement of League Island Park. With the idea of laying out the park in an attractive manner, and as an incentive for accomplishing that end, Chief Eisenhower, in June last, prevailed upon councils to make an appropriation of $1000 to be expended in competitive designs for developing this large breathing spot. In order to carry this intention into execution, Chief Webster, of the Bureau of Survey; Chief Eisenhower, City Forester Lewis and Head Gardener Miller, of Fairmount Park, have for some time past been considering plans for receiving designs and awarding prizes, with the result that they some time ago prepared general requirements for the preparation of competitive plans, and these have received widespread attention from landscape architects and engineers, both in this and all the other principal cities. Applications are constantly being received for blue prints, showing the topography and other information, each competitor for the prizes, of which there are two, the first being $750 and the second $250, being required to furnish on or before January 14, a finished design for complete development of the entire property, with ample facilities for outdoor sports, games and amusements. Each plan is to be made so as to be capable of sectional or successive development, as appropriation is provided, each plan to be accompanied by a description of the proposed method of development.

This Journal is mailed Weekly and Continuously to Every Architect in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Washington, D. C.; also to every builder and owner obtaining a building permit in Philadelphia and Camden; also to every person reported in its columns as building or going to build anywhere and everywhere.

This is our Contract with advertisers, and is independent of our subscription list; it means more buyers of construction material than is reached in the above territory by any journal in America.

[illegible]

G. W. & W. D. Hewitt, architects, Bullitt Building, have completed plans for rebuilding the restaurant at the Zoological Gardens, recently destroyed by fire. It will be a one story structure, stone and brick, fitted with all modern conveniences; range, boiler, furnace heat, electric work, etc. Estimates in order in office of W. R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street.

Henry Ives Cobb, architect, Title and Trust Building, Chicago, Ill., has on boards plans for a six-story and basement pressed brick warehouse, to be erected on Illinois street, east of St. Clair street, for the Chicago Dock and Canal Company. It will be 62x150 feet, pile foundation, structural iron work and composition roof, steam heat, elevators, cement floor in basement, and all modern appliances. Cost, $60,000.

Plans have been completed by Chas. E. Oelschlagel, architect, 1009 Harrison Building, for the new fire station to be built at Thirty-first street and Gray's Ferry road. This structure is to be three stories high, and 40x50 feet in dimensions. The front is to be of ornamental brick. Chief Eisenhower, of the bureau of city property, has displayed plans in his office for the additions and alterations to be made to the police station at Sixty-fifth street and Woodland avenue.

Wilson Bros., architects and engineers, Drexel Building, have completed plans for a testing house and station for the United Gas Improvement Company to be erected at Richmond and Ann streets. Also another of same kind at Seventeenth street and Passyunk avenue. These are to be two-story structures; cut stone, brick, terra cotta and iron will be the chief materials used in building. Concrete and cement work for foundations and floors, tile work, plumbing and gas fitting, furnace heat, electric work and general conveniences in detail. Drawings were seen at the offices of J. E. & A. L. Pennock, 22 Walnut street. In the same offices estimates are still being made on the Law School Building, to be erected at the University of Pennsylvania, and fully noted in our last and previous issues of this journal. The latter are to be sent in to Architects Cope & Stewardson by the 10th day of

Plans by T. P. Chandler, architect, Brown Brothers' Building, Fourth and Chestnut streets, have been completed for a handsome stone baptistry for the Episcopal Church of St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, at Wissahickon Heights. This new addition will be 11x16 feet in dimensions and 22 feet high. Chestnut Hill stone will be used in the construction of the exterior, with trimmings of Indiana limestone. Virginia pink stone will be used for the interior. William Gray & Sons have the contract for the work, which is estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $5000. The same contractors have received the contract to furnish the Milford pink granite for the United Gas Improvement Company's new building, at the northwest corner of Broad and Arch street, and the Jonesburg stone for the West End Trust Company's building, now in course of construction at the southwest corner of Broad street and South Penn square.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Arthur M. Greene, Jr., has the contract to alter the building at the southwest corner of Juniper and Wharton streets, for the Union Traction Company, as a stable and wagon repair shop.

Mrs. Z. Eisner, of this city, has donated $1000 to the National Farm School, of which Rev. Dr. Joseph Krauskopf is the president, for the sole purpose of building a greenhouse to be attached to that institution.

John W. Mortimer, contractor, will at once begin alterations, interior and exterior as well, to 1230 Chestnut street, for Dr. Horner, owner. New bulk windows, new floors and steam heat plant will be installed.

Plans are progressing for the new Bell Telephone building, to be erected by Charles McCaul, contractor, at 1703-1705 Filbert street, and estimates are likely to be asked at an early day. Fully noted in these columns previously.

John O. Gilmore, of Wayne, has purchased a lot 30x800 feet, at City Line, and intends erecting a residence thereon, to cost not less than $30,000. Mr. Gilmore has invited several architects and builders to submit sketches and plans.

Geo F. Payne & Company, 401 South Juniper street, have the contract to make extensive alterations and additions to 1418 Filbert street for J. Reynolds & Son. These consist of new front, bulk windows and third story addition with conveniences for business purposes.

Lewis Havens, contractor, has started work on the addition to the Point Breeze Gas Works for the United Gas Improvement Company. It will be 213x125 feet, and one story high. Stone, brick and iron in construction, with considerable cement work.

Previously noted.

Bids are being received for alteration to the rear of the first and second floor of the People's Bank building, Chestnut street, below Fifth, in order to make fifteen additional offices, with lavatories, steam heat, etc. This property belongs to the Girard estate, for which James H. Windrim, 407 Walnut street, is the architect.

Contractor Joseph F. Myers is about to build for J. W. Hallahan a one story rear addition, 15.6x25 feet, and make interior alterations to the property 1516 Arch street. Included in the work is steam heating and the putting up of two frame bath rooms on the second and third floors. The improvements will cost about $4300.

W. Chestnut, contractor, 1431 Morris street, has made plans and received a contract to build an additional story over the entire building of the Rush Hospital, thirty-third and Lancaster avenue. The cost is likely to be about $8500. The institution is largely supported by contributions, and devoted to aid of bronchial diseases entirely.

During the current week bids were opened by Director Riter for the addition of a third floor to the police station at Sixty-fifth and Woodland avenue, and three estimates submitted were as follows: S. Gourley, Jr., $3223; T. M. Seeds, Jr., $2828; H. B. Shoemaker, $2328. The bids were scheduled and the award has been given the lowest bidder.

Plans for the erection of a truck shop for the Baldwin Locomotive Works are now on boards of Roydhouse, Arey & Co., Builders' Exchange, for estimate. These are made by the company's engineers, and call for a four-story structure, 60x194 feet, facing on Buttonwood street, above Seventeenth street. It will be of wood, brick and iron construction, with slag roof.

The William Cramp & Sons' Ship and Engine Building Company have purchased the properties on the northeast side of York street, Eighteenth ward, 20x100 feet; northeast side of York street, 293.8 feet southeast of Richmond street, 20x100 feet; southwest side of Cumberland street, 155 1/2 feet southeast of Richmond street, 18x50 feet, from George Russell, for $17,000.

The building inspectors have passed on plans, by Charles McCaul, contractor, 10 North Eleventh street, for the new four-story manufactory to be erected by Geo. B. Evans, at Tenth and Spring street, and which has been fully noted in previous issues of this journal. Also for the same contractor, drawings for new front and interior work at 1216 Chestnut street, for Oppenheimer, Collins & Co., costing about $5000.

Councils' committee on city property recently approved the ordinance to purchase the site of 2003-05 North Second street, for a fire engine station, at a cost of $21,000. The committee also approved ordinances making these appropriations for improvements: Triangular "Square," at Germantown avenue and Butler street, $1500; Athletic Park, $10,000; John Dickinson Square, $10,000; League Island Park, $50,000, and Westmoreland Square, $15,000.

A meeting of a sub-committee of councils' finance committee will shortly be called to consider the ordinance in relation to elevating the railroad tracks on Ninth street, from Wallace street, north. The ordinance provides for the issuing of a loan for $2,000,000 for the purpose, but consent must first be obtained from the Philadelphia, Germantown and Norristown Railroad Company, the owner, and the Philadelphia and Reading Railway Company, lessee. There must also be ascertained what proportion of the cost the companies will assume.

The Samaritan Hospital proposes to occupy the building in the spacious lot recently purchased by it, at the northeast corner of Broad and Ontario streets, adjoining the present hospital building, as soon as the necessary arrangements will be made, and the necessary interior alterations will be made, and a covered passage will be built connecting the new purchase with the present building. The addition will be used for dormitories, nurses, library, reception rooms, doctors' apartments and kitchen and dining rooms, while the present building will be used for hospital purposes only, which will double the capacity of the institution.

The damage done by the fire in Camden, N. J., on the 25th of November, is as follows: John Chew, dry goods, 218 and 220 Market street, stock and building, $34,000; insurance, $20,000. Fred Alexander, printer, in same building, $1000; insurance, $300. Camden County Butchers' Association, in same building, $300. Anthony Brothers, 216 Market street, stock of china and glassware $4000; insurance, $3500. Chew estate, building, 216 Market street, $1500, covered by insurance. John C. Chew, dry goods, 214 Market street, loss on building and stock, $30,000; insurance, $54,000. Building, 222 Market street, owned by W. S. Schull, damaged to the extent of $600, covered by insurance.

A proposition has been made by Robert Johnson, contractor for the Boys' High School, in this city, to finish the work at once, if $150,000 can be appropriated by City Councils. This sum is needed to complete alone the main building, which could be handed over to the Board of Education for use, and the annex can be considered in a subsequent action by these bodies. The property committee and committee on schools of councils have resolved to recommend the purchase of two lots for school purposes, which have for a long time been the bone of contention in the Twenty-eighth school district. The lots are at Thirty-third and Huntington streets and at Twenty-eighth and Huntingdon streets. This action refers the whole question back to city councils.

Through Pennsylvania.

When any of the following are not post office towns they will be so designated.

—At Williamsport, Lycoming county, an ordinance has been passed providing for a storm sewer along Spring Run.

—At Mills, Potter county, the saw mill of C. A. Sweetland, near Mills, was destroyed by fire last week. The estimated loss is about $18,000.

—At Norristown, Montgomery county, the finance committee has been authorized to employ an engineer to secure a suitable location for an artesian well.

—At Harrisburg, the subject of abolishing grade crossings is receiving considerable attention, and it is probable that bridges will be constructed across Market street.

—At Steelton, Dauphin county, it is probable that steps will be taken shortly toward the construction of a sewerage system. A committee has been appointed to inquire about a loan for the purpose.

—At Johnstown, Cambria county, the Cambria Iron Company has been absorbed by the Cambria Steel Company, and it is said that an entirely new steel will be made. It is said that plans are in course of preparation for an armor plate plant. An extension of the coke works is assured.

—At Media, Delaware county, Samuel D. Hall has transferred four valuable tracts of ground in the southeastern part of the city to Peter Durion and John Lynch. Mr. Lynch is a builder of Philadelphia, and it is said the site will be improved by the erection of a number of attractive dwellings.

—At Bloomsburg, Columbia county, the Bloomsburg Novelty Works was destroyed by fire a few days since, at a loss of about $70,000. The plant was operated by Samuel H. Harman. Most of the machinery was destroyed. The works will likely be rebuilt as soon as the insurance is adjusted.

—At West Chester, Chester county, A. D. Heald, William Mullin and W. T. Hunt have bought a large tract of ground on the south side of Dean street, between Wayne and Bradywine streets. It was bought from S. M. Paxson at private sale. It is said the new owners will cut it up into building sites for improvements.

—At Chester, Delaware county, the plans for the new high school, in course of preparation by Seymour Davis, 917 Walnut street, Philadelphia, are rapidly nearing completion. It will be a four-story building, of granite, brick and steel construction, fine interior finish, steam heat, electric work, ventilating system, lavatories, etc. The estimated cost is $125,000.

—At Myerstown, Lebanon county, at a recent meeting of the conference of the German Baptist church, the question of establishing a church college was discussed. Ephrata, Norristown, Pottstown and Myerstown were mentioned as suitable locations. No definite action was taken. The character of the college would be for the study of elementary branches.

—At Milton, Northumberland county, the large nail plant of the F. A. Godscharles Company was almost destroyed by fire on December 3. The estimated loss on the buildings and stock is estimated at $100,000, on which there is an insurance of $25,000. This Milton Nail Works was organized in 1875 by C. A. Godscharles & Co., and had a capacity of seventy-five thousand keels of nails a month. It will probably be rebuilt.

—At Dubois, Clearfield county, the Northwestern Mining and Exchange Company, which is controlled by the New York, Lake Erie & Western Railroad, has closed a deal whereby it becomes the owner of 7000 acres of coal land lying south of Dubois. The price paid was about $300,000. The Northwestern Company has been operating in Elk county, and it is said that the Erie road will be built through to Dubois at once and other improvements made.

—At Mahanoy City, Schuylkill county, the Maderia Hill Coal Company has awarded the contract for the construction of a new breaker at Girardville, Pa., to H. K. Christ, the well-known breaker architect and contractor of Mahanoy City. It will be fitted up with all modern machinery, including a piston shaker, the first to be used in that section. The estimated cost is $10,000. Work will begin at once. This breaker will be covered with Carey's Magnesia Flexible Cement Roofing.

—At Washington, Washington county, the congregation of the Cumberland Presbyterian Society has an option on a lot at Beau and Franklin streets, to be used as the site for a new church.—Messrs. Clark, Chalfant and Davis have been appointed as a committee by the East Washington borough council to confer with South Washington borough in regard to a sewerage system.—It is said that Bennett & Talbot, of Greensburg, Pa., have been awarded the contract to construct about five and a half miles of railroad for the Washington Run Railroad Company. The estimated cost is $175,000.

—At Allegheny, Allegheny county, Vrydagh & Wolfe, 68 Federal street, have finished the plans for the alterations to the Orphans' Home, on Ridge avenue, and will receive bids for the work at once.—Scaife & Sons have received the contract for the erection of a one-story brick engine house on Freble avenue, for the Penna. Car Wheel Works. The estimated cost is about $5500.—H. L.

Kessler has the contract for a two-story brick laundry, at Grant street and Ridge avenue, for the Protestant Orphan Asylum. The cost will be $3500.—R. S. Montgomery will erect a frame dwelling, on Backof street, to cost $2500. William Grosse, builder.

—At Pittsburgh, Allegheny county, it is said that Marlin & Co., manufacturers of galvanized iron work, Liberty avenue and Twenty-eighth street, will erect a new building to be used as a shop.—Drake & Stratton are said to have received the contract for improvements on the Pennsylvania Railroad, which will cost about $300,000.—William B. Sealie & Co. have the contract for a keg factory, to be erected at Canonsburg, Pa.—Rutan & Russell have made plans for the erection of an office building on Sixth avenue, adjoining the Duquesne Club. F. F. Nicola, Tradesmen's Building, is interested in the project.—James H. Wallace has bought a lot on Wilkins avenue, and will erect a dwelling, to cost about $3000.—An addition will be erected to the Jackson Mercantile Building, on Liberty avenue, from plans made by Topp & Craig, Biessell Building. Bids for the work will close December 31.—F. C. Sauer, Hamilton Building, has made plans for a two-story brick and cement dwelling, at Aspinwall, Pa., for V. Buetner. It will be well finished throughout.—Work will soon begin on the United Presbyterian Hospital building, for which plans were drawn by Architect Beatty. The cost will be about $75,000.—It is said that the P. and L. E. Railroad will erect a new passenger station in 1899. Chief Engineer Atwood has the matter in charge.—The Pittsburgh Wall Paper Company has under consideration the erection of a new plant, to include boiler house, storage warehouse and shipping building. No plans drawn.—A perspective view of the new Administration Hall of the proposed $10,000,000 American University was exhibited in Pittsburgh, at the North Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church.

It will cost $300,000 to erect the building, and it is proposed to raise the money in Pennsylvania. The plans were prepared by Henry Ives Cobb, of Chicago.—Charles Bickel, Methodist Building, has prepared plans for a twelve-story office building, to be erected on the site of the Central Hotel, on Smithfield street.—C. A. Graham, 816 Wood street, in Wilkesburg, has the contract for the erection of an attractive dwelling for Rev. J. J. Coster, Fifth avenue and Dithridge street. It will be two stories and attic, of brick, finely finished and provided with all modern conveniences and improvements. The estimated cost is $8,000.—Martin & Evan, East End Stock Yard, have begun work on their two-story and attic brick dwellings, on Sherman street, in the Seventeenth ward. They will be handsomely finished throughout, and provided with all modern conveniences. The cost will be about $18,000.—J. N. Campbell, Penn Building, is preparing plans for a double frame building, to be erected at Crafoon, Pa.—It is said that the site now occupied by the Blackwell Law Building will be used for the erection of a more modern structure within the coming year. J. H. White is one of the owners of the building. It is said work will begin on tearing down the present structure about the 1st of April.—Miss E. Mercur, Times Building, is receiving estimates on St. Francis De Sales Church, to be erected at McKees Rocks, Pa.—L. A. Raisig, Wilkinsburg, has made plans for a two-story and attic brick dwelling, to be erected at Wilkinsburg, for W. F. Young.—J. D. Stephens, also of Wilkinsburg, will make extensive alterations to his dwelling from plans prepared by E. B. Milligan, of Wilkinsburg.—W. R. Proctor, Stevenson Building, is receiving estimates for the super structure of H. W. Oliver's gate lodge house, to be erected at Leet's, near Sewickley. The same architect has plans under way for a fine country home for the same gentleman.—The plans of A. K. Miller, Penn Building, for the brick church to be erected by the United Presbyterian congregation at Fairview, Pa., will be ready for bids on Saturday, December 10th.—William Miller & Sons, 1219 Carnegie Building, have been awarded the contract for the erection of three two-story and attic brick dwellings on Winebiddle avenue, in the Twentieth ward. McLean & Muller, 1210 Carnegie Building, are the owners. These dwellings will be finely finished, tile work, sanitary plumbing, plain and ornamental glass, and all modern conveniences. The estimated cost is $22,500.—Work was begun by Golden & Crick, 5512 Fifth avenue, on two two-story and attic brick dwellings, on Maryland avenue. They will cost $7500.—W. Miller, Winebiddle avenue, has been awarded the contract for additions to the Garfield public school, for which plans have been made by Architect Barberger.—The contract for the erection of the new public building at Norfolk, Virginia, has been awarded to Melville, Unkefer & Co. for $182,966. The work must be completed in sixteen months.—A. T. Stevenson, 176 Meadow street, is the contractor, and has begun work on a two-story and attic brick dwelling, on Bouquet street, for Addison Boren and George Gage, 153 Meadow street. The estimated cost is about $4000.—L. A. Raisig, First National Bank Building, has prepared plans for a three-story brick and stone office and hall building, to be erected on Penn avenue, near Wood street, Wilkesburg.—W. A. Thomas has prepared plans for a colonial dwelling, to be erected on Graff avenue, for G. S. O'Brien. It will be well finished, hot air heating, electric work, hard wood mantels and finish, and will cost about $5000.—Council has under consideration an ordinance to widen Diamond alley and convert it into a street fifty feet wide. The estimated cost of the improvement is about $50,000.

Through New Jersey.

At Paulsboro, Gloucester county, the board of education has decided to add four rooms to the present school building.

At Allenhurst, Monmouth county, the new dwelling of C. N. Jelliff, on Elberon avenue, and occupied by Hiram C. Jelliff, was damaged by fire to the extent of $2000.

At Irvington, Essex county, an application will be considered, December 13th, to grant the North Jersey Street Railway Company the right to extend its lines.

At Avon, Monmouth county, Charles Lewis, of Asbury Park, has bought lots along the Shark River, which he will improve by the erection of a dwelling.

At Long Branch, Monmouth county, ground has been broken for the new bank on Broadway. It will be two stories high, of brick, and will cost about $9000.

At Elizabethport, Union county, a four-story brick factory will be erected on Spring street, by David Moffat & Co., No. 5 Jacob street, New York City.

At Summit, Union county, a handsome dwelling will be erected by A. Ernest Hickok, 108 Fulton street, New York City, from plans prepared by Farnsworth & Miller, No. 111 Nassau street, N. Y.

At Lakewood, Ocean county, work has begun on a handsome three-story and basement frame dwelling, which will be erected from plans prepared by E. V. Seeler, 328 Chestnut street, Philadelphia.

At Hoboken, Hudson county, it is said that the People's Heat, Light and Power Company has applied for permission to lay subways and conduits for furnishing light, heat and power.

At Bloomfield, Essex county, John R. Vreeland will erect a handsome dwelling at Benson and Broad streets, for which he has prepared the plans. It will be two-and-a-half-stories high, of frame, fine interior finish, tile work, plain and ornamental glass, sanitary plumbing, and all conveniences. The estimated cost is about $100.

At Passaic, Passaic county, Mrs. Charity V. B. Doremus, of Clifton, N. J., will erect an attractive dwelling on Lexington avenue, from plans prepared by Herman Fritz. It will be two and a half stories high, of frame, well finished throughout, and will cost about $3500.

At Turkey, Monmouth county, at a recent meeting of the official board of Bethesda Church, the question was considered of the location and erection of a new church in the village. A committee of five was appointed to take the matter in charge.

At Glen Ridge, Essex county, a handsome dwelling will be erected on Ridgewood avenue, from plans prepared by Lionel Moses, with McKim, Meade & White 160 Fifth avenue, New York City. It will be well finished and supplied with all conveniences. The owner is Anne E. Standish.

At Bayonne, Hudson county, James W. Clark will erect an attractive dwelling on Thirty first street, near avenue C. It will be two-and-a-half stories high, of frame, well finished throughout, and will cost about $3000. The plans have been prepared by F. F. Martinez, Jr.

At Union, Union county, James Long will erect a two-and-a-half-story frame dwelling, to cost $3800, from plans prepared by J. A. Oakley & Son, 1201 South Broad street, Elizabeth, N. J. It will be well finished throughout and provided with all modern conveniences and improvements.

At Westville, Gloucester county, the Union Fire Company, of Westville and Newbold, will erect a stone building to house the new apparatus. The Newbold Land Company has presented a lot as a site for the proposed building. J. T. Jenness is president of the fire company; Philip Mason, vice-president; A. Hilliard, secretary; Charles Barker, treasurer, and Edward Addison, chief.

At Asbury Park, Monmouth county, at a recent meeting of council, a communication was read from the board of health, in regard to the erection of an isolation hospital for contagious diseases. It is said that if council will provide a suitable site, money for the erection of the building will be given by the people. The matter was referred to the finance committee, who will report at the next meeting of council.

At Jersey City, Mrs. A. S. Perine will erect an attractive dwelling on the Boulevard, near Edge avenue, from plans prepared by George A. Flagg. The same architect has made plans for a dwelling for Mrs. Bessie Martin, to be erected on Baldwin avenue, near Montgomery avenue. Both of these dwellings will be finely finished throughout and provided with all modern improvements.

At Elizabeth, Union county, Mrs. Mary J. Boltz will erect a three-story brick building, which will be fitted up as flats to accommodate six families. It will be well finished throughout, and will cost $5000. The plans have been prepared by J. A. Oakley & Son, No. 1201 South Broad street, Elizabeth. The same architects have prepared the plans for a three-story brick structure, to be fitted up as a cafe and dwelling. It will occupy a site at Third and Court street. The owner is Charles Friedrich. It will be well finished throughout, all modern conveniences, handsome fixtures. The estimated cost is about $9000. John White will erect two two-and-a-half-story frame dwellings, from plans prepared by Child & DeGoll, 62 New street, New York City. They will be well provided with all modern conveniences.

At Atlantic City, the contract for extensive alterations and additions to the Hotel Traymore has been awarded to Contractor Daniel Knauer. The main portion of the present building, on Illinois avenue, will be extended by a five-story addition 125 feet long. It will be colonial in style. The main floor will contain a drawing room and small reception rooms, smoking and writing rooms. All to be handsomely finished and furnished. The upper part of the addition will contain about eighty bedrooms, arranged en suite, and finely furnished; the dining room will also be enlarged. The plans for these improvements have been prepared by W. L. Price, of Philadelphia. The estimated cost is about $40,000. Mr. White is the proprietor. Howard A. Stout has made plans for a large addition to the hotel owned by Thomas Kilcourse, at Arctic and Arkansas avenues, to contain ten bedrooms, a dining room and large and well equipped kitchen. Frank A. Souder, contractor, has put in a bid for extensive improvements and enlargement of the Hotel Rudolf, which, when completed, will be known as the Astoria.

At Newark, work has begun on a fine improvement on Lincoln avenue, consisting of extensive alterations to the two-and-a-half-story frame dwelling of M. A. Doremus, from plans prepared by Thomas Cressley. The estimated cost is $7700. The Newark Real Estate and Investment Company will erect three two-and-a-half-story frame dwellings on Second street, near Sussex avenue, which will cost $3200 each. The plans have been prepared by E. Stewart Ammerman. These dwellings will be well finished throughout, and provided with all conveniences. E. A. Wurth has prepared plans for two two-and-a-half-story frame dwellings, to be erected on Littleton avenue, for Donat A. Fritsch. J. A. McKenna will erect two two-and-a-half-story frame dwellings, to cost $3000. L. A. Virtue has prepared plans for six two-and-a-half-story frame flats, to cost $3500 each, which will be erected on Jiff avenue, for William Zimmermann. A fine improvement has been begun on North Ninth street, consisting of the erection of four three-story brick dwellings by Paul H. Braugs. They will be handsomely finished, provided with all conveniences, and will cost about $20,000. Thomas Court will erect a three-story brick factory, 50x75 feet, and to cost $5500, from plans prepared by William M. Eisenbleger. The Essex County Brewing Company will make a number of improvements from plans prepared by A. D. Heyne. P. H. Ward has made plans for improvements to a four-story brick store and flats on Market street.

Through Delaware.

At Wilmington, the opening of the Wilmington and Brandywine Springs Electric Railway, and the opening of the new Chester line to take place in a month or two, will probably have considerable influence in real estate matters, as there are many and valuable sites for suburban homes on the two lines which will be brought within easy reach of the city. It is said that a number of inquiries have already been made in regard to property along the lines, and that a number of dwellings will be erected in the Spring. The Bavarian Brewery at Fifth and Du Pont streets, owned by J. A. Lengel, has been sold to Charles Eisenmeinger, of Washington. The name will be changed to the Bavarian Brewing Company, and a company formed, of which the incorporators will be Charles Eisenmeinger and T. Cary, of Washington; J. A. Lengel, A. J. Koeh, Jacob Siemey and Harry Kleinstuber, of Wilmington. The plans will be considerably enlarged and other improvements will be made. The price paid was about $200,000. The Board of Education has advertised for bids for the erection of the new high school building on Delaware avenue. The bids will be confined to bona fide residents of Wilmington. This restriction will probably apply to the general construction of the building, but for many things not manufactured in Wilmington it would seem necessary to draw from a wider field. The chairman of the committee is William Turner, and the bids will be received until January 9, 1899.

Through Maryland.

At Kingsville, Baltimore county, it is said that a stone crusher will be purchased by the county commissioners.

At Rockville, Montgomery county, $25,000 worth of bonds have been sold by the county commissioners for the construction of a turnpike road between Rockville and the District of Columbia.

At Baltimore, two two-story brick dwellings will be erected by Henry Moyer, on the south side of Smith street, between Harford road and Nicholas street. They will be well finished throughout. Eunice German has taken out a permit for the erection of three three-story brick dwellings, on the east side of Charles street, between Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth streets. They will be well finished throughout and provided with modern conveniences. The Standard Brewing Company will erect a two-story brick stable, on the west side of Gay street, near Patterson Park avenue. The contractors, Gladfelder & Co., have begun work on the new Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, to be erected at Third and Hickory avenues, Hampden. The plans have been prepared by George C. Hassell, and the estimated cost is about $10,000. The dimensions are 60x100 feet. The finish will be fine throughout, modern fixtures and furniture. Plans have been prepared by Baldwin & Pennington for the large eight-story warehouse, to be erected on Eutaw street, between Conway and Camden streets, for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company. It will be used for storage purposes, and will be well finished throughout. Wm. M. Risteau, the auctioneer, has sold to Melchior Hoshall several tracts of ground at Towson, Maryland. The price paid was $8350. O. Parker Baker was the former owner. John Gill and wife have sold about twenty acres of ground near Catonsville, Maryland. Jackson C. Gott has made plans for eleven buildings to replace those destroyed at Westport belonging to the Carr-Lowery Glass Company. The contract for the erection has been let to Henry Ripple. L. G. Turner, real estate agent, is developing about fifty acres of ground, on the Belair road, and about five miles from the city, belonging to the Bellevue Land Company. The tract will be divided into about three hundred and fifty fine building sites, each 50 x 130 feet. The ground will be drained, streets laid out, and other improvements made to make it a desirable place for suburban houses. Shade trees will also be planted. The Bay Ridge Electric Park and Steamboat Company has leased the new Bay Line pier, Nos. 10, 11 and 12 Light street wharf, and will run two large steamers to Bay Ridge. Bay Ridge will be greatly improved and new attractions added. The grounds will be beautified and two thousand electric lights introduced. Thomas O'Neill, of O'Neill & Co., has bought Nos. 108 and 110 North Charles street, which adjoins his present building on the south. As soon as the present leases expire it is the intention of the new owner to tear down the buildings on the site and erect a handsome five-story structure to connect with his present store. The Maryland Hotel Company, which has just been incorporated, has leased No. 4 South Calvert street, and will convert the building into a hotel to be called "The Maryland." Extensive alterations will be made, and the interior will be thoroughly remodeled and fitted up in modern style. The hotel will be for men only, and there will be forty handsomely furnished bedrooms, a dining room and cafe will occupy the first floor; parlors and private dining room will be on the second floor; tile work, sanitary plumbing, gas boiler fixtures, and all modern conveniences will be introduced.

Washington, D. C.

Among the most important real estate deals lately made is that of the sale of the Hillier property, at the northeast corner of Massachusetts and Florida avenues, to Mrs. Scott Townsend, who will improve the site by the erection of a handsome dwelling. The price paid is said to have been $160,000. The lot contains nearly an acre of ground. The sale of the Kall property will also lead to a number of improvements, it being the intention of the new owners to open up new streets through the property, and to sub-divide it into desirable building sites. John H. Nolan will erect a row of nine three-story dwellings on Nineteenth street, north of Kalorama avenue, Washington Heights, and twenty three-story dwellings will be erected on Florida avenue, between Second and Third streets, by Thomas G. Hensley and M. C. Hooper, trustees. All these will be well furnished and provided with modern conveniences. Charles F. Ramsdell has begun on an operation of nine three-story brick and stone dwellings, on Princeton street, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets, Columbia Heights. Each will contain ten rooms, finely finished throughout; considerable tile work, modern conveniences. William S. Watts will erect a three-story apartment house at the southeast corner of Twenty-first and L streets, Northwest. It will be well finished and provided with all conveniences. Franklin T. Sanner will erect two three-story brick dwellings on Wyoming avenue, Washington Heights. The capacity of the Porter apartment house will be increased by the erection of an addition. This is in accordance

Of Course You Will

Examine "What ROBERTS offers" before buying ground elsewhere.

Among others we are offering, we would call attention to the plot 22d to 24th, Cumberland to Huntingdon, all street improvements being made, old houses don't affect price.
Also 19th to 22d, Lehigh to Somerset, and some west of 22d.

All the above within two squares of one of the largest and finest Catholic Churches erected in Philadelphia.

They will please you on examination.

Wanted!—

A Mayor for Philadelphia

Wanted==A Man

God give us a man, a time like this demands
A strong mind, a great heart, true faith and ready hands.
A man whom the trust of office will not kill ;
A man whom the spoils of office cannot buy ;
A man possessing opinions and a will ;
A man with honor---one who will not lie ;
A man who can stand before a demagogue
And scorn his treacherous flatteries without winking ;
A tall man, sun-crowned, who lives above the fog
In public duty and in private thinking.

THE above adaptation is from a poet, who must have had Philadelphia in his mind's eye when he wrote it.

Of course those in the building and real estate interest, who want a good mayor, will also want this journal for 1899. Free until January 1st, if you subscribe now.

Effervescence

in commercial circles is known as wind, Wind, as a word in commercial circles, is
usually used in the way of derision

They who have lost, or are rapidly losing
trade or business prestige, through obsolete
methods find much comfort in criticizing the other fellows' up-to-date ways as wind.

Wind in commercial circles is said to have no value. Let us see!
The fast sailing ship upon the sea, lying listless for the want of wind, represents
daily commercial loss which will soon run into thousands. Hence, some commercial
owner is the sufferer.

Pointed, terse and telling advertising is sometimes called wind by competitors, who cannot or will not advertise their wares.
Such wind is commercially profitable,
because it guides and directs the buying
public in a short way to what it wants.

Now right here the Russell & Erwin Manufacturing Company's Super-Extra Hardware
comes in. The buying public is monstrously
large. That part of it, who are acquainted with the true goodness of the Russell &
Erwin's Hardware, are steadfast and loyal,
but we want everybody to know it. Hence,
this advertisement.

Architect Notes.

Janes & Leo, 907 Boulevard, N. Y., are the architects for a seven-story apartment house to be erected on the plot, 75x100, at the northwest corner of West End avenue and One hundred and Fifth street.

Architect Robert Maynicke, 725 Broadway, N. Y., will prepare the plans for the twelve-story mercantile building to be erected on the plot, 50x196 feet, at 632-634 Broadway, running through to Crosby street, by Henry Corn, 170 Fifth avenue.

Chester H. Kirk and Horace W. Sellers, architects, Bourse Building, have made plans for a fine stable, to be erected for W. H. Har- rity, at Overbrook. It will be of Holmesburg granite and interior will contain latest conveniences. Estimates are now being made for the work.

George F. Pelham, architect 503 Fifth avenue, N. Y., has plans on the boards for a flat building, with stores, to be erected at 64 St. Marks Place, for Julius Dreyfus, 539 Broad- way. Will have front of brick and stone, also iron columns and beams and tin roof; cost, $28,500. Address owner.

Milton W. Young, contractor of Overbrook, Pa., has started, at that place, two fine dwell- ings of stone and brick work for Herman Wendell, owner. The plans were made by Kean and Mead, architects, 1420 Chestnut street, and call for all the latest interior conveniences etc. Previously noted.

John Hauser, architect, 1541 Third avenue, N. Y., has plans for two flat buildings for Edward Muller, 2133 First avenue. Construc- tion to be of light brick, limestone front, with iron columns; also tin roofs, skylights, tiling, concrete cellars, wood mantels, grille work, dumb waiters, gas fixtures and steam heat; cost, $50,000.

Barney & Chapman, 1286 Broadway, N. Y., are the architects for the extensive alterations to be made to the residence at 35 West Fifty- first street for W. M. V. Hoffman, 4 Warren street. The work will comprise new light brick and limestone front, new plumbing and heating, electric light, decorating and painting, and partially new trimmings; cost, $25,000.

Lindley Johnson architect, Harrison Build- ing, Fifteenth and Market streets, has made plans for alteration and addition to the house of R. M. Lisle, at Paoli, Pa. and awarded the contract to Henry P. Wolfe. Also plans for a residence for William Struthers, at Jekyl Island, Ga.; and for another for William Hicks, of Pittsburg, Pa., at that place.

Plans are being prepared by Architect Charles Steinmiz, 60 Liberty street, N. Y., for a residence for Kate C. Brown, care architect. Specifications will call for light brick and stone, iron columns and beams, tin roofs skylights, mosaic tiling, mantels plate glass, blinds, nickel plated plumbing, enameled bath tubs, marble washstand, electric light, steam heat, hot water supply and elevator; to cost about $90,000.

John J. Reilley, owner and builder, will at once begin erecting eight fine dwellings and stores with mansard roof, on the west side of Forty-seventh street, 112 feet south of Chester avenue. These are to be of fancy colored brick stone trimmings, and the interior fitted with tile work, furnace heat, elec- tric work, best plumbing, ranges, boilers and all the most modern conveniences. This work was noted some months ago in these columns, as planned by William T. Macaul- ley, architect, 780 Chestnut street.

Frank S. Riggs, contractor 338 South Thirtieth street, is to begin work at once on the seven-story apartment house for Dr. C. H. S. Littleton. It will be erected at Thirty- seventh and Chestnut street, and will be 38x28 feet, with a wing 30x66 feet, brick and stone front, interior fitted with steam heat, electric work, elevator and lift and handsomely fur- nished with all the latest comforts for apart- ments, individual and ensuite. Previously noted as the plans of Harry Peale, Jr., archi- tect, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets.

The architects who will be competitors for the plans for the First Baptist Church, to be erected at Seventeenth and Sansom streets, are as follows: David Knickerbacker Boyd, D. S. Gendall, Addison Hutton, Price & Martin, Rankin & Kellogg and Edgar V. Seeler. The drawings are to be ready for deliv- ery to the committee on building by the 13th day of December, after which the award will be made at an early day. The fraternity generally think the rules under which this competition is made are very fair, and that favoritism will be entirely eliminated from the decision.

Harry Peale, Jr., architect, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets, has made a preliminary set of plans for a large hotel, to be erected at Ocean avenue and the Boardwalk, Atlantic City, N. J., for Clarence M. Busch and John Young, owner of the ground. It is to be six stories high, with a basement, and constructed on a concrete foundation, brick, stone and terra cotta work, with a roof garden. Interior will contain slate work, tile and electric work, elevators and steam heat. All the latest com- forts will be introduced, making it a first- class building.

Seymour Davis, architect, 907 Walnut street, has made plans for additions on a alteration to residence for J. L. Keen, 3904 Chestnut street. The specifications call for cut stone work, plaster work, carpenter and roofer's estimates, painting, glazing and ex- tension of flues for heat. Estimates being made in Lewis Haven's office, 318 Girard Building. The same contractor has just been awarded the contract to erect a large five- story store building at 37 South Second street, for which Mr. A. S. Cochran, architect, south- east corner of Tenth and Walnut streets, made plans some months ago, and which was noted fully at that time in these columns. The structure will be 20x153 feet and of brick, trimmed with stone, fitted on the interior with a freight lift, electric work and all gen- eral conveniences, etc.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

H. B. Shoemaker & Co. will at once begin the work of alteration and addition to Truck H's house, Main and Seymour streets, and fully noted in our last issue.

James Foster, carpenter, will rebuild the grand stand at Franklin Field, University grounds, Thirty-third and South streets. It is 60x400 feet, and will cost about $2000.

Joseph Myers, contractor, will make at once the alterations to 509 511 Market street. These contemplate joining the two stores into one large one, with all conveniences.

Herman Voigt, has been granted permis- sion to begin a three-story brick brewery on Cambridge street, west of Twenty-eighth street, for the Continental Brewing Com- pany. Previously noted.

Jacob Myers & Sons, general contractors, Juniper and Sansom streets, have the con- tract for a one-story addition to the stable of Mrs. Allison, 1812 Chestnut street (rear). It will be brick and stone, with modern con- veniences.

George Ruhland, builder, is about to begin erecting fifty dwellings on Race, Vine, Wan- amaker and Hobart streets, in the Thirty- fourth ward. All to be of faced brick, stone trimmings and heaters, ranges, boilers and best modern comforts.

Robert Christy, Mt. Airy avenue, German- town, will erect a one-story brick and frame addition to chapel of the Mt. Airy Presby- terian Church, Mt. Pleasant and German- town avenues. It will be 25x24 feet, and in keeping with the present edifice.

The contract for the station at Elkins, on the North Penn branch of the Reading Rail- way, has been awarded to Charles McCaul, contractor, 10 North Eleventh Street, who will start work at once. The drawings are by Cope & Stewardson, architects, and com- template a brick and stone structure, two stories high, heated by steam, electric light- ing. It will have a red tile roof, hard wood finish on interior, and all conveniences. Previously noted in full in this journal.

John W. Fritzinger has been awarded the contract for extensive interior alterations at $25 and 827 North Thirteenth street, for J. Henry Mitchell. It is the intention to alter the second floor so that it can be used for hall purposes. The work will cost $3000.

Harry H. Travis, contractor, is about to erect a large local stone stable at Bellevue Farm, owned by David Martin, in the Thirtieth Ward. It will be 58x58 feet and stand on Welsh road, near Ashton street; have a peaked shingle roof, and well fitted on interior.

Wm. G. Price, the well-known builder, will at once begin the erection of twenty-eight dwellings, 16x44 feet, two stories high, on both sides of Aberdeen street, above Jefferson street, at a cost of about $70,000. All of faced brick, stone trimmings and modern conveniences.

The chemical works of Theodore Weil & Co., Levering street, near canal bank, were almost totally destroyed by fire on the 10th inst. No definite information as to rebuilding can be had at the present, but it is the general impression that it will be started as soon as details can be arranged by the firm.

Ruck & Gallagher, corner Ninth and Wolf streets, have been awarded the contracts for all stone work on the Young Friends' Association Building, corner Fifteenth and Cherry streets, and the West Philadelphia apartment house, at Thirtieth-seventh and Chestnut streets. Indiana limestone will be used on both buildings.

Italian Marble Mosaic Co., 41 Spruce street, has secured the contracts for the mosaic floors in the United Gas Improvement Company's new building, corner Broad and Arch streets, aggregating in all 17,000 square feet; also the mosaic floors for the Lutheran Church of the Holy Cross, at Ninth and Lehigh avenue, and the new store for Messrs. B. Mshur & Holmes, at 1533 Chestnut street.

Permission has been granted James Armstrong to erect a two-story factory, 35x80 feet, on a lot east of Boudinot street and north of Indiana avenue. This lot has been a source of contention, because it did not seem to front on any street, but the matter has been adjusted and the work will start at once. It will be of brick and stone, steam burning construction on interior, stow furnaces and heat.

In the office of Doyle & Doak, contractors, bids are being made on the power house and laundry, to be attached to the Children's Homeopathic Hospital, now in course of erection at Franklin and Thompson streets. It will be of brick, stone and iron construction, fitted with steam machinery and all conveniences for the purpose mentioned. The drawings are by Kean & Mead, architects, 1420 Chestnut street.

Harmonie Hall, at Eleventh and Brandywine streets, was wholly destroyed by fire on Friday morning last, and from which nine persons narrowly escaped death by burning. It has not been definitely settled about rebuilding on the old site, but the matter is now in the hands of a committee, who have established temporary headquarters at 12-3 Spring Garden street, until new and better accommodations can be fixed upon. The loss was $72,000, upon which there was $35,000 insurance, and $2000 more on personal effects.

Provost C. C. Harrison, of the University of Pennsylvania, is heading a movement to secure $300,000 to erect a new building at that institution, to be devoted to physiology, pathological and pharmacological science and learning. It is expected to develop sufficient force to begin the work in 1899. The active assistants in the measure will be Drs. Woodward, William C. Posey, F. A. Packard, Albert Stengel, Richard Norris, Charles H.

Frazier, B. F. Stahl, Judson Daland, Thomas Clifford Potter, J. Wilks, O. Neill, J. Montgomery Baldy, and Henry Beates.

The drawings for the great superstructural work of the wharf pavilion, to be erected at Chestnut street wharf, on the Delaware river, have now been placed on boards of general contractors, for estimate. The above were prepared in the bureau of surveys under Chief Webster, at City Hall. These call for a great amount of wood and iron work, as well as stone and brick masonry, bridge work of iron, etc. The upper deck will be constructed as a winter and summer pavilion for the general public. Items bid on are as follows: Concrete work, slag roof, galvanized iron work, plumbing, drainage, etc. Plans on boards of J. E. & A. L. Pennock, 305 Walnut street.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has awarded the contracts for the erection of two large freight sheds, one at Piers 13, 14 and 15 North Wharves, Delaware River, foot of Vine street, and the other at Pier 14, South Delaware avenue, to the Edgemoor Bridge Company, of Wilmington, Delaware. It is estimated that the two sheds will cost $42,000. The shed at Piers 13, 14 and 15 will be U shaped. The shed, outside of the piers, will measure 234x307 feet, and the basin for loading and unloading passenger cars and from the ferry boats will measure 124x19 feet. The shed at Pier 14 will be 12 x 246 feet. Both sheds will be steel skeleton structures, with steel columns and riveted lattice trusses. The sides will be covered with galvanized corrugated iron, and the roofs will be built of hemlock sheathing covered with slag.

The revised plans for the library and hall for the Young Friends' Association, to be built at the northwest corner of Fifteenth and Cherry streets, which were drawn by Architect William L. Price, have been submitted to the Bureau of Building Inspection. Contractor Frank S. Riggs will do the work, which is estimated to cost $32,000. The exterior will be constructed of brick, with Indiana limestone trimmings, and the peak roof will be covered with slate and copper. The building will be four stories high, and measure 48x120 feet. All the stairways will be of fireproof construction, and the building will be heated by steam and lighted with electricity. All the interior finishings will be in chestnut, except the library, dining room, auditorium and main hall. These will be finished in red oak. Previously noted in full.

Through Pennsylvania.

—At Millmont, Union county, the school house was destroyed by fire last week.

—At Swarthmore, Delaware county, a new asphalt walk will be laid from the station to the main entrance of Swarthmore College.

—At Chester, Delaware county, the Keystone Plaster Company will erect an addition to its present plant.

—At Carlisle, Cumberland county, plans are in course of preparation for a sewerage system.

—At Glen Campbell, Indiana county, it is stated that steps will be taken at once toward the construction of water works.

—At Morristown, Montgomery county, it is said that plans have been prepared by Edwin M. Richie, county surveyor, for a three span iron bridge sixty feet long.

—At McKees Rocks, Allegheny county, an ordinance has been passed by the borough council, providing for the construction of sewers in a number of streets.

—At Womelsdorf, Berks county, it is reported that the Womelsdorf Water Company will extend its system to Robesonia, a distance of about two miles.

—At Ford City, Armstrong county, the site of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's plant, a contract has been awarded for the erection of forty dwellings, to be finished in thirty days.

—At Wilmerding, Allegheny county, work will soon begin on the frame church for the congregation of the First Presbyterian Society. It will cost $5000. The plans have been prepared by A. K. Miller, of Pittsburgh.

—At Reading, Berks county, the new Hebrew congregation of Knesset Israel has bought an acre of ground for cemetery purposes, and will enclose it with a fence, and erect a dwelling.

—At Crafton, Allegheny county, the new Methodist Episcopal Church has advanced far enough to be ready for estimates for pews, altar fixtures and art glass. Address, J. E. Keim, architect, 614 Lewis Block, Pittsburgh, Pa.

—At St. Davids, Delaware county, the Philadelphia Loan & Realty Corporation has sold to Mrs. Minerva I. Durand four and a half acres of ground of the Edgewood Lake tract. The new owner will erect a handsome dwelling in the spring.

—At Reading, Berks county, at a meeting of the county commissioners, held not long since, Messrs. Stanger & Linderman decided to erect a temporary stable to replace the one recently destroyed by fire, and to erect a new barn in the spring.

—At West Chester, Chester county, at a recent meeting of the board of managers of the Chester County Hospital, a proposition was approved to introduce a new laundry plant for the use of the institution. The matter was placed in the hands of the committee on property.

—At Allentown, Lehigh county, the Allentown and Slatington Electric Street Railway Company has been granted a charter to construct a line about twenty miles long. The capital is $200,000, and the directors Francis J. Crely and Walter J. Sager, of Allentown; Francis A. Kreitz, of Slatington and others.

—At Elliott, Allegheny county, plans have been prepared by B. H. Prack, for two frame dwellings, to be erected on Mount Washington, near Duquesne Incline. They will be well finished throughout, and supplied with modern conveniences. The cost will be $5000 each.

—At Waynesboro, Franklin county, the congregation of the Methodist Episcopal Society will soon begin work on the new church, which will be erected at a cost of $15,000, from plans prepared by W. O. Weaver & Son, of Harrisburg, Pa. The contract will be let soon after January 1st, 1899. Rev. C. V. Hartzell is the pastor in charge.

—At Elmhorst, Lackawanna county, a handsome stone and frame dwelling will be erected by Colonel L. A. Watres. It will be finely finished throughout, handsome bathroom fixtures, plain and ornamental glass, tile work and all modern conveniences. The cost will be about $20,000. The plans have been prepared by J. R. Comstock, 93 Fifth avenue, New York City.

—At Willow Grove, Montgomery county, the Union Traction Company, of Philadelphia, will make a number of improvements at the grove, to be finished before the season of 1899 begins. Among them will be a covered way from the Casino to the trolley cars. It is said that the company will remove its repair shops from Philadelphia to Willow Grove.

—At Prospectville, Montgomery county, T. K. Allen, whose barn was destroyed by fire some time since, has awarded the contract for a new one to Michael Steyer and Joseph Emerson. It will be 58x58 feet, with a straw shed, 46x30 feet and a wagon house 22x24 feet, making in all 128 feet. All —At Norristown, Montgomery county, the Trustees of the State Hospital for the Insane have received notice from the State Board of Health, calling the attention of the Trustees to the hospital sewage, which finds its way into the Schuylkill river, and directing that the nuisance be abated at once. The Trustees say it cannot be done until the Legislature makes an appropriation.

—At Columbia, Lancaster county, the Ashley & Bailey Silk Mill Company has given twelve acres of ground as the site for an industrial school, to be erected from funds left for the purpose by the will of Thaddeus Stevens. The money was left years ago, but was inoperative until it reached the sum of $50,000, or over, by accumulation. The amount is now $60,000 in first-class securities. The idea of the donor was to have the school in Lancaster, but no site being given by that city for the purpose, the offer of the silk mill company at Columbia has been accepted. The court will be asked at once to appoint trustees to carry out the provisions of the will.

—At Pittsburgh, as reported some time since, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has had plans prepared for a union passenger station, to take the place of the present station, and as soon as matters pertaining to certain changes in grades have been adjusted by the municipal authorities, steps will be taken to begin the work. The station proper will be 360 feet long and 201 feet wide, with a height of four stories for the main portion 235x155 feet. The main floor of the station will be nearly 16 feet above the Liberty street level. There will be an approach 500 feet from Liberty street. The incline will lead to the cab stand, 150x90 feet, extending the width of the building, and beyond the cab stand will be the main vestibule, 120x30 feet, and communicating with the main waiting hall and baggage room, with handsome stairway and elevators. The main waiting room, 140x30 feet, will be finished in dull enameled terra cotta. This room will communicate with ladies' retiring room, gentlemen's smoking room, barber shop, restaurant and baggage rooms. The basements will contain the kitchens, the express company's rooms and rooms for heavy baggage. There will be a large train shed, 550x254 feet, large baggage elevators, etc. The estimated cost is about $1,500,000.—It is said that a new school building will be erected at Wilksburg sometime during the next year. At Wilmington, it is reported that the Bay State Gas Co. will erect a plant for furnishing electricity for lighting and heating purposes. —At a recent meeting of the Wilmington Bicycle Club plans were discussed for the new club house which will be erected the coming year. No site has yet been selected. The president of the club is Samuel Dillon. A building committee has been appointed.

Through Maryland.

At Hagers'own, Washington county, an ordinance was passed, at a recent meeting of council, to establish a municipal electric light plant, and providing for the issue of bonds to the amount of $90,000 to pay for the same.

At Annapolis, Anne Arundel county, Congress has appropriated $1,000,000 to begin work on the proposed buildings for the naval academy. The estimated cost is about $8,000,000.

At Baltimore, the council committee on highways has reported favorably an ordinance to construct brick and pipe sewers in a number of streets, also to repave Park Terrace with brick and Fulton avenue with asphalt. —It is reported that the Consolidated Railway Company has asked for a franchise on Chas street, which if granted, it is said the company will pave Biddle street at a cost of $50,000. —City council has passed an ordinance to appropriate $60,000 for a site and the erection of a building for a hospital for contagious diseases. —An extensive building operation has just been commenced by the City and Suburban Realty Investment Company, consisting of the erection of forty-one two-and-a-half story frame cottages on Cedar avenue, extended, Boundary and Boulevard avenues and Chestnut street extended. All will be well finished and provided with modern conveniences. —Edward W.

Tudor will erect a two-and-a-half story frame dwelling on the north side of Clifton avenue, west of Fourteenth street. —Peter A. Lion has begun work on a three-story brick store and dwelling, at the southeast corner of Ennor street and Ashland avenue. To be well finished throughout and provided with modern conveniences. —R. H. Rutherford has sold about five acres of ground on Lehr avenue, in Baltimore county, for $5920. —The Simpson & Doellner Lithograph Company will make extensive improvements to the building it now occupies at Milton avenue and Lanvale street, formerly the Schuetzen Park Casino. #### Washington, D. C.

The citizens of Mount Pleasant, Ingleside, Meridian Hill, Lanier Heights and Denison held a public meeting last week, and adopted measures to secure favorable action by the Senate, at the present session, on the bill passed by the House, providing for the extension of the Metropolitan street car line from its present terminus at Eighteenth street and Columbia road, eastward and northward to Mount Pleasant. George R. Roby, J. B. Henderson and others are interested. —The District Commissioners have submitted their annual report to Congress, and among the appropriations desired is one for the erection of a needed central police station, to be located in the first district, and thoroughly equipped. A new municipal building, in keeping with the city, is also suggested. —Work will soon begin on the building for an isolation ward on grounds of the Providence Hospital. —There is a prospect that the navy yard bridge will be replaced by a more modern structure. —The House Committee on Commerce gave a hearing a few days since to a committee of citizens in regard to the proposed memorial bridge across the Potomac. —Senator McMillan, chairman of the Senate committee on the District of Columbia, has introduced a bill providing that all overhead electric light wires within the fire limits of the District of Columbia be taken down; also that the Commissioners have authority to allow either of the electric lighting companies to extend its conduits without limit, whether to enter new territory or parallel existing conduits. —It is probable that steps will be taken soon toward the erection of a suitable building for the Department of Justice. The President favors such an undertaking, as do many of the Senators. The proposed structure will be fireproof. —Mrs. Scott Townsend, who recently purchased the Hillyer place, at the northeast corner of Massachusetts and Florida avenues, will not demolish the present dwelling, but will remodel the interior, add two wings, remove the high steps, leaving nothing, practically, of the present structure but the exterior walls. A fine dining-room will occupy one of the wings and a spacious ball-room the other. The plans for these improvements, which will include fine interior finish, handsome fixtures, tile work and every modern convenience, have been prepared by Carrere & Hastings, of New York City. The ground will also be improved. —During the past week a report was made to Congress by the commission appointed to appraise the value of property which it is proposed to take by the Government as a site for the extension of the present Government printing office building. —It is probable that three Government buildings will be erected in the near future; one for Government records, one for the Supreme Court of the United States, and one for the Department of Justice. —During the past week a large block of ground was sold, situated about two squares south of New York avenue and a few squares west of preparation by R. F. & E. R. Thompson, 13 Central square, Youngstown, for an office building, to cost about $100,000.

At Hartford, Conn., John K. Williams will erect a handsome dwelling, to cost $10,000. It will be two-and-a-half stories high, of frame, handsomely finished throughout. The plans have been prepared by E. S. W. Deitrich, No. 15 West Twenty-eighth street, New York City.

At Cleveland, Ohio, F. S. Barnum & Co., 1303 New England Building, have prepared plans for two handsome dwellings for George L. Case, Society of Savings Building. They will be three stories high, of frame, hard wood interior finish, tile work, plate and ornamental glass, all modern conveniences and improvements. The estimated cost is about $17,000.—George O. Campbell, 501 Garfield Building, has the contract for twenty dwellings, to cost about $40,000, to be of frame, well finished throughout.

At New York, the large building at Wooster and West Third streets, owned by W. L. McCready, was destroyed by fire some time since. It was occupied by the New York Dispatch and Delivery Company; Hein & Fox, cap makers, and Cohn & Son, clothing merchants. The loss on the building is estimated at $75,000.—The car sheds and seventy-five cars of the Union Railway Company were destroyed by fire a few days since. The loss was about $175,000, on which there was an insurance of $100,000.—The interior of St. Agnes Roman Catholic Church was wrecked by fire a few days since. The structure is situated on Fifty-third street near Third avenue. The new organ and valuable altar painting were ruined. The loss is about $100,000.—An explosion in the basement of Rogers, Peet & Company's retail clothing establishment started a fire which extended to the fifteen-story building of the Home Life Insurance Company and also to the Postal Telegraph building. The loss will amount to millions.—The ground at the northeast corner of 124th street and Seventh avenue, which was bought some time since by George A. Blumenthal, manager of the Harlem Opera House, will be improved by the erection of a nine-story apartment house, with restaurant and banquet hall, facing one hundred feet on Seventh avenue and fifty feet on 124th street. The street plot adjoining, which is 135x100 feet, will serve as the site for a theatre with a hall for musical societies. The plans for these improvements have been prepared by Alfred Zucker, 33 Union square, New York City.—Two seven-story brick and apartment houses will be erected at Ninety-ninth and the Boulevard for William Mortimer Hyne & Company, 303 Boulevard, New York City, from plans prepared by Neville C. Bagge, 217 West 125th street, New York City. The general contract has been let to James F. Forner, 1935 Seventh avenue.

IT'S a great saving of time and labor for those looking for contracts for work and material to know where to look; hence it would be difficult to over-estimate the value of its reliable building news.

Those who ought to know say that ONE BILLION FIVE HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS in gold has come in during the last two years, and that the country was never so rich as now.

We are piling up millions of dollars of debt against Europe for our exported bread stuffs, etc., while our imports are unprecedentedly small.

Foreign influence is no more regarded as a factor in the American security market, for holdings of this nature are so small and money in this country is so plentiful that the absorption would not cause a ripple.

Isn't it safe to conclude that the new year will be full of promise for real estate?

Effervescence

in commercial circles is known as wind.

Wind, as a word in commercial circles, is usually used in the way of derision.

They who have lost, or are rapidly losing
trade or business prestige, through obsolete
methods find much comfort in criticizing the other fellows' up-to-date ways as wind.

Wind in commercial circles is said to have no value. Let us see!

The fast sailing ship upon the sea, lying listless for the want of wind, represents
daily commercial loss which will soon run into thousands. Hence, some commercial
owner is the sufferer.

Pointed, terse and telling advertising is sometimes called wind by competitors, who cannot or will not advertise their wares.

Such wind is commercially profitable,
because it guides and directs the buying
public in a short way to what it wants.

Now right here the Russell & Erwin Manufacturing Company's Super-Extra Hardware
comes in. The buying public is monstrously
large. That part of it, who are acquainted with the true goodness of the Russell &
Erwin's Hardware, are steadfast and loyal,
but we want everybody to know it. Hence,
this advertisement.

New York, notwithstanding its extreme acquisition of territory, is more densely settled than Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Minneapolis, St. Paul, San Francisco, Buffalo, New Orleans, Kansas City, Pittsburgh, Omaha or Rochester. It is scarcely less densely settled than Providence, R. I., with 153,000 population and an area of 15.7 square miles.

Greater London has fewer people to the square mile than Greater New York.

Architect Notes.

Joseph M. Huston, the well known architect of this city, has started on quite an extended tour around the world, and will study the architecture of the older countries. Mr. Huston will be absent about eight months.

Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320-24 Walnut street, are making drawings for some considerable alterations to the interior of C. C. Harrison's business block, at Tenth and Market streets. In addition to above a special system of heat is to be placed in the first floor, for D. S. Landreth's Sons, seed and flower merchants.

All the drawings for the new First Baptist Church, at Seventeenth and Sansom streets, in this city, have now been completed and placed before the building committee for decision upon merit. This will be done at once as this body is anxious to have estimates made as soon as possible, so that the work of construction may be started as is well known the architect's drawings are competitive.

Schermerhorn & Reinhold, architects, 430 Walnut street, have given Albert L. Fretz, of Cynwyd, Pa., the contract to erect two large brick and frame dwellings at Bala, Pa., for William G. Huey. These have been noted previously as only a part of a previous operation by the same owner. All are to be fitted alike as to accommodations on interior. The same architects have on boards, drawings for quite an extensive operation at Atlantic City, N. J.

Some months since, we noted plans by Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, Twelfth street above Chestnut street, for the German Protestant Home for the Aged, at Lawnton, Pa. The drawings have been examined and approved by the board of Building Inspectors. $50,000 has been given as a bequest for the structure and it is likely work may be started after the opening of the building season of 1899. No contracts awarded.

On Saturday evening last, the Engineers' Club met at its headquarters, 1122 Girard street. A discussion was held on the question of cement testing, involving a paper which had been read at a previous meeting by Mr. Robt. W. Lesley, of the firm of Lesley & Trinkle. A magic lantern was used to illustrate a number of views and diagrams of new cement testing machines, as well as the microscopic appearance of cements which had been adulterated. The election of officers will take place in January.

Some time ago we noted in these columns, bids being received on the plans of Isaac Pursell, architect, 119 South Fourth street, for the new insane asylum, to be erected at Bridgeton, N. J. The contract has just been awarded to Burd P. Evans, contractor, of this city, for the building, and E. Kellar & Co., also of Philadelphia, the heating plant. The plumbing goes to Lewis W. Gould, of Vineland, N. J. The entire structure will cost $76,238.00. Brick and stone, two and three stories high. The central building being the home of officials and executive branch.

Bailey & Truscott, architects, 421 Chestnut street, have revised the plans for three fine country houses, to be erected at Ardmore, Pa., for J. L. Bailey. The drawings are now on the boards of Appleton & Burrell, contractors, and others for estimate. These as previously noted, will be of local stone, interior much in chestnut and other fancy woods, electric work, steam heat and all modern comforts. Noted in full previously in these columns. Also in same office estimates are being given on the plumbing for the George

Three new churches are to be erected in different localities in this city, under direction of Bishop Ryan and his board of Con-sultors. The definite locations of all have not as yet been fixed upon, but one has been arranged for in Kensington, another at Fifty-fifth and Vine streets, and another at Wayne Junction. The latter will likely be the first one started, but plans for all will be started simultaneously. It is also stated that additions and repairs are to be made to quite a number of other churches of that persuasion, if ground can be had and money forthcoming during the coming year of 1899. It is understood no drawings have been made for any of these.

Edgar S. Seelar and F. C. Roberts, architects, 328 Chestnut street, have had their drawings approved by Structural Engineer Barnes, of the board of building inspectors, for the office building, to be erected on the east of and adjoining the one now being completed for The Real Estate Trust Company, at Broad and Chestnut streets. The work of construction will now be pushed forward to completion and it will in all details conform to the building noted above, and built with connections thereto on each and every story. It will be in area 61x143 feet, front of granite and light buff colored brick, steam heat, electric work, elevators and brass and iron grill casings, tiling and mosaic work, plumbing and gasfitting, cement flooring and pavement, composite roof, all the most recent improvements will be introduced. Permission has been granted the above named company to proceed with the work. Previously noted in this journal.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Plans are being estimated on in a number of contractor's offices for a boiler house and a pumping station, to be erected at Fort Mifflin, on the Delaware River.

It is reported that A. F. Daix, Jr., attorney at law, 2221 Columbia avenue, has under consideration a site, on which to erect a building, to be fitted up as a theatre.

Machin & Brown, contractors, are about to erect, for the Merchant Tin Company, a one-story building, at 2025 Washington avenue. It will be principally of brick and stone.

Phillip Anns Company, contractors and builders, 605 Bourse Building, Philadelphia, has secured the contract for a large factory for the Pettit O. I. & F. Co., at Ambler, Pa., and are estimating on the Cumberland County Asylum, and a store and apartment house to be built at Atlantic City, N. J.

A large sub-committee of business men from this city called yesterday on the river and harbor committee of Congress, relative to the Delaware river channel problem along the front of our city line as well as the approach from the lower bay. Favorable action will be urged for improvement by the present body before adjournment, March 4th, 1899.

This Journal is mailed Weekly and Continuously to Every Architect in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Washington, D. C.; also to every builder and owner obtaining a building permit in Philadelphia and Camden; also to every person reported in its columns as building or going to build anywhere and everywhere.

This is our Contract with advertisers, and is independent of our subscription list; it means more buyers of construction material than is reached in the above territory by any journal in America.

Wants.

At Ashland, Ky., J. R. Geiske, Ceredo, West Va., will receive bids until January 3d, for a church, to be erected at Ashland.

At Keyser, West Virginia, bids will be received by the county clerk until February 10th, for a county jail. The estimated cost is $10,000.

At Atlantic City, city council has passed a resolution to advertise for bids for paving a number of avenues. Bids to be opened at a meeting to be held December 26th.

The property at the southwest corner of Thirtieth and Diamond streets, has been bought by the congregation of the Bethlehem Evangelical Church. The building now on the site will be used temporarily to worship in.

J. W. De Long, builder, is about erecting eight dwellings, three stories high, at Wayne and Coulter streets, Germantown. These are to be of local stone and brick, and contain all modern improvements, heaters, ranges and boilers, best plumbing, etc.

Louis Lambrecht, contractor, will at once begin erecting six two-story brick dwellings, on the north side of Brandywine street, between Thirty-first and Thirty-second streets. All will have stone trimmings, interior will contain best plumbing, ranges, heaters, boilers, etc.

William Henderson, contractor, will build the new factory for the Anatolian Rug Company, on Jasper street, above Tioga street. A one-story structure will be erected at present, 40x127 feet, and it is proposed in the near future to put on two others, after the plans prepared by Mr. Guy King, architect, 431 Walnut street.

William R. Dougherty, contractor, 1604 Sansom street, has been given the contract to build the fine stone factory, for the Fels Naptha Co., on Island road and Seventy-third street. It will be 46x104, and cost $18,000. Brick, stone and slow burning construction. Noted in full. After plans by Hales & Ballinger, architects, 1200 Chestnut street.

The Edge Moor Bridge Works, of Wilmington, Delaware, have taken a permit for the erection of four freight sheds, for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, at piers 13, 14 and 15 North Wharves, and at pier 14, South Wharves. All of these will be of steel skeleton structure, with steel columns, galvanized corrugated sides and slag roofs. The estimated cost is about $42,000.

A movement has been started among those interested in educational work, looking to the introduction of gas fixtures in the school system of this city, for heating and cooking purposes. We can only add in the above connection that, as no appropriation exists for such action, there is no immediate prospect of its consummation, at least until city councils take some action upon the matter.

Revised plans for the new reservoir to be constructed at George's Hill, in the West Park, will be submitted to the committee on plans and improvements of the park commission, on Monday next. These plans have been drawn by Chief Trautwine, of the water bureau, to meet the wishes of the park commission, which took exception to the conventional high embankment reservoir, and demanded a basin having the sloping beach effect.

At Germantown, Phila., work will soon begin on alterations to Vernon Hall, Main street, including an additional story which will be fitted up for lodge purposes. The second to be used for public meetings and for entertainments.—A number of three-story dwellings will probably be erected on the site at Chelton avenue and Boyer street, the coming season. It is said that O'Brien Brothers, contractors and builders, have an option on the ground.

John R. Wiggins, contractor, 1220 Filbert street, is taking sub-estimates on drawings, for an apartment house, to be erected at Thirty-third and Chestnut streets. It will be an eight-story structure, 180x157 feet, and constructed of brick, stone and iron. Interior will have elevators, electric work, steam heat, mosaic and tile work, iron and brass work, cement and concrete work, and all general conveniences. The plans are by E. P. Brink & Son, architects.

The following bills have been passed by city councils, which are of interest to contractors and others: To condemn for school purposes the properties Nos. 1304 and 1300 Palmer street and 439 and 441 Thompson street, adjoining the Alexander Adaire School, in the Eighteenth ward. Authorizing the American Brewing Company to construct a siding on Master street, east of Thirty-first street, to connect their plant with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Amending the appropriation to the board of education for 1898 by appropriating $10,000 for an addition to the Wharton School House, on Fifth street, below Washington avenue. To permit Burnham, Williams & Co., to erect a bridge over and across Fifteenth street, north of Hamilton. To permit the Philadelphia and Reading Railway Company to lay steam heating pipes under Delaware avenue and Noble street.

When any of the following are not post office towns they will be so designated.

—At Reading, Berks county, the clothing store of A. F. Haas was damaged by fire last week, to the amount of $10,000.

—At Millvale, borough clerk has been instructed to advertise for bids for an emergency pump for the water works.

—At Harrisburg, at the election to be held in February, a vote will be taken on the proposition to buy new pumping engines. The estimated cost is about $75,000.

—At Palmyra, Lebanon county, the office of the Herald and the barns of Dr. M. E. Fretz and Frank Slabach were destroyed by fire last week. The estimated loss is $4000.

—At Cambridge, Crawford county, E. M. Baird will erect a hotel to cost $80,000. The plans have been prepared by Franzheim, Gresey and Fairis, of Wheeling, West Virginia.

—At New Castle, Lawrence county, the grand jury has decided that the court house is too small and has recommended that the present building be enlarged or a new one erected.

—At McKeesport, Allegheny county, on December 14th, the National Hotel, one of the largest hotels in the place, was damaged by fire, also a tenement house adjoining. The estimated loss is about $15,000.

—At Latrobe, Westmoreland county, the Rev. W. B. Carr will erect a frame dwelling from plans prepared by J. E. Allison, Lewis Building, Pittsburg, Pa. It will contain eight rooms and will be well finished throughout.

—At Wilkesbarre, Luzerne county, the grand jury has recommended the construction of forty-six bridges in various parts of the country. The estimated cost is about $24,000. The contracts will be let in the Spring of 1899.

—At Sewickly, Allegheny county, John D. Carson will erect a handsome dwelling on Thorn street, near Academy avenue.—J. Stewart Brown will erect a large brick colonial dwelling from plans prepared by Rutan & Russell, Tradesmen's Building, Pittsburg, Pa.

—At Scranton, Lackawanna county, work has begun on the four-story and basement Masonic Hall building, for J. S. Miller, and for which plans have been made by Frederic L. Brown. It will be finely finished throughout and provided with all modern conveniences.

—At Elizabeth, Allegheny county, the capacity of the United Presbyterian Church will be increased by the erection of an addition from plans prepared by Riddle & Kern, 614 Lewis Block, Pittsburg, Pa. This addition will include a new Sunday-school room, 40x55 feet.

—At Braddock, Allegheny county, the offer of A. M. Kenny of fifty acres of land at Kenny, on the Pittsburg, Virginia & Charleston Railroad, opposite Braddock, has been accepted as a site for the proposed St. Paul's Orphan Asylum. No plans have been made for the buildings.

—At Sellersville, Bucks county, at a special meeting of the town council held last week, the ordinance of the Inland Traction Company was passed, giving the company the right of way to the town with the privilege of laying tracks on such streets as it desires to use. The company has promised to contribute its share toward the construction of a bridge across Branch Creek.

—At Haysville, Allegheny county, considerable building is projected, including the erection of a handsome dwelling by Frank Fass, on a site of two acres recently purchased in the grand view plan of lots.

—George Nichols has sold a five acre lot on which two country homes will be erected; and Philip Fetter has sold eighteen acres near the grand view plan, which will be cut up in building lots.

—At Chester, Delaware county, it is reported that a syndicate has secured an option of a tract of ground on the river front, and embracing about three squares, as the site for a large steel plant, to be the largest in the country, outside of the Bethlehem and the Carnegie Works. The capital of the new company is about $5,000,000. The proposed buildings will be 620x210 feet, with a number of smaller buildings.

—At Homestead, Allegheny county, it is probable that, in a few days, a site will be selected for the proposed church to be erected by the congregation of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church. The vestry is looking for a central site, and as soon as selected work will begin on the erection of the church. The estimated cost is $25,000. The school board has decided to buy the site of the present church and will erect a new school building on the site, at Twelfth avenue and West street.

—At Honesdale, Wayne county, at a recent conference of the officials of Delaware-Hudson gravity road, which will be abandoned January 1st, it was decided that the Erie Company would use the Delaware-Hudson tracks to enter Honesdale from Texas, a distance of two miles, and from there the two roads would construct a line to Elk lane, which will have an excursion point in place of Shohola Glen, then to run along the eastern slope of the Moosic Mountains to Fairview, where the return tracks of the gravity road will be utilized, after being widened to the standard gauge, to reach Carbondale. This will make a line about thirty miles long, which will be used to carry Delaware-Hudson coal.

—At Fountainville, Bucks county, at a recent meeting, held in the interest of the extension of the Quakertown Trolley Company's lines to Doylestown, by the way of Perkaskie, Sellersville, Silverdale, Bloomington, Dublin and Fountainville, the project was enthusiastically endorsed and it is said the right of way has been secured for the entire route. John Gross, of Fountainville, is interested, also Samuel R. Kramer, of the Perkaskie Central News. John King was chairman of the meeting and Mr. Gross and Harvey Gayman, secretaries. Mr. Ireland, the president of the Quakertown Traction Company, addressed the meeting. The estimated cost of the road is $700,000 a mile, if a dirt road is used, and $800,000 or $900,000, if ballasted. If the extension is made another 700 horse power engine will be put in.

—At Pittsburg, D. H. Burnham, of Chicago, the architect of the proposed new Union station, visited Pittsburg last week to arrange some of the details. It is expected that work will begin on the proposed structure early in the Spring.—A large building operation will begin early next Spring for the Pittsburg Terminal Company, which was chartered not long since, the incorporators being Capt. James A. Henderson, L. M. McElroy, John E. Shaw and a number of other Pittsburg men. The intended buildings will be two large warehouses, which will be erected on the ground recently bought, on the south side, east of the Monongahela bridge. They will be constructed on the Cupples system and will cost about $1,500,000. The terminal will be connected by lighters on the river with the freight stations of all the leading railroads entering the city. Each building will be seven stories high and separated into twenty-foot bays, in each of which will be an electric elevator. In addition to the warehouses a four-story cold storage building will be erected, 800 feet long and ninety feet wide. There will also be a large steam and electric power ice making and refrigerator plant. The plans have been prepared by Charles Bickell, Methodist Building.—V. Wyss, Thallman, Bissell Building, has prepared plans for the First National Brewery, to be erected in Allegheny, and work will soon begin on the various buildings. The estimated cost is about $500,000.—The Charity Hospital, at Collins avenue and Holveler street, east end, will probably occupy new quarters before long, a number of business men having proposed to raise about $50,000 to erect a suitable building for the institution.—John F. Sweeney has under consideration the erection of forty dwellings near his Eldora Place dwellings. The operation will cost about $50,000.—E. J. Carlisle & Co., Lewis Building, has made plans for a three-story building to be erected at East Pittsburg, and to be fitted up for hotel purposes. Estimates will be received at once.—A new school building will be erected in the East End.—T. E. Cornelius, Schmidt Building, has prepared plans for an attractive brick veneered dwelling, to be erected for Mrs. Lily E. Cornelius at Coraopolis, Pa.—Miss Elizabeth B. Wagner will erect a dwelling at 403 Lincoln avenue, to cost about $4000. The contract has been let to H. C. Nyeum, 209 Centre street, Wilkingsburg, Pittsburg.—Kerr & Fox, 2565

Fifth avenue, will erect a two-story brick dwelling, to cost $5000.—L. A. Raisig, First National Bank Building, Wilkingsburg, has prepared plans for a brick dwelling for M. L. Young, to be erected on North avenue.

Through New Jersey.

At West Hoboken, it is reported that council has passed an ordinance appropriating $45,000 for the erection of a new school building.

At Elizabeth, Union county, C. Godfrey Poggi has prepared plans for three 2½-story frame dwellings to be erected on South Broad street, at a cost of $3500 each.

At West Orange, Essex county, the property owners have passed a resolution in favor of cooperating in the proposed joint outlet sewer to Staten Island Sound.

At Berlin, Camden county, the large and handsome summer home of Mrs. V. E. Ireland was destroyed by fire December 13th. Much valuable furniture was also destroyed.

At Morristown, Morris county, a two-story brick whitewashed stable will be erected for Abraham Wolff, 27 Pine street, New York City, from plans prepared by Carrere & Hastings, 28 East Forty-first street, New York City.

At Arlington, Hudson county, an attractive two-and-one-half-story frame dwelling will be erected on Belgrade drive by Charles J. Dornier, of Jersey City, N. J. It will be well finished throughout and will cost about $4000.

At Woodbury, Gloucester county, a two-story frame stable and shed will be erected for the Atlantic Refining Company, Fourth and Chestnut streets, Philadelphia, from plans prepared by Charles Stillman, 20 Broadway, New York City.

At Cape May, Cape May county, the board of trade has appointed a committee to procure the right of way for a steel esplanade to be constructed 150 feet seaward of the present boardwalk. John W. Thompson, John Halpin, James Cresswell and others compose the committee.

At Plainfield, Union county, an attractive dwelling will be erected on Hillside avenue, for Elizabeth F. Benson, from plans prepared by Benson & Brockaway, 55 Broadway, New York City. It will be finely finished throughout. All modern conveniences and will cost $6000. A two-story frame stable will also be erected.

At Orange, Essex county, it is probable that steps will be taken at an early day for the erection of a sufficiently large garbage disposal plant to serve for making way with the garbage of the six municipalities of Orange, East Orange, West Orange, Montclair, Glen Ridge and Bloomfield. The site selected will be central for all.

At Bridgeton, Cumberland county, work will soon begin on the large brick hospital building for the insane asylum, and for which plans were prepared by Isaac Purcell, 119 South Fourth street, Philadelphia, Pa. The structure will be handsomely finished and provided with every facility. The estimated cost is $50,000. George Reeves is chairman of the building committee. His address is Millville, N. J.

At Weehawken, Hudson county, six two-and-one-half story brick veneered dwellings will be erected by Mrs. L. M. Van Riper, of Rutherford, N. J., from plans prepared by C. Baldwin Smith of the same place. These dwellings will be attractively finished throughout and provided with all modern conveniences and improvements, and will cost from $8000 to $12,000 each. A three-story brick store and apartment house will be erected by Henry Gatte, from plans prepared by George B. McIntire, Bank Building, West Hoboken, N. J.

At Vineland, Cumberland county, the State Commissioners having in charge the selection of a new home for army and navy veterans and their wives, at a recent meeting, held at Trent, N. J., and decided to buy the old Sacred Heart College building, at Vineland. The approval of Acting Governor Watkins is yet lacking, and he, with State Senator E. C. Stokes and members of the commission, will visit Vineland on December 22d to inspect the building. The building is of stone, and cost about $60,000, and contains about 120 rooms, and the site contains about twenty acres of ground.

At Newark, a brick factory will be erected at Green and Columbia avenues, for Enos Richardson, 23 Maiden lane, New York City. The plans have been prepared by Constable Brothers, 22 East Sixteenth street, New York City. Hurd & Sutton, Prudential Building, have made the plans for a dwelling to be erected in Newark. P. J. MacLogan, Jr., has made plans for a dwelling for August Bechtold, to cost $30,000.

Charles J. Byles & Nillest S. Scull have made plans for a new front to the four-story brick building on Broad street, near Clay. It is said that Jeremiah O'Rourke & Sons, 756 Broad street, are preparing plans for an eight-story building.

At Ocean City, Cape May county, Charles A. Campbell and W. E. Massey have arranged for the erection of a large building at the Boardwalk and Ninth street. The plans are now in the hands of contractors and as soon as the estimates are made and the contract awarded work will begin and will be pushed vigorously in order to finish the structure for the season of '99. The proposed building will be two stories high and the first floor will be fitted up for business purposes, with a number of bath houses in the rear. The second floor will be fitted up into a number of suites of apartments, with every convenience for housekeeping.

At Jersey City, it is said that the Acme Window Co., of which the capital stock is $50,000, will erect a factory in the Spring. Henry Staib, 1237 Madison street, Brooklyn, N. Y., and Kester W. Staib, of Middleton, Orange county, N. Y., are the incorporators. Dennis B. Ryan is the agent for the company. Helen M. Hornecker and Carrie D. Behrens will erect a two-story frame dwelling at 41 Emery street, from plans prepared by Ferris S. Morehouse, South Norwalk, Conn. It will be well finished throughout and will cost about $4000. William A. Tilton has made plans for an attractive dwelling, to be erected on Gifford avenue, for Mrs. Fannie Cooper. It will be of frame, handsome interior finish, modern conveniences and will cost $5000. The New York and New Jersey Warehouse Company, incorporated by Charles R. Platt, 26 Pine street, New York City. Alvah Trowbridge, 15 Nassau street, and others, will erect a large warehouse, for which the plans have been prepared by W. Wheeler Smith, No. 7 Wall street, New York City. The Street and Water Commissioners have decided to award the contract for a new water supply to Patrick H. Flynn, of Brooklyn, New York, for $7,585,000, if the city announces its intention to purchase within a year from the date of completion.

At Atlantic City, Frank Foca will erect two two-and-a-half story stores and dwellings. Charles Adams and Frederick Meyers will erect a number of three-story and basement brick dwellings, on Bellevue avenue, between Pacific avenue and the beach.

Harold F. Adams has prepared plans for two two-and-a-half story frame dwellings, to be erected at Chelsea. The same architect has made plans for a three-story brick and composition dwelling for the Ventnor Dredging Company. It will cost about $6000. Also plans by the same architect for a three-story and basement double dwelling, to be erected on Massachusetts avenue, for Isaac and Harry Bacharach, at a cost of $40,000. Another hotel will be erected on New York avenue. The plans have been prepared by Howard A. Stout, and call for a structure 36 x 112 feet. The owner is Philip L. Elwood, of Philadelphia, who also owns the Ocean Queen Hotel on Tennessee avenue. The proposed building will be five-stories high, of brick and frame, and will contain about one hundred rooms, finished in cypress; the dining-room, 54 x 55 feet, will be finished in Flemish oak, the same kind of wood being used in the office. The dining-room will have several open fire places, and there will be another in the office. Elevators and all modern conveniences will be provided, including fine bath-room fittings, steam heat, etc. Steel structure work will be used throughout. Large porches will surround the structure on New York avenue and the ocean side, and fire escapes will be a feature. The general contract has been awarded to Nicholas Young, and work will begin immediately. Harvey J. Shumway is the architect for the seven-story brick addition to the Hotel Astoria, previously reported. William Staiger will enlarge the Hotel Willard by the erection of an addition to contain about fifty rooms. Mrs. K. Shuman will have a three-story frame addition erected to her present building at 159 South Virginia avenue, which will contain one hundred rooms. E. V. Corson will enlarge the Hotel Strand. Mr. Corson will also erect a three-story and basement frame dwelling, at Chelsea, from plans prepared by William Hewitt. The estimated cost is about $8000. The plans for the immense hotel, to be erected by Captain John L. Young, of Atlantic City, and Clarence Busch, of Philadelphia, at Ocean avenue and the boardwalk, are in the hands of contractors for estimates. It will be six-stories high, of steel construction, concrete, and will be fireproof. The estimated cost is $225,000. An effort is being made to have the government improve the inlet at Atlantic City.

Through Delaware.

It is said that a syndicate is negotiating for the Wilmington City Electric Company, of which S. N. Trump is the president and Ferdinand L. Gilpin, secretary and treasurer.

At Wilmington, the Edgemoor Bridge Works has been awarded the contract by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, for the construction of a steel drawbridge, to replace the present structure spanning the Passaic river, at Newark, N. J. It will be 500 feet long and have three spans and holds and two tracks.

Through Maryland.

At Queenstown, Queen Anne's county, it is said that General Manager Groxel and Civil Engineer Uhler, of the Queen Anne Railroad Company, have asked for the right of way for that road from Queenstown to Centerville.

At Baltimore, work has begun on a building operation by A. M. Donaldson, consisting of the erection of fourteen two-story dwellings, to be of brick, on the south side of Baltimore street, near Payson street. A three-story frame store and dwelling will be erected by F. Kemp, on Frederick avenue, west of Loudon avenue. The Baltimore City Passenger Railway Company's line has been bought by a syndicate headed by Brown & Sons, bankers, of Baltimore, and Brown & Brothers, bankers, of Philadelphia. It is said the syndicate will sell to the Consolidated Company in which Elkins & Widener, of Philadelphia, are interested. Wood, Harmon & Co., real estate dealers, have sold lots at Ralston, a suburban settlement, amounting to about $15,000. Each lot is 40x119 feet, and are situated on Hawthorn, Clarendon and Brightside avenues, and will be finely finished in the near future by the erection of attractive dwellings. The same firm has sold three building lots at East Catonsville, each lot being 40x95 feet. Messrs. Goodrich & Goodrich, architects, have the contract for the erection of the proposed American hotel at Havana, Cuba. This structure will be erected to accommodate winter tourists from the United States and will be finely finished throughout and thoroughly equipped with all modern conveniences and improvements. Hubbard & Co., fertilizer manufacturers, have leased a tract of land, 100x275 feet, on the Canton water front, from the Canton Water Company, and will erect a pier 150 feet long and a three-story building equipped with the latest fertilizing machinery. The Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company has bought from the Basin Fertilizer Company, for $180,000, its factory and twenty-one acres of ground in Anne Arundel county, Maryland. It is said that the same company has bought the property of the Monumental Chemical Company adjoining. A corrugated iron storage warehouse 216 x 81 feet, will be erected at Locust point by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company. The cost will be about $60,000. Council has passed the ordinance appropriating $40,000 for improvements to the City Hall. Charles E. Cassell, 405 Law Building, has prepared plans for a high school to cost $20,000, to be erected by the Baltimore Society of Friends. It will be well finished throughout. All modern conveniences and improvements. The Baltimore and Northern Electric Railway Company has asked for a franchise, and, if given, will pave two miles of roadway in the annex with Belgian blocks.

An ordinance has been introduced in councils providing for the paving of a number of streets with asphalt.

condemnation land and water rights at the Great Falls of the Potomac. A bill was also called up, providing for the purchase of type-writing machines for the recorder of deeds office, and that all deeds so recorded be declared to be legally recorded. — A memorial has been presented to Congress on the subject of the erection of an executive mansion or President's house. The location recommended for the new White House is on the high ground at what is known as the head of Sixteenth street, and includes fifty three acres, and extends as far North as Huron street. The memorial is ornamented with a drawing of the proposed structure by Paul J. Pelz, the architect of the Georgetown University and of the Carnegie Library, at Allegheny. — The Senate has passed the bill providing for a site for a new Supreme Court building. It will probably be north of the new Congressional library. — Acting Secretary Melklejohn, of the War Department, has transmitted to Congress a project for the improvement of Anacostia river and the reclamation of its flats from the line of the District of Columbia to its mouth. This improvement includes the deepening of the channel and the construction of a sea wall. The estimated cost is $2,194,720, and does not include the cost of alteration of bridges, which would be made necessary, nor the cost of protection of bridge piers, which may be affected by excavating near them. — Mr. Jenkins has introduced a bill in the House to extend Fourth street northeast through Metropolis View, one-half the cost to be borne by the government and one-half by the District of Columbia. — Four dwellings will be erected by Charles E. Fairman in Le Droit Park, from plans prepared by H. A. Campbell. They will be two stories high, 19 x 70 feet, with fronts of press brick, stone trimmings and porches. The interiors will be well finished and all modern conveniences will be provided. — W. J. Marsh and W. G. Peters have prepared plans for the new building to be erected for The Evening Star, and bids will be received at once for the work. — R. E. Middaugh will erect six dwellings on S street. They will be two stories high, well finished throughout and provided with modern conveniences. — General H. R. Lochner will erect a two-story frame dwelling on the Piney Branch road. — A similar dwelling will be erected at Brookland by W. S. Daniels. — As the Senate has promptly passed a bill for the erection of a municipal building for the District of Columbia, it is probable that steps will be taken in the near future to start the work. The vacant space belonging to the government on Pennsylvania avenue, opposite Centre Market, has been suggested as a suitable site for the proposed building.

Miscellaneous.

At Port Chester, New York, the subject of the erection of a high school is under consideration.

At Royal Oak, Michigan, an electric light plant will be erected. William Hilzinger, engineer in charge.

At Rochester, N. Y., the Academy of Music, leased by H. R. Jacobs was, almost destroyed by fire not long since, also Reynolds's Arcade, covering more than an acre of ground. The theatre was valued at $50,000.

At Marshall, Texas, it is said that C. J. Randall, of Shreveport, La., will erect a $40,000 hotel at Ninson Springs, six miles from Marshall.—An electric line will be constructed from Marshall to the Springs.

At Kansas City, Mo., it is reported that L. P. Goodale, of St. Joseph, chief engineer of the Burlington route, is preparing plans for extensive improvements to the terminals. The estimated cost is about $200,000.

At Shelton, Conn., the congregation of the Society of the Good Shepherd has decided to erect a granite church, from plans prepared by E. Hanford Sturges, of New Rochelle, New York. No contracts have been let.

At Louisville, Ky., a site has been selected by William Wilson, representing in Louisville the interest of Messrs. Widener and Elkins for an immense tobacco plant, which will be erected at an expense of about $1,000,000.

At Atlanta, Georgia, it is said that plans have been prepared by Bedford L. Gilbert, 50 Broadway, New York City, for the new station. The estimated cost is about $450,000, including some other necessary improvements.

At Canton, O., Kenney Bros. will erect a five-story steel, brick and stone building for business purposes at the northwest corner of Public Square. It will be well finished throughout and thoroughly equipped with modern conveniences. The estimated cost is about $55,000.

At Staten Island, N. Y. (P. O. Rosebank) a brick and frame stable and several one-story frame dwellings will be erected by Mr. Roderick Cameron, 183 Madison avenue, New York City. The plans have been prepared by McKim, Mead & White, 160 Fifth avenue, New York City.

At Indianapolis, Indiana, it is stated that the Northern Insane Hospital Board has recommended the erection of a new building, to cost about $30,000, and $11,650 for water works and additional boiler capacity.—The board of control for the Central Hospital for the Insane has under consideration, asking for an appropriation for a new hospital to cost about $135,000.

At Newport News, West Virginia, D. S. Jones will erect a building for business purposes at Twenty-eighth and Lafayette streets, from plans prepared by G. E. Cornell. The cost will be about $11,000.—W. D. Hill has prepared plans for a four-story brick building for banking and business purposes, to be erected on Washington avenue, for F. F. Fuch. The cost will be about $16,000.

At Richmond, Virginia, a charter has been granted to the James River Construction Company, to erect a plant to be used for the development of the water power of the James river for electrical and manufacturing purposes. R. Lancaster Williams is the president of the company. Richmond, Va.; F. C. Todd, of Baltimore, Md., vice president; A. W. Wedell, of Richmond, secretary.

At Wheeling, West Virginia, Kanzheim, Geisey & Faris have prepared plans for a hotel for Mr. R. M. Baird, of Cambridge, Pa. The estimated cost is $60,000. It will be three stories high, of frame, slate roof, steam heat, electric work, elevator, etc. The same architects have made plans for an opera house for Charles Finler, to cost $10,000.—H. H. Forney, architect, has made plans for two churches, to cost, $35,000 and $7000 respectively.

At Cleveland, Ohio, it is reported that the site of Lennox Apartment House will be utilized as a site for the ten-story building to be fitted up for hotel purposes. James H. Thompson, manager of the Stillman Hotel, and W. C. Spaulding, of the Lennox Company, are said to be interested in the proposed new hotel. It will be handsomely furnished throughout and provided with modern conveniences.—It is also proposed to erect a new court house. No site or architect has been selected. E. T. Hamilton, president of county court house commission, can give additional information.

At Steubenville, Ohio, at a recent meeting of the board of managers of the Kings Daughters' Hospital Association, a communication was read from Mr. J. J. Gill, a prominent manufacturer of the city, offering to buy ground and erect a hospital for the association. The cost will be about $25,000. The offer was accepted by the association and a building committee appointed, consisting of Mr. Robert M. Gowan, Mr. Charles Gallagher, Mrs. H. B. Grier and Mrs. John M. Cook, to act conjointly with an advisory board of three to be selected by Mr. Gill. It is probable that steps will be taken at once to carry out the intentions of the generous donor.

At New York, Frederico Bergmann, Peruvian consul general, 25 Whitehall street, has plans on exhibition for sewerage work at Callao. Bids will be received until January 15, 1894, by the Municipal Council of Callao. ## Do you think, or do you think you think?

IT is said that there is science in everything. The science of thinking is an art so well defined that they who are experts reach conclusions much easier and safer than those who think at random. The one actually thinks, while the other fellow thinks he is thinking, while, in fact, he is not able to think.

The human brain is full of vagaries, and there are brain athletes just as there are physical athletes, both the result of training.

A man's legs are simply instruments intended to carry the man around. The nerves are the motive power, guided and directed by the brain. Hence one brain moves and directs one pair of legs on a rigid, economical and profitable basis, while another pair of legs yield to the vagaries of an untrained brain, with results that are costly, tiresome and unprofitable.

The general of an army does the thinking for a multitude of men with legs. If these self same legs were permitted to run at large chaos would be the inevitable result.

The thinking man uses modern appliances and makes them a part of his science of thinking. Hence his business success and power to guide and direct.

In this men differ, and this difference represents the steps between master and man.

The weekly building news columns, as well as the columns of record of real estate values of this journal, are modern appliances for shrewd thinking men who are in quest of trade or information which they turn into hard dollars.

If you are not a subscriber you had better become one for 1899.

Effervescence

in commercial circles is known as wind, Wind, as a word in commercial circles, is
usually used in the way of derision

They who have lost, or are rapidly losing
trade or business prestige, through obsolete
methods find much comfort in criticizing the
other fellows' up-to-date ways as wind.

Wind in commercial circles is said to have no value. Let us see!

The last sailing ship upon the sea, lying listless for the want of wind, represents
daily commercial loss which will soon run into thousands. Hence, some commercial
owner is the sufferer.

Pointed, terse and telling advertising is sometimes called wind by competitors, who cannot or will not advertise their wares.
Such wind is commercially profitable,
because it guides and directs the buying
public in a short way to what it wants.

Now right here the Russell & Erwin Manufacturing Company's Super-Extra Hardware
comes in. The buying public is monstrously
large. That part of it who are acquainted with the true goodness of the Russell &
Erwin's Hardware, are steadfast and loyal,
but we want everybody to know it. Hence,
this advertisement.

JOHN F. BRISBANE, City Editor.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, DEC. 28, 1898.

WITH this number the Philadelphia REAL ESTATE RECORD AND BUILDERS GUIDE completes its thirteenth year of uninterrupted business success. Established in 1886, the first number was issued on Saturday, January 9th, of that year, the day of publication having been subsequently changed to Wednesday, for the sake of convenience.

The first number was issued by Messrs. McNamee & Bright, a couple of clever Philadelphia boys, the former at that time having been connected with the Philadelphia Record, and the latter with the Press of this city. These young and progressive newspaper votaries soon afterward parted with their interests to its present owner, who has managed and directed its affairs up to this time.

Of course it is but natural, under the circumstances, to dwell upon the past with considerable pleasure and satisfaction, for while as a money making factor the enterprise has not yielded a mine of wealth, as fortunes are now gauged, yet it has conclusively established the fact that there was room for such a journal, notwithstanding the failure of previous efforts, and the sage conclusions of those who knew all there was worth knowing about the field, as well as the business interests, whence such a journal must necessarily receive its support, to enable it to succeed.

There were discouragements enough at the beginning to satisfy even its most pessimistic critics, for the field was already occupied by several monthlies, which had reaped a moderate degree of success, and which were supposed to have such a monopoly of both subscribers and advertisements, as to leave little besides the crumbs for the little fellow who had presumed to enter upon their domain.

As time is the crucial test of both men and newspapers, the experience of this journal was in no way an exception; it continued to live and prosper even in the face of such opposition as such worthy competitors as "Carpentry and Building," "The American Builder," and "Builder and Decorator" could give it, all of which in time yielded to the inevitable and sought the rustic shade of the historic woodbine, whose delicate tendrils lovingly entwined all who seek rest from business cares and trouble.

Believing as we do that the country is entering upon a cycle of prosperity, which is without a parallel in the history of any nation on the globe, it is but natural that our views should be optimistic. Fortunately opportunities in this country are still widely diffused, and, while the work of trust organizations has seriously impaired business chances, yet brains and energy will continue to make the most of opportunities, regardless of the present tendency to centralization.

It may be a long and tedious interval before real estate will reach the degree of prosperity we wish for it, but it will surely come, and sooner perhaps, than is expected, as a natural result of national prosperity. Real estate may, indeed, be among the most distant wheels from the power-giving centre, but there is nothing alarming even in such a concession, for there is too much force in the sentiment and trend of American manhood for home and business betterments, to justify prolonged apathy, after the money-making era has fully commenced.

As to the future of this journal, it will continue to do its duty in the interest of its patrons.

With the highest appreciation of the uniform kindness and courtesy it has received, since its inception, from every one, it extends to its readers an earnest New Year's greeting, with its best wishes for the business success of all.

THE advocates of the Benner theory, as to the supremacy of iron as a precursor to a high degree of business prosperity, will certainly be gratified after reading the following clipping from the Iron Age.

It says: "The year 1898, with its extraordinary record for production, closes with a burst of activity unparalleled in the history of the industry, except in the famous year 1879. An enormous tonnage has been placed for 1899 delivery, but at very low prices. An increasing number of producers, having their order books in good shape for many months to come, are virtually withdrawing from the market or are asking higher prices."

"The Western markets for foundry irons have been comparatively quiet during the past week, but there has been continued activity in the East, where the furnaces have been relatively slow for some time past. These furnaces now have advanced prices and are calling a halt. In steel material, Pittsburgh notes sales of one block of 25,000 tons of Bessemer pig. In the East there have been a number of sales of round lots of basic pig iron at the range of $10.25 to $10.75. There has not been much doing in steel East or West. Makers of billets are firm on the basis of $16 Pittsburgh and $17.35 to $17.50 in Eastern Pennsylvania. Buyers, however, are resisting the advance. In the rail trade the event of the week has been the sale by the Maryland Steel Company of 80,000 tons of rails to Asiatic Russia, thus following up the former sale of 40,000 tons to the same parties. The Pennsylvania Railroad is in the market for a large lot of rails. The wire trade is developing strength. Rods are scarcer, and pretty high prices have been paid by Canadians. The negotiations for the control of large additional plants by the leading interests have actively progressed, and are reported to have resulted in the acquisition of one important establishment in the Cincinnati district. Further orders have come to the plate mills East and West, and they are now so overloaded with work that prices are being advanced and business is being turned down. An interesting transaction was the sale of a lot of 4000 tons of plates for export at Philadelphia. The makers of structural material are getting a fair amount of business for this season of the year, and the indications point to a full volume of work for 1899. In the West, particularly, all the concerns who supply material for car-building are very heavily engaged, some of them being full of work for the first half of 1899. The cast iron pipe makers are figuring on a lot of about 20 000 tons for Yokohama. The prospects for a heavy export trade next year are regarded as promising."

Calendars for 1899.

WE are indebted to Messrs. Samuel H. French & Co., Fourth and Callowhill streets, for one of their memorandum calendars for 1899. It is a useful auxiliary to the desk of a business man, being virtually a diary in blank, with memorandum spaces sufficiently large for practical use.

As a frontis-piece to their calendar, Messrs. French & Co. extend an earnest new year's greeting, as well as a courteous invitation to buyers of building material to become acquainted with their house.

This old firm, which has been in active business without an interruption for over half a century, prominently represents the best type of Philadelphia's prosperous business concerns, and, even if old fashioned, perhaps, in its standard of business morals, its example remains as a wholesome, lasting influence, worthy of imitation at all times and under all circumstances.

MESSRS. Henry G. Schultz & Son, contractors and builders, 1419 West Ontario street, have kindly sent us one of their calendars for 1899.

WE are indebted to the Provident Life and Trust Company for its calendar for 1-99.

CIRCUIT JUDGE WOOD, of St. Louis, in a case where a husband claimed, under the common law, a deceased wife's personal estate as against her relatives, has ruled that the common law has ceased to exist, and ordered the property turned over to the woman's brothers. The case has been appealed.

These, together with the millions of interest money which will be paid after January 1st, will add to the present plethora of money to an extent difficult to estimate.

Architect Notes.

Architects Willit S. Scull, formerly of 59 Court street, Brooklyn, has formed partnership with Architect Charles J. Byles, room 1008 Prudential Building, Newark, N. J.

Architects Marsh and Peters, 1502 Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, D. C., want bids until January 21 for the erection of the Evening Star Newspaper Co.'s new building at that place.

At Wilmington it is said that a new one-story church building, to cost $12,000, will be erected by St. Luke's Reformed Episcopal Congregation. It will have basement and built of brick and stone.

Charles C. Haight, architect, 111 Broadway N. Y., is at work on plans for alterations to the school building, corner of Madison avenue and Forty-ninth street, owned by John S. White 20 West Forty-fourth street; to cost about $10,000.

Architect Geo. W. Kramer, 1 Madison avenue, New York, has been engaged to make plans for a Methodist church at Yalesville, Conn. It will be of brick and brownstone, Geo. Cook, of Yalesville, is chairman of the building committee.

John R. Wiggins, the well-known contractor, is fitting up a fine suite of three rooms on the seventh floor of the Heed Office Building, 1213-15 Filbert street, and to which he will at once remove. Mr. Wiggins states that this move is rendered necessary on account of business increase.

Robert E. Rogers, architect, 25 East One-Hundred-and-Twenty-seventh street, N. Y., has plans in preparation for a brick and stone extension, 41 x 20 feet, to be made to the business building, corner of One-Hundred-and-Twenty-fourth street and Third avenue, of the Harlem Savings Bank, on premises; cost $800.

Architect Emil H. C. Hartmann's, 41 Chestnut street, drawings for a new two-story brick ice machine house, to be erected at Tenth and Calowhill streets, for the Union Brewing Company, have been submitted to the Bureau of Building Inspection for approval. The building will measure 25 x 35 feet.

Plans are on the boards of Architects Julius Kastner & Sons, 1133 Broadway, N. Y., for an extensive ice plant, said to be the largest in Greater New York, to be erected for Jacob Ruppert, brewer, 1333 Third avenue. It will be 150 x 200 feet and 85 feet high, built of brick, stone and iron and will have a daily capacity of 1000 tons.

Huehl & Schmid, 59 Metropolitan Block, Chicago, Ill., have completed plans and specifications, and will shortly let contracts for a four-story brick factory, 40x125 feet, to be added to the vinegar and yeast plant of Spielman Brothers, at 101-109 North avenue. To cost $30,000. A two-story barn, 35x125 feet, will also be erected.

Henry D. Dagit, architect, 435 Chestnut street, has made plans for alteration and addition to 2205-07 North Front street, for Christopher Fluber. Work will consist of carpenter work, masonry, concrete work, cement work. Interior to have all modern conveniences. Estimates being made in office of

Wm. R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street, and others.

In the office of Joseph M. Huston, architect, Witherspoon Building, plans are being made for a new fire station, to be erected for the city of Frankford. It will be of stone, brick and terra cotta work, and fitted with all conveniences going to make it conform to the best in conveniences, etc. Estimates at an early day. Other work in the same office will be noted as plans develop.

S. S. Beman, architect, Pullman Building, Chicago, Ill., has prepared plans for a new church edifice, to be built on Lake avenue, near Fifth street, for St. Paul's Episcopal Congregation, Rev. C. H. Bixby, pastor. It will be one-story and basement, have stone front, probably tile roof, hardwood finish, steam heat, electric light, art glass, and the latest church improvements. Estimated to cost $50,000.

McKlin, Mead & White, architects, 160 Fifth avenue, N. Y., have plans nearly completed for the new medical college building on First avenue, from Twenty-seventh to Twenty-eighth streets, for the Columbia University, a donation by Col. Oliver H. Payne, 852 Fifth avenue. To be of fireproof construction, five stories and basement, built of brick, stone and iron. Estimated to cost about $500,000.

Some weeks ago we noted in detail the fact that Mr. Frederick M. Mann, architect, 328 Chestnut street, had started plans for the Memorial Church of St. Paul, at Overton, near this city. These are now nearing completion and show a truly handsome design in which are incorporated all the best ideas of modern architecture. No definite time has been fixed upon for estimates upon the work, but it is desired to make an early start upon the structure in the coming year. The construction will be under Mr. Mann's personal supervision.

The plans of Architect A. S. Cochran, S. E. corner Tenth and Walnut streets, for the five-story brick warehouse, to be erected at 37 South Second street, and alterations at 23 and 28 Letitia street, in the rear, were approved yesterday by the Structural Engineers of the Bureau of Building Inspection, and Contractor Lewis Havens took out a permit for the work. The building will measure 23 x 100 feet and the work will cost $15,000. The work will be done for R. B. Okie, as stated in this column several days ago. Mr. Havens will also make alterations at 3-3 Jackson street for the United Security, Life and Trust Company, all previously noted.

Plans and specifications have been prepared by Schneider & Herter, architects, Bible House, New York, for two flat buildings, to be erected for H. D. A. Bauhahn, 2154 Second avenue, and also one similar building, each for John Fisk, Metropolitan Life Building, and Eugene Schulz, 214 Sixth street. The several operations will call for light brick and stone, iron beams, tin roofs, skylights, concrete cellar floors, mosaic tiling, ornamental ironwork, wood mantels, mirrors, grille work, bathroom outfits, marble washstands, dumb waiters, gas fixtures and steam or hot water heat. Total cost to be about $92,000.

Edwin Gilbert, architect, 1420 Chestnut street, some time ago completed plans for an office building, to be erected for Dr. Jno. V. Shoemaker, at 1416-1418 South Penn Square, and fully noted in these columns at that time. These are now to be estimated upon with a view of starting construction. The building will be fifteen stories high, in Italian renaissance, steel skeleton, and of brick and terra cotta. It will be called the Law Building, and fitted on interior with all conveniences, including elevators, electric work, steam heat and power, mosaic and tile work, plumbing of the finest, grille work of iron and brass, slate work, cement work, etc. Estimates are to be made so as to start work by February 1st, 1899.

Architects Milligan & Weber, 320 Walnut street, have prepared plans for a seven-story apartment house, to be erected over in West Philadelphia. The exact location and the owner's name are not ascertainable at present, but it is rumored that the proposed building will be erected on Chestnut street, between Thirty-third and Thirty-fifth streets. According to the plans the apartment house will have a brick and stone front. There will be a large vestibule containing an open fire-place, with a reception room and an office on either side. The rooms will be arranged in suites of three or four with a bath room. There will also be single rooms. The culinary department will be located on the seventh floor. The building will measure 100 x 115 feet.

John D. Allen, architect, 1017 Chestnut street, has just completed drawings for an eleven-story apartment house, to be erected at Walnut, Sansom, Cope and Twenty-third streets. It will be absolutely fire-proof in construction, steel frame, 108x23 feet in area, Indiana limestone, brick, terra cotta work, and Cape Ann red granite will ornament the exterior walls. The interior will contain a large hall on first floor, off which will run elevators to all parts of the building, which will be fitted in suites of six, nine and ten rooms each. Also bachelor quarters will be established to suit convenience. All the floors will be handsomely fitted in hard woods, mosaic and tile work, electric work, plumbing and gasfitting, brass and iron grille work, steam heat, etc. A power house will also be constructed on the corner of Cope and Sansom streets, to supply the main house. Estimates are to be offered at once. Plans in offices of J. E. and A. L. Pennock, 305 Walnut street, and other contractors.

Frank R. Watson, architect, 1208 Chestnut street, has completed full plans for the Hotel Wellington, to be erected at Atlantic City, N. J. It is principally a frame, brick and stone structure, interior to have steam heat, electric work, elevators, and all minor detail conveniences will be introduced. Supervision will be under the office of Mr. Watson, at Atlantic City, to which communications must be addressed. Mr. Watson has on boards a number of preliminary sketches which will be noted later on. Mr. Watson has made preliminary sketches for the proposed new armory of the Twentieth Regiment, National Guard of Pennsylvania. Negotiations are pending for the big lot of ground, 360x180 feet, on Lancaster avenue from Thirty-second to Thirty-third streets. The building will be of stone, three stories in height with a wing and a big drill shed. The effect of the facade is grimly martial, the building being designed to be thoroughly defensible from attacks from without. The first floor on the main front will have a suite of rooms for the colonel, whose private sanctum is located in the tower, with a reception room adjoining, and this opens into the adjutant's room. Next is arranged a room for the lieutenant-colonel and majors and three company rooms are also on this floor. In the wing will be a dining hall and library. All of the rooms for the companies have apartments for the captains partitioned off, containing bath and toilet facilities. The two upper floors of the main building will contain company rooms and over the library and dining rooms will be the squad drill and surgeons' rooms. In the basement is to be placed the heating and ventilating plant, and also a swimming pool and gymnasium. The drill hall will extend out from the main building and will measure about 180x150 feet. The fair now in progress at the armory on Broad street near Federal street, is for the purpose of raising money towards the beginning of the work, and Colonel Leland and

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The contract for the erection of the three-story brick back building, 9x15 feet, at J. S. Keen's residence, at 3904 Chestnut street, has been awarded to Contractor J. F. McCloskey.

Macey, Henderson & Co., contractors for the large blacksmith shop at Baldwin's Locomotive Works, Broad and Spring Garden streets, has started work on the structure. This has been fully noted previously in this journal.

Contractor James H. Murray will at once start to build a two-story brick manufacturing building, 16.3x40 feet, at 838 Holly street, for Sarah E. Murray, owner. The building will be erected according to the plans drawn by Architect John D. Allen.

Louis Havens, contractor, Girard Building, has on boards plans for estimate on a five-story wool house, to be erected at 26-28 Letitia street. It will be 25x148 feet in area and is owned by Dr. E. B. Okie. It will contain all modern conveniences, elevator, etc.

Geo. F. Payne & Co., contractors 401 South Juniper street, has been awarded a contract for a house to be erected at Lakeside, N. J. After plans previously noted, by Horace Traumbaur, architect, Land Title Building, Broad and Chestnut streets. Cost about $30,000.

Charles Matlack has taken title to the property at 4108 Parkside avenue, 18x200 feet, for $850, subject to a mortgage of $10,000, and the adjoining property, 4110, 18x201 feet, for $589, subject to a mortgage of $12,000. The properties were sold by the Blackwood Improvement Company.

Work has been started by contractor Charles G. Seidel on extensive alterations and additions at the residence of George D. Haford, at 1234 South Seventeenth street. The present frame kitchen and bath room will be torn down and a two-story brick building, 16x32 feet, will be built on the site.

J. E. & A. L. Pennock, contractors, 805 Walnut street, have started work on foundations for a test house for the United Gas Improvement Company, at Seventeenth street and Passunk avenue, and another at Richmond and Ann streets. Wilson Brothers and Company, architects, drew the plans which were fully noted by us in a previous issue. Cost will be about $19,000.

Now that the provisions for the great loan bill have become a fixed law and in force, the new and varied improvements will, under it, be carried into effect. This contemplates new water supply, new schools, street improvements, a reservoir for West Philadelphia and other construction work which will furnish labor and demand material amounting to many millions during the coming year of 1899.

HOWARD L. DAVIS.

In regard to the proposed apartment house noted previously, to be erected on the site of the Clinton Presbyterian Church, at Tenth and Clinton streets, and one proposed at 1133 Spruce street, we find that no definite action in either case has been taken. Only preliminary estimates and pencil sketches have thus far been considered, and these have been the basis entirely for reports as to building operations in both cases noted above.

At the special session of the Master Builders' Exchange held last week the following delegates and alternates were elected to attend the twelfth annual convention of the National Association, to be held at Milwaukee, February 7 to 9, 1899: Charles H. Reeves, David H. Watts, Thomas Armstrong and R. C. Ballinger; alternates, Edmund Webster, William E. Irvine, William N. Reed and Joseph F. Witt. The following members were placed in nomination to fill vacancies in the several classes of directors: Charles P. Hart, M. Melody, Joseph E. Brown, William N. Read, John Byrd, John J. Byrne, William S. P. Shields, Peter Gray, James F. Brown, John D. Carlisle, F. F. Black, Ira Conkling, John F. Witte and William J. Collins. The election will take place at the annual meeting on the fourth Tuesday of January, 1899.

In the last session of the finance committee of councils, that body reported as follows: the appropriations for work to be prosecuted in 1899: Fairmount Park, macadamizing drives, $2500, disallowed; improvement of Peter's Island, $3000, allowed; board of education, alterations to old school houses, $5000, allowed; ground rents and extinguishing the same, $75,000, allowed; purchase of lots and new buildings, $300,000, allowed; completion of Boy's High School, $150,000, allowed; furniture for new schools, $25,000, disallowed; books and kindergarten materials, $20,000, disallowed. Mr. Lamond made a vigorous fight for an increase in the item for the purchase of new school buildings. Mr. Miles stated that the item of $300,000 and the additional item of $150,000 for the completion of the High School, would bring the total very close to the amount requested.

Of Course You Will

Examine "What ROBERTS offers" before buying ground elsewhere.

Among others we are offering, we would call attention to the plot 22d to 24th, Cumberland to Huntingdon, all street improvements being made, old houses don't affect price. Also 19th to 22d, Lehigh to Somerset, and some west of 22d.

All the above within two squares of one of the largest and finest Catholic Churches erected in Philadelphia.

They will please you on examination.
